Jim Ferrier, 1951 Canadian open golf champion, skidded to a 77 Sunday after shooting three straight 66s in the Fort Wayne open golf tournament but it was good enough for a 269 total and the $2,400 first money.

The Australian-born Ferrier, steadiest in the field during the first three days of the tournament, started out with a 33 on the front line Sunday but he ballooned to a 38 coming in.

In the aftermath of a soccer game riot two weeks ago, a three-man committee of the Ontario Football Association Saturday upheld the Ukrainian sports club's appeal against a Toronto and and District Association's decision to suspend the club from operation until next May.

However, in place of the suspension the association fined the club $500 and ordered it to put up a $500 bond guaranteeing future good behavior of its players, officials and supporters. The bond will be in effect until the end of 1952.

At Guelph, Niagara Falls and Guelph city Saturday battled to a 2-2 tie in a Southern Ontario Soccer League game.

Four changes have been made in the all-Canada cricket team to meet the Marylebone side in the second test match at Calgary next Sunday and Monday, Sept. 2 and 3.

Robin Johnston of Vancouver is unable to get away to play in the two-day match, while Stan Hansen and George Nugent of Vancouver along with Peter Cullimore of Edmonton have been dropped.

In their places will be Aubrey Edwards and Peter Snell of Calgary, Ed Burn of Winnipeg, and Teddy Smythe of Vancouver.

Sault Ste. Marie Erzis girls Saturday advanced to the all-Ontario Intermediate A finals in the provincial women's softball union playdowns when they handed the Timmins Legion 16-8 and 6-2 defeats in the best-of-three series for the northern Ontario Intermediate A title.

The Sault Ste. Marie girls advance against Peterborough, southern Ontario representative.

The Ontario Amateur Athletic Association has ordered a halt to Sunday night amateur boxing and wrestling shows at La Salle Park, Windsor.

Provincial police have been asked to enforce the order.

Sponsor of the weekly shows, the La Salle South Centre said it is accused of operating without a permit. Centre president Phil Gignac said he was given no indication that a permit would be issued if applied for.

Marines Victors

BETHANY, Aug. 27 (ENS) — An exhibition softball game between the Outboard Marines and the Bethany girls here on Friday night ended in a win for the visitors by an 8-7 score.

Eleanor Whittaker hurled good ball all the way for Marines, M. Gillen receiving. White and Gillen were their heavy batters.

Evelyn Mantle was on the mound for Bethany, M. Shea receiving. Hilda Bigelow on her fielding and her batting starred for the Bethany girls. Christella Neals got two doubles.

Goods, Not Cash Wagered At Horse Meet

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Despite the unpopularity of fixes, bribes, or losing that last two bucks on a longshot, Canadians have always followed eagerly the thundering hooves of race horses.

Take the back-road racing of the 1820 London district, for example. A writer of that era describing the nags and the activities which surrounded them says he "never witnessd so ludricrous a scene" in his life.

No sleek, nervous horses or brilliantly-silked jockeys brightened the 1820 racing picture. And there were no backwoods plungers to put cash on the barrelhead, the 1820 equivalent of the modern pari-mutuel window.

The writer claims that he went to one horse race "just that I might witness the speed of their sorry horses, as they cantered over a quarter-mile course. Four horses were started for a bet of 10,000 feet of boards. The riders were clumsy-looking fellows, bootless and coatless."

Personal Property

Apparently the betting public, while seldom using cash, stood in great danger of losing their shirt. Although he records no such instance, the writer does describe several other deals where personal property took the place of money.

"I was soon assailed by a host of fellows requesting me to take their offers," the writer says. However, there was no cash involved in the bets. The reckoning was in goods or barter like everything else in the pioneer communities except tax payments.

Varied Bets

The writer says the first person to attract his attention wanted to wager a barrel of salt pork that a horse called Split-The-Wind would win. When the writer refused, another offered to bet his 3,000 shingles that a horse named Washington would "distance every tarnation scrap of them."

Other bets offered were: 50 pounds of pork sausage against a cheese of similar weight; a raw ox-hide against half its weight in tanned leather, and a pair of blacksmmith's bellows against a barrel of West Indian molasses or $20 in cash.

"I venture to say that $10,000 at least were lost and won, without a single sou or specie being in the possession of anyone present," the writer concludes.

Foreign Diplomat Stays Over In City

S. D. Kalelkar, ambassador of goodwill of the Indian embassy, Ottawa, checked into the Amble-Inn tourist cabins operated by Gordon Hamblin at 85 Lansdowne Street on Friday afternoon.

Mr. Kalelkar, his wife and three children spent an enjoyable afternoon visiting the various points of interest in the city, and displayed particular interest in the Lift Lock. The family had added entertainment provided for them in the way of the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition, at which they spent some time in the evening.

World Shortages Hamper Shipment

By HAROLD MORRISON

OTTAWA (CP)—Production Minister Howe says that Canada will co-operate by every means possible to boost the flow of raw materials to commonwealth rearmament programs.

But, he warned in an interview, the world shortage in metals, newsprint and other materials is still far from over.

In planning supplies to Britain and other members of the Commonwealth Canada cannot overlook the requirements of other traditional customers, including the United States.

There must be a sharing of supplies in accordance with the traditional pattern of Canada's International trade, Mr. Howe believed.

Nevertheless, it will be in a "spirit of co-operation" that he and a departmental adviser, T. N. Beaupre, 34, of Montreal, will attend a commonwealth supply ministers' conference to be held in London Sept. 24.

The conference, called by Britain, will concentrate on the possible development of new industry and new production, mainly in British colonies, and the expansion of commonwealth markets for manufactured goods.

The 30-minute interview with Mr. Howe ranged from price changes to international systems of allocating scarce materials.

Continued Scarcity

Mr. Howe made these points:

1. It will be a long time before the world shortage in nickel, copper, lead, zinc and newsprint will be overcome. Canada, however, hoped to overcome a steel shortage by 1953.
2. Though Canada, in effect, sets the world price on nickel and newsprint because she is the world's biggest and main producer, she was not anxious to see big price rises in these items. Mr. Howe found that when an item rose exceedingly high, the ensuing drop eliminated the benefit of the climb.
3. Despite the sharp climb in Canada's commodity trade deficit, from $5,000,000 for the first half of 1950 to $340,000,000 for the first half of 1951, Canada's economic health was "better than ever." No import controls would be imposed because of the deficit. In the over-all balance of trade, including the movement of capital, Canada had "more American dollars than ever."
4. The big increase in American goods from $1,004,500,000 in the first half of 1950 to $1,471,900,000 in the first half of 1951 was mainly due to a "capital investment boom" in Canada.

International Body

Touching again on the problem of scarce materials, Mr. Howe felt that one way Britain and other countries might be helped would be through reconstitution of an international allocating body.

The current International Materials Conference, he believed, had "doubtful value" because of the fact that it included too many countries. The conference, located in Washington, sometimes had as many as a dozen countries represented on its sub-committees.

The conference was slow in reaching decisions and making firm decisions on international distribution of scarce materials. More efficient, said Mr. Howe, would be a revival of the old Second World War Tripartite Allocating Committee, made up of representatives of Canada, The United States and the United Kingdom.

This would "speed up" allocations and get the materials moving into the industries urgently requiring them for war production.

Famous Management Expert To Be At Toronto University

LONDON — (CP). —One of the British Commonwealth's leading authorities on the science of management training, Col. Lyndall Urwick, leaves for Canada August 28 for a term at the University of Toronto.

Col. Urwick has been appointed visiting professor at the Institute of Business and Administration at the Toronto University, and will serve for the duration of the fall term.

Vice-chairman of the British Institute of Management, Col. Urwick was signally honored last month when the gold medal of the International Committee of Scientific Management was presented to him at the organization's ninth annual congress in Brussels.

He was the first Briton to receive this medal, a recognition conferred on the person who in the opinion of the International Committee makes the greatest contribution over a period of years toward the general field of management knowledge. Only six others have received the award since it was first presented in 1927.

Recognition of Col. Urwick came after years of distinguished service. He was chairman of the special committee which in 1947 prepared a report for the British Government, leading to a national scheme of management studies used today in 70 senior techincal schools in the United Kingdom.

Col. Urwick, now 60 years old, won the Military Cross in the First World War and received the OBE. He has written several books and many articles on scientific management and factory organization.

He has lectured widely through-out Europe and North America and for six years before the last war served as director of the International Management Institute in Geneva. More recently he led a team of specialists on a six weeks' study tour in the United States.

During his stay in Toronto Dr. Urwick will conduct seminars on administrative problems for candidates aiming at a degree of Master of Commerce. Later he will visit some of the other provinces for a series of public lectures and management personnel.

Before returning to London he will lead a group at the personnel conference of the American Management Association in Chicago.

Miami Boat Wins Belleville Race

BELLEVILLE, Aug. 27 (CP).—George Carnegie of Toronto, driving "Mrs. Dockett," owned by Dr. Walter Robinson of Miami, Fla., won the feature race for Canada one-design boats at the power boat regatta held at Crystal Beach today. He took the first place in the first and third heats to win over "Miss Madoc" owned by Kincaid brothers of Madoc.

"Slippery," owned and driven by Don Prentice of Belleville, finished third in all three heats.

In the sea flea race Carl McCoy of Madoc took top honors.

Weslock And Kesselring Give Willingdon Cup To Ontario

By ERWIN FRICKE.

OTTAWA, Aug. 27 (CP). — Classy golf performances by Nick Weslock and Gerry Kesselring gave Ontario the Willingdon Cup Saturday by the biggest margin in the interprovincial team event since 1928.

Ontario's aggregate score of 585 was 18 better than the total compiled by the second-place British Columbia team.

With the exception of Saskatchewan and Nova Scotia, the rest of the field was bunched. Alberta, in third place, was only one stroke back of BC with a 604 total and the dual-province entry of New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island was fourth with 605. Quebec was another single stroke back in fifth place and Manitoba was sixth with 612. Saskatchewan had 638 and Nova Scotia 640.

Weslock, called "Mr. Wedge" by competitors because of his slick handling of the iron in sand traps, provided the day's best individual showing.

Breaks Par

The husky, 34-year-old sharpshooter from Windsor's Essex Club was the only player among the 32 making up the eight four-man teams to break the Royal Ottawa's tough par 71 in both rounds.

He toured the rolling, gully-cut course in 68 in the morning and fired a 70 in the afternoon.

Kesselring, 23-year-old Ontario amateur champion from Kitchener, had rounds of 72 and 70. All other contestants were over par from the full distance although Alberta's long-hitting Glenn Gray of Edmonton produced a sub-par 69 on his second round.

The other two members of Ontario's winning team, veteran Phil Farley of Toronto and Don Varey of Brantford, had 149 and 156 respectively.

Weslock, runner-up to Bill Mawhinney of Vancouver in the Canadian amateur last year, is rated a strong contender for the amateur title this year. The week-long event gets under way today. However, the amateur is a match-play event and Weslock hasn't fared so well in this type of play in the past. Mawhinney, who had a big 152 in Willingdon Cup play, is expected to pull up his socks in the twosome-style game.

Others To Make Bid

Others expected to make a bid for the title are Kesselring, a slender and able artist with the long irons; Gray, on the basis of his fine Willingdon Cup showing, and Walt McElroy of Vancouver.

McElroy, 24, former Canadian junior champion who recently returned to the game after a brief retirement, paced BC's Willingdon cuppers with rounds of 74 and 73.

A handsome and even-tempered golfer, McElroy played in a foursome with Weslock Saturday and almost the entire Willingdon Cup gallery followed them.

Laurie Roland of Vancouver, runner-up the last two years, cashed in on his third try for the Canadian junior golf championship.

Pixilated Ex Customer Turns Baboon Loose Visit To Hamburger Stand Adds Thrill

TORONTO, Aug. 27—(CP)—A pixilated Canadian National Exhibition patron threw a baboon-wrench into the scheme of things at a crowded hamburg stand in the grounds Saturday.

The patron, whose behavior left little doubt as to his condition, spied a big baboon in a crate at the British Africa Zoo exhibit. Brutus—the baboon—was alone because he had been acting "mean."

The patron pulled a board off the crate and Brutus joined the nearly 275,000 other customers at the "ex".

Over a fence and into the trees Brutus fled. He perched on a tree. As officials went for a capture net Brutus shot into a nearby hamburger stand, packed with hungry customers.

He elbowed his way to a corner where he began stuffing himself. A courageous counterman fed him a bowl of milk.

Then trainer Howard Y. Bary, president of the British Africa Railroad Zoo arrived puffing and out of breath and threw a cage over him.

Czech Industry Short 12 Vital Materials

LONDON, Aug. 27 — (AP) — Czechoslovakia has ordered her purchasing agents abroad to speed up procurement of 12 critical materials badly needed to keep her heavy industries roiling, authoritative sources reported today. These sources said that the Czech Ministry of Foreign Trade has told all commercial attaches and purchasing agents to speed up purchases of:

Aluminum, bauxite, glycerin, refined sulphur, all non-ferrous metals, ball bearings, industrial diamonds, gum arabic, aluminum anhydride (an acid base), and citric acid.

The order authorized paying above world market prices in order to obtain industrial diamonds, large ball bearings, refined sulphur and raw tartar, the sources said.

The West's tightening restrictions against exporting vital raw materials and equipment behind the Iron Curtain is reported to be causing critical shortages in Communist areas.

Jean Lussier Only One Alive To Go Over Niagara Falls

By OWEN CRUMB

NIAGARA FALLS, NY, Aug. 27. (AP)—Around here they point to stocky, cocky Jean Lussier and whisper, "He's the only one alive who made it over the Falls." It was 23 years ago when Lussier tucked his five-foot frame into a six-foot rubber ball and rode over the Canadian Falls to be the third and last person to pull the stunt and survive.

Since then, two others have gone over the 165-foot horseshoe cataract and perished. One other died before Lussier's successful stunt.

Most recent of the three fatal tries was that of William (Red) Hill, Jr., of Niagara Falls, Ont.—son of a man who earned fame around the river and Falls but claimed the barrel caper was a "fool's stunt." Red Hill, Jr., went over Aug. 5 in a flimsy "barrel" made of 14 truck innertubes bound together with cotton webbing and fishnet. Swirling waters ripped the contraption apart.

Hill's death brought renewed efforts by Ontario officials to stop the stunts. For years police have been discouraging some would-be stunters, pulling some bodily from their barrels and being ignored by others.

Nothing New

There's nothing new about going over the Falls. Legend has it that when the Seneca Indians lived on the banks of the river, a fair maiden was sent over in a canoe every six months as a sacrifice to Oniagrarah (the Indian name for Niagara).

After the Indians came the barrel stunters, led by a Michigan school teacher in October, 1901. Mrs. Annie Edson Taylor, lived through the drop in a wooden barrel.

She said she just wanted to do something no one else had done—besides, she added, she was recently widowed and broke. Although luck dropped Mrs. Taylor's barrel free of the rocks, it let her down later. She died in a poorhouse.

The next trip was also successful, even if it did injure the stunter, Englishman Bobby Leach, who made the drop in a steel barrel in July, 1911. He spent 23 weeks in hospital.

Leach later moved to New Zealand. He died there in 1926 after slipping and hitting his head on the sidewalk.

Barber First to Die

A Bristol, Eng., barber was the first to die. George Stevens used a wooden barrel that was smashed apart in July, 1921. He left a widow and 14 children.

A chef from Buffalo, N.Y., was the second to die. George Stathakis was suffocated when his wood and steel barrel was trapped for 22 hours behind the curtain of the Falls in July, 1930.

A knowledge of physics and rubber bounced Lussier over the Falls July 5, 1928.

Lussier, the only one left to tell his story, was born 60 years ago in Concord, N.H., of French-Canadian stock.

Ball Worked

"Felt like riding in a rowboat in rough water," Jean says of his plunge over the Falls.

The rubber ball is the reason Lussier is alive. He says he made it himself after getting the idea while working in a tire plant in Akron, O. He now works in a chemical plant here.

The six-foot diameter of the ball stretched over a double frame of band steel covered with thick rubber. When Jean made the trip there were 32 tire innertubes inside the ball, each filled with 35 pounds of oxygen in case of an emergency like the one that cost Stathakis his life.

For breathing during the trip, a pipe fitted with a valve to keep out the water stuck out of the smooth rubber surface and sucked in air.

Weighed on the bottom ,the ball weighed 1,137 pounds with Jean inside. Compared to Red Hill's flimsy craft, Lussier's ball was as safe as a cabin cruiser on calm waters.

Knew He Hadn't Chance

Jean says he knew Hill would be killed. "A pin prick could have ruined Red's barrel," he said. "I told him, too."

Jean says authorities should let people go ahead and try trips over the Falls. But, he adds, they should first examine the craft and then see if the daredevil is physically and mentally sound enough to make the trip.

"The world needs people with nerve. If more people had that kind of nerve the world would be in better shape today," bachelor Jean tells tourists as he struts around the museum where the ball is on display.

Lussier has said he would ride over the American Falls if someone would offer him "10,000 greenbacks" He won't say who, if anyone, has offered the money, but he says he will go over the American Falls next year in a lighter but more sturdy ball.

Three Cars Tangle Damage Not Heavy

Three cars were damaged, none extensively, in a collision at 6.15 p.m. Saturday in front of 465 Rogers St.

Drivers of the cars involved were Bernard W. Hamlin, 379 Dobbin Ave., Morgan Pinch, 547 Armour Rd., and Roger Noyes, 465 Rogers St.

Hamlin told police he was driving south on Rogers when he saw two southbound cars, one about to pass the other. He pulled to the right side of the road and slowed down.

Driver of the second northbound car, Pinch, passed Noyes' car as Noyes turned left into the driveway at his home. Noyes said he made the proper signal, but both Pinch and Hamlin said they saw no signal.

Constable D. M. Stark investigated.

130 Strikers Draw Their Time

TIMMINS, Aug. 27 —(CP)— One hundred and thirty of 1,600 striking miners at the Hollinger mine have "drawn their time," it was learned here Sunday.

That means they have taken their money out of the company's mutual saving plan and if they wish to work again at Hollinger they must lose all seniority and start at the bottom.

Miners deposit $3 into the fund every two weeks; the company puts $2. After an employee has five year's service, the company adds a lump sum to his total.

Reports said that some of the men had drawn their money because they had found jobs elsewhere and moved away. Others had immediate need for the money.

The Hollinger miners walked off their jobs July 9 asking higher wages and a union dues check-off.

Jet Pilot Killed On Practice Flight

TORONTO, Aug. 27 —(CP)— A Calgary-born RCAF reserve pilot was killed Saturday when his jet plane crashed and burned in suburban North York township while on a practice flight which his pretty wife and small daughter had been watching.

Flt.-Lt. Donald J. Brown, 31-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Brown of Calgary, had been going through a series of aerobatics with a Vampire jet in preparation for a special air show to be staged in about two weeks during the closing days of the Canadian National Exhibition. He carried out his air reserve duties on his own time, when off work from his job as sales engineer for a plumbing firm.

As his plane zoomed in for a landing at suburban De Havilland airport, it just missed a chimney on the home of Robert Dunn, lopped the top branches off a tree, swept across a lawn, clipped off three spruce trees and nosedived into a field.

Politics Play Important Part In Big-Scale Drug Smuggling

By SIDNEY MIRKIN

LONDON, Aug. 27 (AP)—Big-scale drug smuggling isn't a game of cops and robbers anymore—politics has become an important part of the underground traffic.

At opposite ends of the world where Communist East meets Democratic West, there are reports the Reds are exporting drugs.

While the reliability of these reports sometimes is difficult to assess, it is known that plants used for production of narcotics are cultivated in Eastern Europe and sizeable amounts of drugs for legal medicinal purposes are shipped from some Communist states.

Also, bulk supplies of opium became available to the Reds when the Communists took over the Chinese government. Backing this up, the United Nations Permanent Central Opium Board in Geneva reported last year that the Chinese Communist government offered 700 tons of raw opium for sale in the British colony of Hong Kong.

Beyond that fact, the reports are contradictory.

Dollar Income

In Vienna, occupied by the Russians and Western powers, Austrian police say the Communist states are shipping narcotics to the West as a source of dollar income.

In occupied Germany, on the other hand, there have been no such reports by police or Allied Intelligence. On the contrary, there are reports the Eastern Communist countries are short of drugs for even medical uses.

A survey of Western European and Middle Eastern countries reveals, however, that with rare exceptions there is almost no internal drug problem.

In Western European countries there is rigid police inspection of drug producers and dispensers, plus a close watch on ships entering their ports.

Major drug producers outside the Far East and South America include Turkey, Yugoslavia, Syria and Lebanon.

Go To Egypt

Syria and Lebanon concentrate on production of hemp, the leaves and flowers of which are used for production of hashish. Most illegal exports go to Egypt and other parts of North Africa.

The Lebanese government now has undertaken real and drastic action. Police have destroyed thousands of acres of hashish crops.

An index to the damage done to drug traders by this action is that the price of hashish has risen 500 per cent in recent weeks.

Turkey probably is the major producer of the world's medicinal opium, exporting about 250 metric tons legally. But it is impossible to trace thousands of hidden poppy plots and police estimate that between 20 and 30 tons are smuggled out of the country annually.

Two Ex-Bandsmen Hold Reunion

MARMORA, Aug. 27 (ENS). — A small bandsmen's re-union involving two players of the North Augusta Brass Band (18 pieces) of 1900 took place in Marmora on Thursday afternoon.

James E. Gehan, hardy veteran of the village, who was one of those instrumental in the organiaztion of the band of his native village, North Augusta, who handled the alto horn, rubbed his eyes in amazement as a player of the tenor horn, Charles Bissell, dropped in to see what change 51 years had made to his friend.

The North Augustan was en route to Muskoka with his wife who had the pleasure of hearing the two old friends reminisce.

'It is great to have the old friends whom I have not seen for years looking me up as they have this summer," remarked Gehan.

Say 5-Day Delivery Blow At Salesmen

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 27 (CP)— Representatives of more than half London's milk route salesmen charged Sunday that the Milk Control Board's order cutting delivery to five days a week, effective Sept. 1, is the start of a move to eliminate house-to-house delivery of milk.

Men speaking for salesmen at Silverwood's, London Pure Milk and Johnson and Hill Dairies said they would fight the five-day delivery ruling. A mass meeting of all London milk salesmen is being called for Tuesday.

London Labor Council at its regular meeting Sunday took a stand against the five-day delivery.

Say Drug Peddlers Using Very Few New Tricks

By A. I. GOLBERG

UNITED NATIONS, NY, Aug. 27 —(AP)— The latest United Nations report on the world-wide roundup of drug peddlers shows they're a pretty dumb lot.

Law enforcement officers waging a continuing battle against narcotics vendors reports few new devices in attempts to outwit them.

The report covers information passed on to the UN during March and April this year, listing more than 200 drug seizures and arrests for several months preceding that period.

It may be that drugs get through by means that customs and narcotics squad officers haven't tumbled to. Their reports, of course, can't show them yet.

Old Stuff

But rubber sacks inside camel stomachs, secret compartments in automobiles, trucks, jeeps and ship cabins, or hiding places in bicycle tires are getting to be old stuff to the men fighting the narcotics evil.

The only new touch in the report was from Burma where a truck driver was halted with a load of 40 bags of garlic. Inside two bags were a total of 41 pounds raw opium.

Most seizures were from people who looked like ordinary peasants or villagers, carrying the drug hidden in a corner of a basket or bag of garden produce.

Use Camels Too

The Egyptian government told of a camel caravan halted by inspectors. A metal detector showed no trace of metal boxes in the animals' stomachs. A few days afterward, one of the camels expelled a rubber container. The camels were slaughtered. In their stomachs were found 83 more rubber containers with a total of 70 pounds of raw opium.

Customs agents have found drugs hidden in pipes of ships, in a radio-phonograph and in exhaust silencers.

Some dope smugglers in the East even put labels and trade marks on their packages. The Egyptians tell of picking up a fellow on the west bank of the Suez Canal. The search produced several packages of hashish. One brand was called "Lioness" with the picture of a lioness on the package. Another smuggler's brand had printed on the package: "Extra fine, excellent, beware of forgery."

Tourist Being Held On Liquor Charge

WALLACEBURG, Aug. 27 (CP) —RCMP of the Wallaceburg detachment arrested Rollie Wolfe of Detroit during the weekend on a charge of supplying liquor to Indians.

Wolfe was found in his car on the Walpole Island Indian reserve and was said to have a supply of liquor in his possession. He was held without bail and is to be arraigned in Sarnia today.

Sam Riley, an Indian who police said claimed that he came from the Muncey reservation near Lonlon, also will be arraigned in Sarnia.

Finds Jamaica Still Shambles

MONTREAL, Aug. 27—(CP)— An RCAF Northstar, whose usual run is the Korea airlift, Sunday night touched down at Montreal airport after a 5,000 mile mercy mission to hurricane-ravaged Jamaica.

Flt. Lt. Stuart Olsen, skipper of the ship, said he left Montreal Friday to pick up emergency supplies of blankets and food at North Bay, which had been flown in from Winnipeg and then picked up a similar cargo in Toronto before the hop to Jamaica.

Flt. Lt. Olsen said: "We had to stop over at Tampa, Fla., Friday night because there were no lights on the field at Kingston. We took off in the morning and landed in Jamaica about one o'clock.

"The field there was a shambles. The control tower had been blown over, hangers were just a mass of twisted girders and some aircraft had been wrecked beyond repair."

Ridgway Charges Reds Used Own Plane In Frameup

TOKYO, Aug. 28. (AP)—The United Nations command charged today that the Communists sent one of their own planes through the motions of bombing Kaesong last Wednesday and then blamed the Allies for the attack. The charge was contained in a bulletin released by the public information office at Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's headquarters as the UN commander studied a Communist note that could shatter hopes of a truce in Korea.

"There is as yet no indication as to the nature of the reply General Ridgway will make to the latest Communist letter," the public information office said.

The Reds offered to resume truce talks—which they broke off last Thursday—on certain conditions. Primarily, they want Ridgway to say a UN plane bombed the Kaesong neutral area Wednesday.

He has already said no UN plane was even in that area. He told the Communists they manufactured the incident.

Less than 24 hours after the Reds rejected this, Ridgway's public information office restated the same position in detail.

Red Aircraft

It said no UN planes were in the area at the time of the attack but that an unidentified plane was. It added:

"It is beyond doubt that this was a Communist aircraft . . .

"All evidence established the clear conclusion that on the night of Aug. 22 the Communists perpetrated a deliberate fraud."

The release said there were no bomb craters, no bomb fragments, "no evidence on the ground of a United Nations command air attack."

"There is every indication," the release said, that Red truce "personnel at Kaesong were accessories to a deliberate fraud. Using their military control of the conference site as a cloak of deceit, Communist personnel perpetrated a sham of unprecedented proportions.

Elaborately Staged

"Creating an elaborately staged and quite obviously premeditated scene, they sought to fix upon the United Nations command a false charge of air attacks on the conference site."

The Reds asked Ridgway to make a new investigation of their evidence of the asserted bombing. To this, the public information office commented the Reds have had time to prepare "more convincing evidence of a bombing."

Officials at UN headquarters said it was virtually unthinkable that Ridgway would retract his charge that the entire incident was a frame-up.

Ridgway previously said it was up to the Reds to say when the talks would be resumed.

Ready For Anything

"The Communists can either continue or break off the talks," a spokesman at his headquarters said today. "We are ready for anything they choose to do."

The official transcript of the latest communication from the North Korean Premier, Kim Il Sung, and Chinese Gen. Peng Teh-huai, was delivered curtly to a UN liaison officer Tuesday at a Red outpost south of Kaesong.

Will Give Tito $50,000,000 Loan 3 Powers Decide

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 (AP)—The United States, Britain and France have agreed to provide $50,000,000 in economic aid to Yugoslavia to support Marshal Tito's "contribution to the security of the free world."

The Economic Co-operation Administration, announcing this today, disclosed it already has allocated $29,800,000 as an initial instalment to help the Yugoslavs buy cotton, coke and steel.

Britain shortly will announce its decision to make available $11,500,000 to help bolster Yugoslavia's economy, ECA said.

The French government also is expected to announce its contribution in the near future. Informed officials said the initial French instalment will be around $5,000,000 or $6,000,000.

The aid will be furnished in the next six months.

Already Made Loan

The US has given or loaned Yugoslavia a total of $150,000,000 for military and economic supplies since Marshal Tito's Communist regime broke with Moscow.

The announcement of the new three-power aid program came two days after President Truman's foreign policy advisor, W. Averell Harriman, conferred with Marshal Tito in Yugoslavia.

Harriman said afterward he talked over with Tito means of shoring up Yugoslavia's military and economic strength to help it withstand any possible aggression by Russia or its Balkan satellites.

The ECA said the decision to provide new aid was made in London several months ago after lengthy conferences by American, British, and French officials.

Was Too Smart Loses $1,000

ST, CATHARINES, Aug. 28 — (CP)—Abe Freissen knew better, he told police today, than to play cards with strangers after having just withdrawn $1,000 from the bank.

But he did agree, he said, to lend his roll to two new-found friends to use as chips in a two-handed poker game at a district tourist camp to which he and the men had repaired Monday after a drink or two.

He agreed, too, he said, to "step down the road" for a basket of peaches while the men continued their game.

When he returned, the men were gone. So was his $1,000.

Freissen told the police one of the men was tall, fair and skinny. The other was short and dark "and looked stupid."

Pays Weekend Visit To Great Britain

LIVERPOOL, Aug. 28—(CP)—Forty-eight-year-old Margery Gothard, of Trenton, Ont., has crossed the Atlantic to spend a long weekend in Britain every year since 1927, except during wartime.

She's so well-known to ship crews and asks so many questions that they call her "the pest."

"I suppose it's because I pester them about navigation, and so on," she says.

Miss Gothard paid her most recent visit to Britain in mid-August. On the way back to Canada, she was made an honorary third officer of the liner Empress of Canada.

Floods Now Menace Battered Tampico

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 28 (Reuters). — Swollen rivers today brought new flood threats to Tampico, Mexican east coast port already damaged by cyclone and rains.

The Panuco river, which enters the Mexican gulf south of the town, burst its banks, causing widespread flooding.

The Red Cross today issued a warning of epidemics in the stricken areas. Relief workers sent supplies by land, water and air to flood victims in the eastern states of Tamaulipas, Vera Cruz and San Luis Potosi.

US Answers Protest From Canada

Exchange of Letters Reported With Sub-Committee

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28. — (AP)—Informed sources said Monday a Canadian Government protest has brought an exchange of letters between the State Department and the Senate Internal Security Sub-Committee. The sub-committee has publicly aired testimony naming a Canadian official as a one-time Communist.

Chairman Pat McCarran (Dem. Nec.) of the sub-committee refused to discuss the exchange, or disclose contents of the letters.

But he repeated to a reporter a statement he made last week that nothing had developed to change his belief that the sub-committee should "pull no punches" in its investigation of charges of subversive influence on American foreign policy.

Investigate Accusations

Specifically, the sub-committee is investigating accusations by McCarran and others that the Institute of Pacific Relations has been used by Communists to influence foreign policy.

An issue with Canada is public airing of testimony by Dr. Karl August Wittfogel, one of the witnesses, naming Herbert Norman, acting head of Canada's delegation to the United Nations as once a student at a school for young Communists at Cape Cod in 1939.

The Department of External Affairs at Ottawa has said that Norman, a far eastern expert who has been stationed in Tokyo, never has been in Cape Cod. The department said he had been cleared.

Canada protested to the State Department Aug. 16 at the "dragging" of Norman's name through the hearing Aug. 9.

6 Men To Die For King's Death

AMMAN, Jordan, Aug. 28 (AP)—A special military court today sentenced to death six men convicted of plotting the assassination of King Abdullah. Four other defendants were found not guilty and freed.

The six convicted are: Col. Abdullah El Tel, former governor of Jerusalem; Mousa Ahmed El Ayoubi, Dr. Mousa Abdullah El Husseini, Abed Mahmound Okkeh, Zakraia Mahmoud Okkeh and Abdel Kader Farahat.

The court handed down a not guilty verdict for Father Ibrahim Ayyad, Roman Catholic secretary of the Latin Patriarchate in Jerusalem; Kamel Abdullah El Kalouti, cattle dealer and the brothers Tewfik Salah El Husseini and Dr. Daoud El Husseini.

Defence lawyers for the four contended during the trial that the prosecution had failed to prove they had any connection with the killing of Abdullah by a young Moslem tailor in Jerusalem last month.

Threatens Sailor With Empty Gun

TORONTO, Aug. 28 — (CP) — William Alexander, 27, was arrested Monday night after he threatened a sailor with an empty gun at HMCS York naval barracks.

Today he was charged with the theft last March 31 of $30,000 worth of oil paintings belonging to a Toronto mining promoter, Robert M. Elliott. They were recovered later, abandoned in a barn.

Police found the gun was one of two stolen with the paintings.

Chain Of 85 Men Rescue Explorers Trapped In Cave

ABERCAVE, Wales, Aug. 28 (AP)—A chain of 85 men pulled two explorers to safety Monday night from a flooded underground cave where they had been trapped for three days. The explorers were unhurt.

The two men had been prisoners since Saturday morning deep inside the cavern of Ogof Ffyddu near here. A sudden rainstorm sent tons of water down the underground Byfyre River and blocked all exits from the cave, situated in Glamorganshire, about 25 miles northeast of Swansea.

A team of deep-sea divers plunged through the stream to reach the explorers. There was no sign of life inside the cave until one hour before the rescue. Then faint shouts appeared to indicate the men were alive.

When the explorers — Lewis Railton, 40, and William Little, 30 —had been located, the human chain was formed through the swift underground waters. The rescuers grasped the pair and yanked them to safety.

Railton and Little are speleologists, or cave researchers.

The men had found safety in a high chamber deep inside the cavern. They said they had found food in a tin box and had huddled around their one acteylene lamp while waiting for the flood waters to subside.

The river normally flows quietly through the cavern. Monday morning the rescue teams began to dam it high in the mountains in an attempt to divert its flow from inside the cave, but were unsuccessful.

The rescuers gathered quickly from throughout Wales. Divers were thwarted in their first attempts to get through the currents. Two hours later they made it.

Didn't Throw Hand Grenade Canadian Soldier Declares

SEOUL, Korea, Aug. 28. (CP)—Pte. Glen Roland Blank of Winnipeg testified at his murder trial today that he did not throw a hand grenade the night a grenade killed three South Korean soldiers in the village of Chung Woon. Blank, 27, is on trial before a Canadian general court martial. He is accused of murder of Lieut. Ee Chong sung, one of three South Koreans killed in the explosion.

The prosecution rested its case today.

Lt.-Col. J. A. Hutchins of Montreal, the defence officer, asked that the case be dismissed, saying there were no grounds for the charge of murder.

The court disallowed the motion.

Pte. Alan Roy Montgomery Davis, 24, of Vancouver, and Pte. Donald Michael Gibson, 22, of Ottawa, also have been charged with Ee's murder and are to be tried later.

Hutchins called Blank as the first defence witness.

Blank testified that to the best of his knowledge he did not leave the rest area of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry March 17. He said he was certain he did not throw a grenade.

Holiday Party

Blank said March 17 was a holiday among the Princess Patricias to celebrate the birthday of Princess Patricia, honorary colonel of the Regiment. There were sports and a great deal of drinking in the rest camp, he said.

Blank said he drank part of a bottle of scotch whisky, five bottles of beer, a few shots of gin, and a mixture of "canned heat, crude alcohol and fruit juice."

Blank said witnesses who had testified he went to the farmhouse were mistaken. He said he did not know anyone who could account for his actions during the night.

Col. W. C. Dick of Regina, president of the court, asked Blank how he could be so certain he did not throw a grenade when he seemed to have a complete lapse of memory about events of the night.

Blank replied that throwing a grenade would have brought him to his senses and that he would have remembered the incident.

Hutchins, asking that the charge be dropped, said the prosecutor, Capt. L. M. Hanway, of Amherst, NS, had not established a prima facie case.

Project In BC Said Big Thing

ARVIDA, Que., Aug. 28 (CP)—McNeely Dubose, vice-president of the Aluminum Company of Canada said Monday night the company's new aluminum project at Kitimat, BC, "will be the biggest thing we have ever tackled."

He told a group of visiting British Columbia newspapermen the initial production of the plant 80 air miles from Prince Rupert, will be 80,000 tons a year. He set mid-1954 as the probable date for the pouring of the first ingot.

Mr. Dubose said he expected the population of the BC town would expand as did Arvida, which had increased by 50,000 persons in 26 years. He said settlements for land to be flooded in the Ootsa Lake district were proceeding.

Ultimate annual aluminum production at Kitimat will be comparable to and perhaps in excess of the 340,000 tons now produced at Arvida, the vice-president said.

Heavy Rain Hits BC Coast

VANCOUVER, Aug. 28 (CP)—Rain—the first heavy downpour for 90 days in some districts—hit the British Columbia mainland Monday.

It started shortly after noon, tapered to a Vancouver drizzle, and then at intervals came down almost like a cloudburst.

The "Rockliffe Ice Wagon," the RCAF's rainmaking plane, may have been responsible but the weatherman wasn't sure.

The rainmaking crew, which arrived here from Ottawa 10 days ago, seeded clouds in Vancouver and the Fraser Valley during the day. The cloud conditions were just right for dry-ice seeding, government meteorologists reported.

Mysterious Poison Panics Whole Village

PONT SAINT ESPRIT, France, August 28 (Reuters)—Fear gripped this village today because three of its people are dead and 24 in hospital through a mysterious poison which made them think wild beasts were chasing them.

The poison is believed to have been in locally-made bread.

Officials at a post-mortem examination today were trying to find out whether the cases were caused by a fungus containing a violent poison. In the middle-ages, it was called "the burning death."

Hallucinations have been a feature of the poisoning. Four hospital cases have tried to commit suicide. One woman died after she jumped out of a hospital window.

Plan New Series Of Atom Tests

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 (AP) A new series of atomic tests will get under way soon in Nevada, and the resultant radiation may be detected in other parts of the United States.

The Atomic Energy Commission, announcing this today, emphasized that the radiation will be only slightly above normal and far below amounts that could be harmful to human, animal or crop life.

The new tests will be carried out with the usual secrecy precautions. But the commission said it hopes to stage a later test in Nevada to be viewed by press, radio and other reporters.

The announcement gave no dates.

Blamed For Accident

PARIS, Aug. 28. (AP)—Rene Didelon, 49-year-old railwayman, has been arrested as responsible for an accident in which 21 persons were killed near Metz Friday, the Interior Ministry announced today. A Ministry spokesman said Didelon had told Strasbourg police he had halted the Frankfurt-Paris Express and failed to halt the Basel-Calais train coming behind.

Death Ends Evening Date Of 2 Couples

Failed To See Engine Driver Says, Suffers Minor Hurts

WINDSOR, Aug. 28. (CP) — An evening outing by two young Essex couples ended on Monday night in death for two of the girls and one of the youths when a freight train ripped into the automobile at a level-crossing three miles south of the city limits.

The other youth, described by police as the driver, walked away from the crash scene with minor injuries.

Nelda Rounding, 17, was thrown from the car and died before ambulances arrived. Joan Hollingsworth, 18, was dead on admission to hospital. William Zahorak, 24, lived for an hour in hospital.

Car salesman Joseph Lachance, 21, remained conscious after the smashup. He was treated in hospital for cuts over his eyes and on his nose, the back of his head and on leg. At the hospital he said:

"I didn't see the train until it was too late."

Spotlight Warnings

Trainmen said the southbound freight was travelling about 25 miles an hour, with its diesel engine picking up speed as it rolled through the Windsor outskirts. They said two automatic spotlights illuminated the crossing on No. 98 Highway to warn of the train's approach.

The left front corner of the engine smashed into the right side of the car. The vehicle bounced off the locomotive and landed right side up in a 15-foot ditch 50 feet from the crossing. The right door of the car was carried along on the front of the diesel, which stopped 700 feet down the track.

The accident gave the Windsor district its second triple-fatality in three months. Two United States soldiers and a Windsor girl were killed June 27 when their high-powered car rammed into the back of a truck on a highway.

Forest Fire Sweeps Island

VANCOUVER, Aug. 28 (CP)—Whipped to fury by a gale, a forest fire brought death and destruction to a tiny island off Vancouver Island.

A 50-mile-an-hour gale lashed smouldering fires into new life Monday, causing the death of a logger and heavy property damage.

Women and children were forced to flee their homes in an isolated logging camp as a wall of fire cut a path from one side of the island to the other, a distance of seven miles at the widest point.

Logging machinery, household effects and camp buildings, valued at thousands of dollars, were destroyed.

The flames were fed by large stores of gasoline in three logging camps, almost totally destroyed.

INDIA HARD HIT

BOMBAY, Aug. 28 (Reuters)—India, hard hit by the closing of the Abadan refinery in Iran, has fixed a gasoline quota under which aviation fuel available to 14 international airlines is cut by a third, it was learned today.

Runs In Family

About seven years ago, a railway engineer woke up at night, almost late for his train. He ran full tilt, with his valise, from his Crescent St. home, plump into Little Lake. The police fished him out. Monday night his son, also a railway man and now living in Saskatchewan, drove along Crescent St., didn't realize the continuation of the road led to the lake, and plopped his car into the water. The car didn't go all the way in, and was hauled out this morning by a tow truck.

All-Day Battle As Reds Probe Along UN Lines

US EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Aug. 28 (CP)—An all-day battle raged today in the rain-soaked hills north of Yanggu on the east Korean front.

The rest of the front, which had flared with increasingly-heavy clashes Monday, quieted under low clouds that often obscured entire ridgelines.

Rain and mist dampened the entire battle lines. Ground action was limited largely to sporadic artillery barrages and scattered fights between patrols. Most planes were grounded.

Reds took advantage of the weather and slipped small groups of infantrymen into position north of Yanggu for assaults on allied ridge positions. The Communist troops attacked at 9 a.m. (7 p.m. EDT Monday). By noon two reinforced companies were trying to crack United Nations positions.

The attack was in the same general area where a Red attack Monday forced UN troops back nearly two miles. The fight lasted until nightfall.

Yanggu is seven miles north of the 38th parallel.

Ships of a UN task force duelled for the third successive day with Communist shore batteries hidden in the cliffs near Wonsan.

The US destroyer Hopewell scored 10 direct hits in this action on a Communist bivouac area. Communist fire came close but did not damage any of the allied ships.

On the west coast, the British frigates Mounts Bay and Morecambe Bay steamed up the Han river estuary to shell Communist troops and big gun positions near Pungdongni, headquarters said.

Demand Extradition Of Two Ex-Soldiers

VERBANIA, Italy, Aug. 28 (AP) The Verbania prosecutor formally demanded today the extradition of former US army lieut. Aldo Icardi and former Sgt. Carlo LoDolce to stand trial in Italy for murder.

Carlo Rama, deputy judge in charge of the inquiry, said the request was sent to the Turin district court of appeals, which would forward it to the ministry of justice in Rome.

The two have been named by the US defence department as the slayers of their commander, Maj. Willliam Holohan. Under American law they cannot be tried in the US for a crime allegedly committed during the war service covered by their honorable discharge from the army.

Extradition would require approval of President Truman.

The Turin prosecutor has said if the Americans are not extradited, they will be tried here in absentia.

Work 45 Years For Railway Won't Join Union, 2 Fired

TOLEDO, O., Aug. 28 (AP) — Two Toledo brothers who have worked a combined total of 45 years for the New York Central System here face dismissal from their jobs because they are conscientious objectors to union membership.

Their religious beliefs, they contend, prevent them from joining the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, as required by a union shop agreement between the NYC and the railway unions.

One of the men, Cornelius Delamotte, already has received notice his employment will end Sept. 8. A similar notice is expected to be sent to his brother, Charles.

Both men are members of a religious group which has no set creed and no ministers. It has been referred to as the Plymouth Brethren.

The men base their refusal to join the union on this verse appearing in St. Paul's second letter to the Corinthians, 6:14:

"Be ye not unequally yoked together with unbelievers, for what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousness and what communion hath light with darkness."

Officials said the company is reluctant to dismiss the men but is bound by the union shop agreement.

Ask Cabinet Name Grain Controller

Chevrier Takes Action To Avert Crisis On Transportation

OTTAWA, Aug. 28. (CP) — Transport Minister Chevrier said in an interview today that he will ask the Cabinet to appoint a transport controller and a deputy to avert a grain transportation crisis in the west.

He described the situation as an "emergency" and said the recommendation likely will go before Cabinet on Wednesday, and that a decision may be announced Thursday.

Mr. Chevrier said that if Cabinet approves, the man selected for the job will be one who has dealt with the "grain movement problem all his life." He declined to disclose who he had in mind.

Given Powers

Asked whether such an appointment would alleviate the shipping shortage, the Transport Minister replied:

"If appointed, the transport controller will be given all the powers necessary to handle the situation."

Observers believed that if the Cabinet accepts the recommendation—and it appeared almost certain—it would mark the first time in peacetime history that Canada has had a transport controller.

Hold Meeting First

The Cabinet announcement may be made following a meeting of a special committee of government and commercial shipping and grain officials who have been attempting to alleviate the shortage during the summer months.

The committee, under the chairmanship of J. C. Lessard, Deputy Transport Minister, meets here Thursday.

Canada will harvest a record 582,000,000 bushels of wheat this year. On top of this will be heavy crops of coarse grains — oats, barley, rye and flaxseed. Western storage points are heavily taxed with big surpluses of grain held over from the last crop year.

Cooling Period Good For Iran

LONDON, Aug. 28 (AP). — W. Averell Harriman, President Truman's special negotiator in the Anglo-Iranian crisis, said today the present cooling off period may lead to a settlement satisfactory to both countries.

"I believe a solution is possible," he told a press conference at the United States Embassy. "A cooling off period may be valuable."

"The next move is up to Iran" Harriman said.

Harriman said he has not discussed with Iranian Premier Mohammed Mossadegh the possibility of Russia being attracted to intervene in Iran by the richness of the oil fields. But he had talked over with Iranian officials the danger of Iran's Communist party being a means of Russian penetration.

The American negotiator said the talks between the Iranian government and Richard Stokes, Lord Privy Seal in the British Cabinet, "improved the atmosphere" surrounding the negotiations.

This atmosphere, he said, "provides a sound basis for future negotiations and eventual settlement."

GE Offers Employees 2½ P.C. Wage Boost

NEW YORK, Aug. 28—(AP)—The General Electric Company today offered its employees a 2½ per cent general wage increase, plus an additional cost-of-living wage boost, a union spokesman said.

The International Union of Electrical Workers (CIO), which claims to represent 70,000 workers in more than 40 GE plants, has been negotiating with the company for two months.

Announcing the wage offer, an IUE spokesman said the union's GE conference board will consider it at a meeting Wednesday.

Labor Party Reaffirms Peace Policy

LONDON, Aug. 28 (CP)—The Labor party's high command has reaffirmed that peace is its No. 1 priority.

"Our first duty is to save world peace—no other aim can take priority over that," the party's executive committee said in the opening sentence of 3,000-word manifesto released Monday night.

Thus, from the start, the committee laid down an official line which makes no pretence of concealing differences of opinion within the party.

In effect the statement is an answer to a lef-wing rebel group, headed by former cabinet minister Aneurin Bevan, which argues that Britain's three-year armament program is bigger than it should be.

Can't Be Changed

In reply, the policy document says the arms bill cannot be changed unless the world situation changes too, and adds that the cost of preventing war will be just a fraction of what would be needed to win it.

The Bevan group has already urged its opinions in a pamphlet entitled "One Way Only," which contains two main ideas: Arms aren't the only way to fight Communism, and anyway Russia is over-rated. This document was sharply criticized by the majority of British newspapers, but Bevan and his supporters plan to return to the fray with a new pamphlet called "Going Our Way."

See No Solution To Halt Strike

MONTREAL, Aug. 28 (CP)—J. T. Steeves, vice-president of Imperial Tobacco Company, Ltd., said today his company was "no closer to a solution" in the strike called by Local 242 of the International Tobacco Workers' Union (TLC-AFL).

The deadlock, affecting nearly 3,000 employees at company plants at Granby, Que., Hamilton, and two here, started last Thursday when the union and company failed to reach agreement on a new contract. The union turned down an arbitration board's suggestion of a 33-cents-an-hour increase on condition that the union accept a two-year contract, and that the union agree to discontinue the existing profit-sharing plan.

Housewives Protest Tax On Electric Stoves

OTTAWA, Aug. 28 — (CP) — Canadian housewives are up in arms against the govenrment's 15-per-cent excise tax on electric and gas stoves.

The 13,000-member Canadian Association of Consumers, made upu mostly of housewives, has demanded that the tax be removed because the government has been piling up surpluses in the last few months and because of the possibility that another budget may be brought before parliament at the fall session.

In a letter to Finance Minister Abbott, signed by Mrs. W. Walton, Jr., CAC president, the association said "electric and gas stoves are a necessity—not a luxury in urban areas—and we feel that this tax is proving burdensome to many consumers."

The tax was imposed last spring along with others, to help finance a pay-as-you-go policy for Canada's rearmament program.

Stock Market Prices Jump In Early Trading

TORONTO, Aug. 28 — (CP) — Stock Market prices jumped today in early afternoon trading.

After a weak opening the exchange's index of 20 selected issues climbed three points during the mid-session to a record high of 343.35. The former high, reached yesterday, was 340.40.

Market leaders, notably Ford A, Algoma Steel and Canadian Pacific showed the best gains. As groups, steels, refining oils and manufacturing companies led the rise. Utilities climbed while constructions, liquors and banks held firm. Agricultures and retail stores were unchanged. Textiles and miscellaneous industrials turned mixed as papers and foods weakened.

Western Oils climbed more than half a point on the exchange's index of 15 selected issues to a record high of 112.14. The previous high, set yesterday, was 111.68.

Base Metals were mixed. Consolidated Smelters, International Nickel and United Keno Hill climbed fractions. Base Metal Mining, Quebec Copper and Silver Standard added pennies. Fenimore Iron, Steep Rock and United Asbestos dipped.

Senior Golds were mixed and quiet. Secondary issues showed a majority of losses.

AFL Leaves ILPC Organization

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 (AP). —The AFL today withdrew from the United Labor Policy Committee—an organization formed nine months ago with the aim of presenting a solid labor union front during the defence mobilization period.

At the same time, it urged that the CIO work toward eventual merger with the AFL.

William Green, AFL president, presented a formal statement announcing the AFL's withdrawal to a meeting of the ULPC. He said the ULPC had been established only on a "temporary basis," and added:

"Its operations never were and never could be regarded as a satisfactory substitute for organic unity of the free American trade union movement."

Represented on the ULPC were the AFL, the CIO and some of the railroad unions.

Didn't Throw

Equally Guilty

Hutchins said no one testified to having seen the grenade thrown.

None of the Koreans in the house identified Blank, he added.

The prosecutor argued it was not necessary to prove Blank threw the grenade. He said if a group of persons caused the death then all members of the party were guilty.

Earlier, Gibson told the court-martial he heard Blank shout outside the farmhouse: "I am going to throw a grenade."

Gibson said he told Blank: "Don't be a fool, don't throw it."

Davis told the court he recalled drinking beer at a party at the camp the night of March 17, and recalled going on a jeep ride.

He said he did not recall how many persons were in the jeep but thought he remembered two British soldiers.

Davis said he knew Blank but did not recall seeing him on the night of the party.

Had Conversation

Pte. Donald Mitchell Gibson, 22, of Ottawa, testified he had a conversation with Blank that night but did not recall what was said. He first said the conversation was during the first jeep ride but later said it was between the first and second jeep rides. He testified he carried a weapon that night.

The defence officer, Lt.-Col. J. A. Hutchins of Regina, objected to some of the questions put to Gibson by Capt. L. B. Hanway of Amherst, NS, the prosecutor, on the ground they might incriminate Gibson.

Pte. C. Beasmore of the British Middlesex Regiment, who has been convicted by a British court martial of attempted rape at the farmhouse, testified he was at the drinking party on the evening of March 17 and drove the group of British and Canadian soldiers to the farmhouse.

Beasmore said he was with one of the women the soldiers found at the farmhouse when he heard an explosion. He said he left the house and drove the rest of the soldiers back to the camp.

He said he could not recall any conversation during the trip but testified that there was "a lot of singing."

Can't Defend Both

Col. Hutchins told the court he would have to consider telling Ottawa that he could not defend both Blank and Gibson.

Hutchins said he was beginning to find his position impossible.

"I have been sent here from Ottawa to defend both of these men and here is this man (Gibson) doing damage to Blank," he said.

Hutchins submitted that the evidence being given by Gibson not only was damaging to Blank, but that Gibson was also incriminating himself.

The court ruled that the prosecution could continue to ask Gibson questions regarding an alleged conversation with Blank.

But it ruled that Gibson need not answer a prosecution question on whether he heard an explosion at the farm house where the murder allegedly took place.

Gibson told the court he had heard Blank declare: "I am going to throw a grenade."

Gibson said he told Blank: "Don't be a fool. Don't throw it."

Federal Union In Europe Would Help—Eisenhower

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 (AP) Gen. Eisenhower has told senators he is "very hopeful that many of our problems would disappear if . . . Western Europe were one federal union."

"I believe it so strongly," he said, "that I do not believe real security is going to be felt in the United States, in the British Empire, and other nations of the globe until that comes about."

He said he believed once the whole area of Western Europe is united in a federation "the Soviets will never be able to hold the East Germans out of it—I believe that with all my heart."

Eisenhower, Supreme Commander of North Atlantic Treaty Organization Powers in Europe, made those statements to a Senate Foreign Relation Sub-Committee which toured Europe last July. It was studying US economic and arms aid programs. Testimony was released Monday after deletion of portions the group felt might involve security.

The General told the senators: "I realize that a lot of my professional associates are going to think that I am completely crazy, but I will tell you that joining Europe together is the key to the whole thing. And if you can do it with a European army, I am ready to put a lot of work into it."

American leadership, help and armed forces, Eisenhower said, are restoring the confidence of Western Europeans, and he added: "The faster they regain their confidence, the faster they will do the job of defending themselves. In my opinion, the one thing that can break the United States and give us nothing in return is to drag this thing out. We must go to the limit of our productive capacity and of the power of Europe to absorb our military assistance, and get it done now."

Cattleman Halts Colorful Career To Retire At 81

NICOLA, BC—(CP)—Maj. C. Sydney Goldman, owner of the famed Nicola stock farms, has announced he is retiring at the age of 81 and plans to spend the winter in his native South Africa.

Starting as an office boy in Africa he has had a successful career as an industrialist, writer, soldier, legislator and British Columbia rancher.

Before leaving Africa he was chairman or director of a large number of mining and commercial corporations. He was a war correspondent in the Boer War and later wrote a book titled "With French's Cavalry." He also wrote technical books on mining and industry in South Africa before going to England, where for 18 years he was a Conservative MP for Epnryn and Failmouth.

During the First World War Maj. Goldman served as an artillery officer and later an intelligence officer. He was attached for a time to the Verdun headquarter of the late Marshal Petain.

Lured To Canada

While in the trenches on the Somme in 1916, Maj. Goldman chatted with Col. Harold Matthews. The latter described his place in the Nicola Valley, 250 miles northeast of Vancouver, in such glowing terms that the Major decided to buy 3,000 acres.

Soon after arriving at his new home he increased the holdings to 60,000 acres, all fenced. Now he has 4,000 Herefords, 1,500 sheep and 80 dairy cows, all pedigreed Ayrshires and Holsteins.

Maj. Goldman's son John, has come to Canada to take charge of the ranch operations. Next Spring he will be joined by another brother.

John Griffiths Wins In Quarter Finals

OTTAWA, Aug. 28 (CP).—Results of the fourth day's play in the 1951 Canadian junior tennis championships included:

Junior men's singles (quarter-finals)—John Griffiths, Regina, defeated Ken Lawson, Calgary, 6-3, 6-2.

Junior women's singles (quarter-finals)—Mariette Laframbois, Montreal, defeated Connie Ioanidis, Portage La Prairie, Man., 6-2, 6-2.

Boys' singles (third round) — Carmen Bolton, Toronto, defeated Howie Stephens, Sydney, NS, 7-5, 6-3.

Jim Ionidis, Portage La Prairie, Man., defeated Frank Logan, Montreal, 6-1, 6-3.

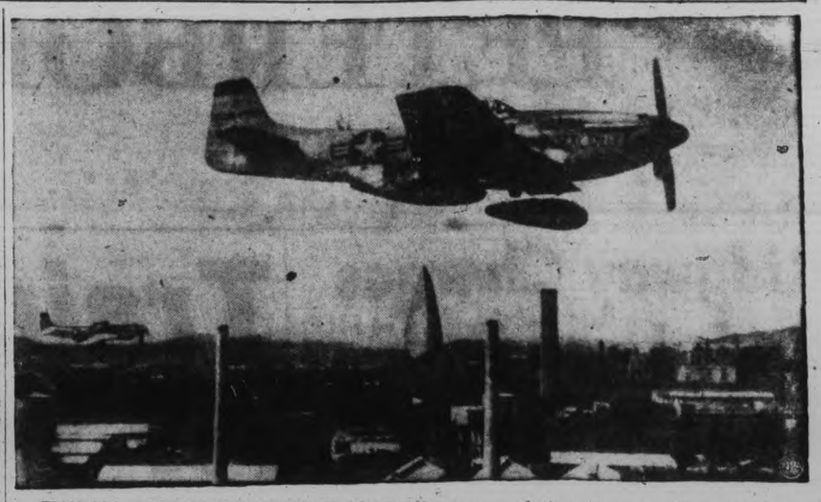
Guy Durocher, Sherbrooke, Que., defeated Donnie Hill, Halifax, 6-4, 6-3.

Convict Is In Court In Leg Irons, Handcuffs

BOWMANVILLE, Aug. 28 (CP) —Edward Fryer, alias Rembrandt, 24-year-old escaped convict from Burwash Industrial Farm, appeared in court today in handcuffs and leg irons.

Police said he faced 13 charges including car theft, breaking and entering, and escaping custody.

He was captured at gunpoint last week at a highway road block between Cobourg and Grafton after he allegedly stole a car near here. He escaped from Burwash Aug. 10.



TWO U.S. AIR FORCE FIGHTER PLANES press a low-level bombing attack on an industrial target in North Korea. Plane in foreground has just released two napalm bombs—which the fliers call "Jellied Hell" because of their intense fire-spreading qualities. One of the bombs—actually a tank of the jellied gasoline—is headed straight down while the other is just being released from beneath the Mustang.

July Trade Shows Surplus

OTTAWA, Aug. 28. (CP)—Canada put on a big successful export drive in July to gain her first monthly trade surplus in seven months. The Bureau of Statistics today reported that exports outpaced imports by $7,800,000, pulling down the total, over-all deficit for the seven months of 1951 to $332,000,000 from $339,800,000. Both imports and exports were at peacetime highs for the month. Shipments to the United States jumped by $34,200,000 to $204,900,000 from $170,700,000 in July last year.

A bigger surprise was a sharp climb in exports to Britain. Shipments rolled to $74,100,000, double the $35,300,000 a year ago. It was the highest monthly total in three years.

Exports to all other Commonwealth countries increased to $27,000,000 from $16,400,000, and to all other foreign countries to $72,600,000 from $34,300,00.

Heartening News

These heartening boosts brought total exports for the month to $378,600,000, an increase of about $122,000,000 from $256,700,000 last year.

Imports, still buoyant, were more in line with exports, totalling $370,800,000, a $111,300,000 boost from $259,500,000 in 1950.

This gave Canada a small surplus of $7,800,000 in monthly trade, a sharp reversal of continuous deficits in the first six months of 1951.

The deficit in monthly trade with the United States was about balanced by the surplus obtained in trade with Britain.

Imports from the United States, overbalancing exports by $31,600,000, climbed to $236,500,000 from $170,600,000 last year.

Imports from Britain, on the other hand, were $31,100,000 lower than exports, climbing only $10,000,000 to $43,000,000 from $32,700,000.

Ridgway Charges

The Communist commanders rejected as "entirely unsatisfactory" Ridgway's denial that an allied plane was responsible for the asserted bombing of Kaesong last Wednesday.

It contained a conditional offer to resume armistice talks which the Reds broke off Thursday while a sub-committee was trying to reach agreement on a demilitarized zone across Korea.

More Accusations

"Only when your military aircraft violated the neutral zone with our delegation as its target, attempting to murder them, was our delegation compelled to suspend the meetings and wait for your side to take responsible action about the incident.

"We hereby once more propose to you that this grave act of provocation should be dealt with by your side with an attitude of serious responsibility. Then the continuation of the negotiations for a just and reasonable armistice agreement can be guaranteed.

"At the same time we demand that you order your liaison officers to proceed to Kaesong to carry out reinvestigation jointly with our liaison officers of the incident that occurred on Aug. 22 when your military aircraft bombed and strafed the vicinity of the residence of our delegation in order once again to prove the full validity of our protest."

Pakistani Engineers Want Keep Beaver

NORTH BAY, Aug. 28 (CP)—The Canadian beaver's dam-building habits are attracting the attention of Pakistani engineers.

A Pakistan group now touring Canada took time out from inspection of road construction methods to tour the bush under the guidance of Henry Haskin, chief wildlife officer of the North Bay district. They discovered the beaver and his dams.

The engineers wish to transplant some of the animals to discover if their dams would aid irrigation in Pakistan.

Wildlife officials pointed out that the beavers could not be guaranteed to build dams where they were needed, nor stop when Pakistan had enough.

Many beaver here are being trapped and shipped elsewhere, Mr. Haskin said, because their dams are flooding forest land and fields.

Woman Remanded In Manslaughter Case

WHITBY, Aug. 28 (CP).—Mrs. Helen Bayes, 40, of Morgan's Creek, scheduled to appear here today on a manslaughter charge, was remanded until Thursday.

Mrs. Bayes was charged with manslaughter last Monday following the death of Mrs. Lloyd Cooper, Pickering. The Crown alleged that Mrs. Cooper, mother of four, died after an abortion.

4 Killed In Alaska

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Aug. 28 (AP)—Four persons were killed and two severely injured Monday in the crash of an Alaska Airlines float plane during a take-off at Seldovia. It was the seventh fatal aviation accident in little more than a month in Alaska. More than 70 are dead or missing in the string of accidents. The latest plane to crash was a Trans-Air which operates on a shuttle flight between Homer and Seldovia.

Dollar Up

MONTREAL, Aug. 28 (CP). — The American dollar today opened at 5¾ per cent premium to the Canadian dollar, up 1-32 from Monday's close. That is, it took $1.05¾ Canadian to buy $1 American.

The pound sterling was $2.96⅛, up ⅛ from Monday.

Provincial Police Sponsor Midget Ball Among Boys

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 28 — (ENS).—Two tired groups of boys returned to their homes on Monday evening, after engaging in a hectic sports day at the Ontario Provincial Police Midget diamond at Burnbrae, a few miles east of Campbellford.

A truckload of boys from the Cobourg Boys' Training School arrived here Monday afternoon to participate in a sports day arranged by Provincial Constable Donald W. Erskine of Campbellford. Fourteen boys from the school, under the supervision of Jim Lunn, sports director, enjoyed the outing at the Burnbrae ball diamond.

The Kawartha Police Association had planned to hold many such inter-town and country league games throughout the summer months, and although this pre-conceived plan appears to have fallen short of its expectations in many municipalities, teams in the local district have been going all out with their baseball activities free movies and other such entertainment.

Aided by Merchants

Merchants of Campbellford, as well as the parents of the local boys donated soft drinks, sandwiches, cakes, cookies and chocolate bars for the occasion. These were soon devoured by the boys after the ball game and races.

Constable Erskine presented members of each team with a ball and bat, for their good sportsmanship and clean play. His efforts on behalf of the boys were roundly applauded by both teams.

The ball game itself was a seven-inning affair, with the local lads showing a slight edge over their Cobourg rivals. This was probably due to the number of games the local team had played previously. The score wound up 33 to 15 for the Campbellford boys, but nobody worried about the score; it was the fellowship that counted.

Have 70% of Votes

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, Aug. 28 (AP)—Gov. Luis Munoz Marin's popular party was well ahead today in the election of delegates to a Puerto Rican constituent assembly. With the ballots from most of the 76 towns counted, the Popular party held more than 70 per cent of the votes. They were believed certain to win at least 70 of the 92 delegations to the assembly, which will draft a constitution for this United States island possession.

LONDON, Aug. 28 (Reuters).—The figure of Christ will appear in a British movie for the first time when the screen version of a passion play is shown here next month. The movie, "Behold the Man," is an adaptation of the famous Westminster Passion Play, with a cast of amateurs. The Board of Film Censors said it has passed the showing because "the general treatment is so reverent."

Doesn't Approve King Travelling

LONDON, Aug. 28 (Reuters)—The King shouldn't be expected to visit Australia next year because of the strain on his health, Lt. Col. M. Lipton, a Labor member of parliament, said in an address Monday night.

"The public doesn't always realize what heavy demands are made upon the physical and mental endurance of people in public life," he said.

"I don't think, for example, the King should be expected to undertake the arduous task of visiting Australia in February.

"Those who have the responsibility of advising in this matter should think twice about it. I'm sure the people of Australia would understand if, for health reasons, some alterations were made in the arrangements at present proposed."

The Royal visit to Australia already has been postponed once. The King's public engagements have been drastically curtailed in recent months due to ill health.

Vulnerable Point

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28—(AP)—Defence officials said Monday night the country-wide copper strike hits the United States' mobilization drive at its most vulnerable point because if prolonged, it would cut of supplies of the scarcest of all major metals. These officials said the strike would mean that the output of sulphuric acid—a vital ingredient in the refining of aviation and high-octane gasoline—would be shut off immediately. The acid is one of the chief by-products of the smelters.

Plans Nearly Finished For Ordnance Depot

COBOURG, Aug. 28—(ENS)—The first sod of Cobourg's 13 million dollar ordnance depot will be turned the latter part of September, Dr. Fred Robertson, MP for Northumberland, said yesterday. The architects' plans are about complete and tenders will be called for next month. Delay in the plans was caused by the fact that the fire at the ordnance depot in Ottawa made it necessary to increase the size of the Cobourg depot.

Roseneath Boy Comes Home After Nine Years Overseas

ROSENEATH, Aug. 28 (ENS).—Charles Linton, 26, returned home on Saturday after spending nine years in England, France, and Germany. Charlie went overseas with a tank corps in August 1942, at the age of 17. He was later transferred to an infantry division and was in active service on the continent. At the end of World War Two, he enlisted with the paratroopers, spending nine months with them.

At his request he received his discharge from the Canadian army while in England, as he planned on staying there for a few years.

Charlie is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Linton, Roseneath. He and his two brothers, Frank and Vernal, all were in active service in World War Two.

Seven Polio Cases In United Counties

COBOURG, Aug. 28—(ENS)—The Northumberland and Durham health unit report for the week ending August 25, lists three new cases of polio for a total of seven. Of these one of the new cases is a 4½-year-old Cobourg child in which slight paralysis occurred. Altogether three cases of polio have originated in Cobourg. The first was an 11-year-old boy who had to be placed in an iron lung and who is now recovering. The second case was a seven-year-old girl in which no paralysis was present.

Boost Corporation Taxes

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 (AP)—The Senate Finance Committee Monday voted to boost corporation taxes by $2,280,000,000 a year. Committee experts figured this would chop $760,000,000 from new corporation levies voted by the House of Representatives. Without further pruning, the committee version as it now stands would raise only $5,560,000,000 more annually, slightly more than half the $10,000,000,000 increase urged by President Truman to fight inflation as pay-as-you-go for defence.

Three Women In Crash

COBOURG, Aug. 28—(ENS)—Three Cobourg women were hospitalized in a weekend accident which occurred near Baltimore. Police said that a car driven by Miss Merle Blodgett skidded on a gravelled curve and went into the ditch. The driver was uninjured but two passengere were hurt, Mrs. Bessie Blodgett receiving a fractured collar bone and Miss Georgina McBride, a sprained hand. Provincial Constable H. Wooldridge investigated.

New Rental Houses For Peterborough?

Peterborough still has a housing shortage. True, there is no lack of high-priced apartments and houses, but these are beyond what the majority of people in need of shelter can afford. There is much to recommend the Mayor's proposal to ask that 50 or 75 houses be built under the new joint Federal-Provincial scheme. Windsor was the first Ontario city to go after these houses when, early in June, Premier Frost announced the plan to foster low-rental building. Other Ontario cities have followed suit. The housing units (apartments or houses) are being built at a cost of $8,500-$9,000 each. Under the plan, Ottawa puts up three-quarters of the money; the Provincial Government 17½ per cent. and the city the remaining 7½ per cent.—the latter chiefly by providing sewers, sidewalks and other services.

• • •

An odd aspect of the housing scheme is this: Ottawa is now officially discouraging people from building their own homes, through the restriction of credit. It wants to conserve manpower and materials for the defence needs. At the same time it is financing, and encouraging municipalities to build, rental houses. Has Ottawa a grudge against people who want to invest their own capital in their own homes, or does it feel that the need for low rental houses is so great that it must sacrifice its defence principles to them? Actually, houses and apartments built under the new scheme will not be cheap; the average cost will be about $8,500 a unit. Unless governments—federal, provincial and municipal—are intending to take a big loss on them, the new houses or apartments must rent at $60 to $70 a month. Those rates are now "low" rentals. A rental of $30-$40 a month, formerly considered low, is as much a thing of the past as hamburg steak at five pounds for 25 cents.

• • •

Peterborough needs more houses for renting. The wartime houses at the head of Charlotte Street—the Hatton group—were supposed to have been vacated this year. But until other houses are available, city officials can hardly force the tenants of the Hatton houses to get out so that the buildings can be removed. (Even if new rental houses are built, undoubtedly the present tenants, now enjoying exceptionally low rentals, will be unhappy at having to pay more for new quarters). There are weighty reasons why the City Council should accept the scheme, among them being the low cost to the municipality and the new need which the expansion of defence industry in the city creates. But the Council must also consider the effect on private, home-owning building, even if it has had nothing to do with Ottawa policy which is now restricting it.

Kiss Me, Hardy

We would sooner quarrel with the St. Thomas Times-Journal than with the present Duke of Wellington about a matter which relates to the latter's illustrious ancestor, the first Duke. Fortunately we can agree with the Duke while rebuking the Times-Journal. That newspaper, so worthy within its own Golden Acres, has picked up a denial by the present Duke of Wellington that the Great Duke ever said: "The battle of Waterloo was won on the playing-fields of Eton." His present Grace has offered £50 for proof that the statement was ever made by the conqueror of Napoleon. He is betting on a sure thing, which the Times-Journal is not when it proposes to give $50 for proof of another famous saying of the time.

The original Duke said: "The battle of Waterloo was won here," while watching a cricket match at Eton school, probably in the year 1818. He meant, of course, that such schools had been the training ground on which boys who were later to become his officers at Waterloo had tested their mettle. Be it noted that the Duke did not use the exact words usually attributed to him. The £50 offer will not be taken up. The words were first ascribed in print to Wellington in Montalembert's book De L'Avenir Politique de l'Angleterre.

After some summer-heat remarks about Wellington's famous words on the playing fields of Eton, the St. Thomas Times-Journal scoffs at the remarkable phrase attributed to the dying Nelson: "Kiss me, Hardy." This, says the T-J, is "too absurd for credence, yet it figures in our history books." The paper offers $50 to anyone who can prove "that a great fighter like Admiral Lord Nelson said to the surgeon who was beside him as he lay dying in the cockpit of H.M.S. Victory during the battle of Trafalgar, 'Kiss me, Hardy'."

The Times-Journal hedges its offer in the premise. His chief surgeon was Mr. Beatty (who wrote an account of the death-bed scene); Nelson was speaking to his flag-captain, Thomas Masterman Hardy (later Sir Thomas), the officer who had been pacing the quarter-deck with him when the hero was struck down. We presume that the Times-Journal is not wilfully misstating its offer in order to avoid payment.

Others than the T-J have questioned the famous statement. It has been jerked and twisted half a dozen ways by chesty scholars whose feet have never been on the deck of battle, as if there were something shameful in Nelson's last call for an earthly touch. "Kismet, Hardy" is one of the distorted versions, an emendation concocted by cold, unfeeling moderns who will not allow Nelson the human and tender "Kiss me, Hardy." In Nelson's day, sentiment was not banished from men, nor was it considered debilitating.

Robert Southey's account and Nelson's character and era should be proof enough for anybody whose heart has not withered and his soul hardened. Southey published his two-volume Life of Nelson in 1813, six years after the death of his subject. This grew out of an earlier article contributed to the Quarterly Review. Thus the biographical details were sketched and Nelson's reported last phrases set down by Southey very soon after the event. The words cannot have been a historical reconstruction. When the officers and men on the Victory in 1805 saw their beloved hero dying they would hang on his words and cherish them to their dying day. They did. They heard him say: "Kiss me, Hardy."

We quarrel particularly with the Times-Journal's presumption that a great man's man, a hero of heroes, should somehow have demeaned himself for having said such words, or admitted in his dying moments that he yearned for a touch of tenderness, a last physical contact with the men whom he called his "band of brothers."

What makes a man a hero is not qualities different from those of other men, but the humanity of all men in him raised to heroic proportions. Let belittlers not deny Nelson his penultimate sublime phrase, human and noble, his Hamlet to Horatio.

Stock Markets and Korea

Last week the Toronto Stock Market set two new records. Western oils broke their August 21st record of 109.60, rising 1.38 points to an index of 110.98. This new high is attributed by financial men to the failure of a settlement in Iran. Industrial stocks "displayed a sudden burst of power" late Thursday and on Friday, to reach a high of 339.29 on the Exchange's index of twenty selected issues. The previous high was 338.62, set on February 12th. Dick Baiden, Canadian Press staff writer, said of this new record: "Breakdown of negotiations in Korea stimulated war stock in New York Thursday, and the subsequent reaction in Toronto provided the needed impetus."

We do not profess to know how badly the stock market needed such an impetus; but we agree with the analysis that the stock market prices climbed because of the probability that war would continue in Korea. February 12th last, when, according to Mr. Baiden, the previous high was set for industrial stocks, was the day on which news reached this continent of a massive new Red Chinese attack. The enemy had made an eighteen-mile penetration into U.N. lines, thus putting an end to a then-current belief that the enemy front had collapsed and peace was imminent.

Honey Of A Year

Southern Ontario's bees, with assistance from the most succulent crop of sweet clover in years, have done a remarkable job at their honey-combs this summer. The year's crop of honey is the heaviest and finest in a decade. That is a fact for housewives and gourmets to note.

Honey does not come out a standard product year by year, like graded milk or pork from pressure-fed pigs. Like wine, its bouquet, flavour and body vary from season to season; some are good vintage years, some not. This is an excellent one for honey. The weather has been right, the sweet clover abundant and rich, other field flowers from which bees gather nectar—clover and basswood bloom and alfalfa—have yielded a plentiful store, the bees have not had to forage too far afield and have been as busy—well, as busy as bees all the livelong summer days. So they have produced sweeter, more fragrant, more delicious and bountiful honey than usual—honey, the nectar of the gods and antiquity. They have made 1952 a honey of a year.

Outstanding Korean Fact

The Manchester Guardian says starkly and without qualification that the outstanding fact in Korea, North and South, is devastation. In Seoul 85 per cent. of industry has been destroyed, and 60 per cent. of all living space. Once North Korea was industrial, South Korea chiefly agricultural. "All such distinctions have now become meaningless in the general ruin of the country."

Australian Desert Lands Bloom

By WILLIAM FITTER
(In Sydney)

BY artificially introducing minute traces of copper and zinc into the soil, Australian scientists, backed by the State Government and a wealthy insurance company, are converting half a million acres of South Australia's Ninety-Mile Desert into highly productive farms.

The company is now negotiating with the Victorian State Government for another half-million acres of its adjoining Big Desert and the deal is expected to be completed soon.

Then, with the help of additional teams of men and more machinery, the company plans to roll a farm a fortnight off its production line.

EVEN while limited to South Australia, it is the biggest land reclamation work ever attempted in Australia—perhaps in the world. Scientists say that the underlying principle of the reclamation work—restoration of the correct mineral content of soil—opens up vast food production possibilities which could be the answer to the world's shrinking farm output at a time of increasing population.

Neither the Ninety-Mile Desert nor the adjoining Victorian Big and Little Deserts are deserts in the popular conception of some windswept sandy Sahara, arid because rain rarely falls. But in the dictionary sense of "deserted, desolate, uninhabited, uncultivated," deserts they certainly are. They were renowned in aboriginal lore and after a few abortive attempts to farm them by early white settlers, they were forsaken as unmanageable.

RAINFALL over the area ranges from 22 inches a year in the south to 17 in the north. It is reliable and well spaced, and the absorptive nature of the soil allows none of the moisture to escape. There is also good stock water underground, sometimes at only a few feet.

Yet while rich farming and grazing districts surround them, the deserts—which geographically are one—will support neither plants nor animals.

THE secret of this unfertility, and the cure, were discovered accidentally about ten years ago but not until recently has any organization with sufficient capital come along to convert the desert into pastureland.

Late in the 1930's a mysterious sickness struck stock in several coastal areas of South Australia. Losses of both sheep and cattle were heavy and farmers called on the Council for Scientific and Industrial Research, a Commonwealth Government agency, for help.

The scientists were baffled. Affected country could not be recognized on sight. Sometimes the disease occurred on poor, meagre pastures, sometimes on what appeared to be lush grassland. Animals lost condition and quickly wasted to death. Animal birth fell away and surviving stock was often sickly and stunted.

FOR several years scientists combed pastures for poisonous plants, looked for intestinal worms, analyzed wool and carried out hundreds of post-mortem examinations, without success. Soil tests were abortive, too, until one of the research team experimented with copper. He found that by applying minute amounts of copper to plants in the disease belt growth was stimulated. Extensive tests with pasture plots yielded the clue—the soil had a copper deficiency. Further experiments showed that phosphorus and copper were the vital missing elements for plants and copper and cobalt for animals.

The Animal Nutrition Laboratory, a separate section of the C.S.I.R., had by this time become interested in the coastal lands experiments and suggested that probably a similar soil deficiency explained the unfertility of the vast irregular shaped desert lands which straddle the border between South Australia and Victoria, covering in all some seven million acres.

MR. D. C. RICEMAN, a soil chemist, was chosen by the C.S.I.R. to head a team of scientists in field work in the desert. He began work in 1941 but the war interrupted the program and it was not until late in 1944 that the experiments were resumed, with trial pasture plots near Keith, South Australia.

These plots showed results broadly comparable with those obtained in the solution of the coastal disease problem. In the coastal districts the soil deficiencies, in order of importance for plants, were: 1. Copper; 2. Phosphate. In the desert the order was: 1. Phosphate; 2. Zinc; 3. Copper.

Further experiments, over several years, showed just how much of the metals was needed to restore fertility and the most economical methods of applying them.

A STANDARD dressing was evolved—seven lbs. of copper sulphate (blue-stone) and seven lbs. of zinc sulphate to the acre. Once these missing elements are restored—at a cost of about seven shillings an acre apart from working costs—plants thrive, animals get the needed trace of metals from them, the animals fertilize the plants returning the nutrition they have taken, and the plants thicken and strengthen. Nature's circle has been resumed.

The next step was to apply the experiments on a commercial basis and it was then that the Australian Mutual and Provident Life Assurance Society entered the field and negotiated to take over half a million acres of South Australia's Ninety-Mile Desert.

THE company proceeded cautiously, cleared a few hundred acres and planted a variety of grasses. The oldest of these early pastures are now entering their third season. The fields are thick with clover, lucerne and other nutritious grasses and are supporting up to three sheep to the acre.

Satisfied beyond doubt that the scientists have solved the riddle of the deserts, the company has now swung into top gear and teams of men and giant tractor-drawn disc ploughs are knocking down scrub, tearing out roots, burning off and ploughing and seeding new land. The target is 30,000 acres a year, to be converted into 20 to 30 individual farms for sheep or dairy produce.

The farms will be allotted by ballot to the men who are now clearing and sowing the desert.

Why Bakers Make Poor Pies

(A LETTER IN THE OTTAWA CITIZEN)

Editor's Note: Chester Bloom, Ottawa correspondent for the Winnipeg Free Press and the Ottawa Citizen, complained in a recent article that today's pies are not what Mother used to make. And in these days, he says, all bakeries and eating houses vied with the artistic pie genius of our mothers and grandmothers. "But now what do we get? Alleged pies, ersatz pies. Pies with one or two berries to the slice, stuck in some fearful chemical filling of horse's foot gelatin, flour or corn starch filling, sweetened with glucose or corn syrup. Flat as a pancake too..." Herewith a Perth baker, Mrs. E. A. Vice, puts the lid on Mr. Bloom.

BEING a mere baker without the art of endless phrases full of long-drawn-out adjectives, I don't expect this will make interesting reading for the cultured masses, but I'd like to voice my opinion about what is wrong with the bakers' pie.

Mind you, I don't for a minute deny it is a poor pie—but so were the majority of pies baked in the old wood stove by grandmother and the maiden aunts who spent two or three days baking for the church picnic. Anyone who can honestly say all those picnic pies were lovely, flaky, crusted, delicious affairs is toying with the truth. Some of those pies made at home are still good, but the majority are soggy, rubbery, and unpalatable, just as the bakers' pies are.

But now I'm defending the bakers' pie.

Eleven years ago, a good pastry baker worked for $25 per week, 10 hours most days, and up to 18 hours on Saturday. This man was well paid—$25 a week being top wages.

In those days we sold a lemon pie for 30 cents. We paid $8.50 a ton for coke to heat the oven, 16 cents a dozen for eggs, 10 cents a pound for shortening, and 7½ cents a pound for sugar.

Today we pay the same pastry baker $55 a week and he works only 48 hours, instead of 86. His weekly wage is approximately $65—more than double. Eggs today are 84 cents a dozen, five times the former cost. And just try making a lemon pie without eggs! Shortening is 3½ times as much, and so is the paper plate and the pie box. Sugar and lemon are nearly double. Now this averages an increase cost to the baker of about 2½ times the cost 11 years ago. But just try taking a 75 cent ticket on a lemon pie. People would avoid it like the plague.

So what? So the baker has only one course of action open to him—make an inferior pie. The consumer always pays; he always pays for everything—although he can be fooled by some things easier than by a pie.

And why will the public not pay 75 cents for a pie? They have spent too much money on pop, ice-cream, chewing gum, cigarettes, and many other non-essentials. Just as they'll willingly pay for a quart of beer and holler their heads off about the price of milk for the babies, so also they'll eat lousy hotdogs, potato chips, endless bottles of pop—but "Heavens!" they'll yell, "surely they don't expect anybody will pay 75 cents for a pie!"

(Mrs. E. A. Vice)

The Farmer And Mr. Green

(MONTREAL STAR)

MR. WILLIAM GREEN of the American Federation of Labor was in a dark mood while in Montreal. He muttered in his beard concerning the ingratitude of farmers and of what he was going to do to them if they did not mend their ways.

According to Mr. Green the farmer has allied himself to big business. He has organized. In certain instances he even has gone so far as to incorporate himself.

Nevertheless we do not think that he has so very much to moan about. If the farmer has done these various naughty things, he has only done what ninety-nine per cent of Mr. Green's following would do, if given the chance. We hold no brief for farmers. But whatever the farmer has, it came to him in much the same way that things come to all of us; partly by good luck, partly by good management and partly because we are fortunate enough to live in a good country. If we could think of any way of squeezing our foodstuffs out of the farmer at a lower price, we would feel justified in doing so. Indeed every time that we look at the price tag on a lump of steak we make a mental note to speak to the chaps in the outer office about taking steps to protect our interests—the organization of a consumers' council, the mobilization of our buying power, or something of the sort. But we never do anything about it; whereas the farmer has done something. As a result, his banker is polite to him. But by the same token Mr. Green and his friends have not fared badly on the same pitch. They have done more than a spot of organizing and they are benefiting accordingly.

There is something in Mr. Green's gripe which is reminiscent of Dennis the hangman in "Barnaby Rudge." That worthy extolled the noose as one of the glories of civilization—until it dropped upon his own neck. Then he felt differently.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will raise unto David a righteous Branch, and a King shall reign and prosper, and shall execute judgement and justice in the earth. In his days Judah shall be saved, and Israel shall dwell safely: and this is his name whereby he shall be called, THE LORD OUR RIGHTEOUSNESS. (Jer. 23:5,6.)

✧ ✧ ✧

And in the sixth month the angel Gabriel was sent from God unto a city of Galilee, named Nazareth, to a virgin espoused to a man whose name was Joseph of the house of David; and the virgin's name was Mary.

And the angel came in unto her, and said, Hail, thou that are highly favoured. the Lord is with thee: blessed art thou among women . . . And, behold, thou shalt conceive in thy womb, and bring forth a son, and shalt call his name JESUS . . . And he shall reign over the house of Jacob forever; and of his kingdom there shall be no end. (Luke 1:26-28, 31, 33.)

And it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus, that all the world should be taxed . . . And all went to be taxed, every one into his own city.

And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judaea, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem; (because he was of the house and lineage of David:) to be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with child . . .

And she brought forth her firstborn son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn. (Luke 2:1,3-5,7.)

Finding she tired quickly, a woman decided to weigh herself. As she stepped off the scales her husband eyed her appraisingly and asked: "Well, what's the verdict? A little over-weight?"

"Oh, no," said his wife. "But according to that height table on the scales I should be about six inches taller!"

In fining a Windsor driver on a careless driving charge, the carelessness consisting of having one hand on the wheel and the other placed around his female companion, Magistrate A. W. First halt on a GILES family holiday

"Nice letter from a reader before we left—'Hope you all have a pleasant holiday. If you get to Land's End keep going straight on.'"

"EXCUSE ME, I WANT TO SAY HELLO to my husband David," gasps Kate Reid to Frank Perry, playing Jerry Seymore, as she in the girl-wife title-role of 'Claudia' breaks free from an experimental clench with dilettante philander Seymore. Domestic Comedy 'Claudia' Pulsates In Sweet Pathos

By T. J. ALLEN

The Summer Theatre dishes up this week as soapy a dish of suds as Broadway and radio could produce. "Claudia" is a domestic drama pulsating with sweetness and fortitude, child-bearing and mother-dying, fresh country air and New York jade, bleats in the piggery and blats of a Hollywood opera star, innocence of a child-bride and roguery of a dilletante roue. It is a comfy sort of play, full of gentleness, nobility and lovingkindness. One knows that, despite all, God is just dandy, and sees the little sparrow fall.

The playwright is Rose Franken, an American, and the setting is in the country (Connecticut)—a young architect's stab at country living and commuting. The play could be English like 'Quiet Week-End' and the setting Buckinghamshire—it's in the type. First-rate dishonest sentiment, and a weep and a laugh in every hand.

Kate Reid Pathos

The actors play up handsomely and with straight faces. The two stars are Kate Reid and Bill Needles. Miss Reid in the title role is the young bride and gives a charming, sweet and incredibly credible performance. Her pathos, sentiment, girlish pranks and wifely ardour are altogether believable. Claudia's mature husband David is played with studied sincerity and nobility of soul by Bill Needles, his last appearance this summer.

Betty Leighton, as the stricken, brave mother of Claudia, acts brave and stricken and matronly. It is good to have her back on our stage, and her art will have wider scope next (the final) week. Pat Atkinson is the Hollywoodian star, Madame Daruschka, sufficiently extravagant of voice and gesture. Ann Muray is the sophisticated Julia, Claudia's sister-in-law, who comes back to the simple, beautiful virtues.

Frank Perry, whose competence and versatility have become a local byword this summer, in which he has had a prominent role every week, every play, has limited scope as the foppish writer and mild seducer on the party telephone line. But he gives his part of Jerry Seymore a distinctive character. It is his final appearance this summer.

Jean Robb and Cal Whitehead are the Pennsylvania-Dutch hired help on the farm, honest and good and wonderful despite a whispered record of criminal dishonesty somewhere.

Notable Set

Peter Mews's set is one of the best of the entire season. It is a superior urbanite's farmhouse, done in knotty pine and complete with country view, period staircase, panelled sidewall and habitant rug work. This viewer went up on stage after the play to see the set at close quarters. I advise others to do it too; the use that has been made of that small stage, and the illusion, are remarkable. Mr. Sadlier told me that any theatregoers would be welcome to see the set after the play, particularly since it ends just after 10.30 and there is time before the 11 p.m. compulsory closing. I hear that the set is for sale at $600 to form the nucleus of a superior cottage on Stony or Pigeon Lake.

The house was sold out by the CGE Monday-night sponsors by more than 50 seats, and the audience had a thoroughly good time.

De Marco Wins

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 28 (AP)— Paddy De Marco set a blazing pace Monday night to upset Sandy Saddler, featherweight champion of the world, in a 10-round non-title bout before 6,851 fans in the Milwaukee arena. The stocky, bull-shouldered De Marco, weighing 136 pounds for a 7½ pound advantage over Saddler, avenged the ninth round TKO he suffered at the hands of the champ nearly two years ago.

Hundreds Of Troops Bivouack On Detroit

DETROIT, Aug. 29 (AP).—Battle-equipped army troops, reported to number in the "hundreds," bivouacked in the immediate Detroit area today.

Without public advance notice, the troops entered the Detroit environs late Monday.

The manoeuvre, a show of might, was described by an army spokesman as a "test." The length of stay for the troops was not disclosed.

It was the first such activity in defence-vital Detroit since the days of the Second World War.

Your Garden:

Roses Need Plenty Or Water During Hot, Dry Weather

By HENRY PREE (NEA)

Hot weather is not a serious problem to healthy rose plants as long as a regular schedule of care is followed. Giving roses an adequate water supply is probably the prime responsibility during these hot dry periods. Water is important to keep up the blooming rate and growth and to build energy which will mean better plants next year.

While hybrid roses are hardy enough to do well with only minimum care, a plentiful supply of water will bring them to the peak of loveliness for which they are famed. A glorious color display in spring and autumn can be had by any gardener who gives roses sensible care, writes Dr. R. C. Allen, Secretary of the American Rose Society.

A schedule of long soakings at regular intervals is the secret to successful watering. The best method is to let the hose slowly trickle over a board at the base of the plants. This will give a more even watering and avoid washing the dirt away from the base of the plant. The soil should be soaked to a depth of at least 10 inches. An important thing to remember is to avoid wetting the foliage since this often contributes to the spread of fungus diseases.

Naturally a good damp soil attracts weeds, but these may be discouraged by mulchinng with peat moss, composted grass clippings, buckwheat hulls, ground corncobs or other available material. Mulching will not only deter the growth of weeds but will keep the soil moist and cool. Any cultivation of the beds should be kept light and close to the surface, as deep cultivation seriously may injure the hairlike roots.

Because roses use up a large amount of the available food supply during this active growing season, additional applications of complete plant food will replenish the bed. Organic fertilizer, such as well-rotted manure, may be worked into the soil to keep your plants healthy and vigorous. If organic fertilizer is not available, the application of a heaping tablespoon of any good commercial fertilizer should be worked into the bed around each plant at four-week intervals.

Given adequate water, and minimum care, roses will turn out well.

The successful battle against fungus diseases and insect pests depends on regularity to a great extent. Dusting or spraying at regular intervals will kep damage to a minimum. It is recommended that dusting or spraying be done in the early morning or late afternoon every 10 days. This application should cover both sides of the leaves and be reapplied promptly after every heavy rain.

Gardening Questions

Q—Is close cutting of a Kentucky Blue Grass lawn harmful? —E.K.

A—A lawn may be cut out of existence with cutting which is too close. Too-close cutting leaves a plant so short that not enough remains to carry on the life processes and any adverse conditions such as drought, disease, or insects can easily wipe out what is left. The proper cutting leaves grass one and one-half to two inches high.

Q—The foliage of our Lily-of-the-Valley is browning. A friend says to pull it off and burn it. What is your suggestion?—N.T.

A—When Lily-of-the-Valley foliage burns brown it has no doubt completed its mission of supplying food for its continued existence. Any removal before it is dead will interfere with the flower crop next year. Spread fertilizer on the ground about the plants, then cultivate and water it in.

Dr. G. Gratian Wins Thorncliffe Race

TORONTO, Aug. 28—(CP)—A fifty-to-one shot that raced like a champion featured the 35th day of harness racing at Thorncliffe raceway Monday. Dr. G. Gratian, owned and driven by Neil McLean, of Port Elgin, took the lead when the favored June Chips broke a hobble and came home first with a strong drive. Dr. G. Gratian paid $106.55 for a $2 ticket.

Dr. G. Gratian showed that his win was no fluke when he was a fast-closing second to Nicodemus in the second heat of the same race.

Rebella Mc., a 6-to-1 shot from Brockville, won the first race and, when Glendale Charm, a 7-to-1 shot, won the second, they combined for a daily double of $165 for $2.

Remanded In Custody On Murder Charge

CHATHAM, Aug. 28 — (CP) — Thirty-three-year-old Lyle Wallace of Dresden, who Monday was formally charged with the murder of his 37-year-old cousin, Grant Wallace, was remanded in custody to Sept. 4.

Lyle Wallace was arrested in Dresden Sunday.

The body of Grant Wallace, a Negro war veteran, widower and father of five children was found floating upright in the Sydenham River near Dresden Aug. 17. Two autopsies showed death was caused by strangulation.

Johnston McCormick Upsets Expert Nick Weslock

By ERWIN FRICKE

OTTAWA, Aug. 28 — (CP) — There isn't a sure bet in sight for the Canadian Amateur Golf Championship, thanks largely to the giant-killing of a freshman.

Johnston McCormick, of Toronto, is pretty much of a giant himself in size. A 27-year-old blonde, he's six feet four. But in the golf world up to now he's been just another four handicapper.

When he came up against husky Nick Weslock, of Windsor, in the opening round Monday for the Canadian amateur at the Royal Ottawa, the experts literally shuddered for him.

For Weslock is to Canadian amateurs what Ben Hogan is to United States pros. The wedge expert broke the competitive course record Saturday in a par-shattering display which paced Ontario to the Willingdon Cup. Even his practice rounds were sensational par-breaking performances.

Upsets Theories

So what happens? McCormick, whose home club is the nine-hole Toronto Humber Valley course, knocks off the tournament ace, one up.

Most members of the Willingdon Cup teams drew first-round byes but many of those who played were sidelined. Doug Silverberg, of Red Deer, Alta., 1950 junior champion and runner-up this year, was another first-round victim.

Silverberg appeared to be pressing too hard during his match with Ron Going, of Ottawa, and never uncovered the form he displayed earlier. He lost 5 and 3.

Bob Wylie, of Calgary, and Jim Harper, of Edmonton, both members of Alberta's Willingdon Cup team, lost out to less highly regarded golfers. Wylie bowed 3 and 2 to Colin Brown, of London, Ont., and Harper was defeated 3 and 1 by Hillis Pickens, of Montreal.

Big Mike Pidlaski, Winnipeg, a member of Manitoba's Willingdon Cup team, was eliminated by Don Cordukes, of Ottawa, on the 18th when Cordukes sank a 15-foot putt for the hole.

Taken Out By Fair

Young Bob Hall, of Montreal, Quebec Willingdon Cupper and 1949 Canadian junior champ, was taken out by Bob Fair, of Toronto. It was an 18th-hole decision and both shot medal play 72s.

Walt McElroy, of Vancouver, was the only British Columbia Willingdon Cupper to play and he defeated R. C. Duchemin, of Sydney, NS, 2 and 1.

Bill Mawhinney, of Vancouver, the defending amateur champion, drew a bye and is drawn against a defaulted player in the second round.

Gerry Kesselring, of Kitchener, former Canadian junior champ and Ontario Willingdon Cupper, boosted his stock as outstanding contender for the title by defeating Jim Gibson, of Toronto, 5 and 4.

FIREPROOF ASBESTOS Flexboard

a revolutionary building material, permanent as stone, yet applied with ordinary tools...

• Another outstanding example of Johns-Manville engineering and ingenuity! Asbestos and portland cement processed under terrific hydraulic pressures into an all-purpose building board that becomes literally "a sheet of stone" . . . immune to moisture, easy to work and practically imperishable.

J-M Flexboard can't burn, rot or decay. It is easily painted yet needs no paint for preservative purposes. Light in weight, J-M Flexboard is incredibly strong; yet with all its toughness, is readily worked with ordinary tools and can even be curved if desired!

J-M Flexboard has a hard, smooth gray finish that resists scuffing and is easily kept clean. For indoor and outdoor building purposes, it has countless uses. For free folder on Flexboard, see your J-M dealer or write Canadian Johns-Manville, Dept. N-23, 199 Bay St., Toronto.

ASBESTOS in action

Asbestos is truly one of nature's miracles — it can't burn, rust, rot or wear out.

Through Johns-Manville research, asbestos has been "harnessed" to serve in countless ways. For example, one of the more recent J-M accomplishments is Transite asbestos-cement Pipe.

Today, hundreds of forward-looking municipalities count on Transite Pipe for clear, sparkling drinking water . . . it is also widely used for safe, efficient sewage disposal, house connection and drainage purposes. Industry specifies Transite Pipe to solve tough venting problems and to carry electrical and telephone cables. Yes, every day new uses are being found for this product of asbestos research!

Woollens Take First One Over Kingston

The local Woollens' girls defeated Kingston 18-7 here last night to open their best-of-three PWSU playdown series. The return game or games, if necessary, will probably be played in the Limestone City this weekend.

The visitors last night showed lack of experience in spots, yet gave indications they could be tougher on their own field. Woollens served heads-up ball in the free-hitting affair, making the most of their opportunities. L. Derry and R. Naylor were good defensively for them, and R. McInroy hit two homers and three singles in six times at bat. D. Smith belted a homer and two doubles in four. J. Vallier and N. Vallier proved best at bat and afield for the losers. L. Wright was relieved on the visitors' mound by M. Williams in the fourth, L. Derry going the route for the winners. Teams:

Semi-Finalists To Be Decided

OTTAWA, Aug. 28 — (CP) — Semi-finalists in the junior men's singles competition will be decided today at the 1951 Canadian Junior Tennis Championships at the Rideau Lawn Tennis Club.

Eight players Monday completed the fourth round of the event and hope to use today's fifth round as a stepping stone into the semi-finals.

Of the eight eliminated in the fourth round, four were top-seeded United States and Canadian players.

Jean Dussault, of Montreal, defeated Ray Widelski, of Buffalo, NY, third seeded in the fourth group, in straight sets 7-5, 7-5. Grant Logie, third in the Canadian seeding, went down to defeat before Paul LeFrancois, of Montreal, 6-3, 6-4.

Frank Nolan, of Halifax, fourth seeded in the Canadian players, was beaten by John Griffith, of Regina, and Jim Lawson, of Calgary. Scores were 6-2, 6-1 in each ase.

Silverwoods Win In Opening Playoff

LINDSAY, Aug. 28. — Silverwoods scored six runs in the first and went on to whip Visking, 15-3, in the opening game of the Lindsay men's softball league best-of-five finals here Monday night.

Both starting hurlers were routed by home runs. Don Lucas was chased in the third when Clint Martin hit his second straight four-bagger. Harv Heatlie cracked a circuit clout in the eighth off Woody Ritchie and Dunc Daynes finished up. Visking reliefer Joe Beck scattered five hits the rest of the route. Sixty Coombes led the winners with three for four.

Americans Get Juvenile PMLA Honors

American Hotel won the juvenile city lacrosse championship at Miller Bowl last night, defeating Cherney's 18-2 in a sudden-death final, after Cherney's had beaten Arnold Steel 8-2 in the sudden-death semi-final as the first half of the twin bill. Two games in one night proved too much for Cherney's, who were minus substitutes. Americans earned the victory handily.

Allan led Cherney's in the opener with three goals, as Curtis had two and an assist, Hunt two markers, Brioux one, and Cullen an assist. Jones and Daniels got the losers' two tallies. Teams:

A. Steel: J. Hobart, Lynch, Roode, Jones, Scriver, Daniels, Johnson, Cupoli.

Cherney's: B. Hobart, Curtis, Hunt, Holbrook, Brioux, Woodgate, Allan, Cullen.

In the final, Seabrooke of Americans clicked for five markers, with four apiece notched by Bloom and Johnson, three by Batley and two by J. Sutherland. Curtis counted the losers' two goals. Teams:

Cherney's: J. Hobart, Curtis, Hunt, Holbrook, Brioux, Woodgate, Cullen.

Americans: B. Hobart, Bloom, Seabrooke, Chapman, Batley, J. Sutherland, Chambers, Johnson, Smythe.

Bobby Doerr Refuses To Undergo Surgery

DETROIT, Aug. 28 —(AP)— Bobby Doerr, Boston Red Sox veteran second baseman, said today he would not undergo surgery on his ailing back merely to prolong his baseball career.

Sidelined for the last three weeks, Doerr fears he may have a ruptured spinal disc. He has most of the symptoms of that trouble.

"I may have such a rupture," Doerr admitted. "But so far I have not submitted to a fluid test that would prove it. But I will not have an operation on my back just to play baseball. I'd do it only if it got so bad that I would be unable to walk.

"If I can not play without an operation, I'm stepping out of baseball completely," he said. "I'm not interested in managing or coaching."

Fight Manager Dies

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 28 (AP) —Fight manager Ed Johnson of Cincinnati was found dead in a hotel here Monday night. The body was discovered by his fighter, Pat Iacobucci, shortly before the Cincinnati featherweight was scheduled to meet Ralph Dupas of New Orleans in an eight round main event at the Municipal Auditorium. Johnson was widely known in boxing circles in the middle west. He was born in Canada about 52 years ago.

Jockey Loses Leg

HAMILTON, O., Aug. 28 (AP) —Injuries suffered by a young jockey in a race spill Aug. 13 forced amputation of his leg on Monday. Jockey Elmer Wright, 23, was riding Joe Marks at the Butler county fair grounds when his mount fell in the back stretch. Wright suffered a leg fracture. Doctors had to amputate the leg about four inches above the ankle when a blood clot formed.

WILLINGDON CHAMPIONS—The Ontario team won the Willingdon Cup at the Royal Ottawa Golf Club with a team score of 585, 18 strokes ahead of the runner-up British Columbia foursome. The victory was the 12th for Ontario in the 19 times the event has been a 36-hole, medal-play affair. Left to right, with individual scores bracketed, are: Don Varey of Brantford (156); Gerry Kesselring, Kitchener (142); Phil Farley, Toronto (149); and Nick Weslock of Windsor, low man among the 32 players with 141.

Marines Gain A Win Over Ashby's

Marines beat Ashby's 12-5 at the Bowl last night to go one up in their intermediate girls' city finals. Marines had a little edge in hitting and a big margin on fielding, playing good ball most of the way and clicking for two double-plays. Ashby's were inconsistent in their play and their dozen errors hurt plenty. Only in the second did they do much damage at bat, scoring four of their runs then.

E. Whittaker pitched steady ball for Outboards and banged out a homer, double and single, while M. Gillen hit a homer, triple and double, M. Behan having four singles in five times to lead. The latter went well afield, too. R. Boyce and D. Thompson, of Ashby's, each had two safeties, L. Jordan belting a four-bagger. M. Boyce stood out in a defensive manner. Teams:

Here And There In Sports

By The Canadian Press

Carl Voyles, coach of the Hamilton Tiger-Cats isn't talking much about the line-up he'll use in Wednesday's opening Big Four tilt with Montreal Alouettes.

He did say Monday night that Bernie Custis, Negro speedster from Syracuse, would start in the quarterback slot but he wouldn't talk about his other prize players.

Asked whether Hamilton's Ralph Bartolini, who came into his own at practice Saturday, or Fred Kijek, long distance booter who played for Alouettes two seasons ago, would get starting nods, he said only:

"It'll probably come to me about half an hour before the game starts Wednesday."

One of the first calls on Lindsay's newly-installed police radio system went to constable Johnny Hunter. It was an emergency call to the local softball park.

He found that a ball player had a broken leg.

The player was Mrs. Johnny Hunter. She is star catcher for one of the ladies' teams.

Fog in the St. Lawrence river has delayed the homecoming of channel-swimmer Winnie Roach Leuczler, North York township officials said Monday. They said that her ship, due to dock Monday, had been delayed and that the suburban township's welcome for its famous citizen, scheduled for today would be postponed.

The Ontario Racing Commission will resume hearings into an alleged jockey "fix" ring at this track near Niagara Falls, today, it was announced Monday. The Commission will meet here for two days then adjourn to Toronto for a further meeting Thursday.

The Chicago Tribune said Monday night it has been informed that Gen. Douglas MacArthur has turned down the job of baseball commissioner.

In a dispatch from Washington, the Tribune quoted a baseball club owner as saying that a committee conferred with MacArthur in his New York hotel suite last week and told him he would be elected by an unanimous vote if he would accept.

The swimming Mercer family —father, mother and five children—set out Monday from Tiverton, RI, in two automobiles for Toronto, to take part in a long distance swim tournament at the Canadian National Exhibition on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mercer, their son and four daughters, took part in a 1949 Coney Island swim. They had hoped of conquering the English Channel that year but failed to find a sponsor.

The father, now 55, and Robert, 15, plan to take part in the 10-mile men's distance race Wednesday.

Three of the girls, Althea, 23, and the 15-year-old twins, Faith and Hope, will enter the women's distance championship race — three miles—Sept. 5.

Frank (Lefty) O'Doul, manager of San Francisco Seals, announced Monday he would take an all-star baseball team of major and Pacific coast leagues on a goodwill tour of Japan after the season ends.

The squad of 18 players will include 10 to 12 big leaguers, O'Doul said.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

That playoff series ball fans have been waiting for all summer opens here tonight at eight in Riverside, weather being right. It's the start of the sawoffs between Oshawa Merchants and the Petes to put a team into provincial senior playdowns. Next one is tomorrow at Oshawa. Club officials will get together this even and decide on how many games will be played, dates, etc. And will discuss the Viaduct League order for Oshawa and Petes to get on with their loop playoffs, rather than begin the OBA series. Likely Lefty Bill Dadson will get the opening call against the import-studded Merchants. Every game now is plenty important, and a huge crowd is expected for the first one.

Scribe Carver tells of a ball crowd at Dallas one 1949 night. "Just before time for the game to start, the park organist droned out 'Three Blind Mice.' Then out of the clubhouse in single file came a line of umpires — 34 of them altogether. They paraded silently on the field, lined up facing the grandstand, the organ music stopped and then in unison they let go with a tremendous 'Boo!' It was probably the first time in history that umpires have had the pleasure of booing the fans. The 34 umps were attending a meeting in Dallas for the purpose of working out season assignments.

Gans in Senior "B"?

Also comes this hockey clipping: "The Gananoque Hockey Club at its annual meeting the other night disclosed that it ended the season with $27.66 on the right side of the ledger. The statement revealed club receipts at $5,986.03 against expenditures of $5,958.37. Game receipts were $3,536.42 and six players' salaries came to $2,836.11. The meeting thought the town should enter senior "B" this season with several imports added to strengthen the squad." Hm, that means the Gans would be back in our grouping, and we hope a lot stronger. All club in this group, except the Eagles and Petes, made some profit last season.

As learned yesterday from Ken Kingston of the OLA—and mentioned briefly in Monday's paper—Eastern Canada senior lacrosse semi-final dates are: Aug. 29-31 and Sept. 1-3-5 if it goes the five games. Of more interest to the Petes is the list of dates for the eastern finals, Sept. 7-8-10-12-14-15-17 if it goes the limit. First game at Peterborough, then alternating. Should the Petes win out, they'd fly to British Columbia on Sept. 22 to open the best-of-seven Mann Cup (or Dominion finals) two days later. If Mimico is a winner, that team will leave by train Sept. 19. Rained-out games go the next night and every tilt is fought to a finish. No ties allowed. The Petes practise this week and anxiously await the name of their next opponent. Two more series for the local at the most.

All About Lacrosse

Here's a lacrosse grab-bag: Hamilton Tigers edged St. Kitts 7-6 and the series will be settled tonight in Hamilton. The PMLA Americans beat Cherney's in a sudden-deather last e'en to capture the city juvenile crown, Cherney's earlier eliminating A. Steel. The city bantam final is on at 6.30 tonight between St. Alphonsus and Irwin-Godson in the secondary box, followed by a practise for the midget and juvenile all-stars there. Midgets take on Long Branch at the Bowl tomorrow p.m. at 8.45 in their return OLA encounter. Seniors have a workout tonight, Arn Dugan being ready for action again.

A PWSU switch now has Westclox slated to play in Agincourt on the morrow with second and third games if necessary here Staurday, probably aft and eve. It's intermediate girls' softball. Woollens downed the Kingston lasses 18-7 here last evening and finish that set in the Limestone City next weekend, a best-of-three junior PWSU sawoff. The locals looked good on the mound, afield and in the batters' box, but might find Kingston tougher at home. Marines went one up in the city intermediate finals by fashioning a 12-5 verdict o'er Ashby's, the latter being loose defensively. They wind up their best-of-fiver with one or two games tomorrow night in the East City saucer.

Spook Graham, who shone at snap for OAC, is turning out now with the Orfuns, and Spike Matthews is back. . . . Older ball fans learned with regret of the death in Marmora of Hec Boudreau, starry catcher in the 20s when Marmora fielded a powerful ball club; Hec was well liked around the circuit. . . . Annual corn and weiner roast at the Kawartha Golf Club is Sept. 8. . . . In tennis, Kawartha won from Quaker to take the Morrow Trophy and the Kawartha and District League title. . . . City Bowling League has its annual open meeting at seven p.m. this Thursday in Duffus'. . . . That'll have to do for today.

Sarnia Team Has Eye On 1951 Title

By FRED WHEELER.

SARNIA, Aug. 28 — (CP). — An all-Canadian squad that plays strictly for fun, Sarnia Imperials count on a bigger line and a faster backfield to change them from runners-up to champions in the Ontario Rugby Football Union senior series this ear.

Coach Hugh (Red) Douglas, one of the few native Canadians coaching Canadian senior football, thinks that his amateur team has a better-than-even chance of carrying off top honors in the four-team league.

The start their campaign next Monday (Labor Day) against the 1950 champions Toronto Balmy Beach. Other teams in the Union are Windsor Royals and McMaster University from Hamilton which will play an abbreviated schedule.

"In the last two campaigns, we have been beaten out in the finals," says Douglas, a native of St. Thomas starting his fourth year as Imperials' coach.

Title Contenders

"I think this year with some new talent and the rookies of last season with some experience behind them, the Imperials should at least be rated title contenders."

Last year, Beaches downed Sarnia in the playoffs. In 1949 they fell before Hamilton Tigers led by Merle Hapes, former American pro.

Imperials have lost about a dozen players from last year's team. Five veteran stalwarts have retired—insides Norm McLean and Clair Sutton, outside wing Johnny Crincich, and halfbacks Bill Weiss and Gus Scheiers. Don Mattingly, 245-pound 18-year-old middle wing, has gone to Winnipeg Blue Bombers of the Western Canada Union. Scheiers remains with the club as manager.

Two of the best prospects to replace the absentees are outside wing Moe Malone, who played with McGill Redmen in the Intercollegiate Union last year, and Insisam Sheridan, formerly with Queen's Golden Gaels.

Four Holdovers

Four noted holdovers from 1950 are half-backs Johnny Chorostecki and Eric McKeever, middle Dutch Davey and snap Bruce Mattingly. Mattingly and Chorostecki were ORFU all-stars last year. Chorostecki, 22-year-old native of Sudbury, set a league scoring record with 35 points in eight games.

Trip Trepanier, another Imperial veteran, is back to help Douglas as assistant coach. And trainer Bob Thorpe is starting his 26th season at the rubbing table.

The Imperials play their home games at Athletic Park, whose stands seat 3,200. It has been the club's park ever since Sarnia first entered a team in the senior ORFU in 1928.

Tigers Edge Athletics 7-6

HAMILTON, Aug. 28 (CP)— Hamilton Tigers fired two last-quarter goals Monday night to edge St. Catharines Athletics 7-6 and even their Senior Ontario Lacrosse Association quarter-final series at two games each.

Deciding game of the best-of-five series will be played here tonight.

Trailing 6-4 late in the third quarter, Tigers' George Masters scored late in the same stanza and early in the final period to tie the score. Then captain Blaine McDonald whistled home the winning marker at 11:56.

Pacing the winners' attack was George Masters with three goals: Merv McKenzie had two and Dough Davidson and McDonald got singles.

For the Athletics Tony D'Amico picked up a pair with lone goals going to Bill Bradshaw, Doug Smith, Ken Croft and Norm Corporan.

Playoffs Commence In Fastball League

Following is the final standing in the Industrial Fastball League:

	W	L	T	Pts.
Mt. Pleasant	15	3	0	30
Raybestos	13	5	0	26
Mutuals	10	8	0	20
McGinness	9	8	1	19
Woollens	8	10	0	16
Quakers	4	14	0	8
Norwood	3	14	1	7

Norwood, not wishing to replay their tie game, have been eliminated from playoffs. The "A" series will have first and fourth teams playing off, "B" being between second and fifth, and the "C" between third and sixth teams. Winner of "A" gets a bye into finals, as the "B" and "C" winners playoff for the right to go into finals and the G. K. Fraser Trophy. All series are best-of-three till the finals which are best-of-five. Playoff schedule:

Aug. 27—Mutuals beat Quakers 14-4; Rays beat Woollens 4-3.

Aug. 29—Mutuals at Quakers; McGinness at Mt. Pleasant.

Aug. 30—Rays vs. Woollens at Quaker Park.

Rays scored two runs each in the third and fifth as Woollens got three in the fifth. The latter had 11 hits, as did the winners, neither side booting one in a fine fray. Teams:

Woollens: Wiechorek, 3b; Manbeck, cf; Anderson, ss; E. Leonard, 2b; Hillier, lf; Nokes, c; McMillen, rf; G. Leonard, 1b; Coughlin, p; Boreland; Dorris, p; Doughty.

Rays: Crampton, cf; Halliday, 2b; Batley, ss; Crary, 3b; Greenlaw, c; L. Maudsley, rf; Giles, lf; E. Maudsley, 1b; Nicholls, p.

Mutuals counted a run in the first frame, five in the fourth, four next time up and two each in the last two. Quakers got two in the second and one apiece in the fourth and fifth. They were held to eight hits and booted five while the winners bingled 13 safeties and kicked three. Heafield, Lomax and Jensen tried in vain to halt Mutuals' hard hitting. O'Toole went the route for the victors. Hillier and Byers banged out homers. Teams:

Quakers: Heafield, Isaac, Prescott, Jensen, Shine, Land, Simmons, Lomax, Hillier, McLelland.

Mutuals: White, Byers, Huard, O'Toole, White, Plumpton, Thompson, Thorburn, Gallagher.

Kawartha Club Captures Tennis Crown

Kawartha defeated Quakers to capture the Morrow Trophy and the championship of the Kawartha and District Tennis League for 1951. President Jack Adams of the league presented the cup to John Fletcher, Kawartha Club captain at the conclusion of events.

The feature of the matches, played at Kawartha and Quaker last weekend, was the men's singles in two long sets with John Faguy having a bit more variety in his shots than Doug McPherson of Quaker to win 7-5 and 9-7. Kawartha won 4-3 on points at home Saturday and 4-3 at Quaker the next day. John Fletcher and Peter Thompson lost their second set 5-7 before taking the fourth event for Kawartha on Sunday to clinch the victory.

On Saturday, a new combination of Betty Lamont and Forrest Rankine shone to win against stiff opposition. J. Faguy and P. Thompson also did well. The other two Kawartha wins were easy but D. Lamont and Ron Lye just missed the first men's; these two have played together in eight previous matches this season and won each time.

The First Day

Results at Kawartha, the home players' names being mentioned first: Ladies' singles—Agnes Bubik won from Jean Vass 6-0, 6-2; men's—W. Elmsley lost to D. McPherson 6-3, 6-1; first men's doubles—D. Lamont and R. Lye lost to Bun Kingdon and Al Conlin 8-6, 6-2; second—John Faguy and P. Thompson won from Doug Tanney and A. Langhorne 6-4, 6-0; first mixed—R. Fletcher and J. Fletcher beat Mary Conlin and Roy Johnston 6-0, 6-0; second — Betty Lamont and F. Rankine won over I. Whitehouse and Geo. Scott 6-3, 8-6; ladies' doubles—M. Adamson and Joan Lye lost to Joy Elmsley and Verna Rose 6-3, 6-3.

At Quaker, home players' names mentioned first: Ladies' singles—Jean Vass lost to Rose Fletcher 6-0, 6-0; men's — D. McPherson lost to J. Faguy 7-5, 9-7; first men's doubles—B. Kingdon and A. Conlin won from D. Lamont and R. Lye 8-6, 6-3; second —Reg Martin and Roy Johnston lost to John Fletcher and Peter Thompson 6-1, 5-7, 6-0; first mixed—Norma Whittaker and Adrian Langhorne lost to A. Bubik and W. Elmsley 6-2, 6-1; second—J. Elmsley and G. Scott won from B. Lamont and F. Rankine 6-3, 6-8, 6-4; ladies' doubles—V. Rose and I. Whitehouse won over M. Adamson and J. Lyne 6-0, 6-0.

Benefit Game For Girl

LINDSAY, Aug. 28.—Woodville will meet Lindsay All-Stars in a benefit game for injured player Doris Hunter here Wednesday night. Pinch-hitting in the ladies' league semi-finals, Mrs. Hunter broke a leg while sliding into home plate as Greaves Electric defeated Lindsay Recreation Centre. All proceeds of the exhibition game will go to Mrs. Hunter, who has starred in the Lindsay league and in Oshawa for a number of years.

Red Wings Edge Leafs 6-5

By The Associated Press

Only once in the history of the International League which dates back to 1884, has a player captured the batting crown two years in a row. That happened 25 years ago, and now Don Richmond of Rochester Red Wings is a ning to make history repeat.

Richmond, last year's batting champ with a .333 average, and the current leader this season with .354, would like to inscribe his name in the record books next to Jim Walsh, a former Buffalo player.

Walsh accomplished the feat during the 1925 and 1926 seasons when he led the league with average of .357 and .388.

The left-handed hitting Richmond connected for three hits in five trips Monday night as the second-place Red Wings shaded Toronto Maple Leafs 6-5. Richmond's third hit of the game was a ninth-inning home run with a man on base and enabled the Wings to come from behind and win.

The Rochester third baseman leads his nearest competitor, Marv Rickert of Baltimore Orioles, by 32 points.

Tallied Twice

Baltimore tallied twice in the 12th inning to lick the first-place Montreal Royals 5-3 as Lou Possehl outpitched Tommy Lasorda to register his 10th victory. The defeat reduced the Royals' league-lead to 10 games. Marv Rickert, who tops the league in homers, walloped his 31st for the Orioles.

Jack Griffore of Syracuse Chiefs turned in a brilliant mound performance as he blanked Buffalo Bisons 1-0 on two hits. It was his 13th triumph. The Chiefs tallied the only run of the contest in the fourth inning on a walk to Loren Babe, a double by Eddie Shokes and Hank Workman's ground out.

Springfield Cubs rallied for five runs in the seventh inning to defeat Ottawa Giants 6-4. Bill Padget went the route for the Cubs to win his 15th game. The victory moved Springfield to within one game of seventh place.

Giants Sweep Doubleheader From Chicago Cubs, Dodgers Split Twin Bill

By RALPH RODEN, Associated Press Sports Writer

There's no evidence of panic in Brooklyn today but the citizens of Flatbush are growing uneasy over the exploits of Leo Durocher's surging New York Giants. The Giants have climbed to within five games of the pace-setting Dodgers on the wings of a 16-game winning streak. They ran their unbeaten streak to 16 Monday as they took a doubleheader from Chicago Cubs, 5-4 in 12 innings and 6-3, while the Dodgers split in a twi-night doubleheader with Pittsburgh. The Dodgers won the opener 5-0, but lost the nightcap 5-2.

While the Giants continued to make hay, the contenders in the tight American League scramble were idle. The combatants resume action today with Cleveland Indians, out in front by a game, entertaining Philadelphia Athletics while the runner-up New York Yankees are at St. Louis, the third place Boston Red Sox at Detroit and the fourth place Chicago White Sox at home against Washington.

The Athletics shaded Detroit Tigers 1-0 in the only American League game Monday.

Take Twin Bill

In other National League games Boston Braves captured a twi-night doubleheader from St. Louis Cardinals, 6-3 and 4-2, and Philadelphia Phils won a twi-night twin bill from Cincinnati, 2-0 and 3-0.

Larry Jansen posted his 17th victory for the Giants in the opener against Chicago. The Cubs pushed home a run in the top of the 12th but the Giants came right back with two in their half to pull it out.

The Giants found easier sailing in the nightcap, running up a 6-1 lead in seven innings. Home runs by Ed Stanky and Monte Irvin eased rookie Al Corwin to his fifth victory of an unbeaten season.

Ralph Branca turned in one of the finest games of his career in the first game at Brooklyn. Branca had a no-hitter working until the ninth when Pete Castiglione and George Metkovich singled with none out. The victory was Branca's 12th and second straight shutout.

Clyde McCullough beat the Dodgers almost single handed in the nightcap as he drove in four runs on a double and homer. Lefty Bill Werle received credit for the victory.

Limits Cards

Lefthander Warren Spahn limited the Cards to six hits and fanned 11 as he turned in his 17th victory for the Braves in the opener at Boston. The 11 strikeouts boosted Spahn's total to 133, high for the majors.

Red Munger held the Braves hitless through the first five innings of the nightcap but blew up in the sixth as the Braves put together five hits and a walk to score all of their runs. Max Surkont went the distance to post his 10th victory.

Home runs and brilliant pitching featured the Phils' sweep over the Reds. Bill Nicholson accounted for both runs in the opener with a first-inning homer. Jocko Thompson blanked the Reds on three blows.

Del Wilber pounded out consecutive homers in the third, fifth and seventh innings off Ken Raffensberger to drive home all the runs in the second game. Ken Johnson shut out Cincinnati on seven safeties.

Bobby Shantz whitewashed the Tigers on seven hits. Dave Philley belted Marlin Stewart for a homer in the second to win the game for the A's.

TV Worries Nonsense Grant Declares

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 28 (AP)—Cary Grant, one of Hollywood's highest paid stars, says all this talk of scuttling the movie industry is pure nonsense.

"As a matter of fact," he argues, "television is going to make us look good."

This is a rather bold viewpoint, but Grant backs it up with this reasoning: "It's a matter of history. Every new medium of entertainment adds distinction to the older one. When the movies first became popular, they pushed up the prestige of the stage. Legitimate actors became almost an aristocracy, compared to those in movies.

"Now television has arrived and it can't help but make movies and movie people seem much better. It will add greatly to our social distinction."

Despite the scare talk, Grant feels that the film industry is in no great danger.

Healthy Changes

"Naturally, the industry is in a stage of transition, but the changes are healthy ones," he said. "Theatre difficulties were bound to come because cities are being decentralized in America. You notice that the big department stores are opening branches in outlying districts of the cities. That's because people are living further from the downtown area and won't go so far to shop.

The same holds true with theatres. People don't want to travel all the way downtown to see a movie, battling traffic and the parking problem. Downtown theatres are hard hit, but the drive-ins and most of the neighborhood houses are doing good business."

Grant, who is currently playing the screen husband of his real wife, Betsy Drake, in "Room For One More," has been reported ready to jump into television. I asked him about such rumors.

"I should say not," he replied flatly. "I don't want anything to do with television."

"Before long, there will be 24 TV stations in an area operating 24 hours a day," he predicted. "Most of the program material will have to be on film. That means the studios will have more work than they can handle."

Barbara Ann Replaces Sonja

CHICAGO, Aug. 28 — (CP).—Barbara Ann Scott will replace Sonja Henie as star of the 1952 Hollywood Ice Revue, Arthur M. Wirtz of Chicago, producer of the show, said Monday.

Mr. Wirtz, also an owner of the show, said that the former ice-skating world champion, now on her second ice show in England, has been signed for the role at a salary considerably in excess of $100,000 a year.

Barbara Ann's performances with the revue will start in early November and will include appearances in Madison Square Garden, New York; Chicago Stadium; St. Louis, Detroit Olympia, and the Indianapolis Coliseum.

The revue is not scheduled to appear in Canada.

The 2-year-old ice queen, formerly of Ottawa and now living in Toronto's suburban North York Township, is expected to fly here from England about September 28 to start rehearsals.

Retired Priest Dies Served In Stirling

KINGSTON, Aug. 28— (CP).—The Rev. James J. O'Reilly, 76, retired Roman Catholic priest, died Sunday at St. Mary's on the Lake. He attended the University of Ottawa and later studied at the Grand Seminary in Montreal. He was ordained here in December, 1904, and had appointments in the Eastern Ontario communities of Kingston, Enterprise, Stirling, Deseronto, Erinsville, Picton, and Trenton. He was a chaplain overseas during the First World War. He retired at Trenton in 1945.

WARRIOR'S DAY — Brilliant weather brought a record crowd of 274,500 and unprecedented traffic jams to the Canadian National Exhibition on Warrior's Day. This aerial photo shows part of the parade of 16,000 servicemen and veterans trooping past the grandstand, right. The salute was taken by Gen. George C. Marshall, US defence secretary.

Extra Excitement Given Customers At Toronto Ex

TORONTO, Aug. 28 (CP). — The Canadian National Exhibition moving into its fourth day today, is showing signs of settling down to a regular stride.

Crowds which officials estimated might reach the 200,000 mark poured through the mechanical building—it's automotive and electrical day—admiring the snappy new European and American cars and the intricate displays of machinery and home appliances.

Sports events included dart and archery tournaments, and an international air cadet drill competition. A Canadian team, last year's winner, is defending the trophy against cadets from Scotland and the United States.

Monday was children's day. In some ways it was the most exciting day to date at the "big show" with a brazen $822 robbery and an accident during the "Hell Drivers" automobile stunt performance in front of the grandstand.

Just before closing time two men walked into Waller's cafeteria and told Mrs. Lucy Dee, cashier, that the manager wanted to see her in the kitchen.

When she left, they calmly scooped $822 from the cash register, sauntered out and disappeared.

In front of the grandstand, driver Chuck Breit of Miami Beach, Fla., was badly cut about the face when a stunt went wrong.

He was performing an act in which one automobile roars up a ramp and crashes on a second auto 40 feet away. Breit's car swerved on the ramp and crashed the side of the parked auto.

In Monday's Canadian amateur swimming championships, Vivian King, 20, and George Bevan, 18, both of Winnipeg, won the women's and men's amateur championships.

Canada won the Babson international sailing trophy after piling up an 18-point lead in the first five matches against US rivals.

Ottawa Mayor Dies Suddenly

OTTAWA, Aug. 28 — (CP) — Mayor Grenville Goodwin, 53, Ottawa's chief magistrate since last December, died in hospital Monday night, six hours after being stricken with a heart attack.

The mayor was stricken on the street early Monday night, taken to a doctor's office and then to hospital.

Mayor Goodwin's death means that Controller Charlotte Whitton, the acting mayor, will take over as chief magistrate for the remainder of his two-year term.

Controller Whitton, well-known social worker, writer and leturer, was elected to the capital's board of control for the first time last December in the same civic election in which Mr. Goodwin beat out Mayor E. A. Bourque in the mayoralty race.

Factory Shipments Of Cars Shows Drop

OTTAWA, Aug. 28 — (CP) — Factory shipments of Canadian-made motor vehicles went down in June for the first major decline in 18 months, the Bureau of Statistics said Monday. Shipments of British-made cars also were lower.

Bureau spokesmen said they did not know the cause of the decline —whether it resulted from lower factory production or from credit restrictions on retail sales.

Figures showed that shipments of Canadian-made vehicles dipped to 36,229 units in June from 41,383 a year earlier. In the six months ended June, they were 247,775 against 191,765.

Want To Raise Standards Of Normal School

HUNTSVILLE, Aug. 28 (CP).—The Board of Governors of the Ontario Federation of Teachers Monday expressed regret at what it termed the unwillingness of the Department of Education to raise Normal School entrance requirements.

On the first day of an annual three-day meeting, here, the governors decided to continue a campaign to have the standards raised. The governors represent 27,000 elementary and secondary school teachers in the province.

At present, a student who successfully completes five Grade 13 subjects can enter Normal School and after a year there can begin teaching.

Copper Workers Won't End Strike

DENVER, Aug. 28 (AP)—The president of striking union workers who stopped the production of defence-vital copper said Monday night the strike would not be called off "unless and until" the government presses the companies to accept a government-proposed settlement.

John Clark, president of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, made the statement pending receipt of a request from the Wage Stabilization Board that the men return to work.

Clark said his union would send representatives to Washington for a hearing scheduled for Wednesday.

Apple Growers Revolutionize Industry

By IRVING C. WHYNOT.
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

Nova Scotia's apple industry revolution, during which growers pulled up their trees in an effort to suit available markets, comes to an end this year.

No one is sure what the exact result will be but hopes are high that it will meet the purpose: to produce apples suited for the domestic market rather than the export trade.

The tree-pulling program, begun in 1940 when the war eliminated the important United Kingdom market, will reduce the number of varieties produced from about 100 to 40.

By the end of this month, when financial assistance to the growers for tree-pulling ends, something like 900,000 undesirable trees will have been removed. That doesn't mean, however, that the orchards will have that many less trees because thousands of new ones are being planted.

Hand-in-hand with this program is another of grafting under which the province pays about half the cost. Some 400,000 trees have been grafted with desirable sprouts during the last three years.

The results of the two schemes so far have been satisfactory. The varieties easily marketed are increasing in percentage and are of better quality.

The 2,000 growers throughout the Annapolis Valley have come to accept grading and the attractive box pack, rather than the traditional barrel.

They have turned to cold storage as a means of placing fresh, crisp fruit in the hands of the consumers and also have accepted processing plants.

In 1949-50, growers shipped 494,029 barrels of their 1,247,455-barrel crop to the plants for manufacture into such products as apple juice, sauce and pie-filler. On the average, about one-third of their crop is processed.

Board Established

Among the growers themselves there has been another revolution.

During the war, the Federal Government agreed to give financial assistance to make up for the lost United Kingdom market, but only if the apples were marketed through a central body.

As a result, the Nova Scotia Apple Marketing Board was established under provincial authority.

This year, on the recommendation of the Nova Scotia Fruit Growers Association, an educational body of the growers, the province withdrew.

Now the producers are free to sell their crop as they wish.

The belief is that at least a majority will pass through the Fruit Companies, a co-operative established by the growers.

Union Voters Unanimous At Hospital

CCL Union Endorsed Bargaining Agent For Hospital Workers

Civic Hospital employees voted unanimously Monday to have Branch No. 19, National Organization of Civic, Utility and Electrical Worers, CCL, as their bargaining agent.

The vote was conducted from 3 p.m. until 5 p.m. Monday by J. M. Flannery, officer for the Ontario Labor Relations Board.

The number of employees eligible to vote was 104 but two left before the vote was taken and an additional 11 were either ill or on vacation, leaving 91 to vote.

Of the 84 who voted, 83 were in favor of the union as their agent. The one remaining vote was segregated by the board officer as not eligible being a part time worker.

No Official Action

When asked whether the Civic Hospital board has yet recognized Branch 19, John Hornal, superintendent, said, "The board hasn't taken any action but once it has been officially informed it can taken no other action, the law compels it."

According to Section 81 of the Labor Relations Act, a municipality may pass a bylaw declaring its employees outside the provisions of the act.

In March this year the board decided it didn't wish to enter into a collective agreement with the union but would be willing to meet an employees' committee to discuss matters of general interest."

Mr. Hornal said today that so far the "board has not taken advantage of that section" and that he did not believe there was "much likelihood of doing so."

Must Deal With Employees

Earlier this year after the union was formed by the hospital employees, the question was discussed whether the board should pass a bylaw declaring itself outside the control of the Ontario Labor Relations Board.

At that time Chairman John Marshall said, "I don't think it's a question of whether we are inside or outside of the Ontario Labor Relations Board's jurisdiction. We still will have to bargain with the employees."

Donald Northey An Army Cadet

Donald Northey, son of Mrs. Grace Northey and the late George Northey, is one of the 158 Canadian boys recommended for cadetships at the Canadian Services Colleges according to an announcement made today by Defence Minister Brooke Claxton.

Northey, a graduate this year of the PCVS, is the only Peterborough boy on the list. He has been a member of the local reserve unit. He will enter Royal Military College this fall as an army cadet.

Others from the district who were accepted are Hugh G. MacColl, Campbellford, who will become an Air Force cadet at RMC; Thomas C. Thompson, Brighton, and army cadet at RMC, and Ian A. N. Paul, Tweed, an army cadet at Royal Roads.

Norma Gordon Captures Canadian Title

Two Bobcaygeon residents yesterday won water skiing titles in competition at the Canadian National Exhibition waterfront.

Bruce Poole, 16, won the Canadian boys' closed championship, an annual three-part event for boys under 17. He won all three portions: the trick riding, jumping and slalom. Norma Gordon captured the Canadian Women's Closed championship with victories in the trick riding and jumping. Joan Weale won the slalom event.

Boys' Events

Trick riding—Bruce Poole, Bobcaygeon; Donald, McAuley, Southampton; Bruce Alexander, Toronto.

Slalom—Bruce Poole; Donald McAuley; Dave Hammond, St. Catharines.

Jumping—Bruce Poole; Donald McAuley; Bill Thompson, Galt.

Girls' Events

Claims Cow Trained To Steal Her Corn

LINDSAY, Aug. 28 —(CP)— Lindsay police outdid Little Boy Blue today dealing with a "trained cow."

An irate resident told police that her neighbor had trained his cow to steal corn from her garden.

"That animal just stays behind the barn where we can't see it from the house and eats until she's full," the citizen declared.

"I think it's trained to do that."

The constable removed the cow from the corn.

OOOPPPS! IT'S GONE

A Peterborough entrant in the CNE swim under 12 years 50-yard free style Monday was swimming under a definite handicap. His trunks were gradually slipping off. Without a belt or string on his trunks the lad dove into the water. The trunks began to slip, down, down and down. With only 10 feet left, they dropped to his ankles. He stopped and hauled them up. He could have placed third, but without his trunks.

Give Approval For Transfer

Transfer from George St. to Aylmer St. of the R. R. Miller auto parts business received Monday night the recommendation of the finance committee of the council.

The proposed new location on the west side of Aylmer St., north of Townsend St. and the CPR, is to be set back from the Aylmer St. front, and enclosed in an aluminum fence. The area has been zoned for light industry, and the Miller project has been approved by town planning committee.

Ald. Norman Graham reported an enquiry from C. Levack, Toronto, of Lawrence Salvage and Haulage Co., to buy the cans that reach the city dump.

Mr. Levack's letter offered $100 a month for the tin refuse, and three dollars a ton for tin that can be salvaged from the Monaghan dump. His plans include acquiring of the Dixie Mills building on the east side of Erskine Ave., north of the CNR, for a junk depot. The deal might yield $5,000 a year to the city, Ald. Graham said, quoting the figure mentioned by Mr. Levack.

Committee decided to leave this enquiry to Ald. Graham and City Clerk Outram with authority to investigate it further, and to decide on terms.

International Search Waste Of Time

LONDON, Aug. 28 (CP)—An international search across 4,000 miles of Lake Erie, set off Monday by two Straffordville men who went on a two-day jaunt in a small dory, chalked up an expense bill of several thousand dollars, it was estimated today.

But police were not sure if any action can be taken against the two men, Archie Noels, 32, and his brother Wilfred 19.

The brothers sailed back into Port Burwell Monday night, 34 hours after setting out in their plywood boat to cross the lake to Cleveland.

They were unconcerned and expressed surprise that 40 fishing vessels, a government tug and three Dakota aircraft of the RCAF had spent the day in a fruitless search for them.

CPR Requests To Speed Up Trains To 25

Speed Limit 10 MPH Fixed 30 Years Ago Railway Tells Council

Canadian Pacific Railway are proposing that their speed limit through Peterborough be increased to 25 miles an hour from the crawling 10 mph. that was fixed 30 years ago.

Their letter to the finance committee of the council Monday night asserted that it takes them 18 minutes to travel the three miles from the east side of the city to the west.

The company is suggesting that appeal to the Board of Transport could be by-passed by agreement to be effected by discussion between the city and CPR. The more highly travelled streets crossed by the CPR are protected by automatic signals.

"I think we should make certain whether there are any other CPR crossings that are not protected," Ald. J. A. Dewart suggested.

"One of them is Monaghan Road at Romaine," Ald. Herb. Young said. High St. is another, and it is to be widened for expansion of use in that south end area.

A motion by Mayor Swanston and Ald. Dewart requested City Engineer Chalmers to obtain the information for the council.

CPR letter apparently has a grievance that bus traffic has no similar restriction, and may run at greater speed than the trains. They argue that the present regulation applied to conditions of 30 years ago, when none of the streets was safeguarded with signalling devices.

Clouds Can Save Western Crops

EDMONTON, Aug. 28 (CP).—The risk of frost to prairie grain crops will be great for the next two or three days, the weather office said today.

A forecaster said the situation would remain "critical" until warm air came to the west.

"We are pinning our hopes on the clouds," he said. "The clouds can save the crops."

A heavy blanket of clouds over Alberta and Saskatchewan kept temperatures above freezing last night.

In northwestern British Columbia, where skies cleared last night, temperatures dropped. Fort St. John reported a low of 30 degrees, Beatton River 26 and Fort Nelson 31.

The weather office said the same thing would happen—unless clouds hold—in the rich prairie grain belt where two-week-late crops are in a critical stage of development.

Main Street Topics

CUT AND DRIED

Fred Finnie's board of education harvesters were burning this morning a heavy grass crop on the grounds of Confederation and King Edward schools. It had been cut some weeks ago and left to dry, and this morning was going up in smoke, preparatory to the reopening of school. De Laval Company was getting the tangy effect of some of it.

BARGAINING AGENCY

Finance committee of the council referred to a special committee, appointed to deal with an insurance report, a notice from the Independent Civic Employees of Peterborough that they had been designated to bargain for a collective agreement.

IN BAD CONDITION

Bill Murphy, son of Sgt. Leo Murphy of the city police force, is reported to be in bad condition at the isolation ward of the Hospital for Sick Children in Toronto. He was taken to Toronto last week suffering from polio. Sgt. and Mrs. Murphy live at 491 Rogers St.

IS RACING COMMISSIONER

Bert McLean, manager of Lindsay Exhibition, should not have any worry about his race card. Harness horsemen will probably wish to co-operate with the member of the racing commission headed by Tupper Bigelow that has been housecleaning among the jockeys that ride the thoroughbreds.

WON DINETTE SUITE

Barbara McArthur, RR 2, Oakwood, in the Lindsay area, was the winner of the dinette suite for which tickets were sold at the Horticultural Society's flower show at the Exhibition last week. A second draw for an electric iron picked out the name of Miss Jean Parker of Lang, Otonabee.

ANOTHER DITCH JOB

Another ditch filling job city council will have to contemplate before long is on the west side of Monaghan Road. Traffic that way is nearly as heavy as Park St., although there is still a considerable difference. Then the new Collegiate Institute will be built down there, and that improvement cancels such municipal primitives as a ditch.

SLIPS IN KITCHEN

Mrs. James Webb, 698 Charlotte St., cut her left arm Monday after she slipped and fell on the kitchen floor. She was taken to the Civic Hospital where three stitches closed the gash.

MEET MONDAY 10

Assumption that the first meeting of the council would be Tuesday, Sept. 4, as reported Monday, was wrong. Mayor Swanston commented last night incidental to a discussion, that it would not be until Monday, Sept. 10.

PAY PAVING BILL

Final payment of $5,615.52 to W. B. Bennett Paving Company of Oshawa on their local contract last year was recommended to city council by the board of works Monday night. That amount includes $844 for the asphalt road through Morrow Park. A motion by Ald. Braund and Ald. Miller added the stipulation "if approved by City Solicitor Huycke."

A BLUE NOTE

Mayor Swanston received a letter the other day that will not be mentioned either in council or in print. It appeared to be the final word from an English manufacturing concern which had been considering Peterborough for location of a factory, and to the effect that they were probably going to set up close to Toronto. It is a steel industry. It was the end of enquiry, and hope and community salesmanship. It was not the first this year, but more effort had been put into it.

WAS FIRST CHOICE

For the formal opening of Peterborough's new city hall, Hon. Lester B. Pearson, Canada's Minister of External Affairs, was the first choice among members of the council. As a former local boy and son of George St. United Church parsonage, Mr. Pearson has a strong link with Peterborough. He replied recently to an enquiry that he could not be certain of freedom from departmental duties to enable him to come to Peterborough about the end of October. He is going first to the Japanese treaty meetings in San Francisco, and late in October expects to be in Paris and Rome. Mr. Pearson expressed regret that circumstances would not permit him to accept Peterborough's invitation.

Find Driver's Nickel Worn So Thin Fails To Trip Parking Meter Clock

LINDSAY, Aug. 28 (CP)—Local police told this true story Monday:

A motorist dropped a nickel into a parking meter on Lindsay's main street.

Nothing happened, and he followed it with a cent.

Again, nothing happened.

The motorist called a policeman, who opened the reluctant meter. He found the nickel—worn so thin it wouldn't trip the clock.

He pushed it in so that the meter registered.

"What's your name?" the constable asked the motorist.

"McFadyen. You spell it without the A," he said, as he extracted his penny from the meter.

"I'm a Scot."

Swimmers Chart Up Record At Annual CNE Races

Donna Merrett, nine-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Merrett, Canal Road, won the CNE 50-yard free style championship for girls under 10 years Monday. Averaging a yard a second, Miss Merrett crossed the finish line well ahead of the other nine swimmers in the final heat. Valerie Shulman, Woodstock, placed second and Marian Carmode, Toronto Lakeshore Club, third.

June Merrett, sister of Donna, qualified for the final heat but failed to place in the girls under 14 years 50-yard free-style.

Team Places Second

Alec Baptie, Terry Reid, Wilton Tranter and Ross Dobbin were edged out by London YMCA in the 200-yard club relay for boys under 14 years. The Peterborough team, which took first place in the Watertown international swim, placed second with Buffalo third. London's team completed the distance in 2:20.7 seconds.

Donald Wood, one of Ontario's outstanding swimmers in the past two years, tied for third place in the one-mile men's event. Gerry Thompson of London YMCA won the race in 26.23 minutes. Wood was only 20 yards behind when Thompson crossed the finishing line. He shared the third place with Gordon Brockie, Toronto Central YMCA.

Alec Baptie, in a close finish, was forced to accept third position when squeezed out of second in the final heat of the 50-yard free style for boys under 14 years.

Peterborough swimmers found the course difficult to follow, claiming it "was not marked too well." During the events not only the Peterborough swimmers had difficulty staying on the course, but other swimmers wandered well off the marks. Some finishes were spoiled by swimmers being cut off.

OTTAWA DOWN 26,000

Attendance at Ottawa Exhibition for the week ending Saturday night was 26,000 under the total for last year. The Saturday crowd was 87,578 as compared with 94,673 on the final day in 1950.

Young PC's Plan Conference Fenelon Falls

A majority of Ontario's 90 ridings have registered delegates for the annual summer conference of the Young Progressive Conservative Association to be held at Fenelon Falls from Sept. 3 to 8.

Speakers will include many of the provincial cabinet members and the Hon. George Drew, federal leader of the PC party. Opening speech will be made by Ontario Premier Leslie M. Frost.

Opens On Monday

Proceedings will get underway Monday morning with a theme addressed by Mr. Frost. Mr. Drew will address the closing session of the week long deliberations. Conference chairman will be the president of the Ontario Young Conservative Association, Jack McNie, Hamilton.

The 1951 conference has a two fold purpose, according to the program committee. "Of first importance," they point out, "will be our discussion of the prospective role of young people in the fields of agriculture, labour, business and public life today and in the years ahead . . . and of the ways in which they can best equip themselves to succeed in their chosen vocations and discharge their community obligations. Secondly, and of no little importance, will be our study of practical methods of political education and organization among young people, to sustain and strengthen the party which we believe can best advance the fortunes of this province."

Among those who will address the conference, the fourth since the end of the war, are Phil J. Farmer, President, Canadian Junior Chamber of Commerce; James Robertson, Business Agent, Local 113, Street Railway and Motor Coach Employees Union, Toronto; Professor Stewart G. Henessey, B.Com., C.A., Institute of Business Administration, University of Toronto; Mrs. Marjorie Hamilton, Mayor of Barrie; Hon. John Foote, V.C., Minister of Reform Institutions; Hon. Dana Porter, Minister of Education and Attorney-General; and Gordon Graydon, M.P. Many other prominent party figures from Queen's Park and Ottawa will be present to take part in the proceedings and meet informally with the delegates.

OBITUARIES

GEORGE A. PACEY

George Albert Pacey, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Pacey, 59 Edgewater Boulevard, died Sunday at the Sick Children's Hospital, Toronto. The funeral took place this afternoon from the Kaye funeral home to iLttle Lake Cemetery. Rev. E. W. Rowland of Grace United Church conducted the service.

NICHOLAS FEBBO

Retired fruit merchant Nicholas Febbo, 493 Parnall St., died Monday at his residence in his 66th year. He was born in Franca Ville Amare, province of Shicti, Italy, the son of the late Roeco Febbo and Maria Menilla.

Besides his wife, the former Rose Thompson, surviving him are a sister, Miss Lucy Febbo, of Italy, and a brother, Thomas, also of Italy.

In ill health for the past two months, Mr. Febbo has lived in Peterborough since he came to Canada from Italy 42 years ago. He was a fruit merchant on George St. for 19 years.

Mr. Febbo was a member of the Sacred Heart Church, the Altar Society and the Holy Name Society.

The funeral will be Thursday from the Duffus funeral home to Sacred Heart Church for solemn high mass at 10.30 a.m. Burial will be in St. Peter's cemtery.

Grant Made To Fair Board To Pay For Paving Job On Extension Of George St.

Approval Given By Finance Committee In Completing Project Sought By Southend Residents For Years

"It is something we have been trying to get for years, and we'll have the use of it 360 days out of 365," said Ald. Doug Miller in supporting a grant of $1,351 to the Exhibition Board for the projection of George St. through Morrow Park. Recommendation by the finance committee Monday night in a motion by Ald. Herbert Young and Ald. A. B. Burrows was to pay this amount as a grant to the Board for this year. "I think we got a cheap road," said Mayor Swanston. "It has already proved to be an asset to everybody, including the Exhibition. We wanted that road because of the largely-signed petition to the council more than a year ago from residents south of the park."

Mayor Swanston said the city already had paid $2,000 "as a grant in aid," but the permanent top had increased the cost from the original estimate of $1,251.

Total cost was $3,351 for an asphalt surfaced road instead of oil and macadam as originally agreed. The work was done by Bennett Paving Co. Cost of the strip from the south fence of the park to McGill St. was an additional $840.

Ald. A. B. Burrows said he was in favor of the city paying the bill because the road created good feelings with the residents who had asked for it and also with the fair board.

Added Expenditure

The committee recommended expenditure of $1,014.80 on special work required in the police court room at the new city hall.

The prisoners' dock and other equipment, excepting the magistrates' dais, are being built on casters. These furnishings can be pushed around, permitting use of the room for other purposes than sittings of the primary court.

An item of $49 for casters at $8.33 each drew Ald. Graham's comment that he could buy casters for $2.10. Other comment was to the effect that casters were not a cheap item, and if Ald. Graham could help in getting satisfactory rollers at the price he mentioned his directing should be accepted.

Acceptance of the police court items was recommended in a motion by Ald. Braund and Mayor Swanston.

Flooding Of Basement Termed 'Act Of God'

Flooding of the basement of Kawartha Sports Equipment, 239 George St., by a heavy rain storm, July 15, was "an act of God," City Solicitor Huycke told the finance committee of the council Monday night in reference to a claim for damage by water.

"They would have to prove negligence on the part of the city" Mr. Huycke said.

Storm drains were laid to carry off the reasonable flow of surface water. He was asked to write the sports goods company to the effect that there was no evidence of neglect and liability by the city in the case of extraordinary volume from sudden downpours of rain.

Hydro Engineers Praise CGE Workmanship

Workmanship, supervision and engineering on the Chenaux generators at the CGE received praise recently from the inspectors of the Hydro Electric Commission. The contract is nearing completion.

So far seven of the 17,000 KVA generating machines, built in Peterborough, are now in service. An eighth machine is about finished and is expected to be shipped in the next two weeks.

"Entirely satisfactory," is the comment of Hydro resident inspectors. They expressed pleasure with the way production units accomplished the contract and complimented the switchgear and motor-generator divisions.

A Masterpiece

The 20-ton shaft and thrust collar for the eighth Chenaux machine is considered "a masterpiece of machining." When finished and inspected, it averaged only 3/10,000 of an inch over its 19-foot length.

This is important for the shaft must support a revolving rotor weighing several tons and must run true. The 3/10,000 is considered to "approach the acme of perfection on a 16-ton shaft with an average diameter of 32 inches."

The thrust collar, fitted to a Chenaux machine, supports the entire weight of the rotating parts and weighs four tons. Portions must be polished to a mirror-like finish and have been measured upon polishing to 10/1,000,000 of an inch.

When the contract is completed one of Canada's largest generating stations will be fully equipped.

FESTIVAL DOME

The Dome of Discovery at the Festival of Britain, 365 feet wide, is believed the largest dome in the world.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM H. MOHER of Douro, the bride, formerly Frances Helen O'Grady.—Duke Studio Photo.

Moher-O'Grady Douro Rites

St. Joseph's Church, Douro, was the scene Saturday morning of a pretty wedding when Frances Helen O'Grady became the bride of William Henry Moher. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Angela O'Grady and the groom the son of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Moher, all of Douro.

The Rev. J. J. McCarthy said the mass and performed the wedding ceremony. Mass was served by Vincent O'Brien, cousin of the bride, and John Moher, cousin of the groom. Gladioli decorated the altar. Organist Mrs. Kennedy, Mr. John Sheehan, Miss Isabelle Heffernan and Miss Cecelia Towns sang "On This Day, Oh Beautiful Mother" and "Wilt Thou Look Upon Me, Mother," during the signing of the register. Mrs. Kennedy and John Sheehan also rendered solos.

Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Joseph O'Grady, the bride wore a gown of ivory slipper satin fashioned with Queen Anne collar and yoke of French lace with fitted bodice and long lily point sleeves. The skirt was gathered at the hips and fell in a full train.

She wore a head-dress of orange blossoms and three-quarter length veil of embroidered net. Her bouquet was a cascade of American Beauty roses.

Attendants were her three sisters, Mrs. James G. Moher, matron of honor, and Miss Mary O'Grady, Miss Patricia O'Grady, bridesmaids, also Miss Teresa Moher, sister of the groom.

They wore matching gowns of mauve, yellow, green, and orchid nylon net over taffeta fashioned with fitted bodice and full skirts, with net yoke having a ruffle trim, hats and mittens of the same material. Their bouquets of Talisman roses were in contrasting shades.

The grooms' attendant was his brother, Mr. James G. Moher, and ushers were David O'Grady, Frank Moher and Jack Sheehan.

The wedding dinner was served at Club Aragon and the reception was held at the bride's home in Douro. Her mother received in a grey crepe gown with a corsage of pink roses. The groom's mother also received, in a gown of navy sheer with red roses.

For travelling the bride wore a dress of navy sheer over navy polka dot with navy accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Moher will live on the groom's farm in Douro.

IF NO-RINSE CHEMICALS are making your hands rough and red—change to Duz! Now you get the whitest washes ever with Duz—yet Duz gives you almost toilet-soap mildness for your hands!

DUZ DOES EVERYTHING

Fashion Flashes

INTEREST IS directed to the sleeve in many of the frocks designed for the season ahead. A black taffeta dress achieves a puffed effect on the sleeves with a series of tucks at the top, stemming from a side back of the sleeves, with the lower edge crossed in a petal-like arrangement. Makes for a broad shoulder which gives a nice balance to the fitted waistline and flared skirt, the latter done with side tuck detail.

✧ ✧ ✧

STILL THE WINNAH in the silhouette entry is the line that marks the small waist and fitted midriff. Which is why the corset designers are concentrating on the high-waisted girdle, many extending three and a half inches above the waistline, which, while not overly indented, curves gracefully.

✧ ✧ ✧

MUCH MORE than just the regular task of a slip is performed by many of the new designs. A useful slip with figure-control duty is of nylon with wired nylon, strapless bra and a wide midriff of girdle elastic, making it a perfect slip, bra and girdle combination for the average figure.

✧ ✧ ✧

TURNING from contemplation of the forthcoming modes, we stroll the beaches to see what's the latest in resort togs. We find that the stole is still a major resort fashion, and we like a new one, a fishnet throw with a slip-through arrangement for one arm. It is decorated with all-over pieces of cork and shells, each tied on with bits of colored yarn.

✧ ✧ ✧

LOADS OF COLOR mark clothes developed for general and casual wear come autumn. A handsome topper is of magnificent wool fleece in citron yellow lined with gray wool jersey, worn with a yellow wool jersey skirt and top of all-over tucked gray silk chiffon, sleeveless and low of neck.

✧ ✧ ✧

Miss Mary Lacey Weds Mr. Ronald Warner

Camborne United Church was the scene Saturday of the pretty wedding of Miss Mary Christina Lacey, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Lacey, Camborne, and Mr. James Ronald Warner, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Warner, Hastings. The Rev. P. C. Brown officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The church was decorated with ferns and baskets of white, pink, and lavender gladioli. Music was played by Mrs. Max Dickinson of Toronto and Mr. Bruce Curtis, Orillia, sang "Because" before the ceremony and "I'll Walk Beside You" during the signing of the register.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, looked charming in a gown of white satin with a neckline and fingertip sleeves of French lace. Her fingertip veil of tulle illusion was caught by a halo of orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of Bettertime roses.

Attendants were Mrs. Bill Hessin, matron of honor and Miss Elizabeth Warner, sister of the groom, bridesmaid. They wore identical gowns of blue taffeta and matching blue caps and mittens. They carried nosegays of white and pink carnations. Mr. Jack Sargent, cousin of the groom, was groomsman and Ken Warner and Bill Hessin were ushers.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents where her mother received, wearing a dress of lilac crepe with navy accessories. The groom's mother, who also received, wore a dress of sandstone ticotina with black accessories. Both wore corsages of pink carnations.

Later the bride and groom left for a trip to northern and western points. Travelling the bride wore a navy suit with navy and grey accessories and had a corsage of red roses. They will make their home on the groom's farm near Hastings.

Former Principal Wed In Colorado

ROSENEATH, Aug. 28 (ENS)—A wedding of interest in Roseneath community took place in the First Church of the Nazarene, Pueblo, Colorado, on August 20, of Ruth Smith, daughter of the pastor, the Rev. Harlie Smith, and Mrs. Smith, to Edward Herbert, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Herbert, Toronto. The groom was a former principal of Roseneath School.

Following a honeymoon spent in Toronto, Roseneath and Muskoka, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert will live in Salem, Ohio, where they are both on the teaching staff of Salem Bible Institute.

St. Jos. Members Give Draw Prizes

The St. Joseph's Hospital Women's Auxiliary booth at the Peterborough Exhibition, in the manufacturers' building, proved a successful venture, netting $600 profit in the four days. Wednesday, opening day and children's day, was the busiest time.

Members donated draw prizes which were a great attraction. Winner of a garden floral arrangement, donated by Mrs. Clarence Bacon, was Mr. W. B. Eddy, of Barrie. A sweater donated by Miss Geraldine Collins was won by Mrs. J. Turner, RR 8, Peterborough. The Rev. Sister Priscilla gave a pin-up lamp and it was won by Mrs. Clarence Franz, RR 1, Indian River. Mrs. O. Hallihan made and gave the cake which was won by Mrs. Ann Thompson, 311 Louis St.

SOFT DURABLE LLAMA is used in this Mayfair coat which features large carry-all pockets with button emphasis. It has a high little shawl collar. The fabric is woven from the fleece of the Peruvian llama.

Distinguished Guests

Dr. Marius Barbeau, MA, LLD, F.R.S.C., Madame Barbeau and Chief Charles Cooke of the Brantford Mohawk tribe visited Peterborough Monday en route from western Ontario and were the guests during the evening of Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Gledhill, Mason Avenue. The distinguished Canadian anthropologist and ethnologist discussed with Mr. Gledhill some aspects of French-Canadian folk music of his collecting which Mr. Gledhill is arranging. Dr. and Madame Barbeau and their Indian Chief left for Ottawa this morning. Dr. Barbeau is ethnologist and folklorist at the National Museum.

Millinery Picture In Wide Range Favor Small Hats

PARIS, Aug. 28 (Reuters)—The millinery picture in Paris is complete, now that the major houses have presented their collections. Never has there been such a wide choice of style, combined with dazzling new millinery fabrics.

The small "bread and butter hat" is definitely the order of the day, replacing the classic beret. This type often still follows beret lines, but with soft new rippled brims or broken treatments around the face. Other models are more like toques or cloches, but cannot be defined in either group.

Styles are shown for both bobbed hair and chignons. Many mannequins are wearing a medium-length cut which offers the greatest versatility. Hats are cut away at the back for a false chignon or braid.

Other houses cling to short hair and show models which hug the nape of the neck.

New and flattering effects for women with high foreheads are seen in feathered bangs extending down from irregularly small toques or calots.

Many hats give the illusion of height—good news for the woman who is a five-foot-three or less. High-crowned effects are seen in flower pots, astrologers' bonnets out of ancient Persia, homburgs and silk opera hats. Other types are pleated or crushed, lending a rakish boulevardier aspect to them.

Brims are manipulated out of the crown without showing any definite beginning or ending, often worked in visors from caps or casquettes. Silhouette hats feature one-sided brims which swoop down over the cheek. Coquettish peek-a-boo treatments are handled this way with feathers or lacquered veiling.

All kidding aside, Miss Allen will put on a lion-taming act with full-grown cats in the Zoo arena as soon as construction is completed. The cubs are a month old and have just had their first look at spectators.

"Headache?..take a Disprin"

Why DISPRIN? Because DISPRIN is soluble and substantially neutral. When taken in water as recommended, it enters the stomach as a true solution and not as undissolved particles. It is therefore less liable to cause stomach discomfort.

DISPRIN is readily absorbed. Because it definitely dissolves (not merely disintegrates) DISPRIN permits speedy absorption and gives relief without delay.

DISPRIN is palatable. Even children will take it readily.

DISPRIN REG'D ...FOR PAIN RELIEF SAFE SPEEDY PLEASANT

Science Progresses

For 50 years we have used little white tablets—acetylsalicylic acid—for relief of pain. Today this familiar pain-killer is available in a new form without the disadvantages of acidity, insolubility and bitter taste. It is called 'DISPRIN' and is sold at druggists everywhere.

'DISPRIN' is available in Bottles of 26 tablets or Handy Pocket Folders of 8.

FUNNY BUSINESS -- By Hershberger

"Tell that young lady we don't allow side-saddle riding!"

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Headcheese Variety Dishes For Some Of Your Leftovers

Readers may recall a letter from Mrs. W. E. M. printed in one of last week's columns, asking for ideas for using up her supply of frozen headcheese, which the family has tired of "as is."

Since then I have had half a dozen ideas for dishes that it would blend into, and believe some of them will click with Mrs W. E. M.

Mild Curry

(This is the genuine Indian dish, cut made milder by the wife of a missionary of my acquaintance.)

Saute in 3 tablespoons butter or margarine or fat, one-half cup each chopped onion, diced celery and tart apple, but do not brown them. Heat 1½ pounds of headcheese and drain off the liquid. To this liquid which should not be not add mixed together, 4 tablespoons flour, 2 teaspoons curry powder (or less if you are not very fond of it), 1 teaspoon salt ⅛ teaspoon pepper, ¼ teaspoon each dry mustard and paprika, 1 or 2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce and stir this into the sauteed vegetables. Add the headcheese meat and simmer for about 15 minutes. Serve in a ring of fluffy boiled rice.

Note: Raisins are usually added to a curry but since they make the dish slightly sweet they are not a popular addition to most Canadian palates.

Pork And Macaroni Casserole

Three cups solidly packed of headcheese meat which has been heated and drained from the liquid, 2 cups of liquid from headcheese, ½-pound each macaroni and mushroms, 1 cup cream, ½ cup shredded almonds are optional, 3 tablespoons butter or chicken fat, 2 tablespoons flour, MSG, grated cheese. Boil the spaghetti in plenty of salt water until tender and drain.

Saute the mushrooms in a little butter and add to the drained spaghetti. Add the headcheese meat. Make a sauce of the butter, flour, broth and seasoning. (Note MSG is monosodium glutamate; I have mentioned this before and you probably are familiar with it as "accent". It is an excellent seasoning with headcheese). Remove the sauce from the heat and add the cream. Pour the sauce over the meat, spaghetti and mushroom mixture and place in greased baking dish. Sprinkle top with grated cheese. Bake at 375 deg. Fahr. until heated and bubbling and lightly browned. If used, add the almonds to the chicken mixture. This is a highly recommended and delicious dish. It will serve from 8 to 10 people. A green salad is sufficient accompaniment.

Chinese Chop Suey

One pound shredded meat (in this case heated and well-drained headcheese), ¾ cup peanut oil or butter or margarine, 1 cup sliced mushrooms, 1 cup diagonally cut celery, 1 wafer-thin slice from 1 mild onion, ½ cup canned water chestnuts sliced, 2 cups canned or fresh bean sprouts 2 cups stock from melted headcheese. Saute the meat in the melted oil or fat until golden and slightly crisped. Strain off the fat and return it to empty pan and add the mushrooms, celery, onion and water chestnuts Saute 5 minutes. Add the cooked meat, beansprouts and stock, cover and simmer 30 minutes. Serve with fluffy boiled rice, garnished with slender shreds of green pepper. Pass soy sauce.

The bean sprouts and water chestnuts may be purchased in tins in almost any large grocery store or groceteria. MSG is always used by the Chinese in this dish. They call it white seasoning. It is the pure protein of wheat.

Red Connections Needed For Night Life

By RICHARD K. O'MALLEY

BERLIN (AP). — A rugged, vodka-powered night life awaits the East Berliner with a fat pocketbook and the right political connections.

For the run-of-the-mill resident things are drab. The Socialist-Unity (Communist) party in East Berlin manages things with an apparently austere and moral eye.

But scratch a highly paid comrade and chances are you'll find quite a night life man underneath.

The party controls the public, so the matter of stretching the closing hour for East Berlin night clubs is easy for the Red hierarchy.

A semblance of night life is permitted in two or three East Berlin night spots. These places are closed at 2 a.m. by stern Volkspolizei (people's police) men. The East Berliner who scraped up enough for a brief fling goes home to prepare for his morning headache.

But after 2 a.m. the party hierarchy and the free spenders who "know a guy" take over.

Socialist Unity members who don't partake themselves, turn their heads at these bourgeois manifestations by party comrades.

They have one rule: Don't kick up your heels where everybody can see.

Remember Party Status

But even the late-stayers pay tribute to their party status as proletarians. They nearly always toss away their ties and collars to show that they're really just workers relaxing a little.

There is no such thing as a girlie show in any East Berlin night spot. Anyway, not until after 2 a.m. Then the vodka flows freely for the select and the roof is the limit.

Only one East Berlin spot pretends to offer cabaret entertainment to the casual customer. This is the Hajo Club, a place a few sizes bigger than a phone booth and always jammed to the hilt. They have a couple of sedately clothed dancers and a tired acrobat or two.

But West Berliners taking advantage of the mark ratio in their favor sometimes go and East Berliners with enough set aside for a jolt of vodka help fill up the place.

High party members go all-out on the bourgeois side and even have gambling parties, but it's all on the quiet, of course.

The big things after 2 a.m. are the vodka, the girls and the music. Some work-bound East Berliners have heard "decadent, capitalist music" desecrating the Communist early morning air.

Butter And Cheese Production Down

TORONTO, Aug. 28 — (CP).— Butter and cheese production in Ontario so far this year is below levels of last year, the Agriculture Department said Monday.

But, the Department added in its monthly dairy report, butter production in July this year was 3.2 per cent up over output a year ago. Cheese production in the same comparison showed an 8.7 per cent decrease.

July, 1951, butter production was 8,271,200 pounds, and cheese production was 9,958,100 pounds.

DOROTHY DIX

Divorced Man Come To Feel He Is A Social Outcast

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Can you tell me why a man who has been divorced through no fault of his own should be considered a social outcast? This is true in my case, and I have heard others with the same story.

I am 34, considered good looking, healthy, sober, employed full time and studying law at night. I support two children by my previous marriage. I like to dance and have fun; I have met several girls between the ages of 24 and 33 who, upon learning that I have been divorced, set up a barrier. I am frank, and tell them on the first date what my circumstances are. It is true I have little money to offer until I am established in law (another year or two), but I am a hard worker.

BOB

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: By no means is a divorced man a social outcast. On the contrary, in many circles he is surrounded by an aura of glamour that brings girls almost rushing on their knees to him. Your difficulty is that the girls you have met are seriously bent on acquiring a husband, and they automatically regard a man with one marital failure behind him as a poor risk for security reasons. Perhaps the fault is with you. Have you been embittered by your divorce, and inclined to cynicism with young ladies? This would run the females from your side quicker than a dozen divorces.

Knock Off That Chip

A man possessing all the good qualities you enumerate should have no trouble acquiring feminine friends. I think you have a chip on your shoulder and advise that you knock it off pronto.

Lest any of my young lady readers get ideas, I regret I cannot forward mail to other readers, nor can I reveal names and addresses of my correspondents.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am very much in love, and would like to be married in the fall. My sweetheart has a good job, but no special trade. I plan to get a job and together we can work and save. The problem is that my mother thinks I am too young to marry now; she wants me to finish school and then, if possible, take a nursing course. I don't want to wait that long to marry.

BETTINA

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Take your mother's advice; postpone your marriage for a year and finish school. If you and your sweetheart really love each other, and you seem to, the delay won't hurt you a bit and the schooling will be of great benefit to you later. Naturally when you're young and in love, the future holds nothing but rosy dreams. Dark clouds can form, however, on the brightest horizon and later in life you'll be very glad of your education.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: A friend of mine, some years ago, married a divorced man with one child. It has been a very successful marriage, and my friend has always been a good mother to the child. Now she wants to know if she is right in assuming that while the first wife still lives the child can't claim the second wife as a stepmother.

FRANCES

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Your friend is wrong. A second wife becomes the stepmother of her husband's children as soon as she's married to their father.

Away At Wedding Homes Wrecked

GRAVESEND, England (CP).— While occupants of two cottages in this Hertfordshire town were away attending a wedding, someone with a sharp axe and an overgrown grudge had a field day.

This was the trail of devastation that greeted Mrs. Mary Burd and Percy Pilkington when they returned to their respective homes:

Practically every piece of furniture had been smashed, upholstery slashed to ribbons and the water taps turned on, flooding the premises.

A new sideboard had been reduced to fragments, the knobs of every drawer hacked off and the contents strewn about the place. The raider's axe had been buried in the panelled base of a new dining table and its top copped into kindling wood.

In the Pilkington residence, the radio set was wrecked, a settee and two easy chairs chopped to pieces and here again the water in the bathroom was left running.

Then the destructive prowler went upstairs, stole an assortment of clothing and £30. On the way out he called it quits after ripping out 15 stair rails and pulling the stair carpet loose.

"I didn't know that I had an enemy in the world," remarked Mrs. Burd. "But I have now and I sure would like a few minutes alone with this maniac."

Ballet Fans Stand In Line All Night

LONDON (CP) —Sports events aren't the only things that attract all-night queues in Britain. Ballet is claiming larger audiences with each season, making seats harder to obtain. Some 50 eager fans stood in line all night when the famous Sadler's Wells group opened at Covent Garden. Three of the enthusiasts dozed on camp beds while another brough along a stretcher.

What's Right?

You think one of your dinner guests is not eating very much.

WRONG: Keep calling attention to the fact.

RIGHT: Ignore the situation, for you will probably embarrass him if you make any comment.

Poetess Irks Red Leaders With Verses

By DON DALLAS

LONDON (Reuters). — Maria Banush, Romanian poetess who wrote tenderly of love and wittily of Communist speech-makers, has landed herself in trouble with the serious-minded Communist rulers of her country.

Her case shows that like other Russian satellies, Romania is fervently following the partly line which excludes individuality from literature.

Marie got in trouble when she had two poems published in "Romanian Life," the journal of the Romanian Writers Union.

One, titled "The Song of White Hair," lyrically expressed love and tender feelings for the snow-white hair on the brow of a woman's lover.

The Communist party organ "Scanteia" pounced on it, declaring the poem "reeked of decadence" and showed the author was growing old and alienating herself from the growing generation.

The other poem offended for political reasons. In it Maria described an imaginary visit of the great German poet Heinrich Heine to a meeting of the Communist-led Romanian Writers Union.

Heine listens to their arguments and sums up his impressions before returning to the clouds: "I have learned how to make long poems with very few ideas."

Too Realistic

Communists states as a general rule encourage what they call "Criticism and self-criticism." But the Heine poem was too strong meat for Romania's party chiefs, with its implied criticism of the long prosy poems on political themes and work in the factories and fields that are fashionable today.

The Communist party organ objected that the poem wrongly depicted Heine as a cynic and "belittled" contemporary Romanian poetry.

Finally the newspaper curtly told the Writers' Union to control its members better and watch that such deviations did not occur in future.

Maria Banush has since admitted the "justness" of the party criticism and declared it "a valuable ideological help." There was no secret about the fact that art in Romania was "a party art," she added.

Safety Plan Would Shame Bad Drivers

WEST BROMWICH, Eng. (CP). — A national road safety campaign, which would make it a disgrace to become involved in a traffic accident, has been proposed by West Bromwich City Council.

A scheme to be known as "Operation Proof," has already been drawn up by the West Bromwich Traffic Department. Town councils and road safety organizations throughout the United Kingdom have been asked to endorse it.

It has also been suggested that the King be asked to broadcast a message stressing the importance to the nation of the proposed operation which would be run on semi - military lines. Leading members of the government are being asked to give their support to the plan.

The Royal Society for the Prevention of Accidents has commended the scheme. It has suggested, however, that the campaign should be organized on a purely regional basis to avoid adding further strain on police forces, already burdened by heavy Festival Year responsibilities.

However West Bromwich Council considers the plan should go forward on a national basis or be scrapped.

Band Concert Draws Large Audience

WARKWORTH, Aug. 28 (ENS). —The Warkworth Community Band presented the third of a series of concert on Sunday evening in the ball park, under the leadership of J. Minicola of Peterborough.

Grant Allen was master of ceremonies. Besides the band's assortment of marches, waltzes and sacred hymns, there were a number of special features. Mrs. Douglas Knight, Mrs. R. F. Jolliffe and Mrs. Harold Buttars, accompanied by Mrs. Don Thompson, pianist, presented two saxaphone trios. Vocal duets from Colborne by Mrs. Irvine, choir leader of Colborne United Church, and Miss Jean Arkels were: "The Voice in the Old Village Choir" and "Look for the Silver Lining." They were accompanied by Mrs. L. Arkels, also of Colborne. Miss Ina Bowen, ARCT, contributed a piano solo, "A Southern Dream." Edward Thompson gave two clarinet solos, "The Clarinet Polka" and "Star Dust," and was accompanied by Mrs. Douglas Knight, pianist.

The proceeds of the entertainment amounted to $47.50 in silver collection.

Miss Evelyn Atkinson, a member of the band, extended a vote of thanks on behalf of the members to Mr. Allen.

Jordon O. Crowe Buried At Warsaw

The Rev. George Dyson, Warsaw United church, officiated Monday at the funeral service at the Anderson funeral home, Lakefield, for Jordon Orlando Crowe. He died Saturday at the home of his brother, William Crowe, RR 2, Lakefield, in his 75th year.

Pallbearers were: Ralph Hamilton, George Parsons, Allan Oliver, Henry Little, Joie Moore, Bertrand Rae. Flower bearers were: Morley Crowe, William Gannan, Jack Morgan, Fred Crowe, Archibald Crowe and Gerald Crowe. Burial was in St. Mark's cemetery, Warsaw.

Allan Storey Wins Soap Box Derby

OMEMEE, Aug. 28—(ENS)—Allan Storey of Omemee placed first in the racing wheel division of the Lindsay Rotary Club's annual soap box derby, held on Kent St., Lindsay, over the weekend. This is the third year in succession that he has taken the top honors.

Second in the same division was his brother, Ray Storey.

Both boys used heavier racers than the others entered and seemed to give them more momentum over the three-fifths of a mile course.

INTERNATIONAL WINNER —Mrs. Graeme Pyke, of Montreal, won the third annual Invitational Golf Tournament at Kingston with a 3 and 2 victory over Miss Daintry Chisholm, also of Montreal. Mrs. Pyke eliminated Marlene Stewart, of Fonthill, Ont., winner of the Canadian Ladies' Open and Close championships, in the semi-final round, 2 up.

Additional Space For Polio Victims

HAMILTON, Aug. 28 —(CP)— Additional space for the treatment of poliomyelitis cases, made necessary by "outside" cases brought to Hamilton for treatment, is being made available at the General Hospital today, according to Dr. J. B. B. Eager, Assistant Medical Superintendent.

Dr. Eager had no direct comment to make other than this statement on a report from St. Catharines that an eight-year-old girl, that city's 14th polio victim, is being treated at home because the isolation ward at the Hamilton General Hospital is filled.

Fire Razes Bakery

BARRIE, Aug. 28—(CP)—A $10,000 fire destroyed St. Clair's bakery here early today. Firemen saved the adjoining St. Clair home.

IT WAS A BUSY WEEK-END for Premier Duplessis. On Saturday, he set in motion Hydro-Quebec's latest addition to the giant electric generating plant at nearby Beauharnois, moved to Valleyfield for the dedication of a new bridge, and the next day appeared at the camp-site of the National Scout Jamboree at Vaudreuil. In serious vein as he faced a battery of microphones at the bridge ceremony, he told of the "tremendous resournes at our disposal."

Police Promise Co-operation

VANCOUVER, Aug. 28 (CP)— Vancouver police have promised to make it easier for newspapers to get crime news.

Police Chief Walter Mulligan at a meeting Monday promised to lift bans recently placed on the collection of news at police headquarters.

Representatives of the three Vancouver newspapers—The Sun, The Province and The News-Herald — had protested to the police commission.

Reports of crimes will be speeded up to guarantee papers full information as soon as possible after crimes are committed, the chief told newspapermen.

And, he promised that a new press room will be built shortly.

The chief recently banned reporters from the parade room where they had previously been allowed to listen to questioning of prisoners. This ruling, which remains in effect, was due to lack of room, he said.

New Czech Envoy Hears Plain Talking

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28—(AP) —President Truman told the new Czechoslovakia ambassador today the best way to restore cordial relations with the United States would be for his government to free William N. Oatis, Associated Press correspondent jailed there on spy charges.

Reporters were told that Truman informed Dr. Vladimir Prochazka that relations between the US and Czechoslovakia had "deteriorated ever since Jan Masaryk was murdered."

This plain talk when the ambassador called to present his credentials was reported afterwards by Truman's secretary, Joseph Short.

Linklater Chosen To Write Korean Story

LONDON, Aug. 28 — (AP) — Novelist-playwright Eric Linklater has been commissioned a lieutenant-colonel and assigned to write the official story of British fighting men in Korea.

The Admiralty disclosed today Linklater now is on a tour of duty with the British army and navy in the area.

Among Linklater's novels are "Private Angelo," "The Art of Adventure" and "Mr. Byculla."

Fire Damages Mess Of Argyll Highlanders

HAMILTON, Aug. 28—(CP)— Fire caused $7,000 damage early today to the sergeants' mess of the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders of Canada at the armories here. The bar was gutted and smoke damage was extensive at the main mess building.

Major John Farnan, acting commanding officer, said the regiment intended taking Princes Elizabeth to visit the mess during the royal couple's stay in Hamilton Oct. 7.

Theft Was Failure Despite Big Effort

GLASGOW (CP).—Thugs who raided the Lauriston branch of the Commercial Bank of Scotland went to great pains, but failed to loot the currency-laden vault.

They broke into an office above the bank. The linoleum was then torn up and a hole drilled in the floor. Through this gap they inserted an umbrella which was opened so that it would catch the plaster as the hole was enlarged.

The thugs then lowered themselves 20 feet to the floor of the bank, taking three large carpets with them to wrap around the safe as a muffler for the safe-blasting job.

Two explosions rocked the district and brought police and a large crowd of curious to the scene.

The safe-blowers had vanished —but without a penny of loot.

Money Clip

AUCKLAND, NZ. — (CP) — Wool shearers in New Zealand will be able to earn between $120 to $220 for a 44-hour week this year, according to their speed. Shearing pay is fixed to correspond with wool prices and rates this year have been almost doubled.

Roughriders Trample Edmonton Eskimos

REGINA, Aug. 28 — (CP) — Playing good, methodical football, Saskatchewan Roughriders Monday trampled Edmonton Eskimos 23-0 in a western football union game before about 6,000 fans.

The victory was the second straight for Roughriders and moved them to the top of the league standing.

Riders led 6-0 at the end of the first quarter, increased their margin to 11-0 by the end of the half and then added a converted touchdown in each of the final two quarters.

European Reds Said In Manchuria

TAIPEH, Formosa, Aug. 28 (AP).—The China Union Press, a small Nationalist news agency, said Monday more than 2,000 European Communist soldiers arrived in Manchuria early this month.

Neither the Nationalist defence ministry nor United States Eighth Army headquarters in Korea would confirm or deny the report.

The ministry and the army headquarters could not verify other reports that 2,000 Caucasian troops from Europe had taken up positions on the east and west coasts of Korea, ready to fight beside Chinese and North Korean Communists if cease-fire negotiations are terminated.

The China Union Press said also that Russia had given the Chinese Reds 3,000 Czech machine-guns, 200 anti-aircraft guns and 500 military trucks since July.

The agency said Russia agreed to supply the Chinese Reds with 2,000 planes and 620 tanks, and added that some of the tanks had already arrived in Korea.

Mayoress Resigns

CLITHEROE, England (CP). — Mrs. Millicent Widdup, 26-year-old Mayoress of Clitheroe, has resigned halfway through her term of office to emigrate to South Africa with her husband. She says her husband is "fed up with controls, red tape and government regulations."

Fewer Crimes

OSLO (CP).—Norway had fewer crimes in 1950 than in the years just before the Second World War, reports the Central Bureau of Statstics. There were 4,181 cases of felony last year, a drop of nearly 300 from 1949 and nearly 800 less than the annual average for the pre-war period.

L. Yeotes Fined $100, Costs In Gaming Case

The last of the gaming house charges laid last November by the provincial police anti-gambling squad was settled in court today.

Louis Yeotes, 446 Gordon Ave., was fined $100 and $2.50 costs by Magistrate W. R. Philp. Yeotes pleaded guilty.

Evidence from OPP undercover man, Constable Douglas Miller, who figured prominently in the raids of last November, was to the effect that Yeotes, on two occasions, had paid off on free games won on a pinball machine.

Saw Pay-Off

Miller testified that on November 10, 1950, he saw a man playing a pinball machine in Yeotes' billiard parlour on George St. The man won 40 free games and received two $1 bills from Yeotes, the officer said. Yeotes cancelled the games by pushing a button under the machine.

Miller played the game himself that night, but won no games. The next night, he said, he won 10 free games, signalled to Yeotes that he wanted to be paid off, and received a 50-cent piece.

The half-dollar and the slot machine were entered as evidence. On the request of OPP Sgt. Clifford Von Zuben, the machine was confiscated.

Caught After 5 Shots Fired, Gets 10 Days

Clarence Seabrooke, 670 Little St., was sentenced to 10 days in jail Monday when he pleaded guilty to drunk driving.

Seabrooke was arrested Sunday night after police fired five shots at his car to halt him. Constable Claire McGillen and Sgt. William Aggas had followed him by police cruiser in a wild chase that started at Aylmer and Charlotte Sts., and ended on Hawley St.

Sgt. Aggas fired five shots at Seabrook's car, one of which hit the right rear tire after Seabrook turned onto Hawley St. from Monaghan Rd.

Seabrook pleaded guilty to the charge.

Stole Wire For Wharf, Two Men Fined $45

Two men charged with theft of $45 worth of wire from the HEPC were each fined $45 and costs by Magistrate W. R. Philp today. The fine was levied as it was each man's first offence.

Fined were: David Symons, 21, and Donald Collins, 20, both of RR 3, Smith. They pleaded guilty.

Det.-Sgt. W. E. Clark testified that the men had been drinking and wanted some wire for a wharf they were building.

Declares Truce Won't Affect Defence Plans

TORONTO, Aug. 28 — (CP).—A cease-fire in Korea would not fundamentally change the international situation, Defence Minister Claxton said Monday night.

Nor would it slow down Canada's defence preparedness program, the minister said in an address prepared for delivery at a dinner of the Air Cadet League of Canada.

"Nothing has happened in the last few months to change the general international situation," he said, "nor will it be changed fundamentally by a cease-fire in Korea.

"The basic reason for the build-up of our national defence—the threat and the possibility of Communist aggression— remains unchanged.

"The objectives of our national defence continue to be the defence of Canada against attack; the prevention of war by deterring aggression in carrying out any obligations we assume under the United Nations Charter or the North Atlantic Treaty; and the provision of men and equipment to produce the maximum effort in the shortest possible time in the event of a third World war."

Heavier Emphasis

Mr. Claxton, noting that Canada is stressing air power in its defence preparations, said even heavier emphasis will be placed on that arm in the future.

"This year," he said, "about 50 per cent of our total expenditures on defence will be on air defence, a greater proportion than in any country, and next years it will be even greater.".

While the Canadian defence program was being planned on a three-year basis, it would be pressed towards completion at the earliest possible date.

ON MONTREAL VISIT— As the trim 86-ton St. Barnabe headed upstream from Sorel to Montreal, the critical captain of a large ocean-going ship would have undoubtedly commented on two points—the smartness of her appearance and the youthfulness of her crew. Unique among Canada's mercantile marine, the St. Barnabe is Canada's only cadet training ship, and the voyage she is now undertaking is part of her annual summer cruise. Manned by a crew of 14 cadets and four officers, the staunch twin-diesel-propelled St. Barnabe is the training ship of the Marine School of Rimouski, an outgrowth of the Rimouski Technical School. Its operation and administration come under the Quebec Ministry of Youth and Welfare. Officers of training ship St. Barnabe stand on the vessel's deck. Left to right they are: Lt. Desgagnes, Rev. Gerrard Couturier, Capt. Rodolphe Ouellet, and Michael Puchowski.

Built Yachts F. E. Rickey Dies

TORONTO, Aug. 28.—Builder of many prizewinning yachts, Francis (Frank) Edward Rickey, died yesterday at his home, 104 Langley Ave. He was 86 years old and had been active until about a year ago.

Mr. Rickey was born at Millhaven, near Kingston, but for the past 45 years, he had lived in Toronto. Prominent as both boat designer and builder, in his 65 years in the trade, Mr. Rickey had worked for the Peterborough Canoe Co., The Canadian Gas Power and Launch Co., and the Oakville Yacht Building Co. For a number of years he operated his own firm of Rickey Brothers, and in more recent years, drew designs for his son's boatbuilding firm at Millhaven.

One of his best-known boats was a surf boat he designed and built in 1917 for the City of Toronto. This boat, double mahogany planked, was in use from the John St. Lifesaving Station until about two years ago when it was handed over to the Sea Cadets as a training ship.

He leaves three daughters, Frances, Audrey and Julia, all of Toronto, and three sons, James, Edward and Clifton of Millhaven.

NANAIMO B.C. (CP)—Several tons of valuable cement powder were let loose last week in the Gulf of Georgia near here. The cement was spilled when a barge upset, dumping her cargo.

Friends Honor Newlyweds

HAVELOCK, Aug. 28 (ENS)—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beamish (nee Roberta Brooks) of South Dummer whose marriage took place in July were presented with a miscellaneous shower at the Orange hall, recently when a large crowd of relatives and friends from Hastings, Norwood, Round Lake, and Havelock was present.

The bride and groom received many gifts among which was a considerable amount of money. Harry Fife and Harold Fife of Norwood provided music on the banjo and violin for dancing. Lunch was served at midnight.

Given Purse

Mr. and Mrs. Beamish were also honored with the presentation of a purse of money, at a social gathering held in the Norwood town hall when friends and relatives attended from Westwood, Norwood, Hastings and Round Lake. At the Norwood gathering, the parents of the pupils of South Dummer school presented Mrs. Beamish, who is the teacher there, with a beautiful silver tea service. Dancing was enjoyed and lunch was served.

Would Like Stock Salesmen Canvass Homes

TORONTO, Aug. 28 — (CP) — C. P. McTague, former chairman of the Ontario Securities Commission, would like to see it made possible for stock salesmen to go around ringing doorbells and offering securities on a house-to-house basis.

"Insurance salesmen and lawn mower salesmen are free to make house calls," he told the Ontario Legislature's crime committee Monday. "As for house visits by stock salesmen, I don't see why not. The resident doesn't have to let the salesman in if he doesn't want to."

At present, both door-to-door and over-the-telephone selling of securities is prohibited in Ontario.

Mr. McTague, who appeared before the commission as counsel for the Ontario Broker-Dealers' Association, said in reply to a question that he did not know if the association still is pressing for removal of the ban.

Doesn't Approve Phoning

"How do you fell about it yourself," asked E. B. Jolliffe, CCF opposition leader in the legislature and a committee member.

"I don't know that telephone calls should be permitted," Mr. McTague said. "I imagine the general public doesn't want any relaxation of the ban."

Mr. McTague said he thought it would be impossible to cut off the telephone business which Toronto brokers conduct with United States residents. This phase of securities operations had brought complaints from US residents that they have been fleeced.

C. E. Janes, Progressive Conservative member of the legislature for Lambton East, suggested that the root of any trouble with investment dealers was that prospective salesmen were not scrutinized closely enough before being licensed.

Mr. McTague said it was easy, after a man got into trouble, to say he shouldn't have been licensed, but it was hard to anticipate such a situation.

Legion Takes Part In Funeral Service

MARMORA, Aug .28 (ENS)—The funeral of Hector Boudreau held on Monday afternoon under auspices of Marmora branch No. 237 Canadian Legion was largely attended. Service was taken in St. Andrew's United Church Marmora by the Rev. G. D. Young, BA, BD, whose message was based on "What is man, that Thou art mindful of Him." George Woodhouse sang "No Night There."

Following the service, the cortege proceeded to the Veteran's Plot in Marmora Protestant cemetery, President Clayton Bedore being in charge of the Legionnaires on parade.

Following the committal by the Rev. G. D. Young, the rites of the Legion were taken by Comrade W. J. Cottrell, chaplain of the Marmora branch.

The Last Pose and Revellie were sounded by Comrade George Brooks.

Pall-bearers were Joseph Darrah, Harold Doyle, Herbert Wright, Ward Luery, James Cross and John Herman.

Severe Burns

OTTAWA, Aug. 28 (CP)—Two-year-old Susan Harris, standing nude in her family's kitchen, grabbed a cord from an electric grill Monday and showered herself with boiling water from a simmering pot of vegetables. She was taken to hospital with severe burns to shoulders, neck and back. Her mother had just stripped her to change her clothes.

Hog Population Up

OTTAWA, Aug. 28 — (CP) — Canada's hog population increased 12 per cent in the year ended June 1, the Bureau of Statistics reported Monday. The spring pig crop was 13 per cent larger than 1950. Number of hogs on farms at June 1 was 5,875,000, compared with 5,247,000 a year earlier. The increase in the west was 30 per cent, and in the east four per cent, with all provinces up except Ontario.

Worker Electrocuted

COLDWATER, Ont., Aug. 28—(CP) — Cecil Beaudoin, 25, was electrocuted late Monday when power was switched on too soon on a line on which he was working. Married and the father of three young children, he lived at Lafontaine, Ont., near Penetanguishene.,

Committed For Trial

HAMILTON, Aug. 28—(CP)—James Carl Stout, 65, Monday was committed for trial on two charges of possessing narcotics. His wife was committed on one charge and his brother, Charles, was freed. Bail for Stout was set at $10,000 but was not immediately forthcoming. Mrs. Stout was released on $3,000 bail.

To Form Units

OTTAWA, Aug. 28 — (CP) — Units will be formed in Toronto and Hamilton Sept. 1 to give ground crew training to some members of the RCAF Reserve, it was announced Monday by air force headquarters. Similar units have been formed in Montreal and Vancouver

Neck Broken

NEWMARKET, Aug. 28 (CP)—Gerald Worth, 27, died Monday of injuries suffered Saturday night at nearby Bond Lake. His neck was broken when an automobile in which he was a passenger, went out of control and rolled over three times.

Bobcaygeon Woman Is Victim Of Polio

LINDSAY, Aug. 28.—A woman who feared polio has died as a result of the disease. Mrs. Robert (Irene) Richmond, of Bobcaygeon died Saturday afternoon after contracting the disease just a few days previous. She died in a Toronto isolation hospital and her funeral was held on Sunday.

Mrs. Richmond, the mother of two small children, had been living at the "P.L." Camp, (Peterborough Lumber Co. unit) with her husband when she was stricken. The camp is located not far from Bobcaygeon and latterly Mrs. Richmond had expressed concern lest some member of the family contract the disease. Death came to her in her late twenties.

Deer Plentiful

TORONTO, Aug. 28 (CP)—The Lands Department reported Monday that so many deer are in the Huron forest district that 150 have been killed on the highways this year — incidentally doing about $30,000 damage to the cars involved. The Huron district covers roughly a square mile from Hamilton to Goderich, and Collingwood to the Bruce Peninsula.

Confer On Strike

QUEBEC, Aug. 28 — (CP) — Trade Minister Paul Beaulieu, who represents St. John's county in the Quebec Legislature, and Labor Minister Antonio Barrette conferred Monday with Premier Duplessis over a strike of 2,200 employees of Singer Company at St. John's, Que., now in its third month. A spokesman for Mr. Beaulieu's department said no statement would be issued immediately.

ANGLICAN ARCHBISHOP—The Most Rev. Louis Ralph Sherman, 65, of Winnipeg, has been Anglican Archbishop of Rupert's Land since 1943. Archbishop Sherman was born in Fredericton, NB. He served as Bishop of Calgary 1927-1943. Married, he has three children.

Lack Royal Box Winnipeg Worried

WINNIPEG, Aug. 28 —(CP)—Where will Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh sit at the command performance of the Winnipeg Ballet, scheduled in connection with their visit here in October?

This was the question posed Monday with preparations under way for the performance in Winnipeg's auditorium.

There is no Royal box in the big theatre. Nearest thing is the governor's box adjoining the side of the stage—but it has only been used by photographers, prompters and stage-hands.

The alternative is special chairs in front of the stage. It is an unwritten rule that nobody sits in front of Royalty.

Remanded In Drug Case

HAMILTON, Aug. 28—(CP)—Luigi Gallo, 40-year-old tailor, and his friend, Maxine Morrison, 19, Monday were remanded to Aug. 30 on charges of conspiring to distribute drugs. Gallo is held on $10,000 bail. Miss Morrison is out on bail of $3,000.

Aggressive Canadians Amaze Other Soldiers In UN Army

By BILL BOSS

WITH THE CANADIANS IN Korea, Aug. 28 (CP)—From army commander James Van Fleet as far down the line as one cares to carry it, one never hears here about just "the Canadians."

It's "those aggressive Canadians."

The tone is one of envy among UN commanders whose concern is to keep troops interested in hostilities that Kaesong might end any day.

It is one of amazement among troops thoroughly weary of the whole business and astonished that with the possibilities inherent in Kaesong "the guys go on sticking their necks out." And do so almost enthusiastically.

In large part they do so because they have come to reflect the enthusiasm of their commander, Brig. John Meredith Rockingham of Vancouver.

Dominating Influence

Rocky's enthusiasm for war and and the keeness with which he identifies himself with it—to the minutest detail and the fighting of the smallest sub-unit—certainly have been the dominating influences in the 25th Canadian infantry brigade group.

The men know him and like him. In operations he's seldom far from the middle, and often forward of the command post. He has been known to go to the forward company and on occasion even to the forward section to see how things are going and, often to make suggestions.

He scales apparently-impassable mountain trails in his jeep, and when the trails give out makes his way on foot to the infantry he wants to see. But he always gets there—even if it means picking up bullets in his tires and taking prisoners on the way. He has done both.

Troops Love It

The troops love it. "Rocky's here," the word goes around, and the tension or fatigue of the moment seem less acute.

If the troops love it, the battalion commanders frankly don't. They're running the show, and are personally responsible for it. Hence they are bound to their command posts, where they can co-ordinate the operation. They must save their presence lest it be required in a crucial moment to influence the outcome by rallying their men.

Yet they are conscious of the men's reaction: "we always see the brig. when we're in action, but where the hell is the CO?" (The commanding officer.)

Not that command posts are so far back, incidentally . . .

But even at the C.P. the brigadier has been known to become so enthusiastic over a battle as to take it over holus-bolus. There was one in particular in which he was running the infantry, his chief gunner ranging for the artillery and his chief signals officer doing the air-liaison work with aircraft putting in an air strike. Ignored on the sidelines were the battalion commander involved, together with the major commanding the artillery battery supporting the regiment.

Hard On Colonels

A battalion commander whose troops were slugging over difficult hilly country, sweeping it for Chinese, had kept them going with the goal of being the first United Nations troops to effect a link-up as their incentive. A UN armored force had struck deep into Chinese territory, dug itself in and waited, impregnable, until advancing infantry could reach it.

The Canadians were about to start on the last leg of the gap when the brigadier heard the way was open, cheerfully got into a jeep in the enthusiasm of the moment and personally effected the link-up . . .

It's sure hard on the colonels. But the same technique paid well when he commanded the 9th infantry brigade in Europe during the Second World War.

Said Col. Roger Rowley of Ottawa, soon to be director of military training at Canadian army headquarters, during a recent visit to the brigade:

"He chased me across half of Europe during the war and now, by gosh, he has had me climbing Korean hills."

It recalled a Second World War story written by Alan Randal, then war correspondent for The Canadian Press and now chief of bureau in Montreal.

Made Mistake

Randal reported that Rockingham, a striking six-foot-three target, was walking through a woods — supposedly cleared of Germans—to one of his battalion headquarters, when he was shot at.

Instead of falling flat on the ground the brig, who was carrying a tommy gun, turned and charged the enemy gun-post. He killed two Germans and took a third prisoner.

It wasn't until the divisional commander told reporters about it that the incident came to light. Then all Rocky said about it was: "It was just a matter of self-preservation. They were shooting at me, so I shot back."

Rocky's technique has so caught the fancy of British troops in the commonwealth division that they have worked up a song about him a parody of Nelly Lutcher's "Hurry On Down To My House, Baby."

One verse, which they sing with good-natured apologies to US army liaison officers present, runs:

"Hurry on up to the front line, Rocky,
There ain't nobody here but us Yanks.
Hurry on up to the front line, Rocky.
And for gosh sakes bring your tanks.
Jump in your jeep and bring your brigade,
And when it's all over we'll have a parade,
Hurry on up to the front line, Rocky,
There ain't nobody here but us Yanks."

The point is—whatever the technique—it is keeping the Canadians on the bit and aggressive.

Think Mao Follows Advice Of Ancient Genera Sun Fu

By CARL FLICK-STEGER.

BONN, Germany, Aug. 28 — (AP). — A German expert on Asia reveals that the military prowess of the Red Chinese is based on strategy conceived 2,500 years ago.

The strategy is contained in a manual written by China's most brilliant general of ancient times Sun Fu, and a copy of it is cherished by Mao Tse-tung, the Communist leader.

Its basic principle is: "Deception and secrecy."

A German sinologist, Ernst Cordes, in a new book on China entitled, "Revolution Within a Revolution," tells of Sun Fu's influence on Mao's modern campaigns.

Cordes, who says he knows Mao well, reports that the Red leader was never without the torn and tattered manual in his pocket when he was in the field.

Sun Fu's sage counsel is quoted thus by Cordes:

"If you are able to attack, make believe that you are not. If you are near, make the enemy believe you are far away. If you are far away, make him think you are near. Deception and secrecy are a heavenly art. Through them we learn to remain invisible and inaudible and compel the enemy to subdue himself to our control."

Throw Bait

In the 6th century BC, this wily general was advocating "throwing bait to the enemy to keep him moving."

"Then, when the enemy has been lured into the deadly trap, picked men, lying in readiness for him, must finish him off."

Other principles laid down in the time-worn military manual centre around the Chinese custom of allowing an opponent, even under the most trying circumstances, the opportunity to save his face. To a world generation reared on the phrase "unconditional surrender," this advice may seem odd:

"Do not fight an army that is on its way home. If an army is surrounded, always leave a small loophole open for its escape. Do not pursue a frantic enemy too cruelly. The loftiest art of warfare is to crush the enemy's resistance without fighting."

Old Sun Fu posted this rule as never to be forgotten: Use espionage liberally.

Ask Duplessis Settle Strike

SHAWINIGAN FALLS, Que., Aug. 28—(CP) — The Canadian Catholic Federation of Labor, a Quebec labor organization of 91,000 members, Monday asked government intervention in the Aluminum Company of Canada strike here. Some 900 employees walked out last Thursday over grievance and seniority questions.

Jean Marchand, CCCL general secretary, sent two telegrams from Quebec city to Provincial Minister Barrette and Marc Trudel, minister without portfolio representing Shawinigan Falls in the Legislature.

Copies of the telegrams were read Monday night at a meeting here of 900 Alcan workers, members of the National Syndicate of Shawinigan Aluminum Workers, a CCCL affiliate.

Earlier Monday, 100 office workers were refused entry in the plant by 30 pickets, plant manager D. H. Ferguson said.

Reduced Operations Begin At Studebaker

HAMILTON, Aug. 28 (CP). — Operations on a reduced basis began on schedule at the Studebaker Corporation of Canada, Ltd., today, R. A. Willson, personnel manager, reported.

Nearly all of the men recalled to work were on hand, Mr. Willson said.

Production has been reduced by 45 per cent, probably for the remainder of the year.

Four Airmen Jailed After Car Theft

CLINTON, Aug. 28 — (CP). — Four airmen from the RCAF radar station near here are in Huron County Jail, Goderich, charged with car theft.

Arrested and charged were: Donald Long, Pat O'Driscoll, Francis McDonald, and Fred Hargraves. Police said the car, owned by Harold Turner, was taken Sunday night. Later the car smashed into a hydro pole.

Wetter Water

HAMILTON—(CP)—Ald. Malcolm C. Cline, chairman of the Hamilton fire committee, says he will ask the committee to consider using "wet water" in putting out local blazes. "Wet water" is chemically-treated city water which gives 1,000 gallons the dousing power of 10,000.

Too Obliging

MONTREAL — (CP)—Maurice Leclerc was too obliging for his own good when he volunteered to drive an American tourist's car while visiting Montreal. He was fined $20 for driving the car without a permit and blowing the horn for no good reason. He said he "was just trying to be friendly."

Fishing Tackle

NEW GLASCOW, NS—(CP)—Two boys who claim they caught an eel by using an ordinary garden rake wrote to the local paper about it. The boys sid they caught the eel in the prongs of the rake and dragged it ashore. It measured almost 39 inches and was 8½ inches around.

The brothers, Svend Aage and Knud Erik Nielsen, expect to finance the three-year tour through several continents by selling picture postcards of their unusual vehicles.

Canadian Film Wins Approval

EDINBURGH, Aug. 28 (CP).—"Opera School," produced by Canada's National Film Board, was enthusiastically received Monday at the Edinburgh Film Festival.

Directed by Mrs. Gudrun Parker of Winnipeg and produced by Guy Glover of Ottawa, the film deals with the operatic school started in 1946 at Toronto's Royal Conservatory of Music.

Today was "Canada Day" at the three-week festival and several of the 12 films entered by Canada were shown, including "Pen Point Percussion," by Norman McLaren of Ottawa.

Nicholas Goldschmidt, director of the opera school, was in Edinburgh on the way home from the Salzbury festival.

In a speech after the showing of the film, he said

"We think the opera school is a unique organization in combining musical training and the opportunity for paid professional experience."

The film festival, with entries from 20-odd countries, opened Aug. 19. No prizes will be awarded.

DEER STALKERS

An average of 30,000 deer are killed by hunters in Nova Scotia each year.

Try Organizing Peace Force

NEW YORK, Aug. 28 (AP). — Warren R. Austin, United States representative to the United Nations, said Monday that organization of a permanent UN "peace force" to resist aggression is under way "at this very hour."

He said it is up to the Kremlin to decide whether "a coalition against aggression and a coalition against the Soviet Union shall be one and the same."

Austin addressed the 52nd national encampment of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, here for a convention.

Austin said in his prepared address that the general assembly of UN has asked member states to maintain specially-trained units within their armed forces for quick service "as United Nations forces." He said 23 countries have supported the move "and others are certain to join."

Canada is among those supporting the move.

Conciliation Talks Held At Timmins

TORONTO, Aug. 28 — (CP).—Conciliation talks aimed at ending the seven-week-old strike at Hollinger Consolidated Gold Mines, Timmins, were conducted here on Monday. Hollinger Mine officials and officials of the United Steelworkers of America (CIO-CCL) representing the strikers, met at the office of Louis Fine, chief provincial labor conciliator. No developments came from the talks, but they will be resumed today.

The 1,600 miners at Timmins have been on strike since July 9 in a dispute over wages and a union dues check-off.

2 Robbers Hoax Cashier At Ex

TORONTO, Aug. 28 (CP). — Two men who hoaxed a cashier into leaving her cash register unattended Monday night stole $822 from Waller's Restaurant on the Canadian National Exhibition grounds, near the western entrance. However, they missed another $100 in the till. A police officer said later it was the first robbery on the Exhibition grounds in his 30 years' experience.

Stage Fright

OTTAWA (CP)—A little white mongrel dog was proudly paraded in a talented dog contest at the Ottawa Exhibition but his young owner walked away disappointed. The dog, supposed to be able to sneeze at will, sing opera and jazz, and jump through a hoop, got stage fright and played dumb.

GOING TO CEYLON—Donald Haywood, 43, Vancouver fisheries expert, is going to Ceylon to advise on expansion of the Dominion's fishing industry. Mr. Haywood, an executive of British Columbia Packers, Ltd., is the first Canadian to go to Ceylon under technical assistance provisions of the Colombo Plan.

RCAF SPEEDS SEARCH FOR BARILKO

British Yawl Missing On NY Trip

Ships and Planes Scour Ocean For Small Vessel

HALIFAX, Aug. 29. (CP) — Planes and ships today began a search for the 20-foot yawl Nova Espero, the tiny yacht that bobbed into the news last year with a daring Atlantic crossing.

The craft has been unreported since she left Shelburne, NS, for New York on her second ocean crossing, this one designed to improve trade relations between United States and Britain.

Stanley Smith and Charles Violet crewed the vessel on her 86-day crossing. On the first trip Stanley was accompanied by his brother Colin.

Aircraft from Greenwood, NS, and US coast guard vessels spearheaded the search off southwestern Nova Scotia today. All ships in the area were also asked to be on the lookout for the home built boat.

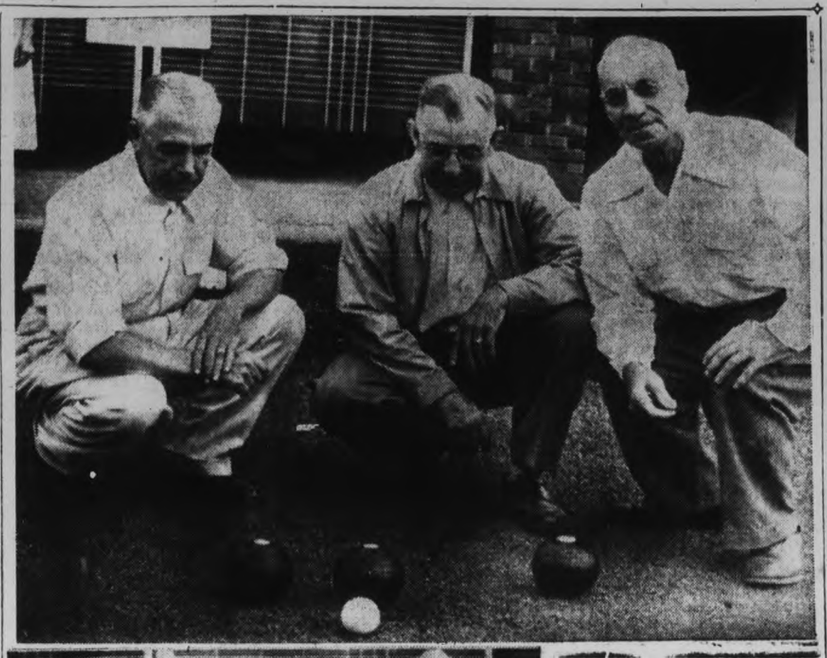
Meanwhile, two other ships still were in trouble off the eastern seaboard and another was safe in port after reporting herself in distress.

The two-masted yacht Northern Light arrived at Rock Harbor, near Sydney, NS, Tuesday night under her own power after being reported in distress.

Two other ships were still aground off Cape Breton.

The Newfoundland coastal freighter Lucille M. Colp is believed a total loss off Port Aconi, 15 miles north of Sydney.

A Sydney tug was sent to her aid but a report received in Sydney Tuesday night said the Gloucester, Mass., vessel was "beyond salvage."



ONE OF ONTARIO'S LARGEST lawn bowling tournaments, the Black Memorial open doubles, is being held today at the Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club. Hockey Star Disappears At Weekend

Two Men Set Out On Fishing Trip Near James Bay

TIMMINS, Aug. 29. (CP) — The search for hockey player Bill Barilko and Dr. Henry Hudson wheeled back towards the James Bay region late today when officials said reports that a small plane had crashed in rugged bushland 70 miles east of here were "false."

A provincial government plane and a land party checkd the scene where a railway section hand reported he had seen a light plane going down late yesterday in bush country south of Cochrane.

Flt. Lt. F. L. Ruston, RCAF searchmaster, said search parties hit a dead end when they investigated the territory.

Meanwhile, the two RCAF Dakotas continued to sweep the James Bay area, about 470 miles north of here.

Not Heard From

The missing men have not been heard from since 4 p.m. Sunday when they vanished in their small single-engine plane on a fishing trip somewhere north of Seal River, 500 miles north of here.

They were last reported at far-north Rupert House Sunday.

Barilko, defenceman with Toronto Maple Leafs and Dr. Hudson, from Timmins, set out Friday and told friends they would return not later than Monday.

Six planes started a search Tuesday, with their pilots checking the numerous tiny lakes on which the men could have landed in case of bad weather or if their plane ran out of gas, but an electrical storm grounded the searchers as darkness fell.

The RCAF prepared to set up an advance search base at Kapuskasing airport, about 75 miles northwest of this gold-mining town, and assigned two big Dakotas to follow the proposed flight of the missing aircraft between far-north Rupert House and Timmins. The planes carry para-rescue crews.

Two other RCAF planes were standing by at Centralia, near London, ready to join the search as soon as the base is established.

Dr. Hudson's wife said she refused to worry about the safety of her husband and Barilko. Her husband, who has been flying five or six years, went on fishing trips almost every nice weekend.

"As far as I'm concerned, they are not missing," she said. "They're out of gas and down on some lake. My husband is a very careful pilot and bad weather or lack of gas may have forced him down."

MOVIE ACTOR ROBERT WALKER, 32, died suddenly Tuesday night at his Hollywood home. He was undergoing treatment for an emotional disturbance.

Movie 'Shy Guy' Robert Walker Dies Suddenly

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 29 (AP). —Actor Robert Walker, 32, who zoomed to fame during the Second World War in "Shy Guy" movie roles, died Tuesday night at his home while undergoing treatment for an emotional disturbance.

Dr. Frederick J. Hacker, a psychiatrist who said he had been treating Walker for 18 months, was summoned by the actor Tuesday night. The doctor said he had talked to Walker for two hours, then called Dr. Sidney Silver, another psychiatrist, to administer a sedative.

Dr. Hacker said the sedative (an injection of sodium amytal, a barbiturate) had been given to Walker many times for emotional disturbances and with good results.

However, this time the actor lapsed into a coma, the psychiatrist said, and developed respiratory failure. An inhalator squad was called but failed to revive him.

Ex-Wife Comes

The physician added that Walker's former wife, Actress Jennifer Jones, and now the wife of Producer David O. Selznick, was notified and said she is flying here from New York. The two young sons of Walker and Miss Jones have been spending the summer with the actor.

Ridgway Refuses To Re-Investigate Kaesong Bombing

TOKYO, Aug. 29. (AP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway put it squarely up to the Communists today to decide the fate of Korean war truce talks. The United Nations commander curtly refused to investigate again the alleged Kaesong bombing incident. But he said the Allies would resume armistice negotiations whenever the Reds are ready to end their "unjustifiable delay" of the conference. The general view here was that Ridgway's message to the Communist commanders left them almost no alternative but to back down or break off the disrupted conferences completely.

Ridgway did not even mention the Communist demand that he admit a UN plane bombed the truce site. He has called the whole incident a fraud.

His message to the North Korean Premier, Kim Il sung, and Chinese Gen. Peng Teh-Huai, dealt only with their request that he send his liaison officers back to Kaesong to look at new evidence.

"A reinvestigation after this lapse of time," Ridgway said, "could serve no purpose other than to continue this unjustifiable delay in the armistice negotiations."

Cut Off Short

The UN Commander observed that during the original investigation a few hours after the asserted bombing the night of Aug. 22, a Red liaison officer "specifically refused the requests of my liaison officer to continue the investigation during daylight and to leave all of the alleged evidence in place."

This was a flat contradiction of a statement in the message from Kim and Peng to which Ridgway was replying.

The Red generals said "we did not on the night of the 22nd reject your making of the investigation in daylight."

Ridgway's note told the Reds "when you are prepared" to resume truce talks "I will direct my representatives to meet with yours, with a view to seeking a reasonable armistice agreement."

The Reds broke off the deadlocked negotiations last Thursday because of the asserted bombing incident.

A Public Information Office release from Ridgway's headquarters, issued after his note was delivered to the Reds, said "the United Nations Command already has carried out a detailed investigation of the alleged incident."

It said Ridgway asked all major UN commanders "to investigate and report whether any elements under their respective command, regardless of nationality, could have been involved in the alleged occurrence at Kaesong.

"Their written reports certified that no forces under their command were involved."

Says Reds Using Lull In War To Build Forces

WINNIPEG, Aug. 29. (CP)—If no settlement is reached in Korea, warfare there will break out in fury that will make the war to date look like just skirmishing, CP war correspondent Bill Boss said Tuesday night.

Home on leave from the Korean front lines, Boss paused here briefly en route to Trenton, by air from McChord Field, Wash.

In an interview, he said he felt the North Koreans were sincere in seeking a settlement "with goodwill" but they were just tools in higher Communist policy. He said the Reds wanted a local settlement in Korea where their aggression was unsuccessful so they could try elsewhere.

The Communists had used the lull in the war during the Kaesong peace talks to build up their forces. Reports from Hong Kong told of an international Communist brigade of 200,000 including many Europeans, armed and trained, which was being held in Manchuria "as a threat."

Need Different Attitude

While the Korean war could break out in fury, Boss said he did not think it would develop into a Third World War.

Boss said the destruction in Korea baffles description especially in its impact on the individual Koreans.

Many United Nations troops had an "unfortunate attitude" which had caused grave doubts in the minds of many Koreans. Many were arrogant and insolent. The attitude made no friends.

The UN needed to make friends by educating their troops, rehabilitating the shattered Korean nation and restoring the decimated Korean education system.

Red Attacks Getting Bolder

US EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Aug. 29 (AP) —Communist troops built up their strength along the Korean front today despite clearing weather which exposed them to Allied air and artillery attack.

A sudden break in the rainy spell also brought on a jet battle along the Korean-Manchurian border. Sixty Red and Allied jets engaged in a dogfight.

Red ground reinforcements were spotted moving up to the lines in the iron triangle sector of the central front and east of the Kaesong neutral area on the Western front.

Red assault troops lashed out in a series of pre-dawn attacks along the eastern front but pulled back to their own lines by daylight to escape American artillery fire.

Truman Arranges Indian's Burial

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29—(AP) —President Truman today ordered the burial in Arlington national cemetery of a Winnebago Indian killed in action in Korea, whose interment was halted at Sioux City, Ia., because of his Indian blood.

Truman acted after reading a news story that burial of the body of Sgt. John R. Rice, 37, was halted just as it was about to be lowered into the grave.

The White House said the President directed the army to arrange for Rice's interment in Arlington national cemetery and to invite members of the sergeant's family here for the services.

Deranged Sailor Taken Off Trawler

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 29—(AP)—The coast guard cutter Cartigan early today removed a deranged crew member from aboard a trawler in the Gulf of Mexico about 200 miles southwest of New Orleans.

The coast guard here reported the Cartigan sped to the trawler, whose home port has not been established, after a message was received from the fishng boat's unidentified captain.

The captain radioed that the only other person aboard the trawler was "violently insane" and "attempting to take life."

The radio message did not make clear as to whether the demented crew member was trying to take his life or the captain's

Guilty Of Manslaughter Private Jailed For Life

SEOUL, Korea, Aug. 29. (CP)—Pte. Glen Roland Blank, 27, of Winnipeg, today was convicted of manslaughter and sentenced to life imprisonment in the grenade killing of a South Korean soldier March 17. The sentence is subject to review by Canadian defence headquarters in Ottawa. A general court martial acquitted Blank of a murder charge.

The other Canadian soldiers, Pte. Donald Michael Gibson, 22, of Ottawa and Pte. Alan Roy Montgomery Davis, 24, of Vancouver, also have been charged with murder in the case.

The three were charged with the murder of South Korean Lieut. Ee Chong Sung, one of the three ROK soldiers killed in a grenade explosion in a farmhouse in the village of Chung Woon. Gibson and Davis are to be tried later.

Reuters News Agency, in its report of the trial, said it was learned authoritatively that the prosecution had asked that charges of murder be dropped against Gibson and Davis as a result of the manslaughter verdict against Blank.

Men Driven Mad, Others Ill Poisoned Bread Blamed

PARIS, Aug. 29 (AP).—Poisoned bread was blamed today for a bizarre illness in the south of France which has taken four lives, driven people mad and forced some to attempt suicide. Three other towns reported epidemics of ordinary food poisoning.

Strange tales of "bread that makes men mad" came from the tiny Rhone river port of Pont St. Esprit, where four persons have died since the weird malady struck Aug. 17.

At least 200 persons have called for urgent medical care and some said their brains were wracked by hallucinations of being surrounded by flames or monsters.

Physicians found that all those stricken had eaten bread from the same bakeries. Some bread was thrown into the river and the fish died. The use of flour from a number of mills supplying the town has been banned.

One theory is that the flour was poisoned with ergot, a cereal parasite which flourishes in rainy years. Officials thought the illness might be a recurrence of "fervent fever" known during the middle ages to have been caused by ergot and to have driven men mad.

They've given some of the bread to mice and the mice have become paralyzed.

At another village—St. Galmier—about 100 persons were reported ill after eating ice cream. One source said paratyphoid germs were found in the milk from which the ice cream was made.

Several score persons were reported ill in the region of Poitiers where officials thought they had traced the cause to some meat.

In the region of Chateaudun, 100 persons were ill after eating the flesh of a horse which a farmer had slaughtered after it was injured.

Conference Five Days Reds Plan 4-6 Weeks

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29 (AP)—The Japanese peace treaty conference is scheduled here five days next week but the Russian delegation is looking far beyond that.

Kenneth L. Ball, a music teacher, reported today emissaries tried to rent his 17-room mansion for the Soviet delegation "for a month. Then they talked about six weeks."

But Ball didn't close the deal.

The Russians then rented half the 10th floor of the St. Francis Hotel—24 rooms and two suites—at $400 a day.

The Russians' "month or six week" bid threw a scare into the San Francisco Opera Company. It rehearses and performs in the opera house, site of the treaty conference.

The conference is scheduled to end Sept. 8 and the opera company to move in two days later.

2 Bombers Overdue

MOFFETT FIELD, Calif., Aug. 29 (AP) — Two navy torpedo bombers were reported long overdue today in a flight here from Long Beach. The bombers, each carrying two men, were part of a flight of six planes evacuated from Los Alamitos base to escape a storm approaching that area.

Soviet Agent Fires On W. Berlin Police

BERLIN, Aug. 29 (AP)—West Berlin police and an East German Communist agent exchanged a wild fusillade of pistol shots through the stone columns of the Brandenburg Gate astride the Soviet sector boundary today.

The Western detectives and several patrolmen in the vicinity were not hit. They said they believed the Communist may have been wounded.

The police did not identify the Russian sector man by name but said he had long been suspected of egineering kidnappings in the West sectors for the Communist security service.

The man was seized as he walked from the Soviet sector into the British sector early this afternoon. He broke away and ran at top speed behind the arches of the Brandenburg Gate. The West police said he then whipped out a pistol and fired several shots.

Lightning Fires Along BC Coast

VANCOUVER, Aug. 29 (CP). — Lightning sparked forest fires raged Tuesday night along the British Columbia coast.

The worst was at Jervis Inlet, 85 miles north of here, the flames roaring along a 25-mile stretch of coast line.

"The whole shoreline is a blaze" said a forestry official after an aerial survey.

The flames have swept 10 miles inland, and then along the coast to Murray Bay, a distance of 25 miles.

Boat Yanked Out Of Locks

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Aug. 29 (AP)—After a mighty fight, an errant Great Lakes freighter was yanked out of a Soo locks power canal early today.

The tug Idaho was heroine in a two-hour battle as a fog lay over the locks.

The downbound freighter G. A. Tomlinson, operated by Hutchinson and Company of Cleveland, O., went into the power canal about 3 a.m.

Instead of going on to the locks, the Tomlinson was caught in the swift current of the canal and was powerless to get back.

Had the Idaho not been successful, the 10,000-ton freighter might have been swept against bridges spanning the canal which passes through the heart of the city.

Begin New Efforts Settle Oil Dispute

TEHRAN, Iran, Aug. 20—(Reuters)—United States Ambassador Henry Grady begins new efforts to mediate the Anglo-Iranian oil dispute tonight when he calls on Shah Reza Pahlevi.

The interview is at the Shah's request, though Grady had been planning to ask for a meeting at which he would seek a new basis for talks between Britain and Iran on the fate of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company.

He is also expected to call soon on Prime Minister Mohammed Mossadegh.

Must Speed Civil Defence Or Kill It: Gen. Worthington

OTTAWA, Aug. 29 (CP). — Maj. Gen. F. F. Worthington today called for immediate action by Canada either to sped a civil defence program for the country or "kill" it completely.

He said he is meeting "terrible delay" in getting the program developed. His feelings are, he said, that the program should be advanced quickly "or killed completely."

The federal civil defence coordinator made the comment at a press conference called to introduce the civil defence director-general for Sweden, Ake Sundelin, and his assistant, Ivar Muller.

Gen. Worthington read a message which he said he had received from Washington quoting Millard Caldwell, US CD director, as saying that either the US required the use of civil defence to win a major war or the program should be "killed forthwith."

"Those are exactly my feelings," Gen Worthington said.

Asked where the main trouble in the Canadian delay was rooted, Gen. Worthington replied:

"The trouble lies behind you."

He was pointing to the parliament buildings which could be seen from his office window.

Gen. Worthington said later that the situation in Canada was not nearly as bad as in the United States, but there are "irritable delays."

"There is no point," he said, "in publishing a book telling Canadians to go to shelters in case of a raid, when actually no shelters are being built.

"Time is running out and we've got to get action."

Mr. Sundelin, at 38 the youngest electrical engineer in Sweden said he had come to Canada to give whatever assistance possible in civil defence.

He said, unlike Canada, Sweden makes civil defence compulsory for all between the ages of 16 and 65.

Of a population of 7,000,000 — half the Canadian population — Sweden had 900,000 trained civil defence workers.

Toronto Honors Winnie Leuszler

TORONTO, Aug. 29 — (CP) — Winnie Roach Leuzler, suburban North York mother who swam the English Channel, came home today.

Ticker tape swirled, confetti fluttered, crowds cheered along Bay Street as Winnie rode slowly up to the city hall steps where Mayor Hiram McCallum welcomed her.

Her husband and father were beside her in one car, and her mother and three children followed in another.

In a brief acceptance speech when Toronto presented her with a silver tea service, Winnie said how glad she was "to have been able to bring a little honor to Canada."

Crowds shouted "Nice going, Winnie," "Good for you, Winnie," and "Hrurray for North York."

Then she drove off to her home in North York, for another celebration.

Red Stalling Tactics Said Trading Point

TOKYO, Aug. 29 (AP)—Some allied observers say the Communists want to prolong the stalemate in Korean peace talks so the Reds will have a trading point at the Japanese peace treaty conference in San Francisco.

That trading point is the threat of full war in Korea.

All the Russians have to hold over the heads of the countries they want to follow their line is fear. If they suddenly make peace in Korea, their threats and thundering oratory won't carry the same sting.

Most observers believe the present manoeuvering of the Reds is simply to block progress.

Perhaps after the Japanese peace conference ends there will be some kind of an agreement in Korea. But the general feeling is that until the Russians have had their say in San Francisco and over the propaganda airways, the Kaesong conference will simply drag along.

Blame Collapse Of Bridge On Poor Steel

THREE RIVERS, Que., Aug. 29 (CP).—Defective and poor quality steel today were blamed for the collapse of the $3,500,000 Duplessis Bridge here last January.

A representative of the Dominion Bridge Co. Ltd. of Montreal said his company made a detailed report to the provincial Department of Public Works in December, 1950, stating that some of the steel used in construction of the mile-long link over the St. Maurice River was "poor quality rim steel."

He was appearing before a two-man inquiry commission appointed by the provincial government to determine the cause of the collapse.

Yvan Vallee, deputy minister of public works, acknowledged that the company report was received by his department after several months were spent in stiffening the joints.

He said stiffeners were rivetted to the joints and tension points after fissures appeared in two main girders in February and March, 1950.

Seemed All Right

Cross-examined by Louis Philippe Pigeon, attorney representing Liberal Opposition Leader George C. Marler in the legislature, Mr. Vallee stated that nothing in the report indicated the steel used was not proper for welding. The bridge was a welded steel structure.

The deputy minister added that his department had no competent metallurgist on its staff and had to rely on reports of contracting firms and analyses made by outside laboratories.

Oliver Despardins, engineer-in-chief of the Department of Public Works, corroborated the testimony of his chief. He believed the collapse was caused by a defect in the steel superstructure about 20 feet from pillar No. 4 in the river bed.

New Zealand Voters Hear Broad Promises

By J. C. GRAHAM

AUCKLAND, NZ—(CP)—Although the government led by Prime Minister Sidney G. Holland called the election of Sept. 1 as a vote of confidence for its settlement of New Zealand's biggest strikes, it is having difficulty keeping this issue foremost in the election campaign.

Both the National party and the opposition party have made bids for support with promises to tax reductions, price cuts and increased social security benefits. The promises reached such an extensive scale that one newspaper used a headline: "party leaders promise earth, moon and stars."

The voting is to elect a new house of representatives. In the last house, of 80 seats, Prime Minister Holland's National government had 46 members against 34 for the Labor opposition under Walter Nash.

Labor's undertakings go much farther than those of the government. In answer to critics who speak of the tremendous cost of such promises, Labor claims that at this time of high prices for New Zealand's exports it would be able to reduce taxes and finance the added benefits in its policy at the same time.

Income Tax Cut

Both parties propose to make their main tax reductions in income tax. They use different methods of making the rebate, but the cut works out at about the same in the middle income range, with Labor undertaking greater reductions for people on lower incomes.

The government has promised cuts in the price of bread, flour, butter, tea, gas and gasoline through increased subsidies, but the Labor party has promised much more substantial use of subsidies to keep price of essential goods down. It has also undertaken to provide special measures to control inflation and prices, claiming that when in office its controls worked more successfully than those of any other country. Many of these controls have been swept away by the present government in pursuits of its policy of returning from Socialism to free enterprise.

More Social Security

But it is in the field of social security that the greatest bidding has been made. New Zealand's social security structure already provides one of the most extensive systems of health and pension cover in existence, but both parties have promised extensions.

The government has offered to double the rate of universal super-annuation as a major step toward replacing old age pensions. These pensions are payable to people over 60 of limited means. The universal super-annuation system is being built up side by side with this. It is payable to everyone over 65 irrespective of their means and is gradually being increased each year so that eventually it will take the place of old age pensions. Under the government's accelerated scheme It will reach the full rate of about $465 a year in 1967, or 30 years earlier than previously planned.

The Labor party has undertaken to increase war pensions immediately to $12 a week, and old age pensions, widows, invalidity and unemployment payments to $9 a week. It also proposes an increase of half a dollar a week in the family benefit which is paid to parents for every child in the country irrespective of financial position.

Cover Wide Field

The Labor party, in office for four years prior to the last elections in 1949, covers a very wide field in its platform. It has undertaken to reduce the rental on state houses, to make a $30 grant for every child entering high school, to provide a 40-hour week for nurses although there is a nursing shortage at present. It has promised introduction of free dental and optical services in addition to the present free medical services.

The government similarly claims it can carry out its promises and increase the defence budget as well. The extent of the defence increase has not been announced, but the government has stated it plans to increase the age for compulsory military training from 18 years to 20½ years. Before the Korean outbreak, New Zealand was the only nation in the British Commonwealth except Britain to approve peacetime conscription, although Australia has since followed suit.

All youths of 18 are at present given three to four month's basic training followed by several years of weekend training and occasional camps. The government has decided to raise the age so that trainees will be available sooner for overseas service if required. The presnt scheme was a long-term plan aimed at producing a fully trained expeditionary force in four or five years. The Labor party is less explicit in its defence policy. It makes no mention of increasing the budget but merely talks of continuing the "policy of developing a balanced defence force."

Labor State Controls

Socialism is less prominent than in the past in the Labor party's platform, but nevertheless it proposes the restoration of several state control measures abolished by the present government. A major point is that it would restore direct government control over currency and credit instead of leaving this in the hands of the reserve bank.

New Zealand A, B, C, Copy

The present government has made state houses available for purchase by tenants if they wish, but the Labor party proposes to make them available for rental only, as during its former term of office. Labor would withdraw the offer to sell the state-owned airways to private enterprise and proposes re-enactment of its measure nationalizing all coal deposits. This measure was repealed by the new government. Labor thus proposes chiefly at present to reverse the steps away from Socialism taken by the present regime.

It also proposes the restoration of many controls abolished by the new government in its efforts to clear free enterprise from official red tape. It would restore price controls which have been relaxed on many goods, and also control over import of goods which can be made in New Zealand. In the past year most import controls have been abolished on goods from soft currency countries and the few remaining controls are being reviewed with a view to abandonment where possible.

As usual foreign affairs are not a major issue at the election. Both parties in New Zealand have always agreed on foreign policy questions. Both urge close ties with Britain and both support full co-operation in the United Nations.

Guessing Game Too Dangerous

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP) —A warning by Gen. Omar Bradley that it is "dangerous to try to guess" what Russia will do was the background for the start of Senate debate today on a $7,535,-750,000 foreign aid program designed to confront Communist force with force.

"No one can know just what is in the minds of the men in the Kremlin," the chairman of the joint chiefs of staff said. "We cannot guess what they are going to do, and it is dangerous to try to guess."

Bradley made the statements during recent closed-door testimony by two Senate committees on the Foreign Aid Authorization Bill, already approved by the House of Representatives in a form different from that before the Senate. The testimony was made public today.

He said the safest thing for the United States and its free world allies to do is to get ready as fast as they can to meet Communist aggression anywhere.

As the measure reached the Senate, it carried $964,250,000 less than the $8500,000,000 asked by President Truman.

This still was higher than the $7,449,000,000 voted by the House. The bill does not carry any actual money. That must be voted later in another bill.

Shows No Emotion

Blank stood at attention before the court as Col. W. C. Dick of Montreal, court president, read the sentence. The soldier showed no emotion when he heard the life verdict.

Earlier, Lt.-Col. J. A. Hutchins of Montreal, the defence officer, argued that the prosecution had failed to show malice or intent on the part of Blank. He contended that if it was found that Blank threw the grenade, the most serious crime of which he could be convicted would be manslaughter.

Blank testified he had been drinking the night of March 17 but was positive he did not hurl a grenade.

The prosecutor, Cap. L. B. Hanway of Amherst, N.S., said witnesses had testified Blank was in a jeep that went from the Camp of the Patricias March 17 to the farmhouse at Chung Woon.

Hanway recalled testimony of Gibson that Blank had said, "I am going to throw a grenade," and other testimony that Blank had been asked on the return trip to camp, "Why did you throw the grenade?"

Equally Guilty

Hanway said that even if the court found Blank did not throw the grenade, it must find he was a member of a party carrying out an unlawful enterprise and therefore equally guilty of murder.

Defence Officer Hutchins told the court there was a large amount of drinking at the Patricias' camp the night of the incident. He said there was no order to prevent the men from drinking as much as they wanted and that it was only natural they discussed women.

Witnesses had testified that a jeepload of British and Canadian soldiers had gone to Chung Woon in search of prostitutes after a drinking party.

The men went out "to buy what they wanted," Hutchins said. All were in varying degrees of drunkenness.

Hutchins said there was no evidence to indicate whether Blank was in the house, what he did if he went in, or that he was in possession of a grenade.

Hutchins said Blank was arrested and questioned under conditions which would not be countenanced by any civil court and the evidence taken under those conditions should not be admissable.

Witnesses said Blank was first questioned by a British military police sergeant major in the middle of the night while he sat handcuffed.

Ready to Begin

The Dakotas and two para-rescue crews were due at Kapuskasing at 11 a.m. today after fog delayed them at North Bay.

The planes were expected to begin their search of some 20,000 square miles of lake-dotted muskeg immediately after their arrival.

Weather over the area was reported perfect for flying.

Dr. Lou Hudson and Gordon Gautier, close friend of the dentist arived at Kapuskasing today to join in the search.

TCA Vice-President

MONTREAL, Aug. 29 (CP) — Appointment of W. Gordon Wood as vice-president in charge of traffic, was announced today by Trans-Canada Airlines. Mr. Wood succeeds Anson C. McKim who recently resigned.

DR. DONALD G. TOLLEFSON, of Los Angeles, summoned from his bed by an early-morning call, feels in vain for the pulse of a traffic victim—his own 18-year-old son, Dean. The boy was killed when the door of a convertible he was driving flew open on a curve and he was thrown from his seat. Two companions escaped injury.

Stock Market Prices Climb On Exchange

TORONTO, Aug. 29 — (CP) — Stock market prices climbed in early afternoon trading today after forenoon weakness.

Continuing the upswing started late last Thursday, industrials climbed more than a point on the Exchange's index of 20 selected issues to a record high of 345.42.

Agricultures, liquors and miscellaneous industrials showed the best gains. Utilities, banks and manufacturing companies remained firm while steels and refining oils turned mixed. Foods weakened as papers, constructions and retail stores eased.

Base Metals climbed moderately as selective buying maintained activity in a wide list of issues. Quebec Copper was a standout as it jumped about 50 cents as more than 200,000 shares changed hands. Ankeno, Fenimore Iron, Quebec Labrador, Silver Miller, United Asbestos and Yukeno traded heavily. Consolidated Smelters led the list as it sold at a gain of $1.50. Anaconda Lead, Silver Standard and Waite Amulet dipped slightly.

Western Oils showed little change from mild morning advance. Devon-Leduc, Model Oil, Pan Western and Superior were in demand. Federal Petroleum, Calnorth and General Petroleum A climbed pennies. National Petroleum, Scurry and Ajax eased.

Senior Golds edged higher. Giant Yellowknife, Hollinger, Malartic, McIntyre and Wright-Hargreaves showed gains up to more than a point. Junior Golds and Prospects were mixed and quiet.

Say Color Bar In Gov't Work

LONDON, Aug. 29—(CP)—Two members of paliament have asked the government to investigate claims by a student that a color bar operates in some government departments.

Donald Wade, Liberal member for Huddersfield West, and Beverley Baxter, Toronto-born Conservative member for Southgate North, took the action after the National Union of Students said it had difficulty in placing some non-white students in vacation work.

The union said the color bar operated at some London railway stations, the Royal Mint and the Board of Trade. It cited correspondence from a district railway manager saying he was eager to employ students as porters but that there was objection to non-white labor at some stations, including Cambden Town, Broad Street and St. Pancras.

The Board of Trade has denied it operates any color bar.

Poland Buys Ships For China

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 29 (AP). —Poland is buying ships in Western Europe for a new joint Polish-Chinese shipping company, a reliable source said here Tuesday.

The company was formed this year, the source said, to take care of most of the cargo traffic between Communist Eastern Europe and Communist China.

Polish shipping purchases for the joint company so far, he said, include a Swedish motor ship, seven Danish and five Norwegian vessels.

Will Back Australian As Conference Head

NEW YORK, Aug. 29 (AP) — The New York Times says today the United States will support Ambassador Percy C. Spender of Australia for the "key position of presiding officer" at the Japanese peace treaty conference.

A Washington dispatch to The Times says it was generally expected that State Secretary Dean Acheson, as head of the delegation representing the host country, will be elected president of the conference.

Dollar Down

MONTREAL, Aug. 29 (CP). — The American dollar today opened at 5 29-32 per cent premium to the Canadian dollar, down 1-32 from Tuesday's close. That is, it took $1.05 29-32 Canadian to buy $1 American.

The pound sterling was $2.96 9-16, down 1-16 from Tuesday

Fire On Ship

SYDNEY, Australia, Aug. 29—(Reuters)—The 6,397-ton Australian ship Bulolo was beached in shallow water in Sydney harbor today after fire had swept through one of the ship's holds. Fire broke out in the hold, containing copra valued at $22,000. The hold was flooded to put out the fire.

Walker had been in films eight years. Recently he made a successful comeback in pictures after a lengthy illness.

He was treated at the Menninger Clinic, Topeka, Kan., for a nervous disorder in 1948.

Walker's films include "See Here, Private Hargrove," "Since You Went Away," "Thirty Seconds Over Tokyo," "The Clock," and "Till the Clouds Roll By."

Walker became involved in several brushes with the law on drunk driving cases before he went to Topeka for treatment.

His comeback after his physical recovery was progressing remarkably well. He has done three pictures recently, "Vengeance Valley" with Burt Lancaster; "My Son, John" with Helen Hayes, and "Strangers on the Train," directed by Alfred Hitchcock.

He admitted a "torch" for his ex-wife had something to do with his previous troubles, including his brushes with the law.

Will Slow Down Royal Train At Cobourg

COBOURG, Aug. 29 (ENS)—Cobourg and district residents will have a chance to see the Royal couple October 5 when the Royal train passes through on its tour. Mayor Jack Burnet was advised yesterday that arrangements been made for the train to slow up as it went through Cobourg and that the Royal couple would make an appearance on the observation platform.

Earlier this week, security police of the CNR conferred with Acting Chief Constable H. Pearse as to policing of the railway line while the train was going through the depot. It was thought that the train might stop here for a few minutes but later advice was to the contrary. Exact time will be furnished the Mayor later on.

It will be recalled that when the King and Queen were on their Canadian tour, the Royal train stayed overnight at Cobourg and expecting that the King and Queen would put in an appearance when it drew out in the morning, more than a thousand people waited at the station and in the railway yards. A school child was ready with a bouquet to present to their Majesties but the train passed through the station and to the disappointment of the huge crowd the Royal couple did not emerge.

However, this time, the people of the town will see the Princess and her husband, according to the information received by the mayor.

Nothing Happened

HASTINGS, Aug. 29 (ENS)—A scheduled ball game between Hastings and Marmora at Tweed on Monday night failed to develop. A couple of hundred fans sat around for two hours and finally had their money returned when the whole thing was called off.

Marmora had phoned Hastings earlier asking that the tilt be postponed, but nevertheless were able to muster a team. Then it was discovered that the umpires were missing. The players stood around arguing, the fans getting into it, too, and eventually the thing was called off for the time being and the customers got their money back.

Barton Family Hold Reunion

HAVELOCK, Aug. 29 (ENS)—Charles Barton, a retired CPR employee, who celebrated his 77th birthday this month,was the oldest person at the annual Barton family re-union held at Chard's Bridge on Sunday. The gathering comprised the descendants of Mr. Barton's great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Barton, who came from England and settled in Prince Edward County in the latter part of the 17th century, before the United Empire Loyalists arrived. Mr. Barton's grandfather, William Barton, Jr., moved to Rawdon Township and it was there that Mr. Barton and his father, Francis Barton, were born.

Re-union 20 Years

The family have been holding a re-union for over 20 years. Dinner and supper were partaken of, and during the afternoon the children enjoyed swimming and the older members of the group recalled events of former days.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Lloyd, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Jackson, Miss Jean Lloyd, Mrs. Nettie Reid, Belleville; Mr. Lloyd Barton, Mr. and Mrs. Orrie Barton of Springbrook, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Barton and family, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Barton, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brown, Miss Margaret Clarke, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clarke, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Seeney, Mr. Lynn Carr of Campbellford, Miss Ila Barton of Toronto, Edward Armstrong of Hastings, Charles Barton and Miss Pearl Barton of Havelock, Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Barton, Miss Joan McGowan, and Windsor McGowan of Rush Point.

Combine Too Wide For Road Is Blamed For Accident

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 29—(ENS)—Considerable damage to a car and combine resulted Tuesday when the two collided on a roadway near Godolphin.

The combine, drawn by a tractor operated by Ray Archer of RR 1, Campbellford, was extensively damaged. The car was driven by Lloyd Merril, also of RR 1. Mr. Archer's young daughter required several stitches to close a gash on her head, suffered when she was thrown against the windshield by the impact.

The roadway at the point at which the accident occurred is 13 feet wide, and the combine measured 9 feet four inches.

Second Accident

In another accident earlier in the day near Hoard's Station, nine miles east of this town, five persons escaped injury, when a Campbellford auto driven by Earl Simpson of Rear St. crashed into an old model car pulling a four-wheel trailer. The older car, driven by Fred Horst of Stirling was pulling out of a driveway onto the highway when it was struck by the Simpson car.

The trailer overturned on top of the Simpson car, causing considerable damage to the right side. No one was injured. Both accidents were investigated by Provincial Constable Donald W. Erskine. No charges were laid in either case.

David Johnston and Claude Sharp of Campbellford and Elton Hutchinson of Warkworth were passengers in the Simpson car.

Lions Club To Aid Homeless Scout Troop

COBOURG, Aug. 29 (ENS).—The homeless Community Boy Scout Troop is going to have a home if the Lions Club of Cobourg has anything to do with it. The Troop used to have quarters in a wooden bunk house used in wartime back of the armouries. They were forced to move and acquired the old coach house on the American estate now used as a boys' training school. Then they had to give up these quarters.

However, the Lions Club has stepped into the breach and is trying to get a piece of land on which to erect a concrete block building for use as a scout hall.

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 29 — (ENS).—Campbellford's first 1951 polio case to date is 35-year-old Cecil Hopkins of this town.

Mr. Hopkins noticed a headache and stiffness of the neck muscles on Sunday. His case was diagnosed as polio by Dr. W. W. Baker, who had the man transferred to Peterborough Civic Hospital. His condition on Tuesday evening was reported as good, and Dr. Baker expects no paralysis will result.

Mr. Hopkins may have contacted the disease in the Peterborough district.

Killed In Korea Veteran Denied Burial

SIOUX CITY, Ia., Aug. 2 — (AP)—A Winnebago Indian, killed in action in Korea, has been denied burial in Sioux City Memorial Park Cemetery because he was not a member of the Caucasian race.

Mrs. Evelyn Rice of Winnebago, Neb., widow of Sgt. John R. Rice, 37, said cemetery authorities stopped the burial yesterday as the body was about to be lowered into the grave.

The widow, a white woman, said she did not know that Indians could not be buried there. Mrs. Rice said she bought the lot in the cemetery and signed the contract without noticing a clause which barred her husband from burial there.

An Army official said the body will remain at Winnebago until arrangements can be made to bury the veteran in a National Cemetery.

Caesar's Month

Not even Augustus Caesar, after whom this month was named, could have expected in his lovely Italy weather more beautiful than this August has brought us. In the warmth and brightness of days such as these— and as so many have been during the month—we may overlook a few sad wet and cool days earlier. Not only have the days been superb; the nights from exquisite sunsets to vivid sunrises have had their enchantment too—soft breezes and a bronze pendant moon giving place now to the limpid darkness of a thousand eyes.

* * *

Browning says:

Songs, Spring thought perfection,
Summer criticizes;
What in May escaped detection,
August, past surprises,
Notes, and names each blunder.

This August seems to have recouped all the misses and errors of spring and early summer weather and been truly August without Caesarian pomp: "inspiring mingled reverence and admiration" the Shorter Oxford defines it. On such a day in such a month we prefer to talk about the weather than to ponder less happy matters as Korea, Iran, the high cost of living and the most recent crime in Timbuktu.

The Price Of Refrigerators

In the first half of 1950—while import restrictions were still in effect—Canada imported only 393 refrigerators from the United States valued at $53,983. In the first six months of this year Canada imported 76,604 refrigerators valued at $12,099,785. This, says the Calgary Herald, is causing some industrial circles in Eastern Canada concern. The very large increase in the number of refrigerators imported for sale in Canada has been made despite an unfavourable exchange rate on the Canadian dollar, and a 20 per cent. duty which the Canadian government imposes. American-made refrigerators are thus surmounting these hurdles (totalling about 25 per cent. of the price of the machines) and yet sell competitively in the Canadian market.

The Herald remarks:

"We don't blame Canadian manufacturers for being concerned, and we don't like to see Canadian workmen losing their jobs. Nevertheless, the remedy seems straightforward, if not simple: if the Canadian industry is to survive and hold its own market, it will have to find a way to sell its home-made refrigerators at a lower, more competitive price."

Canadian households are already paying a high price to foster the industry and give it protection from American competition. Those American refrigerators came into Canada at a cost of less than $160 each. Compare that with the price at which Canadian refrigerators are selling today. Does the industry need all this protection; does it need even more? If it does, is it worthwhile to pamper it? An industry which, after a good trial and such subsidization, cannot stand on its own feet, is uneconomic and costly to the country.

An example of another pampered Canadian industry is the automobile industry. In order to protect it, so many excise and tariff barriers are erected against importing cars from the United States, that for forty years Canadian manufuacturers have had a monopoly of the business of making and selling the American-type machines. This has had healthful results in one way: it has led to the establishment by American firms of branch factories in Canada. Today there is not one car factory in this country which is Canadian. All are subsidiaries of foreign (chiefly American) firms.

Another result has not been as happy for Canadian car buyers. Our cars always cost—for the same make exactly—at least three hundred dollars more than they do in the United States. Usually the difference is much greater. A new type of 'low' priced car sells here today for $2,700. The same car can be bought in Detroit for $2,000, complete with the same fittings. The Canadian car maunfuacturer is thus getting $700 'protection'. It is a high price to pay to keep the industry flourishing. It is a higher protection than the refrigerator business has got—but perhaps not higher than refrigerator makers want.

Are Canadian workers less efficient, poorer on the job, than Americans? Are the materials that go into a car or refrigerator so very much more expensive in Canada than in the United States? Are the Canadian manufacturers demanding and taking too large profits? Undoubtedly, the huge American market allows mass production beyond what Canadian factories can indulge in, and perhaps American costs of production are thus reduced. But we cannot believe that industry in Canada needs or is worthy of the high protection it is now getting. During the war, Canadian factories turned out military trucks cheaper than the United States could or did. This proves that our factories and workmen can do an economical job if they set about it, and the conditions are right. Those conditions are not met by lavish protection given by tariff walls.

The Herald pungently says about refrigerator manufacturing:

"We have been told over and over again, especially since the war, that Canadian industrial skill is equal to any in the world. We have been told that Canadian industry is vigorous and ready to compete with all comers. Well, why isn't it doing so in this case?"

Why, after forty years, isn't the Canadian automobile industry able to stand on its own feet?

Boucherie Chevaline

We are not surprised that Montreal has a horse-meat butcher shop (boucherie chevaline)—that city's cost-of-living index is the highest in Canada. But we are surprised that the horse meat is so expensive. Viande hachee ("horseburger") sold at 43 cents a pound last Saturday when the Longueuil shop opened for its first business day, and that was the lowest price. Steak en ronde was priced at 63 cents a pound, rolled roast 75 cents, and filet mignon at 83 cents a pound. But apparently customers found these prices as attractive as the flesh; in the first two hours the two-man staff filled a hundred orders.

One of the brothers Verroneau who operate the shop explained "The people who bought horsemeat today are frustrated steak eaters". Well, people have taken their frustrations out on horses before, but not by way of the gullet. The new business is perfectly legal even in Quebec which protects cow-men so thoroughly that margarine is banned. The butcher brothers do not sell any other kind of meat than horse-flesh, and it is plainly labelled 'horse-meat' at the counters so that customers cannot mistake the rich succulent cuts for beefsteak. So long as the brothers Verroneau do not dabble in any other kinds of meat in their shop, the law allows its sale. And why not? Horsemeat—the better cuts—tastes very well, in fact we prefer it to venison.

Some people dislike the thought of eating horse flesh because it comes from a stable. Well, cows live in byres, pigs in sties. Other people have a sacred alliance with horses; yet they eat cows. Is a horse more sacred than a cow? Hindus do not think so. Still others think a horse is too beautiful to eat—yet they will make pigs of themselves on the flesh of shy, exquisite deer. The Montreal butchers realize that money has the power to exorcise fetishes about horsemeat. We predict for them a prosperous business until the cow jumps down from the moon.

Speed The Trains Through Town

It seems that Peterborough has a by-law of 1921 vintage limiting the speed of railway trains through Peterborough to ten miles an hour. Perhaps the by-law is more honoured in the breach than the observance, but the C.P.R. wants to have everything legal and so has requested that Council raise the limit to 25 m.p.h. We suggest that the Council do a dicker with the C.P.R. and with the C.N.R., too. In exchange for raising the speed limit let the companies agree not to belch over Peterborough. It is a black shame how locomotives standing in either station, or steaming up near them, pour smoke and soot over dozens of city blocks. Sometimes Charlotte Street near the C.N.R., George Street at the C.P.R., and the bottom end of Charlotte below Water are covered by a pall which would disgrace the worst colliery in the country. Can the Council persuade the railway companies to discipline their engines and do their dirty work outside the city and not in the very centre of it? If speeding trains through town will reduce the appalling smoke nuisance, we are in favour of it.

For Stamp Collectors

The sixty United Nations last November decided unanimously to set up a U.N. Postal Administration, and the chief work of this will be to issue U.N. stamps and affix them to all mail going out of U.N. headquarters—private or official. The first two air mail stamps, a ten-cent and a fifteen-cent, have been designed by Danish artists on the U.N. staff, and six other stamps for ordinary mail have also been prepared. All of them carry in their borders the legend "United Nations" in the five official U.N. languages: English, French, Russian, Chinese and Spanish. The issue of these stamps is expected to begin in October. The chief purpose of having special U.N. Postage is to publicize U.N. but there will be a secondary result which other places having their own limited postal service appreciate: Vatican City and the Principality of Monaco (Monte Carlo), for instance. There will be a steady flow of business and revenue from tourists and stamp collectors.

Something Doing Every Minute

By BON VIVANT

IF you are ever invited to spend some time in rural England, do not undertake the visit with the idea the night life will exhaust you. The general plan, in the rural communities, seems to be for the hostess to sound 'lights out' at around ten o'clock in the evening, and everyone is expected to seek the downy for a refreshing twelve hours. This becomes understandable when the hectic activity of the day in rural England is considered.

The days are just one mad round of gaiety and pleasure. If you aren't attending a church fete and wearing yourself to a nub at the ring toss, you are a spectator at a gala, where small maidens entertain by waving paper dumb-bells in the air, and prancing like hackney ponies. Failing a fete or gala you can take in a country show, look over the cattle with a knowing eye, or enjoy the fine displays of riding and driving horses.

✧ ✧ ✧

I TRAVELLED a considerable distance to see one of the more notable of these, held at the famous seaside resort on Cardigan Bay, Aberystwyth. This show, which is held in the centre of the area famous for the Welsh Black cattle, attracts displays from all over Wales and the English counties on the Welsh border. It has the added fillip of being held in a sea coast town, and being reached by driving through some of the finest scenic country in the Welsh principality.

✧ ✧ ✧

A COUNTY show in Wales is comparable to an annual fall fair in Canada. The chief difference is that little or no attention is paid at a county show to giving prizes for the best apron by a child under twelve at last St. Justin's eve. Nor is a lot of space devoted to the home baking display. In fact, the fruit and vegetables can come if they like, but are not regarded as a main feature of the show.

The emphasis at the county shows is on stock, and some excellent animals are shown. The grounds are not cluttered up with trotting tracks or permanent buildings. Any meadow will do, and tents and marquees house exhibits which must be under cover. The rest of the show is in the open and the trotting track is replaced by two rings. One for the display and judging of cattle, sheep, hogs, etc., as well as the children's pony riding competitions. The other is for the display and judging of shire horses, driving horses, hunters and jumpers.

THERE is, of course, the inevitable tent where you can get a cup of tea, and scattered around and about are fruit vendors equipped and prepared to stay the pangs of hunger. One thing about a county show, as compared to a fall fair, struck me with great force. At a county show you cannot find a place where you can buy a package of cigarets. There is, however, a tent devoted exclusively to the serving of beer to those who require a nerve soother following a keen competition in the judging.

✧ ✧ ✧

AT this point it might be interesting to note that in the town near where I am stopping, said town having a population of around 5,000 people, there are twenty public houses. These are licensed to sell beer and spirits, but must provide meals and accommodation for travellers. In addition to the public houses there are a number of places called "vaults." These can also purvey beer and spirits, but need not provide meals or accommodation. In this same town I haven't been able to find twenty places licensed to sell tobacco. Despite the twenty pubs, plus vaults, and the fact the town boasts the biggest Smithfield, or live stock market for miles around, I have yet to see anyone the worse for liquor.

✧ ✧ ✧

NEAR the beginning of this article I mentioned Welsh Black cattle. This breed was almost extinct not so many years ago, but has been revived, especially in the counties of Caernarvonshire and Merionethshire, by the offering of substantial prizes for entries from this breed at the various county shows. They are splendid looking beasts, and a herd sire, which captured the cup for best of breed at the Aberstwyth show, was a colossal animal named "Egryn Garnedd." In English this means "Trembling Mountain," and "Egryn" could easily be mistaken for a minor peak.

THE Welsh ponies particularly took my eye. These ponies run wild in the hills, and periodically a number of them are rounded up and broken to harness. They are splendid looking little animals, filled with fire and grace. When on display they seem fully conscious of their good looks and the admiring spectators.

The Welsh ponies, in the harness class, were judged just before the hackneys, and for my money the ponies ran away with the show. The hackneys are beautiful to watch. Their action is true poetry in motion. But, when consideration is given to the fact that for generations they have been bred to arch their necks and step high, they haven't the appeal of a pony, which only a few months before was running wild over the moors, and now prances and postures almost as well as the hackney.

✧ ✧ ✧

I ESPECIALLY liked the jumping, or as it is known at the county show, horse leaping. This takes place at the end of the show, but is well worth waiting to see. Jumping or leaping is a recognized part of every show, and at Aberstwyth I saw one of the horses jump which had helped the English team score high in the recent International Jumping Competition. It was easy to see what made this horse International material. He knew all the tricks, and his rear hoof kick to clear and save himself points again on knock-downs, gave the crowd a spectacle for their money. Needless to say this horse won his competition.

THE final feature of the show was the children's pony jumping, and to see youngsters of ten to fourteen going at hurdles over which their ponies cannot even see is a thrilling sight. The tots jump like veterans, and have all the confidence in the world in their mounts and their own ability. The Winner in this event was not decided until the bars on the jumps had been raised to a height cleared by the hunters.

A day in the open, most of which is spent on your feet, or the precarious comfort of a shooting-stick, tends to eliminate any desire for night life. I think this explains the early to bed policy in the English country home.

An American Opinion: "FOR DISTINGUISHED SERVICE"

A Warning In Hitler's Words

(OTTAWA CITIZEN)

HITLER'S "Table Chats" is a book that democratic Germans hope will do much to explode heroic myths of the Nazi dictator. Published by the government-aided German Institute of History of the National Socialist Period, it records views expressed by Hitler at his headquarters in 1941-42, when his power was at its peak. But these irrational rantings should have a sobering effect beyond the borders of Germany. They remind the Western nations that Hitler aimed at destroying religion and freedom, and at world conquest. They remind Eastern Europe that its peoples were to be decimated and enslaved by the master race. This book should warn both East and West of the menace that may arise again if the conflict of power politics gives German militarism its chance to revive.

By training special forces in East Germany, the Russians have caused the West to consider counter-measures. Last December, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization agreed to accept West Germans in a European army under its direction. Grim memories have prompted French insistence that German units should be small, and should be scattered among others. The Pleven plan for a supra-national military authority is France's alternative to a German national army. It was recently approved by France, Germany, Italy, Belgium, and Luxembourg. France has given some ground to German wishes, and the United States is believed to view this plan more favourably now than at first.

But Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of the West German Republic has endorsed an alarmingly ambitious military program drawn up by former Wehrmacht generals. It includes a tactical air force of at least 2,000 planes and 40,000 men; conscription; armed forces totalling 250,000, with 12 divisions each, under their own staffs. If organized on a national basis, armed forces of this size would enable German militarists once more to make a mockery of all restrictions. They would enable Bonn government, or its successor, to dragoon a nation where economic injustice is so rampant that the trade unions are threatening drastic measures. Barring a left-wing revolution, Germany would then again become a fascist power, ripe for military adventures.

The French plan for a European army would involve serious difficulties, of which the multi-lingual problem is only one. As some British commentators have pointed out, it would constitute a formidable power if Continental slowness in social reform moved into a reactionary phase. Nevertheless, greater danger would lie in the simpler procedure of letting the Germans rebuild their own military forces.

Himalayan Problems

(NEW YORK HERALD-TRIBUNE)

SUPREME Court Justice William O. Douglas, who likes mountains and horses, has just completed a 230-mile walk through what he calls a "great void" along India's Tibetan frontier. In the course of his trek, Mr. Douglas picked up a few impressions on the gravitational pull of the Soviet Union on the vast and thinly peopled lands of Central Asia. He found those regions being increasingly drawn to their powerful Communist neighbour through the rechannelling of age-old trade routes away from their former outlets in India, Pakistan and China.

At about the time Mr. Douglas was arriving at Leh, another traveller of note, the Dalai Lama of Tibet, was returning to his capital in Lhasa. With Tibet lost by default to the Chinese Communists, virtually the whole of Central Asia now lies within the Communist orbit. The problem now is how to prevent Communist influences from spilling over the Himalayas into the crowded, restless countries of Southern Asia. India particularly has good reason for concern. Its northern frontier is insecurely cushioned by what the British used to call the "Mongolian fringe"—a string of border areas closely akin, in race and religion, to the people of Tibet. This, plus unresolved border differences, may give the Chinese Communists opportunity for further penetration when the time comes.

Though Central Asia is poor in people, it is immense in area and potential resources. The cheaply won conquest of that area must be counted a major Communist success. Nor is it wise to minimize the danger of further Red expansion by pointing to the "impassable barrier of the Himalayas. Mountains are an obstacle to trade and an impediment to armies; they are no barrier to ideas.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Now when Jesus was risen early the first day of the week, he appeared first to Mary Magdalene, out of whom he had cast seven devils . . . Afterward he appeared unto the eleven as they sat at meat, and upbraided them with their unbelief and hardness of heart, because they believed not them which had seen him after he was risen.

And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature . . . And these signs shall follow them that believe; In my name shall they cast out devils; they shall speak with new tongue; they shall take up serpents; and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them; they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover.

So then after the Lord had spoken unto them, he was received up into heaven, and sat on the right hand of God. And they went forth, and preached every where, the Lord working with them, and confirming the word with signs following. Amen. (Mark 16:9, 14, 15, 17-20.)

Letters To The Editor

ONLY FOR AGRICULTURE

Sir: I am sorry that "Constant Driver" did not make sure of the facts before writing the letter headed "Farmers' Taxless Tractors." The farmers get a refund of the gas tax only for work done on the farm by the tractor, not for roading.

I quote instructions on the form used in applying for refund of gas tax, which is issued by the Ontario government:

"None of the gasoline on which refund is being claimed in this application, has been or will be used (A) in licensed motor vehicles, (B) in equipment operating under its own power on any highway (C) for highway construction or maintenance of any kind."

Part (B) above refutes statement No. 1 in Constant Driver's letter.

PETERBOROUGH COUNTY FARMER

CONSTANT DRIVER

Sir: Since it has been brought to our attention that tractors are a menace in the streets and highways, we believe that the Constant Drivers, should watch the car behind the one ahead of them.

May we also point out: 1. That the provincial gasoline tax of 11 cents per gallon is paid by us before the gasoline is consumed, and we are not reimbursed for the gasoline tax, which is not used for agricultural purposes.

2. The tractors which are not used for agricultural purposes cost only an eight per cent extra on the total cost of the vehicle.

3. Possibly the Constant Drivers would do a little squawking themselves if they were asked to buy trucks to transport the produce and wood to the city which they require.

4. Furthermore, if the farmers are getting such great privileges, why is it that the Constant Drivers do not take up farming themselves, as we all know that the Dominion government greatly encourages the settlement of farming districts?

We also agree that present-day traffic demands every precaution so please allow us to repeat that if the Constant Drivers would watch the car behind the one ahead of them, they would have less to squawk about.

A TAXLESS HAYSEED

9 P.C. Drop In Dwellings During First 6 Months

OTTAWA, Aug. 29 — (CP). — A nine per cent drop in the number of new dwelling units started in the first six months of this year was reported Tuesday by the Bureau of Statistics.

Housing officials predicted that a decrease likely would result from high prices, shortages of supplies and difficulties in obtaining mortgage loans at prevailing interest rates.

Dwellings started in the six-month period totalled 38,465 compared with 42,149 in the corresponding months of 1950. In June, starts were down 21 per cent to 9,514 units from 12,065.

While the number of starts was lower, houses completed showed an increase of 7.5 per cent. The completions totalled 38,694 compared with 35,968. The carryover of uncompleted dwellings at the end of six months totalled 59,443 compared with 59,503.

Provincial Figures

Starts in Ontario increased to 16,200 units from 13,221, but fell in Quebec to 11,716 from 14,980. British Columbia's total was down to 3,150 from 3,815; Alberta 3,100 from 4,491; Saskatchewan 1,130 from 1,201; Nova Scotia 700 from 1,038; New Brunswick 450 from 1,278; and Prince Edward Island to 80 from 208. Manitoba's total was up to 1,547 from 1,528, and Newfoundland's to 392 from 389.

Completions in Ontario totalled 16,962 compared with 12,249; Quebec 11,486 against 12,020; British Columbia, 3,503 against 3,350; Alberta 2,850 against 3,390; Manitoba 1,217 against 1,461; Nova Scotia 904 against 1,172; Saskatchewan 565 against 768; New Brunswick 515 against 972; Newfoundland 469 against 372; and Prince Edward Island 223 against 214.

Refuse Entry To 20 At Plant

SHAWINIGAN FALLS, Que., Aug. 29 —(CP)— Striking members of the Syndicate of Aluminum Workers of Shawinigan Falls (CCL) Tuesday refused entry to about 20 men at the Aluminum Company of Canada plants here.

Works manager M. D. H. Ferguson said the 20 men and maintenance supervisors Pierre Garceau and George Pothier tried to enter the plant to close roof ventilators, check water lines and disconnect electrical apparatus as safety measures.

Almost 1,000 men struck early Friday morning following union demands for changes in grievance procedure and methods of nominating members to arbitration boards. Wage scales were not disputed.

Condition Serious

MONTREAL, Aug. 29 —(CP)— Condition of Dr. Thomas W. Jones, minister of Calvary United Church and a former United Church moderator, is "unchanged," hospital authorities said Tuesday night. Earlier in the day, he was reported in "serious condition." The hospital declined to give further information.

Honorary Chief

FORT WILLIAM, Aug. 29 (CP) —The president of the Canadian National Railways, Donald Gordon, will be made an honorary chief of the local Indian band when he visits here Sept. 27 to open a recreation hall at the Indian mission. The hall was donated by the railway company.

EXECUTIVE DIES

BIRKENHEAD, England, Aug. 29—(AP)—Sir Robert Stewart Johnson, 79, chairman of Camell Laird & Company, Merseyside shipbuilders, died at home Tuesday. Sir Robert had been managing director of the firm, which built several of Britain's famed warships, liners and submarines since 1922.

Pipe Lines Affected

EDMONTON, Aug. 29 (CP).—The president of Northwest Natural Gas Co. Ltd., A. F. Dixon, of New York City said Tuesday new finds of oil and gas in the Williston Basin will affect pipe lines from western Canada. He said he believed a new refinery in Winnipeg would use oil from Saskatchewan and Manitoba and fields across the United States border instead of having crude shipped in by pipeline from Alberta.

More On Hand

OTTAWA, Aug. 29 (CP). — Stocks of canned fruits and vegetables in Canada at July 1 were higher than a year earlier while canned vegetable stocks were lower, the Bureau of Statistics said Tuesday. Canned fruit holdings of canners, wholesalers and chain store warehouses rose to 3,525,000 from 2,832,000 dozen containers, while vegetable holdings fell to 7,731,000 from 12,290,000 dozen.

Important Role

WINNIPEG, Aug. 29 —(CP)— Local training schools in civil defence are "extremely important because they bring an awareness of the problems involved to the people of the community," Lt.-Col. C. L. Smith said Tuesday. Col. Smith, chief instructor at the civil defence school in Ottawa, arrived here Tuesday to discuss organization of such a school in Winnipeg.

Oshawa Downs the Petes By A Count Of 6 To 2 To Commence OBA Series

Oshawa Merchants downed the Petes 6-2 here last night on the two-hit hurling of Bob Carlson. It was the first game of their best-of-nine series to put a senior squad in OBA playdowns, and was not a Viaduct Major League playoff. These teams finished in a tie for first place in the Viaduct League, but have been told by the OBA to have a winner ready by Sept. 8 to meet the Intercounty League victor. The second game is tonight in Oshawa and the third one back here on Thursday night.

Manager Ed Whitehill pulled a surprise by starting Doug Plunkett and he might have got away with it, but the Petes couldn't hit Carlson. It was a fine game till the eighth, Oshawa sporting a 2-0 lead at the time, but they shoved three over in that frame and added one for good measure in the ninth. The Petes got their only runs on a pinch-hit single by Bill Dadson in the last of the ninth. Bill Edger in the third got their only other safe blow, but three men getting as far as second until the final frame. There were two errors apiece.

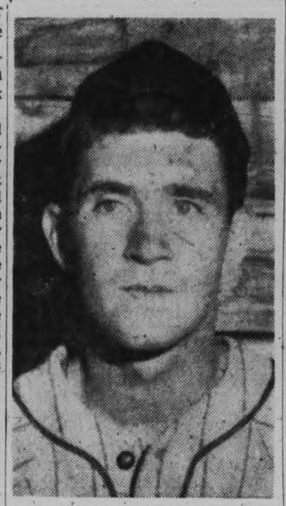
Barnes Led

Ted Barnes — only Oshawa player and only Canadian on the lineup — led the USA-import studded Merchants at bat with four and Jim Berning two in five attempts, one a double. Rogers also hit a double. The Petes pulled off a twin killing, other features being a catch by Bill Edger in right, and a stop and throw by Carlson. The Petes were minus Al Menzies (a spike wound) and Joe Lowrey (a chipped bone).

Several bitter arguments occurred between the old rivals. A fight nearly broke out in a collision at second between Golden and Barnes, as rival players swarmed around. Oshawa squawked in the same inning on a sacrifice play at first, claiming the ball was knocked out of the hands of Garvey and the runner should have been safe. The Petes kicked plenty in the eighth over a ball they claimed Mason caught near the ground—saying it was a double-play — but the umpires ruled it a trapped ball with but one out, a run scoring while the pill was being tossed around.

How It Went

Oshawa got a run in the first on a walk to Napolitano, stolen base, infield hit by Morales and another scratchy bingle by Rowland. They added one in the seventh as Barnes singled, stole, took third on a sacrifice and home on a squeeze play by Napolitano. They tallied three in the eighth on two walks, Berning's double and a single by Barnes. Morales got one more next heat on an error and Rogers' double. The Petes counted their pair in the ninth. Brabin was safe on an error at short and he stole second. Milne walked and both moved up when Maeson was hit by the pitcher. With two out, pinch-hitter Bill Dadson singled sharply to left to score two, but the next batter popped out. Box score:



NEARLY TANGLES—Scrappy Dick Golden, Petes' shortstop, nearly tangled with Ted Barnes in a collision at second last night as Oshawa beat the Petes 6-2 in a neat scrap to open their OHA series.

Oshawa Erases UEW As Gordon Hurt

Oshawa Duplates took the third and deciding game of a best-of-three intermediate "A" men's softball play-off series against UEW Tuesday night at the motor city by a score of 11-6. Victory came partly as a result of an unfortunate accident to UE's ace twirler in the sixth inning that stunned spectators and players alike when Reg. Gordon was struck in the stomach by a hard liner from the bat of Bud Morey.

The teams had battled on even terms for five innings behind steady pitching on both sides, with Peterborough holding a 3-2 edge in the top of the sixth. Andy Czerewaty opened the home half with a high bounce past third; Morey hit Gordon's first pitch directly on a line to the box and the ball struck Reg. with such force, play had to be held up for several minutes as the plucky twirler slowly recovered. He refused to quit however, until five hits off his weak delivery forced him to yield to Ken Hall who finished the game. Among those hits were homers by Alex Walker, Joey Spencer and Humpy Price. It was a tough break for a courageous twirler who was painfully struck on the arm earlier by another liner from the bat of Humpy Price.

Won in Sixth

Oshawa virtually won the game in the sixth with a seven-run splurge, though UE fought back hard to score a pair of runs in each of the sixth and eighth innings and one in the ninth to make it a battle to the end.

Jack White homered to deep left in the second to open the scoring for Howie Dalton's boys, and Duplates tallied a single in the third on hits by Morey and Vann. They added one in the fourth to gain an edge but UE went ahead in the sixth on Thompson's life, Dalton's single, a walk and Robson's muffed fly to third. Then came the unfortunate home half to give Duplates the lead. Hall twirled hard, but the deficit proved too great as Jack McConkey twirled good ball to hold UE fairly well over the route with his mates steady afield.

Frank Smegal led the home attack with three hits, closely followed by McConkey, Price, Czerewaty and Morey with two apiece. White and Dalton had two each for UE as McConkey scattered eight bingles. Fielding features were supplied by Jake Wade, Dalton, Doug Vaughn and Bud Morey.

Port Hope Downs Orono Second Time

PORT HOPE, Aug. 29.—A two-hit pitching effort by Ken Ashton helped Port Hope to their second straight win over Orono in the best-of-five final for the championship of the Durham County Rural Baseball League, by an 8-2 count.

Port Hope clipped the Orono pitcher, Ted Jones, for five hits and seven runs in the first inning but were unable to garner a hit after that. He struck out nine and walked two.

Port Hope hitters were Don Ashton, Bill Tuer, Gene Porter, Wes Griar and Ken Ashton. Ken Jones and Bill Robinson were the Orono hitters.

Foresters Win

Foresters eliminated Grant and Loucks 9-8 last night to wind up their red-hot quarter-final Civic Softball League series. Salvation Army erased the Bus Drivers 8-6, and now Salvation Army meets the Foresters in the semi-finals, first game being Thursday night at the Bowl. Bell Telephone has the bye into the finals.

Last night, each team scored twice in the third. Foresters took a two-run lead next heat and the other crew came back with one. In the fifth, Foresters shoved over three, but Grant and Loucks tied it up with four, then went ahead with one in the sixth. The final frame saw Foresters send over the tying and winning runs.

It was a fine series with good ball served up by both teams. Grant and Loucks won the first 11-10, tied the next 7-7, and Foresters took the third 8-6 before last night's final. Conroy shone for Grant and Loucks, pitching his first year, with nine wins in his last 12 games.

Tyndall led the winners Tuesday night with four hits, three being triples. Revoir fanned five and allowed nine hits to 12 off Conroy.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

A spot of golf to lead today's parade. Club championship will be settled for the Peterborough Golf Club on Sunday, when Joe Watson and Fred Hallowell tee off at 9.30 a.m. in a 36-hole final match. Fred eliminated Reg Stewart (of puck fame) last Saturday two up, and Joe earlier erased Frank O'Heron one up. Les Reid, city champion, was club and city champ last year. Out at the Kawartha, it'll be Dootch Vitarelli — another hockeyist —and Mel Akers for club honors, no date being set yet. Men's seniors got ahead of other club competitors to reach their finals, the winner being H. Siddall or H. G. McKenzie.

Hockey news filtering out of Kingston has Joe Watts coach of the senior "B" Nylons, replacing George Patterson. And 'tis rumored that Goalie DeCourcey, formerly of St. Mike's, will replace Udy Udall in the nets. Carr-Harris is returning to Nylons, along with McGregor, Mortimer and four good imports. Doug Patterson and Joe Catlin are not expected out. Gananoque and Smiths Falls would like an invite to join this senior "B" setup along with Belleville and the local clubs — no word coming yet from Queen's. Eagles and Petes have been holding the odd quiet meeting and making arrangements for the season, with not much likelihood of them getting together to form one city club.

* * * * * *

Might Lose a Few

All the Timbermen will be available for Eastern Canada lacrosse finals, Manager Bob Curtin tells us. Harry Wipper and Jerry Fitzgerald will be returning to college but can commute for these games, and they expect to go West with the Petes, if we win out in the East. Ike Hildebrand and Don Ashbee will probably be lost to the locals in a Mann Cup final because of AHL commitments. Other hockeyists like Bob Thorpe and Nit O'Hearn hope to be free till the lacrosse season is completely o'er. Nit will be at the Springfield camp in Lindsay. While Ike and Don would be missed plenty in such a final lacrosse series, two replacements from other OLA teams will be allowed. So, the Petes (if they make the trip) should be pretty well up to full strength.

Kiwanis Club again plans to show the King and His Court here, the date being Sept. 4 (that's next Tuesday) in the Bowl at 8.30 p.m. They'll play the local All-Stars. The King is Eddie Feigner, fabulous flinger, and three other aces who regularly beat top senior "A" clubs of nine men, while fielding but four men themselves. Drew 12,000 last weekend at the CNE in a two-game show, winning both 'gainst the best in Toronto by close scores. They proved a great attraction here last August and drew a record crowd of 4,500 payees into the Bowl over east. Feigner is so good that he can fan topnotch senior batters while he is blindfolded! Proceeds from the game go to Kiwanis welfare work in the city and district.

Oshawa Gets Opener

Despite all the arguments, it stands as a 6-2 win for Oshawa o'er the Petes to open their series to declare a senior OBA playdown team. Maybe Maeson caught the ball, or maybe he trapped it, but the result is practically the same. The Merchants would have won it anyway, though maybe by a closer count. On earned runs it was a 5-1 tilt. Bob Carlson's fast-breaking drop was too much for the locals as he served up a two-hitter. Doug Plunkett went well, too, till out in the eighth when a couple of walks and two solid smashes settled matters. Bill Edger got the lone local hit till Bill Dadson's pinch-hit blow sent two scampering home in the ninth. A tidy tussle but it ended the wrong way. Barnes was potent for the Merchants at the plate. They're going in Oshawa tonight and back here Thursday and Friday nights.

* * * * * *

Yeah, that's the setup as worked out between the clubs last eve, and with the okay of the OBA. The series has been enlarged to a best-of-nine to pit the winner against the Intercounty Loop victor by Sept. 8. After tonight's tilt in Oshawa, they play twice in a row here, tomorrow and Friday, returning to Oshawa on Saturday. Then two more games in the Motor City on Labor Day, at 10.30 a.m. and eight p.m. If it's still going on, they will play here Sept. 5 and Sept. 6. A marathon series, going day after day like the major leaguers, huh? Viaduct Loop officials won't like it as they want these good clubs playing off in their circuit, but 'twas the TABA that said Oshawa and Petes would have to stage a separate OBA series, so that the Viaduct League could put a Toronto team in playdowns.

Horses Split 2 Heats

TORONTO, Aug. 29 (CP). — A new contender for next Friday's Canadian cup race was uncovered Tuesday at Thorncliffe raceway when Della Axworthy split two heats with Canada Direct in the featured pacing race. Each heat was a photo finish.

Canada Direct already is ranked as one of the horses to beat in next Friday's harness racing classic. Edging him at one mile and one-sixteenth Tuesday, Della Axworthy, which races for Gordon Knight, of Blenheim, Ont., moved into the championship picture.

Perks Elected Prexy Petes Club

Reg Perks was elected president of the Peterborough Hockey Club at a meeting last night. Ed Alberico is vice-president, Baz Phelan secretary and Fred Scates the treasurer. The board of directors is: Gene Sheedy, Ed Riley, Drake Jopling, Dr. Howes, Sam Micelli, Ben Swartz, Ray Harding, Dr. McCartney, Ed. O'Toole, Irv Cipin, Bob Gamble, Jim Ellis, Spiros Zakos, George Bennett, Ed Foley, Jim Guiry, Dave Wilson and Johnny Russelle.

A report was given regarding an interview by member of the club with members of the Eagles concerning amalgamation, and it was felt that the possibility was not bright as the Eagles did not appear interested. Ed Riley was chairman for the election, and Jim Ellis was elected chairman to pick a committee to secure players for the club. The meeting was well-attended in the YMCA. The Petes agreed not to raid any club in the group for players.

Indians Best Philadelphia In 1-0 Hurling Duel, Dodgers Edge Cincinnati 3-1

By JOE REICHLER, Assciated Press Sports Writer

Is this a pitchers' year or does Ted Williams know something when he insists the ball is deader? Look what happened Tuesday. Early Wynn protected Cleveland's one-game lead over New York Yankees in the American League by besting Philadelphia's Sam Zoldak in a 1-0 hurling duel. A home run by Bob Kennedy settled the issue. Brooklyn increased its National League lead to six games as Rookie Clem Labine outpitched Cincinnati's Howie Fox, 3-1 while Pittsburgh Howie Pollet blanked Sheldon Jones and the runner-up New York Giants 2-0 to end the Giants' 16-game winning streak.

Max Lanier of St. Louis Cards shut out Bubba Church and Philadelphia Phillies 2-0, and Omar Lown of Chicago Cubs whitewashed Chet Nichols and the Boston Braves 1-0.

The highest run total was made by the Yankees, who defeated St. Louis Browns 7-5 in 10 innings and they needed 13 walks by Tommy Byrne. Detroit Tigers nipped the third-place Boston Red Sox 5-4. Chicago White Sox took a 4-3 decision from Washington in 10 innings.

Not one of the 16 teams got as many as 10 hits. It was the same story Monday when four shutouts, including two three-hitters and a pair of two-hitters, were pitched although six teams were idle.

79 Shutouts

Altogether 79 shutouts have been hurled thus far in the National to only 81 all last year.

A seventh-inning home run by Kennedy gave Cleveland its 12th straight triumph over the Athletics. It was the second time the Indians have beaten Zoldak, a former teammate, 1-0.

Byrne's 13th walk, a pair of fielder's choices, a long fly by Joe DiMaggio and a single by Charlie Silvera furnished the winning Yankee runs in the 10th. Bob Kuzava, fourth Yankee hurler, was credited with the victory.

A brilliant pitching exhibition by Pollet ended the Giants' 16-game wining streak, longest in the National League since 1935. It took two unearned Pittsburgh runs, however, to cool off the New Yorkers.

The Pirates made only three hits off Jones, only one of which figured in the scoring. That was an eighth inning leadoff single by Rookie Frank Thomas. Jones then walked Ralph Kiner and ran the count to 3-1 on Gus Bell when Dave Koslo replaced him.

Jack Phillips came in to bat for Bell and grounded into a double play on the first pitch. But pinch hitter Clyde McCullough sent a routine grounder to second, Eddie Stanky bobbled the ball and Thomas scored. Then McCullough scored from first.

Bats In Runs

Duke Snider batted in all Brooklyn's runs with a fourth-inning single and an eighth-inning homer. His four-bagger came with one man on base and snapped a 1-1 deadlock. Labine, in his first major league start, gave up seven hits, struck out nine and did not issue a base on balls.

George Kell bounced a two-run single off the shoulder of rookie third baseman Mel Hoderlein in the eighth to give the Tigers their victory over the Red Sox. The defeat dropped the Sox to six games behind the Indians.

Ray Coleman's double scored Nelson Fox with the run that gave the White Sox their 10th-inning victory over Washington.

Lown hurled a four-hitter against the Braves and scored the only run of the game. The Cub righthander doubled in the fifth and crossed the plate on another two-bagger by Hal Jeffcoat.

Lanier scattered nine safeties in blanking the Phillies. Hal Rice and Solly Hemus batted in the Redbirds' runs.

Ex-Lindsay Man Dr. G. Morris Dies

WINDSOR, Aug. 29—Dr. Gordon W. Morris, medical practitioner here since 1927, died Monday night at Metropolitan Hospital after a brief illness. He was 48.

Dr. Morris lived at 1317 Riverside Drive, Riverside. He was born at Lindsay and moved to London with his parents when he was two years old.

He received his education in London public schools and London Collegiate and was graduated in medicine from the University of Western Ontario in 1925.

He served on the staff of St. Joseph's Hospital, London, and became chief house surgeon. He returned to university for a post-graduate course in neuro-psychology.

During his 24 years in Windsor Dr. Morris built up one of the largest private practices in the city and a wide reputation as a physician and surgeon. He was examiner for one of Canada's largest insurance companies.

Dr. Morris was a member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church From 1937 to 1940 he was secretary of the Essex County Medical Association. He was a member of the Essex Golf and Country Club.

Besides his wife, Shirley, he leaves a son Hugh, two daughters Catherine and Sheila, all at home, and a brother Douglas, of Boston, Mass.

Obituaries

MRS. TERESA DRISCOLL

DOWNEYVILLE, Aug. 29 — (ENS).—The death occurred in Rochester, NY, on Friday morning of Mrs. Teresa Driscoll, wife of Timothy Driscoll after a long illness.

The late Mrs. Driscoll was born here in Downeyville daughter of the late Martin Carroll and his wife Ellen Callahan. She received her education here and lived here until she went to Rochester to live.

She was in her 80th year. She is the second last surviving member of a large family of 11. Surviving besides her husband is one sister, Miss Elizabeth Carroll of Rochester, NY. The funeral will be held Tuesday morning with burial in Rochester.

MRS. JAMES CALLAHAN

DOWNEYVILLE, Aug. 29 — (ENS)— The death occurred in Detroit, Mich., on Saturday of Hannah Fox, wife of James Callahan, after a sudden illness.

Mrs. Callahan was born and raised in Downeyville, daughter of the late Richard Fox and his wife Mary Anne Richardson. She lived here until her marriage to James Callahan when they moved to Detroit where they have lived ever since.

She is survived by her husband, one daughter, Mrs. Lewis Long, two sons Earl and Lloyd Callahan all of Detroit, Mich., one sister, Mrs. John O'Neill of Downeyville. Two brothers John and Michael Fox predeceased her. She was in her 66th year and was born at Fox's Corners.

The funeral was held in Detroit, Monday .

Criticize Ottawa About House Building

TORONTO, Aug. 29 (CP). — Government encouragement of municipal rental housing projects was criticized Tuesday by the National House-Builders' Association at a meeting between the association's executive and A. E. K. Bunnell, planning adviser to the Ontario government.

The committee told Mr. Bunnell that builders could offer good homes at prices below the estimated cost of proposed rental units if "a better approach" to existing lot size regulations and mortgage financing methods was adopted by the government.

1951 Grain Movement Highest In 4 Years

TORONTO, Aug. 29 — (CP).— George R. Donovan, secretary of Dominion Marine Association, on Tuesday released grain-shipment figures which he said "show conclusively that the 1951 movement has exceeded apppreciably each of the four previous years."

The figures: 1947, 115,809,946 bushels; 1948, 68,943,284; 1949, 111,060,082; 1950, 95,539,875; 1951, 128,499,884. These figures cover the total shipment of grain from Fort William and Port Arthur from the opening of navigation until July 31, the end of the crop year.

Plan Delayed

TORONTO, Aug. 29 (CP). — Cash-and-carry sale of milk in Toronto at 19 cents a quart may have to be postponed because many stores lack the necessary refrigerating capacity to handle increased sales of milk, Judge A. B. Currey said Tuesday. Judge Currey is chairman of the Ontario Milk Board, which originally set the 19-cent price to become effective Sept. 1. The present price is 20 cents.

Given Increases

CLEVELAND, Aug. 29 (AP)— Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co., following the pattern set by other members of the industry's big four, granted 13-cent hourly pay increases Tuesday to 26,000 workers in 10 plants. Effective Monday, the raise is subject to approval by the Wage Stabilization Board and ratification by locals of the United Rubber Workers (CIO). It will bring Goodyear's average hourly wage scale to about $2.

To Give Judgment

SINGAPORE, Aug. 29 (Reuters)— Judgment in the Bertha Hertogh appeal case will be given in Singapore Supreme Court Thursday, it was announced Tuesday. Mansoor Abadi, a Malay school teacher, appealed against a judgment in the Singapore High Court which nullified his Moslem marriage more than a year with a Dutch "jungle girl." She was 13 at the time.

Cabinet Men Meet Delegation

OTTAWA, Aug. 29 —(CP)— Key Cabinet ministers will meet a delegation from the automobile industry Thursday morning to discuss growing unemployment in that industry.

The meeting was arranged at the request of the United Automobile Workers of America (CIO-CCL), which is urging the federal government to ease credit restrictions on sales of automobiles. Sales have dropped sharply in the last few months. Mayor Arthur Reaume of Windsor, George Burt, national director of the UAW; Rhys M. Sale, president of Ford of Canada; E. C. Row, president of Chrysler Corporation of Canada, and possibly a representative of General Motors at Oshawa.

Ottawa Mayor's Death Real Loss–Frost

TORONTO, Aug. 29 — (CP) — Premier Frost said Tuesday that the death early Tuesday of Mayor Grenville Goodwin, of Ottawa, was a "great shock" and a loss to the whole province.

"We can ill afford to lose men of such ability as had Grenville Goodwin," said the Premier.

In Owen Sound, Mayor E. C. Sargent, president of the Ontario Association of Mayors and Reeves, commented: "Mayor Goodwin's passing is a heavy loss to our association."

Dismiss Charge

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 29 (CP). —A charge of arson against John McGuffin—laid after fire destroyed a one-room shack here Aug. 21 —was dismissed in county magistrate's court Tuesday. Dismissal by Magistrate A. F. Cook came after six crown witnesses had been heard and Crown Attorney C. C. Savage called a halt.

US Mails Barred To Brokers

TORONTO, Aug. 29 (CP).—The United States Securities and Exchange Commission often orders the US mails barred to Canadian brokers on "technicalities" without giving the Canadians a hearing, the Ontario Legislature's Crime Committee was told Tuesday.

William Wismer, a former solicitor for the Ontario Securities Commission and manager and secretary of the Ontario Broker-Dealers' Association since its formation in 1948, said 35 Toronto brokers have been barred from sending business mail to the United States. Of the 35, 20 or 23 have been subject to US fraud orders, he said.

That meant that when they tried to send business mail to the States, it was returned to them, stamped "fraud" by the US post office.

The rest of the 35 are subject to so-called "fictitious" orders and their mail is returned by the US post office with that designation stamped on it. Fictitious orders are issued when a new owner takes over an old company and retains the old name.

Defers Plane Launching Costs Hughes $19 Million

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 29 (AP) —Launching of Howard Hughes' eight-engine "Flying Lumberyard," scheduled for September 1, was postponed Tuesday "for as much as three months," a spokesman said.

Hughes blamed the delay on "problems concerning the airplane's power plants which have arisen at the last minute." The problems were not disclosed.

The plywood monster — largest plane built— is powered by eight 3,000 horse-power engines. It took to the air briefly with Hughes at the controls during a taxiing test several years ago. It has not flown since.

The spokesman said it is costing Hughes baout $300,000 a month to maintain and experiment with the plane. The cost to Hughes so far is almost $19,000,000, he said

How Surgeons Go To Work

He's gowned in green (white's a bit out of date); as he cuts, an assistant clamps off the blood vessels (there's almost no blood); a "scrub nurse" (it's her hands she scrubs) anticipates each instrument he'll use next.

In September Reader's Digest, you'll find a dramatic account of new surgical methods used in the operating room—step by step, from anaesthesia to final stitch.

Be sure to read "How Surgeons Go To Work" in September Reader's Digest. It's just one of 46 articles of lasting interest, condensed from leading magazines and current books.

VOL. CIII. No. 49 — WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 29, 1951 — PRICE FIVE CENTS

Fails To Find Record Of Approval

Minutes of Council Give No Authority For Additional $2,194

Although the expenditure of an additional $2,194.26 in the building of the nurses' residence was authorized by council, City Clerk Outram told the finance committee Monday night that he could not find any record of it.

Members of the committee who were in the council at that time recalled quite definitely the circumstances of discussion and approval. City Clerk Outram also remembered the specific approval but exact details of the decision as to time, but certainly not place, are not yet available.

Council recently received a statement of the cost of brick and work for the nurses' residence from the contractors, Robertson Construction and Engineering Co., of St. Catharines. Their low tender for the residence was accepted, and they arranged for a supply of brick from a producing firm at Cooksville. Fire in that plant suspended delivery indefinitely.

To avoid delay in the progress of construction, the contractor proposed that he be permitted to place an order with a Buffalo company for the same kind of brick. That arrangement was approved by the council, the building was completed, and the bill for the extra cost was recently received for payment.

Ask for Particulars

More or less as routine, the present council asked for particulars, but in his search of the minutes, Mr. Outram came up against a blank. Mayor Swanston and several of the other members of the committee said there was no doubt about the regularity of the direction to the contractor.

Information from John Hornal, superintendent of the hospital, and from the architects, W. and W. R. L. Blackwell and Craig, confirmed committee memories that the arrangement with the contractor had devolved to the council. The responsibility of letting the other contracts had rested with the council at that time, and the nurses' residence was a separate contract. It was dealt with directly and only by the council in the stage of decision.

Months of delay in finishing the nurses' residence loomed as a probability, and as it was an integral part of the hospital, the council agreed to the proposal of Robertson Construction and Engineering Co.

No question was suggested Monday night as to the proper procedural order of business in letting this contract, but definite information now is not in the records. Nor is there any explanation as to how the omission or oversight might have occurred.

The contractor's bill was accepted as correct. It was reported in the Examiner from a recent meeting of the council.

Finance committee decided to ask Board of Governors and the architects if they had any information that might assist in explaining or tracing the omission of minutes.

City To Display Paintings Of Kawarthas

Paintings of the Kawartha district by local professional and amateur artists are being given a showing in several downtown stores and the office of the Chamber of Commerce.

The aim of the plan, organized by Chamber of Commerce manager Jim Fraser, is to show American visitors something of the painting being done of the district they are visiting.

It is hoped some of the paintings will be sold and the artists will benefit from the showing as well as the Kawartha district.

Earlier Next Year

Mr. Fraser said the plan was late in starting this year, but next year the paintings will be shown all summer in stores and the chamber office.

Six of the paintings will be put in stores today and the rest, some 21 oils, watercolors and pastels, are on display at the chamber.

Paintings by Jack Hamer and Oscar Schlienger dominate the showing. But there are some fine paintings by well-known amateur artists as well. Mrs. Helena Munroe is showing two of her pastels. Miss Gertrude Cox, Charles Saunders, J. E. R. Munroe, Miss Margaret Florence and Mrs. Gladys Elliott, Mrs. Doris Clark are all showing attractive oil painting.s

Other artists represented are H. Steggles, and Reginald Faryon.

Fall and Winter Work

Artists are enthusiastic about the idea, said Mr. Fraser. Some of them have said they will paint some pictures during the fall and winter especially for the showing.

Mr. Fraser said the Chamber was interested in showing the visitors that the Kawartha district has something of interest as well as fine fish.

The Chamber has sent out about 70 posters to tourist resorts calling the tourists' attention to the showing so that they will know where to come and have a look when they are visiting town or on their way through.

Stores displaying the paintings are Martyn's, near the corner of Aylmer and Charlotte Sts., Comstock's, Eaton's, Walker Stores, Zellers' and Cherney's.

Many New Devices To Come On Market In Next 10 Years

If international tensions increase, it will have the effect of speeding the development of basic productive capacity which, if peace finally prevails, will provide tremendous industrial and household benefits to Canadians, Harold M. Turner, president of the Canadian General Electric Co., told guests at the Toronto CNE luncheon Tuesday.

Envisioning a 2,000,000 increase in Canada's population in 10 years hence, a country with vast developments in power production which would be serving homes containing a great increase in labor-saving devices, Mr. Turner stressed that this potential becomes available to Canada as a war potential as much as a peacetime benefit.

Advances In Future

Ten years hence, he said, with St. Lawrence power undoubtedly reaching its peak, with numerous devices only coming into production of currently used products, Canada would achieve standards far advanced beyond those known at present.

Mr. Turner was guest speaker on Automotive and Electrical Day and was introduced by President Berkinshaw as one of the leaders in a field which, like that of the automotive business, had been directed at providing the average person with advantages unknown a few years ago. Vice-president Robert Saunders, speaking also as Ontario Hydro Commission chairman, said that Mr. Turner's address had been a challenge to both industries.

Planning Essential

Essentiality of planning was stressed by Mr. Turner. The basic purpose of all industrial progress, he said, was the provision of a fuller, richer life for the citizens of a country. But this could not just happen; it had to follow lines that utilized the products of the nation and still contributed to world advancement.

The planning, he said, must also be for two purposes: Provision of a better life at home and, through world trade, for other countries; ability to make full contribution to the defense of a free world. But these, he explained, supplemented each other; increase in basic productivity served both ends. Barring war, great benefits would come.

He then instanced probable changes, including: 2,000,000 more citizens; 1,000,000 more jobs, gross national product of $26,000,000,000, an increase from 14,000,000 to 20,000,000 horsepower in electric output, wide use of the gas turbine engine for industrial and electric power energy, wider use of diesel power, 10,000,000 tons of ore annually from Labrador and Steep Rock mines, ocean ships plying the Great Lakes with resultant increase in world trade from lake ports.

All this advancement, said Mr. Turner, would entail greatly increased use of materials. Titanium, a metal less corrosive than even stainless steel and much lighter than steel, would come into wide use. Canada's west coast aluminum industry would be as well known and productive as the huge Arvida plant of today. And because these advances must be done by workers, 50,000 new dwellings units would have been constructed by 1960.

GETS CONCRETE WALK

Lundy's Lane has finally caught up with municipal progress. Folks in that section have a new concrete sidewalk. In Monaghan township days it was just across the city boundary, but had long been taken for granted, by everybody. So, after annexation and with the rapid expansion of housing developments, streets that were newly made and built, even a mile from the Lane got everything: roadway, sewer, water, light and so on. Finally the housing work backed up to that margin of the city, and graudally the council has provided the necessary improvements.

TWUA Names Jones As Organizer

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 29 — (ENS)—Lionel Jones, president of Local 743, Textile Workers Union of America has been appointed organizer for the TWUA covering the entire dominion of Canada.

For the time being, he will be located in Lindsay. Mr. Jones is a past president of the British Iron and Steel and kindred trades associations and a delegate to the Trades Union Congress. He is a brother of Magistrate H. H. Jones, mayor of Newport.

Mr. Jones has been employed by the Campbellford Cloth Company for some time.

ALL TIDIED UP

Several small tables were the only remaining trace of the Exhibition at Morrow Park when the grounds crew got through with their cleaning-up job Tuesday. The vaudeville stand was reduced to its sections and stored away for some other occasion. "I guess rugby will be next," G. A. Gillespie, manager, said Tuesday afternoon.

WRECKER'S BID

Adrian Pammett, house wrecker, has offered the Council $100 each for the two houses at the north end of Water St. which are to be demolished. One is vacated and the other will soon be empty. They are at 997 and 1001 on the west side between Anson and Mill Streets. The letter was referred to the property committee.

TO BUY TRUCK

Purchase of an International truck at $1,149 for the sanitation department was recommended to the Council by the board of works Monday on a report from Ald. Norman Graham, chairman of the sanitation department. Tender of Woods Truck and Equipment Company was accepted.

LAND NOT SOLD YET

"Nothing definite yet," was the comment of Harry Zacks on reports of sale of his property which was site of the fire of last May on George St. "I haven't been thinking much about it for some days. My father has been very ill and just underwent an operation in Toronto, and I have been with him."

Unknown Man Killed On Highway

Transport Hits Man Walking Near Newcastle

BOWMANVILLE, Aug. 29—An unidentified transient was killed Tuesday night about 10:30 p.m. by a transport truck as he was walking west on Highway 2 about one mile east of Newcastle.

The McCallum transport truck of Oshawa was driven by Clyde Robertson of Oshawa. Robertson was driving his transport truck west down a grade.

Police said witnesses reported the still unidentified man was wandering about the highway as he walked before the accident.

Police have so far been unable to learn much about him from his appearance. He was a small man about five feet, two inches tall, weighed 130 pounds, had sharp features, brown hair graying at the temples, blue eyes and no teeth. He was about 45 to 50 years old. He was wearing blue overalls and a badly faded suitcoat. One pant leg of his overalls had been previously torn.

Police were unable to say what injuries killed the man. Coroner Dr. C. J. Austin has not yet decided whether to have an autopsy performed.

It is not known whether the man was a farm worker, a laborer or just a drifter.

Corporal A. K. Collins and Constable Lorne Galbraith of the Bowmanville detachment of the provincial police are investigating.

Japanese Planning Open 15 Embassies

TOKYO, Aug. 29 (AP) — The foreign ministry announced today it intends to open 15 embassies, 16 legations and 31 consulates throughout the world after the Japanese peace treaty is ratified.

A legation is planned in Canada and a consulate-general will be opened in Vancouver. A consulate will be opened at Montreal.

Summer Cottage Burned At Greenhurst

LINDSAY, Aug. 29.—Fire of unknown origin destroyed a Toronto man's cottage at Greenhurst Monday.

Early Monday morning, the cottager left for Toronto, and about 8 a.m. neighbors noticed smoke pouring from the building. The local fire department was called, but the blaze was out of control. No estimate of damage is available.

Mermaids Take Objection Cutting Music

Silencing of the mermaid music at Lions Club swimming pool leaves some members of the women's decorative swimming club, "fit to be tied", according to a remark at the board of works meeting Monday.

J. D. Anderson, chairman of the Lions pool committee, wrote the council that offending amplification of music on Sundays actually sounded forth from the playgrounds at Riverside and not at the pool. Ashburnham residents complained to the council of the Sabbath blaring, and also requested that the fortissimo be reduced during the rest of the week.

Mr. Anderson wrote: "However, in view of the recommendation of the council the music will not be used at all on Sundays, and we will do everything possible to tone it down on week days. The only time it was at all loud was during ball games, and at the request of the recreation commission."

It seems that the mermaids liked the rhythm of certain music for the timing of their aquatic routines. But Ashburnham people did not like, and certainly did not agree that any music was required in such volume that it floated out over the neighborhood with vexing effect.

Rugby Players Out On Campus

Still waiting for action on practice grounds, Coach G. B. Goulding opened practices this week for the senior PCVS Garnet and Greys on the grassless school campus.

A week ago Mr. Goulding learned that Nicholls Park would not be available this year for games and practices. The teams have been using the grounds now for the past four years.

As yet Mr. Goulding has had no formal reply to a request for practice area outside the school property which is too small to accommodate the three collegiate football teams when practising.

Workouts began Monday morning at the school and Mr. Goulding said today that the campus (which includes a part of the armouries property) is "alright for early practices but definitely not for scrimmages and tackling."

Mr. Goulding has had 17 boys practising each day. The space and ground conditions have limited the work to blocking with the dummies and throwing passes.

Full practices for the three teams will begin next Tuesday.

No Action Taken

Mayor M. J. Swanston said that "no definiite action has been taken" by the parks committee and that he doesn't know where the teams will practise. A meeting will be held next week, he assured, when the matter will be discussed.

Last week Ald. P. J. Anglesey, chairman of the parks committee, said that Armar Butcher, superintendent, had recommended that the Oval not be used for football this year, that the grass needed a rest this year year or else the whole area would have to be resodded.

Riverside park, where the collegiate games were held prior to Nicholls Oval, also is not available, the grounds requiring another year to improve after last year's work.

Assessed Value Of Property, Business Jump $2 Million '49 to '50 In Peterborough

City Population Also Increases 1,034 To 36,716; Now 8th In Province On Records Of Municipal Department

Assessed value of Peterborough's property and business leaped almost $2,000,000 in 1950 from the 1949 total. Total value in 1949 was $35,030,175, against 1950's total assessed value of $36,967,845. These and other figures are contained in the 1950 annual report of municipal statistics made up by the Hon. George H. Dunbar's department of municipal affairs.

Eighth In Population

Population jumped by 1,034 from 35,682 in 1949 to 36,716 last year, making Peterborough the eighth largest city in the province and third in its group.

Peterborough is classed with Kitchener, St. Catharines, Brantford, Kingston, Oshawa, Guelph and Sarnia.

Debenture debt increased almost half a million dollars in the year, from $4,984,848 to $5,484,387. Total liabilities were less: $7,019,933 against $7,074,688.

Millrates, in 1949 seventh highest in the group of eight cities, climbed up a few notches. In 1950 public school rate was 49.50, fourth highest, and separate school rate was 50.50, sixth highest.

Highest Assessed

Peterborough had the highest assessed value of buildings in its group for both years: $24,970,065 in 1950 and $23, 290,575 in 1949.

Other assessed values for the two years are:

	1950	1949
Land	$ 7,003,390	$ 6,993,865
Business .	4,994,390	4,745,735
Total	$36,967,845	$35,030,175

Divided by assessment for schools, the 1950 totals showed $32,962,920 for public schools and $4,004,925 for separate schools. Comparative figures for 1949 were: public, $31,276,298; separate $3,753,877.

$51.96 Each

Total revenue from taxes in 1950 was $1,907,823 for a per capita payment of $51,96, against total revenue in 1949 of $1,650,041 and per capita payment of $46.24.

Total assets in 1950 went down to $7,019,933 from $7,074,688 in 1949. Gross assets showed an increase from $3,757,208 in 1949 to $4,383,191 last year.

Tax arrears in 1950 were the largest in the group, $114,205. moving up from second place in 1949 when they were $83,923. These were 5.99 per cent and 5.09 per cent of the levies in the two years respectively.

Cut Head To Hip Worker Will Live

SUDBURY, Aug. 29 (CP). — Alphone Lauzon, 47, of Wahnapitae, 12 miles east of here, Tuesday slipped on some timbers he was cutting, fell against the blade of a power saw and was cut from his head to his hip.

The blade split his skull and forehead, cut down between his left eye and nose, swung to his right cheek and down his jaw line, sliced along his neck and through the collar bone, down his armpit and along his right side to the hip bone.

The wounds were closed in hospital here and attendants today reported he was "in fairly good condition with every chance for recovery."

October 31 Date For Liquor Vote In Campbellford

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 29 — (ENS)—Wednesday, October 31 is the date set by the Ontario Liquor Licence Board for the plebiscite in Campbellford to decide whether the town will remain dry, or will go wet.

The two questions that will be put before the voters on that day are:

(1) Are you in favour of the establishment of government liquor stores for the sale of liquor?

(2) Are you in favour of the establishment of government stores for the sale of beer only for resident consumption?

Need 60 Per Cent

Sixty per cent of the vote polled in each case, is required by the affirmative voters to carry the questions in their favour.

The same questions were put before the voters of this municipality three years ago, and at that time the dry won the verdict by the narrowest of margins.

Hagist Upsets Ken McGregor In Opening Set

By GAYLE TALBOT

FOREST HILLS, NY, Aug. 29 (AP)—Play begins to reach the serious stage in the National Tennis Championships here today, and by the time night falls, it may give a real line on America's chances of reclaiming the Davis Cup next winter.

Spotlighting the program of fourth round matches in the men's division was an eagerly awaited test between Frank Sedgman, best of the present day Australians, and Billy Talbert, the 32-year-old New York stylist who is gunning for a chance at the Aussies in the cup challenge round at Sydney next December.

The quest for one of the singles berths on the American team has unexpectedly become wide open with the disclosure that Tony Trabert, of Cincinnati, has joined the navy, and Talbert knows the quickest way to nail it down is by trumping the Aussies' ace.

Like Second Chance

The New Yorker never has been happy over the fact that he accompanied the US squad to Melbourne as a doubles expert in 1946 and then watched from the stands as Jack Kramer and Ted Schroeder crushed the Aussies. He would like to return down under and show the Australians that he can play tennis.

It looked for a time late Tuesday as though Uncle Sam might be smart to send his junior Davis Cuppers to do the job this time. Fred Hagist, a 19-year-old junior cupper from the University of California, electrified the stadium crowd by dusting off tall Ken McGregor, Australia's second best singles bet in the opening set of their match

The boys in the press box were preparing to dust off the superlatives as the second set began, but then they took another look and relaxed as McGregor regained his poise and won at 3-6, 6-2, 6-2, 8-6

Here And There In Sports

By The Canadian Press

"That's the nicest moment I've had since I went away," said Mrs. Winnie Leuszler, first Canadian to swim the English Channel, as she kissed her husband at Montreal Tuesday night.

The 25-year-old mother of two met her husband, Morris, on arrival here from Quebec where she landed Tuesday from the Empress of Canada. Morris was on a special leave from his RCAF post in Calgary to be here for his wife's return from England.

With her was her father and trainer, Eddie Roach,who coached her to £500 second-priez money in the Channel race sponsored by the London Daily Mail. They made the trip on meagre savings and a one-way ticket.

Mrs. Leuszler arrives in Toronto today.

New York Rangers of the National Hockey League today begin their seven-day school for nearly 60 junior players from Western Canada at Winnipeg.

Phil Watson, a former Ranger and newly-appointed coach of Quebec Junior Citadels, will be head coach. Frank Boucher, the Ranger manager, is in charge of the school.

Players will be studied as prospects for Ranger junior farm clubs at Guelph and South Porcupine in Ontario, Prince Albert, Sask., Lethbridge, Alta., and Quebec.

Toronto Argonauts got a setback Tuesday night when tough defensive tackler Byron Karrys was blocked right out of Saturday's Big Four opener with the Ottawa Roughriders.

Karrys suffered torn ligaments in his right ankle when an unidentified offensive blocker knocked him out of a practice scrimmage as Joe Krol completed an end sweep.

Red Hamill, former National Hockey League player, has been named coach of the Galt Ontario Hockey Association Black Hawk Juniors, President Benny Bennet said Tuesday. Hamill ended his playing days with the Chicago Black Hawks and last year coached the Milwaukee club in the United States Hockey League.

Al Murray, former coach, will manage the club next winter.

Calgary Stampeders Tuesday announced signing new coach Tommy (Cowboy) Anderson, the former Drumheller, Calgary and National League hockey player.

Tommy takes over from Byron (Butch) McDonald, at the helm for the past two seasons, who may remain with the club which joins the Pacific Coast Hockey League next season, in a playing capacity.

Anderson guided Pittsburgh Hornets of the American Hockey League last season.

Mike Yuhas, former football and basketball player with the University of Western Ontario, has been appointed director of the new physical education and athletics program at McGill University.

A 23-year-old native of Windsor, Yuhas was a middle winger with the 1948 Western Mustangs, a member of the university's senior basketball squad, and a champion intercollegiate wrestler.

The Soviet Tuesday claimed another Russian woman had bettered a world track record, this time for the 800 meter run. Nina Pletneva, according to a report from Minsk, capital of the Belorussian Republic, was timed in 2:12 for the 800-meter run. The report said this equalled the mark set in Moscow in 1943 by E. M. Vasiljeva.

Gavilan 13-5 Favorite To Whip Graham

NEW YORK, Aug. 29 (AP). — Welterweight champion Kid Gavilan, confident and at the peak of his form, was rated a hefty 13-to-5 favorite to whip Billy Graham of New York in their 15-round title bout at Madison Square Garden tonight.

Although he lost one split decision to Graham and won the same way in the return, the sleek, flashy Cuban has been made the big choice on the strength of his recent form.

The 25-year-old Gavilan is riding a 10-fight win streak which began with his revenge victory over Graham on Nov. 17, 1950. The slick boxing New Yorker had edged the colorful Cuban nine months before.

Defending Golf Title Champ Faces Stern Test

By ERWIN FRICKE

OTTAWA, Aug. 29 (CP)—Bill Mawhinney, of Vancouver, a tall, 23-year-old with a putting touch that brought him the Canadian amateur golf championship last year, gets into action today after coming through the first two rounds of the week-long golf classic at the Royal Ottawa without lifting a club—by virtue of a bye and a default.

As if to compensate, the luck of the draw has him facing stern tests in today's third and fourth-round matches.

Mawhinney, who didn't shoot his best golf in the Willingdon Cup contest Saturday but is rated better in match than medal play, meets Allan Boes, of Winnipeg, in the morning round. Boes has been a top-ranking amateur for many years. He made the third round with a par-equalling display to defeat Rod Phelan, of Toronto, 2 and 1.

If Mawhinney gets by Boes he'll meet the winner of the match between J. G. (Sonny) Adams, of Toronto, and Glen Gray, of Edmonton. Either could be a handful for the Vancouver star.

Adams, a veteran, already has two of the tournament's most lopsided victories to his credit, including Tuesday's 6-and-5 win over Robert Bertrand, of Ottawa.

In Third Round

Gray, young and one of the longest hitters here, eased into the third round with a 4 and 3 victory over Ralph Watson, of Ottawa.

There were relatively few upsets Tuesday as 30 golfers were cut from the field. A prominent victim was Tommy Riddell, of Montreal, who beat Frank Stranahan two years ago. He bowed to 21-year-old Ken Jacobs, of Toronto, on the 18th.

Unheralded Johnston McCormick, of Toronto, who pulled off a first-round upset by eliminating the tourney's star attraction — Nick Weslock, of Windsor—lost his touch in his match with Andre Tessier, student architect from Montreal University. Tessier posted a solid 4 and 3 win.

Jack Nash, of London, four-time Ontario champion, was taken out 2 and 1 by Fred Hunt, of Ottawa.

A golfer who did live up to expectations is Gerry Kesselring, of Kitchener. He topped off a skilful 5-and-4 over John Goodwin, of Kansas City, with a 30-foot chip for an eagle three on the 14th.

Abbott Chosen For Sr. Team

TORONTO, Aug. 29 (CP).—Dr. George F. Laing of the Essex Country Club of Windsor, Tuesday won the Canadian seniors' golf championship for the third successive year.

He shot a par-71 Monday and followed it Tuesday with a 75 in the windup of the 36-hole medal play.

By his victory, Dr. Laing holds the Shaughnessy Cup for the next year.

Judge R. S. Clark of Guelph made his handicap of 18 work for him and he won the Bogert Cup for the best net score of 124. He nosed out Frank Lawson of Toronto Rosedale, a 21-handicap player, by two strokes.

The tournament committee announced the make-up of the team that will meet United States seniors for the Duke of Devonshire trophy at the Toronto Lambton Club Thursday.

The 15 players chosen are: Dr Laing, John H. Chipman, R. L. Scythes, all of Toronto; A. B. McEwen, of Montreal; Don MacLachlan, Hugh Aird, W. H. Firstbrock, John Hadden, Alex Martin, John S. Lewis, Clark B. Davies, and R. M. Grey, Toronto; Robert Abbott, Peterborough; Percival Streeter, Saint John, NB; and Charles S. Sclater, Hamilton.

Hastings Triumphs

HASTINGS, Aug. 29 (ENS)—Hastings Juniors took the deciding game of their best of three series with Keene 17-11, and will likely go now against the winner of the Tweed-Madoc series.

West went the distance for the winners, but was in serious trouble several times as his control wavered. Although touched for but seven hits, he issued 10 free passes, and his team mates bobbled two behind him.

Hayes started for Keene but got in trouble early and Warr took over, but the damage was done, and Hastings looked like sure winners with a 5-0 lead. Keene came right back and tied the score on three hits and four walks. Hastings added two more in their half of the third, with two more and were never headed after that, although shaky several times. Holmner hit a long homer to right field with nobody aboard.

The Natural Method of Child-Planning

Now couples can plan to have children when they want them, by a simple method that doesn't violate the scruples of any religious group.

In September Reader's Digest, Dr. Morris Fishbein explains how and why this new method works.

There are only about two days each month when a woman can conceive a child; Dr. Fishbein tells how the great majority of women can learn when they can conceive by keeping a record of their daily temperatures.

New Baby Tablet Fills Long Felt Need

TORONTO—In these days of advancement with so many improvements in fashion, style, and manufacture it is difficult to keep abreast of them; but there is one improvement recently developed by a leading pharmaceutical manufacturer that is proving a real boon to mothers.

It is an Acetylsalicylic Acid (A.S.A.) tablet made especially in Baby Dose Size, exactly ¼ adult tablet, orange flavored and sweetened, saving lots of time, fuss and bother. No longer is it necessary to cut or divide Adult tablets for baby use. It eliminates guesswork and assures accuracy.

Acetylsalicylic Acid (A.S.A.) is one of the most widely used pain relief medicines, and this new baby size tablet is called Baby's Own Espirets. It's made by the makers of Baby's Own Tablets, and you can get it at your neighborhood drug store. Be sure to ask for Baby's Own Espirets.

Windsor Pins Rugby Hopes On Salesman

By JACK DULMAGE

WINDSOR, Aug., 29—(CP)—Windsor footballers, restless after six fruitless and debt-ridden years in the Ontario Rugby Football Union, aren't banking on a senior title this year but they're putting a lot of stock in a 37-year-old insurance salesman.

The Windsor club, known this year as the Royals for the first time, has done everything from a switch in colors to a quick change in coaches—to salesman Jack Alexander.

The old green-and-white Rockets have given way to the new purple-and-gold Royals and former coaches Art Massucci and Jim Caine stepped down in favor of Alexander.

Alexander broke into coaching five years ago with Windsor Assumption College and brought with him one of the game's oldest — and best — policies: hard play.

With that, plus youth and a few veteran holdovers comes his hopes for a championship club.

Start Sept. 1

Royals start off their schedule Sept. 1 against the defending champion Toronto Balmy Beaches. Other teams in the circuit are McMaster University from Hamilton and Sarnia Imperials.

"We intend to attack with all the speed and diversity we can muster," Alexander said. "And we have the speed to run the ends."

The tall, likeable mentor has picked 80 per cent of the team from homebrews. Only two United States imports are on the roster, as against five last year.

One is two-season campaigner Sy Mike from California, a halfback, and the other is Frank Saunders, a newcomer from Detroit. There are 16 holdovers in all.

Play 6 Home Games

The team will play six home games at Jackson Park, civic-owned grandstand layout with a seating capacity of 3,500.

Royals tested their new blood last Saturday, showing off a 195-pound wingline in fine condition and a T-formation backfield of considerable speed and deception. They did not extend themselves in overpowering London's intermediate Falcons 35-2.

Working the T slot are John Sagovac, up from Windsor Juniors, and Bob Bear, ex-college quarterback who played for Rockets last season.

Sagovac and Bear will share play-calling and passing duties with an offensive that Alexander says is loaded with aerial and extended running plays. Running will be Jack Murphy, Lyle Ross, Bill Ritchie, Mark Trottier, Len Sinesca, Jim Lasorda, Mike, Enso Chittaro and Chuck Maxim, all from Windsor and holdovers, and a pair of Montreal, Ray Skerrat and Jo Dicenso.

Veteran middle Len Wright and Ross will do most of the punting. Bob Forester is flying wing along with Ross McBride, formerly of McGill and now on the shelf with an injured knee, suffered during practice.

Royals Take Doubleheader

By The Associated Press.

Diminutive Hector Rodriguez of Montreal Royals has cast his ballot in the International League's most valuable player derby and his platform speaks for itself.

The hard-hitting third baseman from Cuba was the man of the hour for the Royals Tuesday night as they captured a doubleheader from Baltimore Orioles, 6-5 and 13-12.

With his team trailing 12-10 in the ninth inning of the nightcap, Rodriguez stepped to the plate with two men on base and two out and promptly decided the issue with a three-run clutch homer, his eighth of the season.

Rodriguez collected four hits in eight trips in the twin bill to boost his average to .303. He is second in runs batted in, hits and runs scored.

Uphill Battle

The second game was an uphill battle for Montreal, which overcame a seven-run deficit with a pair of four-run clusters in the eighth and ninth innings. Bill Glynn and Marv Rickert hit homers for the Orioles and Tom Lasorda connected for the Royals.

The Royals annexed the opener in 10 innings, after they blew a 5-0 advantage. George Shuba's single scored Jim Gilliam with the winning run off loser Jake Schmitt. Chris Van Cuyk was credited with his 11th victory against only two setbacks.

Buffalo Bisons swept a twin bill from Syracuse, 7-4 and 1-0, to move to within two games of the third-place Chiefs.

Hank Workman of Syracuse and Fred Hancock of Buffalo swatted homers in the first game. Hank Biasatti's ninth-inning round-tripper broke up a brilliant pitching duel in the second contest between Tom Acker of the Bisons and Jack Robinson of the Chiefs.

Jackie Collum posted his 14th triumph as against six losses as the second place Rochester Red Wings defeated Toronto Maple Leafs 7-2. Home runs by Steve Bilko, Johnny Blatik and Don Richmond paced the Red Wings' attack.

Ottawa and Springfield were not scheduled.

Three Canadians In Semi-Finals

OTTAWA, Aug. 29 (CP). — Three Canadians and a United States player will compete on Thursday in the semi-finals of the junior men's singles competition at the 1951 Canadian junior tennis championships.

The semi-finals, originally scheduled for today, were put over to Thursday to leave the courts open for play in the junior men's, junior women's and mixed doubles.

The four who got into Thursday's singles struggle are Fred Reaume, Hamilton; John Griffiths, Regina; Jean Dussault, Montreal and Dudley Johnston of Jacksonville, Fla.

Dussault created the only upset of Tuesday's play, routing Jim Killeen of Vancouver, top-seeded Canadian 8-6, 4-6, 6-3. Reaume beat out Alfred Levy, Buffalo, 6-4, 6-3; Griffiths defeated Ken Lawson, Calgary, 6-3, 6-2; and Johnston defeated Paul Lefrancois, Montreal, 6-3, 6-0.

Diana Lowe of Ottawa and Josie Smith of Toronto, provided the highlight in the junior women's singles quarter finals with four hours of play. After three sets, the third-seeded Ottawa girl eliminated her fifth-seeded opponent, 6-0, 5-7, 6-4.

See Deadlock In Naming Commissioner

By TED SMITH

NEW YORK, Aug. 29—(AP)—There were indications today that a deadlock is developing among the 16 major league baseball club owners over election of a new commissioner. This could pave the way for choice of a dark-horse candidate.

The owners meet in Chicago Sept. 20 to elect a successor to A. B. Chandler in the game's top job, paying $75,000 yearly.

At the meeting in New York Aug. 21 the field was cut to five men: Gen. Douglas MacArthur; Milton Eisenhower, president of Pennsylvania State College; Warren Giles, president of Cincinnati Reds; Frank J. Lausche, Governor of Ohio.

It is beginning to look as if none of these, even if available, could command the 12 votes needed for election.

Dark Horse Field

In the dark horse field are two well-known figures who for one reason or another were not included in the "famous five" that represented the considered choice of the baseball powers. These are James A. Farley, chairman of the board of Coca Cola export, and George Trautman, czar of the minor leagues.

Now a new name has cropped up. It is Benjamin H. Reese, who retired this year as managing editor of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. He is known to have support among some owners. Although not well known nationally, he is highly respected within the newspaper profession, and is a man of commanding physical presence and executive ability.

Some baseball owners feel that the game does not need a famous name—in fact, they believe the job will make the man.

There is precedent for selecting a dark horse. Chandler himself was one when he was chosen in 1945 to succeed Judge K. M. Landis.

Sonya Braves Trip Walkwoods 10-2

LINDSAY, Aug. 29. — Sonya Braves joined Sutton Green Sox and Stouffville Red Sox as leaders in the Tri-County Baseball League round robin championship series by surprising Lindsay Walkwoods, 10-2, here.

Bill Shill stopped the locals with two hits while his mates rattled 13 off three Lindsay hurlers.

Merlin Lunney paced the victors with four hits in as many trips. It was the second straight series loss for Walkwoods, who dropped a 14-2 decision to the defending champion Stouffville club.

Speedway Officials Baffled By Mystery

DARLINGTON, S.C., Aug. 29 (AP)—Officials at the Darlington speedway here have a mystery on their hands.

Track officials are still wondering today who drove a 1950 Oldsmobile eight laps around the mile-and-a-quarter track yesterday at an averaged speed of 81.11 miles per hour to become the day's top qualifier for the 500-mile Labor Day race.

Harvey (Ace) McGartlin of Jacksonville, Fla., was supposed to be at the wheel of the Olds. But McGartlin was in Jacksonville.

Unable to solve the mystery Tuesday, the officials did the next best thing.

They disqualified the Oldsmobile.

Tigers Oust St. Kitts From Playoffs

HAMILTON, Aug. 29 (CP). — Hamilton Tigers knocked St. Catharines Athletics out of the Senior Ontario Lacrosse Association playoffs picture Tuesday night by defeating them 10-6 in the sixth game of their quarter-final series. The Tigers now face a best-of-five semi-final contest against Mimico Mounties.

The Tigers went beyond the series limit to beat the Athletics. They tied their first game and see-sawed to Tuesday night's game in what was scheduled as a best-of-five series.

Hamilton took a 2-1 lead in the first quarter and never looked back. With a 5-3 start in the third quarter they held the Athletics scoreless, while netting five themselves, until well into the final period.

Blaine McDonald, Tommy Love and Jack Dorney led Hamilton with two goals each. Shooting one apiece were Jack Gair, Doug Davidson, Al Doyle and George Masters.

For St. Catharines Hank Teacher and Doug Smith netted two while Bob Melville and Nelson got singles.

Policy Battle Brings Two "Old Vics" For Britain

By SIDNEY MIRKIN

LONDON, Aug. 29—(AP)—The Old Vic Theatre, breeding ground of some of the greatest actors of this generation, is undergoing a reorganization which may give it a solid claim to the title of Britain's national theatre.

Instead of one group presenting plays in the tiny Old Vic Theatre near the south bank of the Thames, there will be two Old Vic companies. Each will alternate presentations at the home theatre with tours carrying Shakespeare and other classics throughout Britain.

The series of events that brought on the resurgent Old Vic was caused by an intra-mural fight that led to wholesale staff resignations and a wordy feud in the newspapers and magazines. Over-simplified, it could be termed "Art vs. Commercialism."

The struggle began with the resignations of three of the four directors who supervised Old Vic productions. They charged the theatre was going commercial, recruiting "name" actors and subordinating the mission of educating young aspirants through the Old Vic school.

The resignations were followed by a statement of policy.

1. Two companies to be set up, each of equal status.

2. The repertory to continue to be predominantly, but not exclusively, classical.

3. Education interests to be served in London and the provinces by special price concessions and special performances for school children and students.

4. Provincial interests to be served by continuation of the Bristol Old Vic, an offshoot of the London theatre.

5. If they wish to develop similar groups, other cities will receive the aid of the Old Vic organization.

6. Since such groups can foster creative talent and act as a training ground "the Young Vic Company for the present will be disbanded."

The Old Vic was conceived in 1891 by London's charity commissioners to provide "entertainment for the recreation and instruction of the poorer classes."

All-Glamour Sports Team Has Four Tennis Players

NEW YORK, Aug. 29—(AP)—You needn't be beautiful to play tennis but it helps, says Harry Conover, head of the model agency bearing his name.

He named three court queens and a net umpire today to his 1951 all-glamor team of sports.

The only repeater is curvaceous Nancy Chaffee, dark-haired tennis star of Ventura, Cali., who recently has received more attention as the fiancee of Pittsburgh Pirates' Ralph Kiner than as the sixth best female player in the United States.

"To my mind, Miss Chaffee still is the most beautiful and most exiciting woman athlete in the world," said Conover.

Ottawa's Barbara Ann Scott, Olympic figure-skating champion, was on Conover's glamor lineup last year, but she didn't hit a spot in the 1951 lineup.

Conover said he picked the eye-filling athletes after a study made by his office for outstanding model possibilities.

Here's Conover's 1951 pick:

Nancy Chaffee, Ventura, Calif., tennis.

Joy Mottram, England, tennis.

Beverly Baker, Santa Monica, Calif., tennis.

Aili Tesloff, Forest Hills, Colo., skiing.

Katy Rodolph, Hayden, Colo., skiing.

Mrs. Catherine Fox Park, Bloomfield, NJ, golf.

Mary Freeman, Washington, DC, swimming.

Diane Calrson, Glendale, Calif., swimming.

Boy Falls From Tree Dies With Broken Neck

RODNEY, Aug. 29 (CP)—Barry Padfield, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Padfield, of Rodney, died almost instantly after he fell 15 feet from a small tree, landing on his face. The boy got up, staggered a few steps, and fell dead with a broken neck.

Coroner Dr. J. G. Whittaker, of Rodney, said there would be no inquest.

The boy's fall was seen by his mother, who called his father to the scene. The boy, with companions, had been climbing in the tree when a branch broke.

Fall Hat Fashions Stress Line, Color, More Becoming

NEW YORK—(NEA) —Setting out to buy a hat for fall can be, this year, a trip with the feeling of adventure. The reason is that emphasis has been placed strongly on line, texture and color. Translated, this means a pretty hat for every head.

The line that gets most attention is the sweep of the profile. But the level silhouette is important, particularly when it is softly curved. Brims are a bit wider and are curved, too, and crowns are a little higher, though not bulky.

The bonnet is back in many forms, all of them fun to wear. Side draping and soaring points create other lines—lines that get a second look.

For these hats, there is the softness of velour, the lustre of velvet, the new interest of tweed-like felts. Vivid shades make fashion news; peacock blue, clear red, true gold.

A clear view of a pretty profile is afforded by a small hat with petal brim designed by Erik Braagaard. With rounded crown and self-corded brim, it's in beauty velvet.

Lush taupe velour, formed by this same designer into a suit hat, has a cuff brim. Since it's worn level, the front line is softly rippled. A flat bow of black velvet gives the new look of width.

The helmet, as done by John-Frederics in smoke grey velour, dips on one side, rises on the other. This asymmetric line gets very simple trim: pearl rings in the same smoke grey.

Pure line is expounded by Sally Victor in a Continental tricorne of ivory velvet that's completely untrimmed. Line is everything here, lovely line that's dashing and dramatic.

A dinner bonnet by the same designer, in vivid blue velvet, depends on line of a different kind for its beauty. A double sweep of clipped blue ostrich curves away from the centre of the hat to frame the face.

Sally Victor's profile hat of brushed beaver in creamy white is somehow resminiscent of films about spies and international glamor girls. It's definitely not a hat for a Sunday tea. Side interest is made pronounced by a jewelled pin and a spray of clipped white ostrich.

Miss Therese Gallivan Weds R. J. Burke of Lyndhurst, N.J.

A wedding of wide interest took place this morning at St. Peter's Cathedral at 10 o'clock when Miss Marie Therese Gallivan, daughter of Mrs. Gallivan and the late Dr. James Vincent Gallivan was united in marriage to Mr. Richard Joseph Burke of Lyndhurst, New Jersey, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Richard Joseph Burke, of Boston, Mass.

The Rev. Timothy B. Coughlan performed the ceremony and the nuptial mass was celebrated by the Rev. John F. Coughlan, both cousins of the bride. Also present in the sanctuary were Rt. Rev. P. Butler, Rt. Rev. J. V. McAuley, Lindsay, Rev. T. B. Coughlan, Bracebridge, Rev. John Hickey, Trout Creek, Rev. Martin James, Prescott, Rev. William Meagher, Lindsay.

The church was decorated with pink gladioli and the wedding music was played by Mrs. Robert Aman. Miss Geraldine Collins sang during the mass and at the signing of the register.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. James C. Gallivan, wore an original Mariam model of imported French lace, in ivory tone over bridal satin. The gown was fashioned with a fitted bodice scalloped to a nylon net yoke, which was held high at the throat with a band of pearls. The bouffant skirt flared out into a full train while the long tulle illusion veil fell from a headdress of satin and pearls. She carried a mother of pearl prayer book with clusters of blush pink gardenias.

Miss Frances McDonald of Toronto attended the bride as maid of honor and wore a gown of copper taffeta with overskirt of Rose of Sharon and dusty pink net. The bridesmaids, Miss Virginia Robertson of Kingston and Miss Maureen Hickey of Peterborough wore gowns identically styled in Rose of Sharon color. The three attendants carried cascades of rubrum lilies.

Mr. Vincent Gallivan was groomsman and the ushers were Mr. Vincent Regan and Mr. Verne Mulhall of Toronto and Mr. Joseph Hickey and Mr. John Corkery of Peterborough.

The reception was held at the Kawartha Golf and Country Club where the bride's mother received wearing a gown of mink tone chiffon and chantilly lace over salmon pink taffeta with matching hat of pressed feathers and willow plumes. Her corsage was of Talisman roses. Mrs. Harry B. White, sister of the groom, who also received, wore navy taffeta with velvet touches. Her hat was navy velvet touched with rose and her corsage was of sweetheart roses.

Later the bride and groom left for a motor trip through Quebec. For travelling the bride wore a suit of Scottish tweed in muted tones of chartreuse and grey, with accessories of luggage tan and she wore a corsage of tea roses.

The bride and groom will live in Lyndhurst, New Jersey.

FALL STYLE — Something new for fall wear is this Canadian - designed grey-and-red tweed coat with cocoon silhouette. Noteworthy features are the saucer buttons, low, curved pockets and wide lapels and collar. It is being displayed at the Canadian National Exhibition in an all-Canadian show.

Lillian O'Leary Of Downeyville Weds Thorold Man

St. Luke's Church, Downeyville, was the scene of a pretty wedding Saturday morning at 10 o'clock when Miss Lilliam O'Leary, younger daughter of Mr. John J. O'Leary and the late Mrs. O'Leary was united in marriage to Mr. Charles E. Condon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Condon of Thorold. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father McFadden, assisted by the Rev. H. Harding and the Rev. D. Harding, both from Thorold. The weddng march was played by Mrs. Walter Herlihey.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She looked lovely in a gown of white nylon marquisette with full hoop skirt. Her finger-tip veil was caught with a wreath of white lilac and she carried a boquet of pink roses and stephanotis.

Miss Rose O'Leary of Toronto was her sister's bridesmaid, gowned in ankle length pink eyelet batiste with small matching hat trimmed with pink and white roses and she carried a boquet of white roses.

Mr. John Condon was his brother's grommsman and the ushers were Austin O'Leary, brother of the bride and Dennis O'Leary, her cousin.

Miss Pauline O'Donnell was soloist and sang several hymns during the mass.

Dinner was served at Hotel Benson, Lindsay, and in the afternoon, tea was served at the bride's home in Downeyville.

Later in the day Mr. Condon and his bride left on a honeymoon trip to Montreal and points east. The bride chose a two-piece dress of mauve silk bengaline with bodice of pale rose crepe and pink ribbon hat. She had a corsage of pink carnations. On their return they will live in Thorold.

Mrs. Jessie Dunning, Stewart Street, was the weekend guest of Mrs. Grace Knight of Belleville.

THE WOMAN WHO WANTS to make a sound clothes investment for autumn will take more than one look at the suit with a fur-lined, reversible short coat. She will get for her money double wear from the coat. Fur on one side, wool on the other, means a coat that is twice as useful. And she will also get a suit that is itself a complete costume, to be worn as such. Handsome tweed in red-and-grey, given wide cuffs and reversible lining of grey muskrat, makes a suit (left) that could be a mainstay through fall and winter. It has wide revers and a fullness that permits deep wrapping. Soulders are smoothly rounded, lines are sound good taste. A straight skirt in red has a single pleat at front centre to allow for walking comfort. The wrap coat appears again (right) in a suit of wine fleece by the same designer. Here, the lining is black broadtail. There's an edging of the fur for this reversible coat. Cuffs are wide and notched. A front centre pleat appears again in the smooth, straight skirt.

Taurog Enjoys Directing Child Actors

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 29 (AP). —Directing movies is literally kid stuff to Norman Taurog.

The roly-poly, shiny-domed man has directed many an adult film but is most noted for his handling of child actors. This week he was at it again, directing three movie moppets portraying the children of Cary Grant and Betsy Drake in "Room for One More."

"I've directed just about every kid star except Shirley Temple," he said in an interview. "They include Jackie Coogan, Jackie Cooper, Robert Coogan, Mickey Rooney, Deanna Durbin, Judy Garland, Virginia Weidler, Margaret O'Brien, to name a few."

Many of those he mentioned have suffered numerous marriages and divorces and other unhappiness in later years. I asked Taurog how he accounted for this.

"It's bound to happen," he replied. "How can they look forward to happiness in later years when they get their first Cadillac at 14?"

Secret Of Success

How does Taurog get along so well with the movie mites?

"I guess it's because I just like kids," he remarked. "But you can't handle them with kid gloves all the time. Before the picture starts, I warn the mothers that I might have to speak sharply of their children during the filming of the picture. Discipline is important."

Greatest Talent

The girl with the greatest talent was Judy Garland, Taurog says. "I directed her in 'Little Nellie Kelly,' in which she played her own mother," he said. "That took great ability, and she had it."

Taurog may have met his ultimate challenge in Georgie Wenzlaff, a frank, leather-lunged five-year-old appearing in "Room for One More." Needing discipline, the director asked him if he would like to be removed from the picture and sent home.

"Might as well," said the lad; "I'm not having much fun here."

Smoked Jowl Tried In Special Menu

By MARY MOORE

Mixed Grill:

Broiled Smoked Jowl Slices
Broiled Pork Kidney Slices
Broiled Tomato Halves
Casserole of Baby Summer Squash
Hot Blueberry Muffins
Cucumber and Carrot Sticks
Strained Duchess Apple Sauce With Fresh Blueberry Topping
Coffee

Directions: As I have mentioned, we are trying smoked jowl in place of smoked back bacon this week and find it interesting. Maybe it is a bit richer than side bacon. The flavor is definitely different.

For the mixed grill we placed the slices of smoked jowl on top of the trimmed and smoked slices of kidney, under the hot broiler, until they were turned over. We finished both the kidney and jowl slices in a single layer. We added the tomato halves, placing them at the outside edge of the broiler pan, when we turned the meats. The tomatoes were sprinkled with salt and buttered crumbs. This is an inexpensive combination.

For the casserole of baby summer squash we had two squashes that were not more than 7 inches long. These we cut, skin, seeds and all, into 1-inch slices. Place in overlapping layers in buttered casserole. Sprinkle with salt and pepper, and dot with butter, cover and bake at 350 deg. Fahr. for ½ hour. Bake until tender with ½ to 1 cup cream or milk poured over., (In this case the squash will be baked at the same time as the muffins so will bake at 400 deg. Fahr. for a shorter time.)

Blueberry Muffins

One-quarter cup shortening, 1-3 cup sugar, 2 beaten eggs, 2 cups sifted flour, 5 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 2-3 cup milk, ½ to ¾ cup fresh blueberries. Sprinkle the blueberries with ½ cup of the flour. Cream the shortening and sugar together. Add eggs and mix well. Sift the 1½ cups of remaining flour with the baking powder and salt. Add this dry mixture alternately with the milk. Stir the floured blueberries in lightly. Bake in buttered muffin pans in oven of 400 deg. Fahr. for 25 to 30 minutes. Serve hot with butter. (In our family of four there were enough of these for both the main and dessert courses. If I never make better muffins than these I will be happy about about my muffin cooker.)

Strained Duchess Applesauce

The August apples are ideally suited to this treatment because they cook up so quickly.

Wash apples well and cut out any blemishes. Cut into quarters and add water until it just shows under the top layer of apples. Cover and boil just until tender. Press through coarse strainer. Add barely enough sugar to sweeten. If apples are reddish this finished applesauce has a delicate pink cast. To make it more interesting the second time of serving we sprinkled some choice blueberries over the top of each dish.

Well-Chosen Jewelry Aid To Make-Up

LONDON (CP)—Background tones in summer fabrics give good scope for bright accessories and jewelry and make the ideal complement to one's individual coloring.

Though vivid and subtle colors are popular this year in England, the most fashionable choice in London is black and white, closely followed by pewter grey and the natural shades associated with tussore and shantung.

Jewels can be selected to flatter and emphasize the shade of the eyes, hair and make-up, and generally to contribute to a distinctive personal appearance. The fashionable hair tints of red gold, corn gold, platinum and light chestnut are being used as an effective partner to gold-set jewelry, and to such stones as emeralds, topazes, amber and—more unusual perhaps, but equally pleasing—to amethysts.

For the red-head blessed with a naturally creamy complexion, cream-colored pearls are the obvious choice.

Use Fine Powder

Lustrous jewelry needs lustrous hair and a well-cared for complexion to look its best, jewelers say. With pearls it is wise to wear only the finest powder, or their texture and delicate sheen may become impaired.

Brunettes with fair skin will find a combination of coral make-up and jewelry becoming, and emralds, topazes and turquoises will also blend with this type of coloring. Sapphires need a fairly warm make-up and look specially striking when complementing blue eyes and golden hair. The blonde with afair skin can emphasize her ivory or nearly pink coloring with tourmalines, garnets or blush pearls, while the olive-skinned will find plain gold ornaments very flattering.

London jewelers say that eye-color, too, can be accentuated with well-chosen jewelry.

Prairie Farmers Harvest Too Early

WINNIPEG, Aug. 29—(CP) — The chief grain inspector of the Board of Grain Commissioners said Tuesday that Manitoba and Saskatchewan farmers are harvesting too early and losing grades on their wheat.

The inspector, A. F. Dollery of Winnipeg, said in an inntterview that "a good guess" as to why farmers are harvesting too early is that they are afraid of frost.

He added: "It looks like a fine crop if they'll just hold their horses and let it ripen. In most cases three or four days more would do."

INDIA TEA

India's tea crop in 1948 was estimated at 590,000,000 pounds.

Finds Dictum Of Sister Hard On Girl

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am 22 years old, an orphan, and living with my married sister who has six children. I am working, and am very handy at almost anything. Three years ago a young man called and asked me for a date, and when I sought my sister's permission to go out with him, she became very angry and said I wasn't to think of going with a boy until I was 28 or 30. I have refused all dates since, but find myself very lonely. All my girl friends have dates and all I do is sit home every night. Is my sister right?

Dorothy Dix

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Your sister probably feels a great sense of responsibility for you and is letting her solicitude get the better of her good judgment. She may also have a selfish motive in keeping you home nights for the help you can contribute with the children.

Assert Yourself

Of course you do owe her some consideration on this point, since she has cared for you since childhood, but at 22 you should have the sense to select proper friends and go out two or three nights a week. Try to make this clear to your sister; if she doesn't see your side of the problem, you are certainly justified in taking the matter into your own hands and accepting dates. Bring your boy friends home, ask your sister's opinion of them; let her know you're anxious for her approval.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: Before we were married, my husband was in love with his cousin's wife. They now live directly across from us and my husband still seems to admire her. She is 12 years older than my husband. When she's in her yard, he sits and watches her by the hour. Otherwise, he's a good husband and provider. However, this problem has gotten so on my nerves that I am continually nagging.

R. R.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: The best solution to the difficulty would be to move. If that's impossible, stop the nagging and ignore the situation as much as possible. Your cousin-in-law is just a middle-aged vamp having a good time charming a much younger man. If your husband has any sense at all he should see through her insipid attempts at flirtation.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 15 and attending high school. Last summer I met a boy 21 years old and have been going with him ever since. My parents don't know about it. Now he has gone to Europe for the summer, and his best friend has asked me for a date. Should I accept?

CONNIE

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: First of all, don't go on any dates that your parents don't know about. You have been doing a very sneaky thing, and no nice boy would have taken you out without your parents' permission. Your mother is the one to consult on your problem. Go to her as soon as possible.

6—In Memoriam

KULCHYCKI—In loving memory of Mrs. Eva Kulchycki, who passed away five years ago, August 29, 1946.

In our home she is fondly remembered
Sweet memories cling to her name.
Those who loved her in life sincerely
Still love her in death the same.

Ever remembered by husband Julian and family.

McMANUS—In loving memory of a dear mother and wife, Mrs. Ruby McManus who passed away August 30, 1950.

You ofttimes said we'd miss you
Those words have proved so true
We lost our best, our dearest friend
Dear Mother when we lost you
We watched you suffer day by day
And could not help in any way
But just stood by and saw you pass
Into the Saviour's Arms at last.

—Always remembered by husband Ernest and family.

PERRITT — In loving memory of mother, Mrs. William Perritt, who passed away Aug. 29, 1950.

You are not forgotten, mother
Nor ever will you be
As long as life and memory lasts
We will remember thee.

—Ever loving remembered by husband and family.

Chinese Reds Seize Another Orphanage

TOKYO, Aug. 29 — (AP) —The Communists' Mukden radio today said Chinese Reds have seized another Christian Orphange on grounds of "cruelty" and "unsanitary conditions."

The broadcast, heard in Tokyo by radio press, said Changchung city authorities seized the orphanage Monday.

It did not name the orphanage but said it was founded in 1910 and accommodated more than 500 children.

The broadcast alleged more than 400 orphans had died "because of cruel treatment and unsanitary condition."

The Reds have seized a number of orphanages on similar charges. Often children are so sick and wasted when they reach orphanages that the die despite the care given them.

Princess Will Stop 30 Mins. In North Bay

NORTH BAY, Aug. 29 (CP) — Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh will make a half-hour stop at North Bay airport Monday afternoon, Oct. 22, as part of their trans-Canada tour, it was learned today.

When it was learned that the royal couple's flight plan would carry them over the city, efforts were made to have the plane land.

No definite reception program has been announced, pending approval of the federal authorities.

Need Cold Storage

ST. CATHARINES, Aug. 29 — (CP) — The Ontario pear, plum and cherry growers' marketing board said today that lack of cold storage space will limit purchase of bartlett pears to No. 1 grade H. L. Craise, chairman of the board, made the announcement following a meeting of the board here Tuesday night to review marketing of the pears for processing.

Reporter Praises Pats In Korea

TRENTON, Aug. 29 (CP).—Bill Boss, Canadian Press war correspondent in Korea since last December, said today "the Patricias are the finest thing the Canadian army has ever created."

The Red-bearded reporter, who crossed the Pacific last November with the 2nd Battalion Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry and has been with the Canadians in Korea constantly since, said he was back in Canada "to work at fishing and resting for a change."

He arrived from Tokyo by RCAF aircraft early today. Instead of carrying on to the Dorval base of No. 426 RCAF squadron, which flew him from Japan, he alighted at Trenton airbase and motored to Toronto for conferences with CP executives.

Boss said the Patricias had "an esprit de corps so real you could touch it." The rest of the 25th Canadian Infantry Brigade group was a first-rate fighting outfit which already had established a name for aggressiveness.

The troops' morale was outstanding despite a largely boring summer. Announcement of the Government's rotation policy had enabled the men to adjust themselves to the certainty of either being home by Christmas, or of spending the next winter in Korea, as indicated by their service.

Raps Peace Talks

He was critical of the Kaesong peace talks. At Kaesong, he said, "both sides have been desperately and obstinately attempting to bargain from extreme positions which are equally unreasonable.

"The Communists are unreasonable in holding out for the parallel as a military line, while we are in balking for the present line—which is no more defensible in the long run, militarily, than is the parallel.

"The correct line is one north of the parallel all right, but only to the extent dictated by the ground, and one very obvious one reaches at the most 10 miles into North Korea."

Cow Becomes Horse Now Can Shoot Beast

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP). —The cow became a horse, and now it's quite all right to shoot the beast.

It's a tale of mystic India, told in testimony at Senate hearings on the new foreign aid bill.

A big wild animal of the antelope family and known as the "nehil gae" was causing extensive damage to crops in the field. But the farmers would not harm it because "nehil gae" means "blue cow," and the cow is sacred to the Hindu.

So the Indian Government has changed the name to "nehil goa" —which means "blue horse." Horses are not sacred, and so now the beast can be killed to protect the crops of food-short India.

Killed By Temper

WILMINGTON, Calif., Aug 29— (AP) — Two-year-old George Geiger asked his mother for candy before mealtime. She refused. Angered, the little boy butted his head into the wall Tuesday with such force that he was killed.

COOLING OFF!

It takes a lot of cooling to keep a Polar Bear happy. This largest member of the bear family is smaller than a porcupine at birth, but often weighs more than three-quarters of a ton when full grown. To this tremendous bulk, add the fact that the bear is covered with a thick, water-proof coat, which is designed to protect him in the Arctic . . . it's a big job keeping him cool in our zoos. Learn about nature's creatures. Visit the nearest zoo and see them. A whole new world of interest will be opened to you when you understand nature.

Board Handles Copper Strike For President

By HAROLD W. WARD

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP) —The Wage Stabilization Board took over the copper strike at President Truman's request today amid signs it would toss the dispute right back to the President if the walkout continues.

The board has asked the striking Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers' Union (Ind.), along with a dozen AFL and other unions made idle by picket lines, to go back to work while it holds hearings in the dispute.

The Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers' Union refused but said it would have a delegation at today's hearings.

Some officials said the board would ask the strikers to show cause why they should not call off the strike, which has cut off 95 per cent of copper production in the United States. Lead and zinc output, along with sulphuric acid, also have been cut by the walkout over wage and other contract demands.

May Not Continue

Should the strike continue after the board's show-cause hearing, Truman may be advised that the board cannot proceed.

The next likely step would be to invoke the emergency provision of the Taft-Hartley Labor Act, which calls for a court injunction against the strikers after a board of inquiry looks into the facts.

That would take about 10 days, during which copper stockpiles may be reduced to a dangerous level.

The Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers want the federal government to press the industry into acceptance of an over-all increase of 20 ½ cents an hour, about 10 cents less than the union had originally asked. Wages now run from $1.31 for surface laborers to $1.62 for miners. But Kennecott Copper, one of the industrys "Big Four," rejected the proposed settlement.

John Clark, president of the union, said in Denver that a delegation of "rank and file" workers would attend today's hearings, along with spokesmen for the union.

Scots Capture Air Cadet Trophy At Ex

TORONTO, Aug. 29 (CP). — Traffic headaches, air cadets and a forecast of Canada's future shared the spotlight Tuesday on the fourth day of the Canadian National Exhibition.

Crowds estimated at 186,500 squeezed through the mechanical building—it was automotive and electrical day—to see 30 different makes of cars on display along with machinery and home appliances.

Outside the grounds, traffic crawled in the choked lanes despite the efforts of loudspeaker-equipped police trucks.

CNE officials have complained that dazed motorists, especially Americans, were finding themselves caught in the stream of cars and ending up far past the exhibition grounds.

Col. John Page, CNE traffic director, said that the traffic conditions were making "bad friends for Toronto and for the exhibition."

Scots Win Trophy

A group of kilted Scots walked off with the fourth annual international air cadet drill competition and the General Beau Trophy—the first time since the trophy was established in 1948 that a team from outside the Dominion won the competition.

The kilted visitors earned 367 points out of a possible 400, to defeat the defending Canadians who scored 361. The United States entry from the New York wing of the Civil Air Patrol earned 360.

R. Kyle, 18, of Glasgow accepted the trophy from General Lucas V. Beau, national commander of the United States Civil Air Patrol and donor of the trophy.

I. Tighe, 18, of Edmundston, NB led the Canadian team.

J. A. Finlay Norwood Burial

NORWOOD, Aug. 29 (ENS).—The funeral of John Alfred Finlay was held Monday afternoon from the family residence at 2:30 p.m., the Rev. R. D. Dnucanson of Norwood Presbyterian Church officiating. Burial was at Norwood Cemetery.

Mr. Finlay died suddenly of a heart attack while attending the Peterborough Exhibition Tuesday evening. He was the last of the Finlay family. He was the owner and manager of the Finlay Manufacturing Company. He had been a member of the church choir continuously for the past 65 years. Entering the choir of the Presbyterian Church at the age of 14, he later was a member of the United Church. He served on the Board of Education for 40 years.

He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Armac Weir (Vera) of Norwood and two grandchildren. John Weir and Mrs. R. M. Frye (Yvonne Finlay) of Morristown, NJ.

Pall-bearers were Herbert Caskey, William Montgomery, Walter Bitten, Harry Rogers, Alex Innes, T. J. Carley.

Friends and relatives were present from Toronto, Brighton, Peterborough, Stony Lake, Hastings, Norwood and district.

Veteran UK Troops Toast 27th Brigade

PUSAN, Korea, Aug. 29 — (Reuters) — Veteran British troops in this rain-soaked South Korean port drank a toast Tuesday to the 27th brigade—Britain's first 2,000 troops in the Korean war—which landed here a year ago.

After making a fine showing in eight months of fighting, the two battalions of Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders and the Middlesex Regiment are re-training on a 30-mile strip of British territory forming a buffer between Hong Kong and Communist China.

Insurance Men Awarded CLU

Two Peterborough field representatives of two life insurance companies have successfully completed the third and final year examinations leading to the title and designation, Chartered Life Underwriter of Canada, it was announced at Toronto today by the Life Underwriters Association of Canada. The two successful candidates are:

Paige Rowell, Dominion Life, and Kenneth C. Wilson, Manufacturers' Life.

They are in a group of 106 Life Underwriters in Canada awarded the CLU degree following examinations held in May of this year. More than 600 candidates wrote the first, second and third year examinations this year. Studies leading to the CLU degree now extend over three years.

Too Much Tradition

OXFORD, England, Aug. 29—(AP)—An Anglican bishop warned Methodists Tuesday that too much tradition gets in the way of Protestants' church unity. The Methodists, starting an 11-day world conference on their church's problems, were told by the bishop of Manchester, the Rt. Rev. W. D. L. Greer, that hard-drying church traditions "induce a kind of religious arthritis. In excess, they hamper free and unfettered movement."

Rebellion Charges

MANILA, Aug. 29 —(AP)— The mayor, a policeman and 102 residents of Pandi were charged Tuesday night with rebellion. The Philippines army ordered a company of troops into the town, north of Manila in Bulcacan province. An army undercover agent accused Mayor Matias Salvador, policeman Crispin Santa Maria and the 102 citizens of aiding rebel Huk bands.

Film Squabble

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 29—(AP) —A federal court injunction forbade the Mexican government Tuesday to put in effect a new law that would force movie houses to give half their screen time to Mexican films. The temporary injunction was issued at the request of a group of exhibitors. The measure drew objections from United States film distributors, who threatened to cut off the supply of Hollywood pictures.

Flunks First Lesson

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 29 (AP) —Roberta King, 30, told the court Tuesday she paid $25 to a woman to teach her shoplifting techniques. But she flunked her first examination. She was caught trying to take two suits from a downtown store. Pleading guilty to a petty larceny charge, she was sentenced to 60 days in jail.

9 Million Estate

NEW YORK, Aug. 29—(AP)— The estate of the late John Thomas Smith, former vice-president and general counsel of General Motors Corporation, has been appraised at more than $9,000,000. In a report filed here Tuesday by the New York State transfer tax department, Smith's net estate was valued at $9,367,772.

Legion's Tribute To Roy Thompson

The suddenness of death was stressed by Major C. G. Everitt, Salvation Army, at the funeral Tuesday for Roy J. Thompson, who was shot and killed at his home Saturday night.

About 60 relatives and friends filled the chapel at the Kaye funeral home. The coffin was surounded by gladioli and roses and covered by a Union Jack.

Major C. G. Everitt referred to the flag covering the coffin and then recalled Thompson's service in the army. He warned the flag could easily be fully red.

The speaker recalled two pictures in Italy, both called "Peace", one with a calm water setting and the other with a rolling sea, a nest, and the bird and its young. The thought, he said, was whenever in the midst of trouble, one should know the peace of God.

After the graveside service by Major Everitt, members of the Canadian Legion, Branch 52, of which Thompson was an executive director, conducted a brief service.

Albert Mason read the Canadian Legion service after which the veterans, Tony Basciano and G. Foster, Hastings-Prince Edward Regiment; F. Panter and E. Pierce, Red Patch Club; and Hurrell Dodds and Mr. Mason saluted. The last post, two minutes' silence and reveille closed the service.

Frederick E. Berry

Funeral service for Frederick Elbridge Berry, RR 9, Peterborough, who died in hospital Sunday, was held Tuesday at the Comstock Funeral Home. The Rev. W. S. Crone of the Church of the Open Bible officiated.

Pall-bearers were Mr. Berry's six sons: Albert, Ralph, Elbridge, Robert, Howard, and Harold. Burial was in Little Lake Cemetery.

Back In Fold

TOKYO, Aug. 29—(Reuters)— The governing Liberal party today accepted back into membership 14 former political leaders recently released from the post-war purge restrictions. Re-established members included two former ministers.

Foil Jail Break

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Aug. 29 —(AP). — Alert guards who noticed traces of digging at Kilby Prison's cotton mill Tuesday foiled what could have been a mass escape of convicts. Investigating, they found a long tunnel from the mill toward the huge prison walls, Warden A. C. Warming said. The tunnel was fitted with electric lights and a fan for the comfort of the diggers.

Textile Union Discusses Strike

MONTREAL, Aug. 29 (CP)—A strike vote will be taken tonight among members of Local 102, United Textile Workers of America (AFL) representing 2,000 workers at the Montreal Cottons Limited plant at nearby Valleyfield.

Notice of the meeting was contained in pamphlets distributed during the last few days and which led to the arrest of two union organizers on charges of illegal distribution of circulars.

One organizer, Charles Louis Lipton, failed to appear Tuesday in court to answer the charge. He was out on $25 bail.

Police said Lipton is the educational director of the Marxist school of the Labor Progressive party. He has been arrested eight times previously on similar charges.

Paul-Emile Touchette, the other organizer arrested, pleaded innocent and his trial was set for Sept. 6.

A company spokesman said negotiations for a new contract became deadlocked two days ago. The union asked a 25-cent hourly wage increase, a $1 an hour minimum and $75 a month old age pensions at the age of 65 after 20 years' service.

Racing Commission Vanishes, No Clue

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Aug. 29 —(CP)— The Ontario Racing Commission disappeared Tuesday.

Reporters assigned to cover the commission's resumption of its probe into race-fixing looked for the afternoon session in vain. After sitting this morning, the commission did not show up again. Reporters couldn't find it.

The commission is investigating fixed races at recent meetings at Fort Erie, Ont., and Toronto. To date, eight jockeys and one owner-trainer have been suspended and three police charges have been laid.

Britain's Two Airlines Show Large Deficit

LONDON, Aug. 29 (Reuters)—Britain's two state-owned airlines, British Overseas Airways Corporation and British European Airways, lost £5,500,000 between them during the fiscal year ended last April.

The loss the preceding year was £9,000,000 according to annual reports of both companies published Tuesday.

BOAC lost more than £4,500,000 of the deficit, while BEA, which handles European and British domestic traffic, dropped the balance.

Made Colonel

OTTAWA, Aug. 29—(CP—Lt.-Col. Herbert A. Millen, OBE, 40, of Ottawa will be promoted to the rank of colonel and take over as commandant at Fort Churchill Man., Sept. 5, Army Headquarters announced Tuesday. He will succeed Col. Don Forbes, who left Churchill a month ago for an appointment at Army Headquarters here.

Crushed By Poles

CORNWALL, Aug. 29—(CP)—Laurent Prefontaine of Cornwall, 40-year-old foreman in charge of a telephone pole loading gang, was killed Tuesday when crushed beneath five poles which rolled from a flat car. Another worker, Paul Payment, suffered minor injuries when thrown from the toppling pile.

Accept Invitation

LONDON, Aug. 29 (Reuters)—All commonwealth countries have accepted Britain's invitation to attend the commonwealth raw materials conference beginning here Sept. 24 a British treasury spokesman said Tuesday. The weeklong conference will discuss the world-wide shortage of raw materials and the problem of supplies of manufactured goods from the industrialized countries to the under-developed areas of the commonwealth.

Have Settlement In Singer Strike

QUEBEC, Aug. 29 — (CP) — Quebec Labor Department announced Tuesday union and company representatives accepted a settlement of the strike of 2,200 employees of the Singer Company Limited at St. John's, Que. The workers walked out June 6.

The settlement, proposed by Labor Minister Barrette, was signed in the minister's office by H. N. Karr, representative of the company, and Rene Martin, president of the St. John's local of the Unuited Steelworkers of America (CCL-CIO).

Terms of the settlement were not announced.

A meeting of striking workers at St. John's will be held Thursday to vote on the settlement, the statement said.

Some 200 workers of the strike-bound Singer Sewing Machine Company plant at St. John's, Que., Tuesday night set out to walk the 25 miles to St. Joseph's Oratory here. They will pray for guidance in deciding a settlement formula reached between union, company and provincial government officials Tuesday.

The 200 pilgrims, equipped with lanterns, canes and sandwiches, are expected to reach here early today.

Wild Birds Harbor Dangerous Virus

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP) —Surgeon-General Leonard A. Scheele of the US said Tuesday federal research workers have confirmed that wild birds harbor the virus of sleeping sickness.

The public health service said in a statement the virus of the disease, technically known as encephalitis, was found in redwing blackbirds, magpies, mosquitoes and mites in tests conducted at Greeley, Colo.

Killed By Slab

HAMILTON, Aug. 29 (CP). — Whadasilw Hnaton, 44, was killed Tuesday when a concrete slab fell on him at the Steel Company of Canada, Ltd. He was digging a tunnel for a pipe trench at the steel company's open hearth project, it was reported. Witnesses said Hnaton was tunnelling under the concrete slab when it fell on him.

Council Approves Building 325 Houses

WINDSOR, Aug. 29 (CP). — City council Tuesday night approved in principle the plan to construct 325 houses on the Bridgeview sub-division to cost $10,000 each and rent for $65 a month.

The high rental figure was subject to criticism from Mayor Arthur J. Reaume and members of council who indicated many more questions will be asked before an agreement is signed.

The housing project is to be developed on a tri-party agreement with federal, provincial and civic funds.

To Stand Trial

TORONTO, Aug. 29 (CP). — Ralph H. Boehmer, 23, Tuesday was committed for trial on a charge of murder in the stabbing of Gerald Oulette July 28. Witnesses said Oulette died in a fight that began over "improper suggestions" to a 14-year-old baby sitter. The fight occurred in a parking lot near the house, and a spring knife was picked up at the scene.

Special Session

VICTORIA, BC, Aug. 29 (CP) A special session of the British Columbia Legislature will be called Nov. 6 to deal with old age pension legislation, Premier Byron Johnson announced Tuesday. The cabinet will submit its recommendations to the legislature for ratification.

Horsemeat Problem

TORONTO, Aug. 29 (CP). — Toronto's Board of Health considered what it should do if and when "horsemeat entrepeneurs," as one member called them, sought to sell horsemeat in the city. No action was taken. Alderman A. M. Sparkling said: "The stuff would be very disturbing to those in the butcher business because it would sell at 50 cents a pound for a roast."

Non-Union Group

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 29 (CP). —London milkmen Tuesday night decided to band in a non-union, non-political organization to discuss matters of general policy with the London Distributors' Association, with the five-day delivery system as their first problem. Commencing next week all city dairies will cease house deliveries under order of the Milk Control Board of Ontario. This cut in service was requested by a majority of London's distributors.

Approve Increase

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29—(AP)—The Wage Stabilization Board Tuesday approved a 9½-cent hourly wage increase for 84,000 woollen textile workers, based on escalator cost-of-living contract clauses. The decision cleared the way for action on 111 similar cases of which more than 100 involve the Textile Workers Union (CIO).

Milner Appointed Transport Head Ease Grain Crisis

OTTAWA, Aug. 30. (CP)—Roy Wilfred Milner, one of the country's foremost grain authorities, today was appointed Canada's first peacetime transport controller in history. His appointment, announced by Transport Minister Chevrier, was an indication that the Government has decided to use direct action to force a diversion of more Great Lake shipping from iron ore and coal to grain. The 59-year-old shipping czar, native of Brampton, will have power to break contracts and re-direct bulk-carrying traffic on the waterways and rail lines of the country.

He will have control not only over bulk-carrying rail and water traffic but also on all storage elevators and terminals normally used in the shipment of bulk commodities.

Two-Year Jail Term

Those disobeying his orders will be liable to a two-year prison term and a $5,000 fine.

Mr. Milner, veteran of the First World War, is a member of the government's three-man board of grain commissioners and a former president of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. He was appointed to the grain board last year.

He has been ordered by the government to wipe out a Great Lakes shipping bottleneck that threatens a crisis with the prospects of a record 582,000,000-bushel wheat crop this year.

Name Assistant

Assisting him will be W. Jackson Fisher, 49-year-old traffic chief for the Canadian Maritime Commission, named by Mr. Chevrier as deputy transport controller.

Native of Calgary, Mr. Fisher was director of movement for the Canadian army during the Second World War holding the rank of colonel. He has gained grain and transport experience on the staffs of the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways and the Alberta Wheat Pool.

He was appointed to the Maritime Commission in 1948 and has been studying ways of alleviating the western grain shipping shortage since last spring.

The two men, both drawn from government posts, will work from offices in Ottawa.

Meets Committee

Mr. Milner's first act was to confer with a special committee that had been working on the tough transportation problem all through the summer months. The special committee, headed by J. C. Lessard, Deputy Transport Minister and including representations of the grain and shipping trade, now will be dissolved. It had no control powers. All its works will fall into Mr. Milner's hands.

He indicated in an interview that he will try as much as he can to allow ship and rail operators freedom in operations. He will use force only as a last resort.

"I shall approach this transportation problem with the know-

Children, Vets High Points In Toronto Tour

TORONTO, Aug. 30 (CP). — Children, war veterans and hospitals will be high points in the program of Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh when they visit Toronto for two days on their tour of Canada.

The itinerary, approved by their Royal Highnesses, was released today by Hon. Ray Lawson, Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario.

The royal couple will arrive here by train at 5:30 p.m. EST Friday, Oct. 5. Greeted by a salute of 21 guns, they will be met by the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Lawson and by Premier Frost and Mrs. Frost.

After inspecting a naval guard of honor, their Royal Highnesses will be driven to city hall for a reception at 5:40 p.m. They will be met at city hall by Mayor Hiram McCallum and Mrs. McCallum.

At 6:15 p.m., they will leave city hall for a short drive accompanied by the official party. The route has not been announced. At 6:35 they will return to their train. That night they will dine privately with the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Lawson.

Crowded Day

Saturday, Oct. 6, will be a crowded day. At 10 a.m., their Royal Highnesses will drive slowly to the Canadian National Exhibition grandstand on the western lake shore where thousands of school children will be assembled. Cadets will give a royal salute, winners of the Victoria Cross will be presented, and Navy, Army and Air Force cadets will march past as Princess Elizabeth takes the salute.

At 10:55 they will leave the exhibition grounds and drive via an extended route to Hart House at the University of Toronto, in central Toronto, arriving there at noon.

At 12:20, the Duke will leave to attend a luncheon given by the Toronto Board of Trade, at which all branches of the city's business,

Fungus Caused Death, Madness

PONT-SAINT-ESPRIT, France, Aug. 30 (CP).—A fungus parasite that flourishes on cereals in rainy weather was named today as the cause of four deaths and numerous cases of madness in this little town.

Professor Olivier, head of the police laboratory at Marseille said his autopsy findings confirmed those of another French scientist, that the flour in bread eaten by the victims had been poisoned by ergot.

Ergot is defined as "a fungus disease of rye, other cereals," and wild grasses, in which the grains are replaced by "black or dark-purple club-shaped bodies."

Ergot, prepared in laboratories is used as a drug to control haemorrhage. It is used for treatment in childbirth. In large doses it paralyzes nerve endings.

The disease in this southern French town of 5,000 persons struck 200 persons, most of whom survived it. There are still 37 persons in hospital.

Shoots Two To Death Planned Kill 5 Others

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 30 (AP) —A youthful business man shot to death two persons Wednesday and told police he intended to kill five others and then commit suicide.

He said he was "mad at them" and "just disgusted."

Police said Richard Donaldson, 29-year-old laundry operator, admitted the slayings in a signed statement.

Dead were Alfredo Ortiz-Vargas, 53, assistant professor of foreign languages at the University of Kansas City, and Mrs. William Lay, 77-year-old negress.

Two of the intended victims escaped death because Donaldsons pistols misfired. Two others were not home and the fifth did not answer her door when Donaldson appeared.

Won't Sign Opposition Pact With Japan India Pledges

NEW DELHI, India, Aug. 30—(AP).—In a hard-hitting note to the United States, India today defended her refusal to attend the Japanese peace conference in San Francisco.

At the same time, Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru pledged his government not to sign a separate pact with Japan whose terms would contradict provisions of the American-sponsored treaty.

The Indian note was in reply to one from the US State Department Aug. 26 expressing displeasure with India's decision to boycott the San Francisco conference. It was made public in parliament here.

The note asserted that, contrary to American claims, the people of Japan did not approve of the treaty. It insisted that the treaty should contain a declaration reaffirming that Formosa would be turned over to Red China and called on the US to hand the Ryukus (Okinawa) back to Japan.

The US note had chided India for insisting on the return of the Ryukyus to Japan by the US while assenting to continued Russian control of the Kuriles. The Kuriles are a group of islands between Japan proper and Siberia.

India's reply today said this arrangement was worked out at Yalta and "the government of India cannot be held responsible for an inconsistency which is a result of the Yalta agreement."

While vigorously defending India's stand, the note appealed to the US not to let differences over the treaty affect friendly relations between the two countries.

US officials have let it be known that India's attitude might bring about a tougher American policy towards India.

Peiping Says UN Planes Break Truce

Reds Accuse Ridgway Of Distortion, Meeting Hopes Fade

TOKYO, Aug. 30. (AP)—Red China's official Peiping radio charged today that American planes violate the Kaesong neutrality area in Korea every day.

The charge was injected into a series of broadcasts accusing Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway of lying, slander and distortion.

The latest asserted violation was early Wednesday. The broadcast heard in Tokyo said an American bomber dropped a flare over the site of the now-suspended Korean war truce talks.

The radio said it happened at almost the same time Ridgway refused to reopen an investigation of Red charges that an allied plane bombed Kaesong Aug. 22.

Peiping called it an attempt "to cover up the flagrant lies that he handed the world."

The broadcast made no mention of the UN commander's offer to resume truce negotiations any time the Communists are willing to do so. He made the offer in the same note that refused to reopen investigation of the asserted bombing.

Get No Reply

Top Red commanders, to whom the message was addressed, have not replied. There was no indication when they would.

In its sweeping accusation, the Peiping radio said as many as 43 American planes had flown over the Kaesong neutral zone in a single day. The neutral area extends for a five mile radius around Kaesong.

The radio devoted most of its attention to attacking Ridgway.

The Communist attitude tended to support a theory the Reds want to delay a decision on Korea until after the Japanese peace treaty conference in San Francisco.

Peiping's broadcasts dampened a cautious optimism expressed in a press release from Gen. Ridgway's headquarters.

The release suggested the Red proposal to re-investigate the Kaesong bombing charge "may contain some hope for resumption" of peace talks. Communists

Canada Drops Protest To US

OTTAWA, Aug. 30 (CP) — Canada is not going to make any further representations to Washington about Canadians reported to have been mentioned before a United States congressional committee, External Affairs Minister Pearson said today.

He told a press conference the diplomatic incident of a few days ago is closed as far as Canada is concerned.

Last week, his department expressed dissatisfaction over not being able to find the basis for a Washington news report that two high but unnamed Canadian officials had been mentioned before a senate committee as having been associated with espionage suspects.

"We made a request for information," he said, "and we were unable to get it. So the matter is ended—that particular incident."

End Explosives Job At Mine With Bang

TIMMINS, Aug. 30 — (CP).— The job of bringing 22 tons of explosives out of 300 underground locations at strike-bound Hollinger Mine will end with a bang.

A company official said today 80 cases of the blasting powder are showing signs of deterioration and will be blown up a case at a time out in the bush behind the Hollinger Mine, perhaps tomorrow.

It is expected, he said, that all of the powder will be out of the mine by the end of today's operations. Removal started Monday, August 20.

Removal of the explosives was ordered by the Ontario Department of Mines. Men on the jobs are insured for $20,000 each by the union with Lloyds of London.

Soldier Pleads Not Guilty On Lesser Count

SEOUL, Korea, Aug. 30—(CP) —A 22-year-old Canadian soldier pleaded not guilty to charges of attempted rape, assault and being concerned in an affray before a general court martial today.

Originally charged with murder in the grenade-killing of three South Koreans in a farmhouse near Chipyong, Pte. Donald Michael Gibson of Ottawa was tried on the lesser charges after the Canadian Army withdrew the murder indictments against him and Pte. Alan Roy Montgomery Davis, 24, of Vancouver.

A third private, Glen Roland Blank, 27, of Winnipeg, was convicted of manslaughter Wednesday and sentenced to life imprisonment.

The South Koreans were killed after interfering with an attempt to rape two Korean women refugees.

Asks Charge Revised

Capt. M. Hanway of Amherst, NS, the prosecutor, said he suggested the charge be revised because manslaughter is an unpremeditated act and only one member of a group can be held responsible. Originally Gibson, Davis and Blank all were charged with the murder of Lieut. Ee Chong Sung, one of the three South Koreans who died from a grenade blast in the village of Chung Woon last March 17.

Gibson stood at attention and repeated "Not Guilty, Sir," as each of six counts were read in court.

Hanway said that on March 17 seven South Korean soldiers and two young women refugees were staying in a farm house at Chung Woon. There was a "large party" at the rest camp of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry Regiment, he said, and later two British soldiers and five Canadian soldiers, including Gibson, entered the farm house and attempted to rape the girls. He said the girls were "quite seriously" assaulted but were not raped.

Beaten Up

He said when the South Korean soldiers tried to interfere the Canadians beat them up.

A teen-aged Korean boy, staying in the house, testified he woke

Seven Planes Scour Bush For Some Trace Of Barilko

TIMMINS, Aug. 30. (CP)—Seven planes today resumed "Operation Barilko" over thousands of square miles of Northern Ontario muskeg and scrub bush. Bill Barilko, Toronto Maple Leafs defenceman, and his companion, Dr. Henry Hudson of Timmins, are more than three days overdue from a flying-fishing trip to Seal River on the northeast side of James Bay.

Early today, seven RCAF planes took to the air for the second day in a search for the popular hockey player and his dentist companion, owner and pilot of the two-seater Fairchild 24 in which the pair was travelling.

Conflicting reports regarding the course of the missing plane confused the search for the aircraft Wednesday.

Reports persisted that the plane flew over here Monday afternoon. It has been missing since Sunday after taking off from Rupert House on James Bay.

Two RCAF search and rescue squadron planes returned to their Kapuskasing base Wednesday night after an intensive "tree-by-tree' inspection of the Coral Rapids area, 150 miles north of here.

The inspection followed the report of a hydro survey party that a plane passed its camp on the north bucking a strong headwind at 9 p.m. Sunday. This report was seemingly backed up by word from bush pilot Leo Lamothe that he had seen a trail of smoke 20 miles west of Coral Rapids Monday afternoon.

"We inspected the area practically inch by inch over a distance of 60 miles by 40 miles around Coral Rapids and found nothing whatever," said Flt. Lt. G. J. Ruston of Hamilton, search director.

A puzzler was the belief of Dr. Lou Hudson, brother of the missing dentist, that Henry's plane "buzzed" his house several times in mid-afternoon Monday. But an air search of the Timmins area also disclosed nothing.

Heads Operations

SINGAPORE, Aug. 30 (Reuters) —Gen. Sir Rob Loekhart, former commander-in-chief of the Indian army, has been named new head of British operations against Communist terrorists in Malaya, it was announced today. He will succeed Lt.-Gen. Sir Harold Rawdon Briggs, chief of operations since March, 1950.

New Rental Office Caught In Landslide Applications For Adjustment Swamp Staff

SUDBURY, Aug. 30 (CP).— Applications for rent adjustment are nearly crowding out the staff at the new rental office here, George Simpson, rental administrator, said today.

Landlords from Sault Ste. Marie, North Bay, Timmins, and other communities in the area, as well as local landlords, are storming the office.

Simpson received the Ontario government's new formula on Wednesday for adjusting rents so that the second job of the new office begins today.

From August 15—the day the office opened—until Wednesday, three rent appraisers and administrators were taking applications for rent adjustment. Friday they start examining the applications and making adjustments.

Every landlord of self-contained accommodation must either apply for rental adjustment or enter into a two-year lease with his tenant.

If such a lease cannot be arranged, the landlord must apply to have his rent fixed.

W. J. Bolvin, city assessment commissioner complained: "Our staff wasn't designed to handle this kind of flood."

NZ Butter Deal Dropped ByGov't

OTTAWA, Aug. 30 (CP). — The government, searching for surplus butter from foreign sources to prevent a shortage in Canada, decided that prices for New Zealand's butter are far too high for Canada's pocketbook, informed quarters disclosed today.

The original intention was to purchase 10,000,000 pounds from New Zealand, but because of the high price, the purchase has been cut sharply and negotiations are under way to swing a butter deal with Sweden, Denmark and Holland.

An announcement on the negotiations is expected to be made within a wek. Meanwhile, it was learned that New Zealand, which sells most of her butter in the United Kingdom market, has asked Canada to pay about 17 cents a pound more for butter than the approximately 45 cents a pound New Zealand obtains from Britain.

Canadian negotiators balked at the price, pared the original purchase down to an undisclosed minimum and decided to make up the difference with European butter.

Red Boss Overrules East German Premier

BERLIN, Aug. 30 (AP).—Communist boss Walter Ulbricht today overruled the East German Communist Premier, Otto Grotewohl, and announced the Communists want no talks on German unity with the present West German government.

Only this week, Grotewohl said he was ready to consult with representatives of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's West German government on such matters as all-German elections.

Ulbricht, nominally Grotewohl's subordinate in the East German government, actually is boss because as secretary-general he has the ear of Moscow and runs the East German party. Ulbricht said there could be no negotiation with Adenauer or his representatives because they were "warmongers," bent on "organizing a new war" at United States direction.

Baby Burned To Death Blame Short Circuit

PICTON, Aug. 30 (CP).—Bobby Finlay, 17-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ian Finlay, was burned to death in his crib Wednesday night. The fire was believed to have started from a short-circuited wire.

Lester Milford, a neighbor, brought out the child's body 10 minutes after the fire started. Earlier attempts by Mrs. Finlay and other neighbors to enter the flame-filled room failed.

One Liner Badly Holed 300 Passengers Removed To Second Boat

Both Vessels Said Making Slow Progress Toward Nearest Port; Take Tourists On Regular Alaska Run

PRINCE RUPERT, BC, Aug. 30. (CP)—Two cruise ship collided in dense fog today 29 miles northwest of this northern port. No one was reported injured in the ramming of Canadian National Steamships' 4,000-ton Prince Rupert and Canadian Pacific Steamships' 6,000-ton Princess Kathleen. First reports said the 300 passengers aboard the Kathleen were transferred to the Rupert but this could not be confirmed immediately. Both ships were making slow progress toward Prince Rupert and were scheduled to arrive here about noon, PDT.

Kathleen Worst Hit

The Kathleen was reported badly holed from forecastle to waterline while the Rupert said she was "slightly damaged."

There were 180 passengers aboard the Rupert.

The Rupert left here at midnight Wednesday for Ketchikan, Alaska. The Kathleen was returning from that port.

Both ships sail every 10 days from Vancouver on northern luxury cruises. Most of the passengers are usually American tourists.

Fly 5-Man Navy Team Fight Polio On Carrier

HALIFAX, Aug. 30—(CP)—A five-man Canadian naval medical team is en route to Valetta, Malta, to help fight an outbreak of polio aboard the Canadian aircraft carrier Magnificent.

The carrier, on a lengthy training cruise, has landed five cases at Malta, two of them in serious condition. Officials say the Magnificent will be quarantined if further cases are reported.

The medical team, headed by Lt.-Cmdr. R. H. Roberts, flew to Montreal aboard a service plane and then took a commercial flight to Malta. They are due there tonight.

10,000 Reds Go Into Lines

US EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Aug. 30 (CP) —About 10,000 fresh Communist troops today dug into the jagged hills of Eastern Korea behind their attacking comrades.

Reds hurled three small, savage assaults at United Nations troops north of Yanggu. All were beaten back.

To the north, UN planes tore up rails and road beds in their determined effort to cut Communist supply lines.

A fresh Communist division — about 8,000 men—was observed digging in northeast of Yanggu, which is 27 miles from the eastern tip of the front. The division, presumably North Korean, was in hills just north of the scene of recent bitter clashes.

Another group of Reds, estimated at about 2,000 men, was seen moving south to the area northwest of Yanggu. Five hundred more Reds were seen digging in in this sector.

In their most persistent attack Thursday, the Reds fought allied troops 13 hours before withdrawing. The attack was supported by mortar and artillery fire. By mid-afternoon it had dwindled to a long-range exchange.

Plant Stoned Police Quell Riot Trouble

MONTREAL, Aug. 30 (CP). — Police reserves were called out Wednesday night to quell a near-riot at the strike-bound Imperial Tobacco Company, Ltd., plant after what the union termed "a sneak company attempt" to move five carloads of cigarettes.

Union and police officials blamed bystanders and members of a leftist union for the two-hour outbreak.

Today, police remained on the scene and a tramways company crew was to clear up a truckload of clay and sand that was dumped across the company siding and the street car track.

The plant was stoned at the height of the outbreak and all windows on the first floor of the four-storey building were smashed.

Three bystanders—Jean Claud Leduc, 19, and Andre Desaulniers 23, both of suburban Verdun, and Ronald Brousseau, 16, of the west-end St. Henri district where the plant is located—were arrested for refusing to obey a police order to move.

Members of Local 234 of the International Tobacco Workers' Union (AFL), the workers struck Aug. 21 for higher wages. Company plants in Hamilton and Granby, Que., also are idle, bringing to 3,700 the number of strikers.

A city councillor said he would meet company officials to ask their help in restoring order.

President Leopold Barrette of Local 234 denied that any of his men stoned the building. He said spectators were responsible for the violence.

Bus Hits Truck Eleven Injured

ARNPRIOR, Ont., Aug. 30— (CP)—A bus carrying 26 children and four adults back from a holiday at Canoe Lake in Algonquin Park struck a truck on the highway near here late Wednesday and careened into a ditch, injuring 11 passengers and the driver.

The driver, Carl Laushway of Winchester, Ont., was taken to hospital from the accident scene five miles west of here with undetermined injuries. His condition is reported serious. Also in hospital is one of the children-passengers, John Hutchinson of Ottawa, who suffered a broken leg.

Four others were treated at hospital then released and six more were treated by a doctor for superficial cuts and bruises.

James Cheery, driver of the truck and his helper, W. E. Gillan of Renfrew, escaped injury though their truck was wrecked.

Police Fear Foul Play As Stroud Iceman Missing

STROUD, Aug. 30 (CP) — Police today joined relatives in a search for Ernest Goheen, 28-year-old Stroud iceman, missing since Tuesday evening when he went fishing on Lake Simcoe.

Plans to drag the lake were postponed until his missing boat is found to give some clue where to search.

Goheen's truck was found beside his icehouse along the lake shore. His dog, Bugle, was sitting beside the vehicle. Search of the beach, however, proved fruitless.

Theories of foul play and possible abduction surrounded Goheen's disappearance. Police discounted the possibility that the iceman had accidentally drowned while fishing.

Residents of Bon Secours beach, in the vicinity of Goheen's icehouse, said he left abruptly after arriving Tuesday. He was seen a short time later on nearby sideroads and returned to the beach in about an hour.

The absence of Goheen's 16-foot skiff led to the belief the man left on a boat trip, or was abducted in his own boat, police said.

Deny 2 Diplomats Been Located By Foreign Office

LONDON, Aug. 30. (AP)—The Foreign Office denied today that British secret agents have located missing diplomats Guy Burgess and Donald MacLean. William Ridsdale, head of the Foreign Office news department, said reports published in two London newspapers this morning were completely "without foundation." Ridsdale conferred with top officials for an hour before making his comment. He said that the search for the two is exactly where it was before the stories were printed in today's issues of the Daily Herald and the Daily Express—in other words, Britain still is hunting for the two officials.

The newspaper stories quoted agents of the British Secret Service as saying they had located the two diplomats who vanished without a trace last May 25.

Ridsdale said the agents claimed they made no such statements.

No Comment

He refused to say whether the secret agents had made any statements at all which might indicate a new development in the Europe-wide search for the two Britons who were in a position to know many of the west's top secrets.

The London Daily Herald said the Foreign Office learned the whereabouts of the two after a three-month search by British agents and western European police. It said MacLean had communicated with his American born wife, Melinda, who is vacationing with their three children on the French Riviera.

The Herald is the newspaper of the governing Labor party and has close government connections.

The Conservative Daily Graphic in a dispatch from Paris, said the same story was current there and added that Mrs. MacLean had left her Riviera villa for a secluded spot in the Var mountains 50 miles away.

Give No Hint

Neither story gave any hint where the men supposedly are and did not indicate one way or another whether they have disappeared behind the Iron Curtain as has been suggested by high officials.

The two men have been the quarry in one of the greatest manhunts of modern times since they disappeared May 25.

Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison told the House of Commons there was no evidence they took any secret documents with them but the government appeared concerned over possible betrayal of western diplomatic secrets.

Court Asked How Long Is Three Months?

The question of how long a three-month suspension of a driver's license lasts was good for a half-hour discussion in police court today.

Defence counsel Gordon H. T. Farquharson, appearing for Raymond Dunford, argued the point with Magistrate W. R. Philp.

Dunford, who lives in Douro township, was charged under the criminal code with driving while his license was under suspension. In January of this year, he was convicted of drunk driving and his license was suspended for three months.

Stopped By Police

On July 29, Dunford was stopped by OPP Constable Amie Gaudry and Lakefield Constable Garnet Samis. He had no driver's license. In court today he explained that shortly before the police met him, the accelerator pedal of his wife's car had fallen off, he had put it on again and was trying it out.

Evidence entered today included a copy of the suspension certificate and a notice that in April the Department of Highways had received no proof of financial responsibility, and the suspension remained in effect.

Mr. Farquharson argued unsuccessfully that the charge should have been laid under the Highway Traffic Act, as the period of suspension was over in July. He argued that since the notice clipped to the suspension certificate was not signed in any way, it was not "the best of evidence."

He suggested the registrar of motor vehicles had no jurisdiction to suspend licenses of his own volition, but needed a court order. Magistrate Philp replied that there were many cases in which, until financial responsibility was proved, licenses were suspended or continued under suspension.

"I think this would be better taken to the court of appeals," the maigstrate remarked. "It's a bit involved." He fined Dunford $40 and costs.

US And Philippines Sign Defence Pact

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30 (AP) — The United States and the Philippines today bound themselves together in a new defence pact pledging each to help the other fight aggression.

The treaty, pledging the US and Philippines to come to each other's aid to meet common danger, is the first of a series of defence agreements designed to shore up Pacific defences against Communist aggression. Others with Japan and with New Zealand and Australia are to be signed in the next two weeks.

India Faces Problem Over Iran Oil Crisis

NEW DELHI, Aug. 30 (Reuters) —The Iranian oil shutdown has forced India to ask three foreign oil companies to set up an oil refinery in India with a 30-year guarantee of no nationalization, it was learned today.

The companies are Caltex and Standard Vacuum, both American, and Burmah-Shell, which is British. The Indian proposal would give them full control over capital and management, and promises compensation if nationalization is carried out after 30 years.

Most of the crude oil probably would have to be imported and the companies would be expected to make their own arrangements to get it.

EIGHT CANOEISTS pulled out from Montreal into a heavy fog and stiff current recently on the first lap of a water trip to New York. The trip, almost 500 miles by water should take the party about 14 days. Six of the canoeists are Montrealers. Two of them came from New York for the event, sponsored by the YMCA.

10,000 Miners Strike In Cape Breton

NEW WATERFORD, NS, Aug. 30 (CP)—An estimated 10,000 miners stayed away from work today as an uncalled strike spread through the Cape Breton coal fields.

When workers came off at midnight, the other shifts didn't report, leaving most of the pits in Eastern Canada's coal industry idle.

The men gave no reason for their failure to report to work but it came closely on the heels of an appeal from miners already on strike at three collieries here.

The earlier walkout came when miners at No. 16 colliery went out to protest what they termed unsafe working conditions. Workers from two nearby pits followed suit, apparently in sympathy.

These men—numbering more than 2,000—formed a 35-car parade into the Glace Bay area Wednesday night to seek support despite an appeal from their union president to return to their jobs.

Freeman Jenkins, head of the 13,000-member United Mine Workers (CCL) district 26, told them it was a "grave mistake" to take maintenance workers out of the three collieries Tuesday night.

Harold Gordon, coal operations chief for Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation, declined comment on the walkouts.

Number Missionaries Not Traced Yet

OTTAWA, Aug. 30 (CP) — A number of Canadian missionaries still are unaccounted for in Red China, External Affairs Minister Pearson said today.

The minister said at a press conference that, besides seven known under arrest, there are others whom the government has been unable to trace and who "may or may not be all right." He did not know how many.

The seven known to be in custody are Roman Catholic Bishop O'Gara, five Catholic religious sisters and a United Church medical missionary.

The Canadian government is working through the United Kingdom and other diplomatic missions in Communist China to get them released. "But as far as I know, we haven't achieved anything," Mr. Pearson said.

Prices Seen Easing On Stock Exchange

TORONTO, Aug. 30 (CP). — Prices eased today in early afternoon stock market dealings.

Support for leading issues weakened noticeably during the mid-session. Gains continued to outnumber losses in marginal changes.

Steels continued a steady advance. Algoma, a feature for the last two days, slipped fractionally. Liquors, manufacturing companies and miscellaneous industrials also climbed. Textiles, papers, refining oils and banks remained firm. Agricultures and constructions turned mixed while utilities weakened. Retail stores showed a broad list of gains ranging to more than a point.

Golds climbed strongly. Giant Yellowknife, Hollinger, Malartic, McIntyre and Teck Hughes added up to $1.50. Kerr-Addison slipped mildly. A scattered list of secondary issues traded actively as gains and losses were held in balance. Prospects and holding companies showed little trend.

Western oils held firm on earlier advances.

Base metals made little headway. Quebec copper climbed pennies as it continued recent activity. Consolidated Smelters, East Sullivan, Labrador and Steep Rock edged ahead. Falconbridge and Mackeno dipped slightly.

Prodigal Sons

CALGARY (CP).—Arthur Peterson, 15 ,and his brother Roy, 13, decided to leave home and head for the United States. The next day, just when police started to organize a search, they returned home. Atfer heading in the wrong direction, they had changed their minds.

Rita To Let Courts Decide On Alimony

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 30 (AP) —Actress Rita Hayworth will let the Nevada divorce courts decide how much Prince Aly Khan should pay for the support of their daughter.

Her lawyer, Bartley Crum, said she will leave Friday for Reno to complete the divorce proceedings she began several weeks ago. Crum said she will seek sole custody of 20-month-old Yasmin. He said that regardless of the Moslem prince's wishes, Miss Hayworth will let the child determine if she wishes to embrace her father's religion.

Miss Hayworth has been asking a $3,000,000 settlement for Yasmin based on large sums Aly set aside for his sons by a previous marriage. The prince's offer for Yasmin was reported to be $9,000 a year.

At the same time, Princess Elizabeth will attend a luncheon given by Mrs. Lawson.

Drive To Gardens

At 2:45 p.m., the royal couple will leave Queen's Park and drive slowly east to the Maple Leaf Gardens on Carlton Street where they will spend half an hour at the circus for crippled children.

At 3:30, the party will drive to Riverdale Park in the east end where several thousand school children from that area of the city will be assembled.

At 4:30, when they leave the park, their Royal Highnesses will take separate routes, Princess Elizabeth going to the new Hospital for Sick Children on downtown University Avenue and the Duke of Edinburgh going to Sunnybrook Military Hospital in suburban North York, just outside Toronto's northern limits.

At 5:30 Princess Elizabeth will have tea with the officers of the 48th Highlanders, of which regiment she is Colonel-in-Chief. She will be joined in the officers' mess by the Duke.

At 6:10, the royal couple will return to their train.

That night they will attend a state dinner to be given by Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Lawson in the Royal York Hotel. After the dinner, they will return to their train which will leave during the night for Niagara Falls.

Manvers Barn, Grain Crop Lost In Blaze

BETHANY, Aug. 30—(ENS)—A barn and a newly-threshed crop of grain straw and hay were destroyed by fire on the farm of Alvin Olan, in Manvers township about half way between Bethany and Pontypool, Wednesday evening.

It is not known how the fire started, but grain had been threshed in the barn Wednesday morning. The threshing equipment had been moved out to a neighboring farm in the early afternoon.

The fire was discovered by a hired man, Fred Youngman, who had just finished the evening milking about 8.30. He saw the whole upper half of the barn ablaze as he was leaving.

The cattle and hogs in the barn were led to safety but in a very short time, the building was destroyed along with all the hay and grain.

Sounds Alarm

Youngman turned in the fire alarm and neighbors and men from Bethany and Pontypool hurried to the scene but there was nothing they could do but stand and watch the barn burn. There is no fire department in the district, but witnesses said the barn burned so quickly a fire pumper would have been as helpless as the neighbors to stop the blaze.

Olan was on his way home from a neighboring farm where he had been helping with the threshing there when the blaze was discovered.

No estimate of the loss was given but it is partly covered by insurance.

Roar Of Lions At Riverside?

Whoever is amplifying recordings of music at or near Riverside Park Sunday or week-days, it is not the Recreation Commission. Alex Sinclair, Recreation Director, says that the Commission hasn't any amplifying equipment for its playgrounds, no gramaphone and not even a needle. Anyway, the playgrounds are closed on Sundays, as far as the Commission is concerned—even for playing music.

T. J. Allen, chairman of the music committee of the Commission expressed himself as "shocked to a pianissimo whisper" that J. D. Anderson, chairman of the Lions Club pool committee, should impute a "Sabbath blare" to the Recreation Commission. "The only thing we have which could blare is the Citizens' Band and not even Mr. Anderson would have the temerity to suggest that our fine band blares. Perhaps what people are hearing over is the roar of Lions—amplified."

"On the one hand he slanders our side as refusing to conduct a re-investigation," the radio said, "and the other stubbornly refuses our request for a re-investigation."

ledge that vessel owners and railway companies know their business better than any outsider," he said.

"I hope that they will work out with us the best method of relieving the bottlenecks which prevent a maximum use of transportation facilities.

Move In Volume.

"Both grain and ore will have to be moved in volume as well as other bulk commodities such as coal, pulpwood, stone and lumber. We believe that the full use of technical skill peculiar to the efficient operation of transport companies should not be interfered with and we shall do our utmost to obviate the necessity of the issuance of orders."

Well-informed sources disclosed Mr. Milner likely will plan to boost the daily shipment of grain from the lakeheads to 2,000,000 bushels a day from the current 1,200,000-a-day rate.

That likely will mean initially a diversion of about two ships a day from other cargo. This is not considered a large disruption.

Canadian Stock Market Strength Noted In Britain

By ALAN HARVEY

LONDON, Aug. 30 — (CP) — British newspapers today called attention to the strength of Canadian securities on the London stock exchange and financial commentators agreed that a minor boom is in the making.

Singled out was the Canadian Pacific, which has risen this year from $43¼ to $68⅜. The latter quotation, reached Wednesday, was the highest this year.

The Financial Times said the demand for Canadian securities was described as having "gone through the roof and beyond". The News Chronicle noted many investors are backing the view that Canada is a good place in which to put money.

Other Canadian shares displaying strength include Anglo-Newfoundland, which has risen from a low this year of 63s to 87s 6d.; Brazilian Traction, which has risen from a low of 37s to 46s; Calgary and Edmonton, now 125s, compared with 57s 6d.; Canadian Western Lumber, 72s 9d. against 41s 9 d.; and International Nickel 79s against 69s.

Oil Discoveries Help

The sprightly movement of Canadian stocks is attributed by British financial commentators partly to the stimulating influence of recent discoveries of oil and iron deposits in Canada, and to a tendency by British investors to avoid the possibility of dividend limitation in Britain.

Prices for Canadian securities quoted in London are at premiums of about 12 per cent on prices quoted in Montreal and Toronto. Explaining this, the News Chronicle said:

"This is because no switching is allowed an English resident holding Canadian securities. The moment he sells a Canadian security he is bound to turn over the proceeds to the exchange control and the dollars raised in this way are then used by the British government to pay off the interest-free loan raised in Canada during the war."

Producing and Refining
"Black Oil"

Husky Oil & Refining Ltd. is actively engaged in the production and refining of "black" or asphalt base oil. The Company owns and operates a refinery of 5,000 barrels per day full refining capacity at Lloydminster, Saskatchewan. It has a major interest in 20 wells, and proposes to acquire 39 additional producing wells.

We offer as principals—

New Issue

Husky Oil & Refining Ltd.
Common Shares of $1 Par Value
Price: $10 Per Share

Proceeds of this issue will be used for drilling and acquiring additional wells to augment the Company's supply of "black oil" and for general corporate purposes.

Husky Oil & Refining Ltd. holds oil and gas rights in over 3,900,000 acres in the Provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan. Contracts with Phillips Petroleum Company, one of the important oil companies in the United States, and with other interests, provide for the exploration and development for light oil, of the holdings by these concerns, with Husky Oil & Refining Ltd. retaining a net interest of some 25%.

The Company's Common Shares are a speculative investment in an aggressive organization qualified to achieve success in the competitive field of western oil development.

Starlings Back Cobourg Shoot A Flop

COBOURG, Aug. 30 (ENS).—Operation Starlings operated recently on the town treasury to the extent of $30 worth of shotgun shells, but as far as being a successful operation in eliminating the starlings, it was a flop. The starlings are thick as ever in the Chapel St. and Walton St. areas and apparently the few hundred which were slain by the gunners have been replaced by twice as many. At any rate they are holding forth again each night with their raucus voices and woe to any car which a motorist has been careless enough to leave underneath a tree.

Roost In Town

Those who have studied the habits of these birds have come to the conclusion that the only way to drive them out is to commence early in the summer when they start roosting at nights in town. The starlings nest in the country, raise their young, and then come in to town to roost at night. One Chapel St. resident, armed only with an air rifle, kept peppering the two trees in front of his home each night during the early summer. The spat of the pellets going through the leaves scattered the birds and a steady repetition for two or three weeks resulted in the starlings giving his two trees a wide berth. They are, however, right across the road and on either side of his property. This leads to the conclusion that if the shotguns went into action early in the summer just when the birds were circling around for a tree to roost in, they would go away and stay away.

Another suggestion, based on the use of gas in Buffalo, is to try gassing the birds out. However, it is felt that it might be easier to use the shotguns, early in the summer.

Schooner Safe

VALPARAISO, Chile, Aug. 30 (AP)—The schooner Iola arrived Wednesday at Juan Fernandez Island with all aboard safe, maritime officials here were advised. The schooner had been feared lost when it failed to show up at Juan Fernandez Aug. 21 as scheduled. The captain said the vessel's engine failed.

Disastrous Fire

BUENOS AIRES, Aug. 30 — (AP)—A passenger train pulled up during a run through Buenos Aires province Thursday to fight a fire that broke out in the dining car. Another train came along behind and rammed it, killing two persons and injuring 16. The fire spread to five sleeping coaches before it was put out.

ARMY POSTMEN—In the first course of its kind, members of the Canadian Postal Corps are receiving instruction from civilian postal personnel. An introductory talk is given here to the men in Ottawa by C. E. McClure, trainer and welfare officer, standing right. These men will handle mail for the Canadian 27th Brigade, slated for duty in Europe.

Play With Hastings

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 30 — (ENS)—Two Campbellford softball veterans, Paul O'Sullivan and Bruce McComb are playing with Hastings in the OASA intermediate playdowns.

Bruce is sharing the pitching duties, and Paul holds down first base. The presen series with Tweed is tied at two games apiece.

Plan Outdoor Church Service

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 30 — (ENS)—Under the direction of the Campbellford Ministerial Association, all churches in the town will unite in an outdoor church service on Sunday evening, September 2.

Plans have been made to hold the service at the High School grounds at 7.30 p.m., but in the event of rain, the service will be in St. John's United Church. The Campbellford Citizens' Band will be in attendance, and will play for the hymns.

The Rev. Joseph Muchan will be the special speaker for the occasion. Mr. Muchan recently returned from India and is an outstanding conference speaker.

Churches in Campbellford, as well as in the outlying areas will participate in the service. Many members are expected from St. Andrew's Burnbrae and Seymour United Churches. The service will be carried over a public address system, so that all may hear, whether in the bleachers or in cars.

The local group is headed by the Rev. Dr. Mansell Smith.

Labor Plans 3-Day Event

COBOURG, Aug. 30—(ENS)—Three entertainment-packed days will feature the annual Labor Day weekend which is being sponsored by the Allied Labor Council. A continuous round of sporting events that will include softball, swimming, field and track events, horse shoe pitching, dancing and a variety show. Topping off the festvities will be the grand draw with a list of prizes totaling $500 in value. These prizes will be drawn for on Monday night at the pavilion where the Allied Labor Council old time and modern dance will be held.

Originally scheduled was a softball series between the Cobourg Pavs and Montreal Paramounts, ladies' teams, but this series has been cancelled, and on Saturday night the Orphans men's team will play the second of their OASA playoff games against Parham.

Sunday evening, commencing at 9:00, in the pavilion, a singsong and variety show will be presented with several well-known local and out-of-town entertainers on the program. Labor Day will have free ice cream for the kiddies, a softball tournament, junior and senior swims and other events.

Our $3½ Million Hospital

Peterborough's new Civic Hospital has cost $3,630,000. The actual money paid out, excluding the cost of the site provided by the City Council, and work done on the grounds by the Parks Department, has been $3,563,000. It is still a vast sum. Citizens of the city and district can be proud of the fact that the money has been found. They can also console themselves that they have put up, directly through mortgaging their future for the next twenty years (in bonds), less than two-thirds of this. The total indebtedness incurred by the tax-paying citizens through the issuance of bonds was $2,100,000. That is the sum borrowed on the authority of the property-owners of the city. The rest of the money came from grants—Federal, Provincial, cash donations, sale of equipment and the like.

* * *

Another consoling feature is this, and the Board of Governors of the Hospital point it out: industrial, financial and business concerns will pay, through their taxes, half the $2,100,000 bond issue. This leaves $1,050,000 to be paid by the homeowners of the city over a period of twenty years. At the end of that time, for these home-owners' outlay of $1,050,000 made in equal payments over twenty years, the fine hospital, its excellent equipment and its magnificent site will be theirs for ever and a day—free of all obligations.

* * *

There is a third light on the darkness of the pessimists: the bonds were issued at a time when interest rates were as low as they have been in thirty years. That is lucky for Peterborough. Had the money to be found now, instead of 2¾ to 3¼ per cent., the taxpayers would have had to pay four or more. Never has a big public building been put up in Peterborough at such low debt-carrying charges.

A-Boats

By the Second World War the Germans had efficiently overcome two basic problems of travelling under the sea: how to keep a craft moving and how to get air. With the device called a snorkel (which is a breathing apparatus sticking out above the hull), U-boats could suck in oxygen for engines and crews without taking in water—provided the vessels were on or just below the surface. When U-boats were fully submerged they had to rely on storage batteries for power and to come up periodically for air, as they did in the first World War. Despite their advanced designs, German U-boats were still hampered: by slow speed and by the necessity of frequently emerging for oxygen and to recharge batteries. Last week an announcement by the U.S. Navy heralded a new submarine age.

Three years ago the American Atomic Energy Commission began to study whether a submarine could be run by atomic power. If it could, it would be able to run at a high speed and almost anywhere and indefinitely on very little fuel—without engines requiring a snorkel. An atomic power plant burns no oxygen. Last week the U.S. Navy announced that a contract to build "the first nuclear-powered submarine" had been awarded to the Electric Boat Company of Groton, Connecticut.

This indicates how far advanced research for harnessing atomic power has become, and spells new wonders for all kinds of locomotion. If an A-submarine is possible, why not an A-transatlantic liner, an A-train and even an A-automobile?

U.S. Post Office In A Tizzy Too

The Post Office Department of the United States now has a deficit of nearly $500,000,000 a year. We do not know what accounting system is used over there; whether, for instance, the cost of sites and buildings is included in this figure. At any rate, that is a definite figure. It is one of the beauties of the United States that firm statistics on almost anything can be produced at the drop of a hat, either by officials of government or by the army of astute, probing newspapermen. Canada does not have, because it cannot afford, such an army, and our governments therefore are very free to produce or not to produce facts and figures. For instance: has or has not the Post Office Department of Canada a deficit? If it has, how much? But who can say—the accounting methods do not reckon costs of sites and buildings because these are provided by a different Department (Public Works).

The American Postal Department has a deficit of half a billion annually, and judging from the present economy antics of the Canadian Post Office we would guess that it, too, has a pretty large annual deficit. The Canadian Post Office is cutting down on service and the American Post Office is planning to get more revenue by coming up to Canadian rates. A new Bill is before Congress to raise the price of ordinary postage from its traditional three cents to four. Air Mail is scheduled to go from six to eight cents the ounce, and the one-cent postcard will go to two cents.

Why has the American Post Office such a large deficit? Here again the American skill and energy in producing statistics are evident. It has been figured out that the U.S. Government sends materials through the mails which cost its Post Office $81 million a year. In addition Congressmen's "franked mail" (mail their elected legislators send out free) costs a million and a half dollars.

It would be illuminating if somebody were to produce definite statistics on the cost to our Post Office Department of sending out Canadian Government reading material, and the cost of the "franked" mail our M.P.'s and Senators send out, without charge to themselves.

A few more statistics and a little less palaver might help the Canadian public to adjust itself to the new circumscribed service the P.O. is offering. But we should never accept without protest the poorer quality which has gone with the reduced amount of the service.

A Ray Of Hope

The day of the inventor who dabbled about in his basement workshop and eventually produced some revolutionary gadget has now gone to that vast repository which now houses, among other things, the day of the horse-drawn beer-wagon and the day of the hansom cab.

This, at least, is the prevalent opinion in this era of vast research organizations and million- or billion-dollar projects. Edison's name is linked with the incandescent lamp; Bell's with the telephone; Watt's with the steam engine. But whose is connected with the atomic bomb? With radar? With rockets? The "inventors" of these boons to mankind are not individuals, but armies; not household names, but anonyms.

The submergence of the individual is becoming the trademark of the twentieth century much too rapidly for our taste, and for this reason we were glad to read that a Seattle engineer has developed a gadget which leaves the research teams far behind. Wayne M. Ross wanted to build a simplified sonar device for finding sunken outboard motors, lost fishing gear and other salvage. The U.S. Navy has been working on this method of undersea detection ever since the war, but apparently its sonar experts were taken aback by the efficiency of Inventor Ross' gadget.

Mr. Ross not only can spot schools of fish with his device, but can usually tell what kind they are. He can navigate narrow channels in a dense fog which keeps even radar-equipped vessels in port. During tests, the screen of his device indicated a submerged steel drum 1,200 feet away, a garbage can at 900 feet, and sand bars, dock pilings, fishnets and ropes.

Mr. Ross has made known his intention to continue "playing around" with the device for a long time. We hope he gets his wish, but somehow we can't help feeling that the powers- that-be will relieve him of his gadget and turn it over to a high-powered team of researchers, who will undoubtedly produce a more efficient piece of work (or perhaps just a less individualistic one) than could Mr. Ross.

Busy Kawartha District

The Ontario Bureau of Statistics and Research obligingly puts out interim reports on how many are doing what in this district. From the August pamphlet we learn that in the "Kawartha Zone"—including the four counties surrounding the city, and also Ontario county, employment in industry increased 16.2 per cent in June above June 1950. Payrolls were up 26.1 per cent. and the average weekly earnings were increased by $4.49. In the same month—June—recorded unemployed in the whole province totalled 38,300, the lowest in several years. Unemployment figures in the interim report are brought up to the first of August of this year, and show then only 37,900 unemployed. So the situation across the Province looks bright in these statistics, and the Kawartha region is sharing the spotlight.

NOTE AND COMMENT

It is now asserted that the juice of the carrot will prevent old age. But it takes the juice of the grape to make you forget old age.

An Ohio clergyman says that there are no bad children—only stupid and thoughtless parents. A bachelor, eh, Parson?

The Brantford Expositor calls attention to a South African Dutch Reformed Church claim that 75 per cent. of today's divorces begin on the dance floor. The Church therefore condemns dancing as being contrary to "Christian ethics." But 75 per cent. of today's marriages begin on the dance floor; doesn't that more than even the score?

Festival Journey To Edinburgh

By IVOR BROWN

IT might have occurred to Edinburgh, with the Festival spirit everywhere a-boil, to cool off a little this year or even to sit right back and let the others get on with it.

It might have advertised the city as a home of peace and tranquillity, entirely free from arts, crafts, crowds, and celebrations, in short, just the place for a quiet holiday.

✧ ✧ ✧

BUT exactly the opposite occurred. First, Edinburgh entertained the world of science; then it made an exclusive and expensive booking of the New York Philharmonic. Then it arranged for a monster parade of pipers and a Gathering of the Clans which, to the complete surprise of the police and the civic authorities, drew about half a million spectators from the city itself and the South of Scotland. Thus there was crowd-chaos on a colossal scale. The Gathering of the Clans was submerged in the gigantic gathering of the Lowlanders, who had come to hear a thousand pipers in full and simultaneous blast and to see a parade of the tartans in unusual splendour.

✧ ✧ ✧

WAS this embarrassing concourse a demonstration of the resurgent national spirit or did it reveal just a canny desire to get a good look for nothing at a vast and vastly picturesque spectacle? Probably there were both motives at work. But, in any case, it was a warning that with a five-day week it is unwise in these years to organize Saturday ceremonies of this magnitude without having the troops out to line the streets and to prevent the crowds overflowing like a thousand rivers in spate and so almost drowning the very thing they come to enjoy.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE moral of Edinburgh's Fifth Festival is that the more you provide nowadays the more will be wanted and consumed. The old favourites become more favoured than ever. The Military Tattoo on the floodlit Castle Rock at nights is expected to have 125,000 spectators before the end. At the Assembly Hall the pageant-drama of the Thrie Estaits is drawing as big audiences as ever although this is its third year. Princes-street on a sunny morning is more heavily populated than ever by standers and starers, shoppers and queuers. There is this difference about Edinburgh's queues. The patient ones are not seeking sausages or cigarettes, but tickets for a concert or a play.

THEN there is the astonishing influx of small theatrical companies into every kind of hall. These are not part of the Official Festival. They are private enterprise ventures, and they take their chances on the fringe of the major productions. The Irish Players are here. Oxford undergraduates are playing "Hamlet" in the Royal High School; "Hamlet's" prototype, Kyd's "Spanish Tragedy," in the University; a team of professional London actors is presenting a new play by C. G. Webber, in St. Mary's Hall; there are at least four teams of Scottish amateurs acting in various premises, and in Heriot's School the history of its famous founder, Jingling Geordie, is being enacted.

The wonder is that there are audiences for all, in addition to the major concerts, operas, ballets, and plays presented by world-famous companies and orchestras from New York, Glyndebourne, Sadler's Wells, and Shaftesbury-avenue. The city bulges over with activity, and yet it somehow houses and feeds the multitudes. The Festival of Britain, so far from damping Edinburgh's enthusiasm, has set a match to the spirit of "Bigger and Better."

One great and beloved figure, that of James Bridie, has gone, and it seems wrong that no play of his is anywhere being given as a memorial tribute to one of the Festival's great stimulators and ornaments. Next year surely, he will be honoured with a major production.

THERE is, perhaps, less social sparkle than before, but the Scots habit of sitting up late to wrangle over what's wrong and what's right is unquenchable. That the Festival has come to stay is proved by the animated discussions on what to do next year. Onward from bigger and better to bigger and best! Those who stress the international aspect are countered by those who want more Scottish items, but here compromise should be easily achieved.

There are fewer flags in the streets, which is an advantage. Handsome cities are not improved by a great spread of ill-matched bunting, and Edinburgh itself is a work of art as notable as any that it now displays. Its beauty needs no titivation. The "conspicuous town," as Marjorie Fleming called it, has had its macabre Old and its serene New elements graced with sunshine and these, in the changing colour-scheme from morning till flood-lit night, have been an incomparable "free-for-all," whatever the artists might be adding to the city's "things of grace."

Lord Provost Miller, third in that office to preside over the great three weeks, has the assurance that public interest, instead of dwindling with the years as some thought that it must, keeps mounting. Ian Hunter and the Festival officials have always their administrative worries, but the great machine that was set moving five years ago seems to gain in smoothness as well as in size.

(Copyright to the Peterborough Examiner from the London Observer)

It Is Human Nature

(Guelph Mercury)

A well-known hotel man is reported as saying that the tipping system must be accepted as an integral part of modern management.

He is probably right; and it would be unfair to place the whole blame on the hotels or their employees. Some people insist on giving tips because they are afraid of being regarded as tightwads; others give tips because it is the only way they have of showing their importance. Many a man who carelessly slips a quarter under a plate in a hotel dining room will plead bankruptcy when his wife wants some small change, or will part with reluctance from a nickel when the collection plate is put under his nose at church on Sunday.

Test For a Theory

(Windor Star)

Finance Minister Abbott has said that inflation can be beaten if everyone works an extra 40 minutes a day. When representatives of Windsor automobile workers are in Ottawa this week, he'll have a chance to tell them how it can be arranged.

An American View: IN THE GOOD OLD SUMMERTIME

Poor Old Rideau Hall!

(OTTAWA JOURNAL)

THE Peterborough Examiner considers Rideau Hall "the ugliest large house we have ever seen; a disgrace to Canadian hospitality, taste and conscience."

The Examiner's opinion may be well-informed and the venerable pile on the fringe of Rockcliffe Park may be an architectural atrocity. The "may" must be emphasized. With a good many other Canadians we take daily pleasure in the main Parliament buildings on The Hill, the soaring Peace Tower, the weather-beaten Library and the flanking guards of the East and West Blocks. But people come in and say the "pseudo-Gothic" design of these buildings is a disgrace and Canada should make up her mind to follow some consistent and more attractive pattern. Buildings are judged by different eyes and opinions vary.

The Peterborough visitor so distressed by Rideau Hall did not mention the new Prime Minister's residence close at hand. For an outlay that in the end will run close to $500,000, it might be expected that modern Canada would have one of the best-designed, best-landscaped, handsomely-furnished, most attractive residences ever established. With a slight whimper for the cost of the undertaking, we dare to say that Mr. St. Laurent's home looks very nice, and then we are confronted by architects who say that it is neither one thing nor another, neither Chateau style, nor Georgian nor, melancholy truth, anything but a place to live in.

And if the architects, advisers and Government experts can, as alleged, make such a hash of a new and costly building why should even the Peterborough Examiner be surprised at the ugliness and lack of style of old Rideau Hall, built for a lumber king and added to thereafter as fancy dictated?

The Examiner has no suggestions on what a suitable Governor General's residence should be like. Neither have we. But we would like to add the comment that ugliness in official residences is part of the British tradition. What, for example, could be more depressing than Buckingham Palace, that flat-faced slab of stone dumped down in the heart of London?

Could it not be argued that long association and warm memory make even the most unhandsome buildings attractive? Canada and Ottawa may not be proud of Rideau Hall, if they ever give it a thought, but like the palace it has been hallowed by the work and the spirit of the men and women who lived in it. They might have been better people, wiser, more far-sighted, if they had lived in modernistic establishments, with every subsidiary building set in its proper place and the whole a delight to the eye and to the planner. They might have been. But we doubt it.

Those 'Intelligence' Tests

(Ottawa Journal)

Results of an "intelligence test" put on by a Summer school group at an Ontario university are being deplored by some newspapers.

It seems that when the students were asked to give the approximate population of the United States and Russia most of the replies put the US population far higher than the USSR.

Often we wonder how much such "intelligence tests" tell; or rather wonder whether there couldn't be better tests. There must be many things in life of which knowledge is more important than the respective populations of the US and USSR.

Years ago the writer of these lines attended a Washington press conference given by the late great Rt. Hon. Arthur Balfour, then on an important war mission to the US. One of the US correspondents asked Mr. Balfour what was the population of Great Britain. Mr. Balfour, standing with his back to a fireplace in the British Embassy, looked up at the ceiling for a few moments, smiled apologetically, and said: "I confess I don't know."

Mr. Balfour, who was a famous statesman, and who in his day wrote such a work as "The Foundation of Philosophic Doubt" was hardly unintelligent.

U.S. Cotton Surplus

(Kitchener-Waterloo Record)

This year's cotton crop in the United States is rated to be the third largest in that country's history and southern congressmen fear the big surplus will depress prices.

A Washington report has it that the government is thinking of taking some of the vast funds that have been voted for defence stockpiling and spending it instead on propping the price of over-plentiful cotton. It may be decided to classify cotton as a "critical material" and start adding it to the US stockpiles, to prevent a surplus from burdening the market.

This would be a fresh definition of "critical material." Up to now, it has been applied only to scarce commodities, vital in war, such as copper and natural rubber.

It seems the old law of supply and demand is being blocked at every turn these days. We are living in an age of propaganda and price props.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And the child grew, and waxed strong in spirit, filled with wisdom: and the grace of God was upon him. Now his parents went to Jerusalem every year at the feast of the passover. And when he was twelve years old, they went up to Jerusalem after the custom of the feast. And when they had fulfilled the days, as they returned, the child Jesus tarried behind in Jerusalem; and Joseph and his mother knew not of it. . . .

And it came to pass, that after three days they found him in the temple, sitting in the midst of the doctors, both hearing them, and asking them questions . . . And when they saw him, they were amazed: and his mother said unto him, Son, why hast thou thus dealt with us? Behold, thy father and I have sought thee sorrowing.

And he said unto them, How is it that ye sought me? wist ye not that I must be about my Father's business? . . . And he went down with them, and came to Nazareth, and was subject unto them: but his mother kept all these sayings in her heart.

And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favour with God and man. (Luke 2:40-43, 46, 48, 49, 51, 52.)

And it came to pass in those days, that Jesus came from Nazareth of Galilee, and was baptized of John in Jordan . . .

Now as he walked by the sea of Galilee, he saw Simon and Andrew his brother casting a net into the sea: for they were fishers. And Jesus said unto them, Come ye after me, and I will make you to become fishers of men. (Mark 1:9, 16, 17.)

Unconsidered Trifles

Wifey—Oh, Bill, baby can walk!

Hubby—That's fine. Now he can walk up and down at night by himself.

✧ ✧ ✧

The physics teacher was talking about displacement. "Miss Jones," he said, "would you be good enough to tell the class what happens when a body is placed in water?"

"Certainly," said Miss Jones, the most popular girl in the school. "The telephone rings."

✧ ✧ ✧

A suspicious wife made a surprise call at her husband's office. Encountering his pretty secretary, she introduced herself and added:

"I'm so glad to meet you, Miss Shapely My husband has told me so little about you!"

Royalty and Roads

(Letter to Calgary Herald Editor)

Everybody admires and respects our King and Queen, and the rest of the Royal Family, but $15,000 for a five-hour visit is really too much. That is $3,000 for one hour.

Princess Elizabeth and her husband the Duke of Edinburgh would not like it if they knew what a poor city Calgary is. Just imagine what a lovely lot of roads that sum would make, especially in Ogden.

The Ogden busses nearly throw us off our seats, and it's not the fault of the bus driver. When you step off anywhere on the road in Ogden, you have to step up on a bank of stones, or I should say rocks, and you have a very nasty fall, especially when you have not much balance owing to sickness.

Merchants Blank the Petes To Lead OBA Series By Two

OSHAWA, Aug. 30—Oshawa Merchants took a 2-0 lead in their 5-out-of-9 OBA playoff series with the Petes here at the Kinsmen stadium last night when they chalked up an impressive 11-0 victory. The two clubs go right back at it again on Thursday, at Riverside Park in the Liftlock city.

Just prior to the game, the two clubs received a telegram from the Viaduct League president notifying them that the first two games were to be considered as a playoff for first place in the final standing of the Viaduct Major League and if the Petes tied up the round then the third game was to be played at Millen stadium. The wire further indicated that after first place had been decided the two clubs were free to proceed with their own playoff to decide which team would move into OBA playoffs against the Inter-County League champions.

In effect, Oshawa's victory put the Viaduct League's official blessing on the series, since the Merchants won to win the now mythical 2-out-of-3 series and thus legalized the balance of the series already scheduled.

Victory was especially sweet for the homesters as they made their season's consistent nemesis, Bill (Lefty) Dadson the victim of his playoff triumph. Dadson didn't have it last night. Vic Napolitano opened the first inning with a triple and although he failed to get across the plate, his blow was the tip-off of things to come.

Two singles and two walks in the 5th forced home a run with the bases loaded and that ended Dadson's stay on the mound. Merchants got five runs in the 3th.

Berning, with two triples and two singles in five trips to the plate, was the big hitter of the night with Napolitano and Wood each having a pair. George Brabin and Fred Garvey each had two of Peterborough's half-dozen safeties.

Won His 11th

Manager Mike Mellis pitched a superb game, quite his best performance of the season for his 11th win in as many starts. He struck out 10 batters and didn't issue a single walk and of the six hits he allowed, only once did the visitors threaten. Garvey singled in the 6th with one out but was forced by Golden, then Brabin singled to send Golden to third but Bill Huntley was forced to pop up to end the inning.

The 9th inning was perhaps Peterborough's greatest bid for a run and it saw three of the most sensational plays ever witnessed in senior ball. Brabin slashed one through the box and Napolitana went far behind and beyond second base to make a one-handed scoop and just failed to throw Brabin out at first. On the next play, Huntley drilled a liner into short centre and rightfielder Dick Berning came from nowhere to make a diving catch, just getting his glove under the ball as it reached the grass-tops.

Neil Thompson, pinch-hitting for Joe Stewart, struck out to end the game but on the second pitch Brabin tried to steal second and was thrown out on a wonderful throw to second by catcher Chuck Walsh. Napolitano had only to catch the ball it was right on Brabin's hip as he made his last step.

Mimico Trips Hamilton 13-6 In Semi-Finals

MIMICO, Aug. 30 — (CP) — Mimico Mountaineers romped to an easy 13-6 win Wednesday night in the first game of their Senior Ontario Lacrosse Association semi-final series with the legweary Hamilton Tigers.

Second game of the best-of-five series is scheduled for Hamilton Friday night.

Playing their fourth game in five nights, the tired Tigers held Mounties in check until the third period but faded in the final quarter. The score stood 2-2 at the end of the first, 4-3 by halftime and the Mounties were well away with a 9-5 lead at the start of the fourth.

Denny Peterson, Ted Downer, Pop Chard and Ken Dixon scored doubles for Mimico while singles went to Ken Kyle, H. Downer, McPhail, Horwood and Pritchard. Tommy Love sank three for the Tigers. Netting one goal each for Hamilton were A. Smith, Davidson and Digby.

Colborne Subdues Legionnaires 10-4

COBOURG, Aug. 30.—Cobourg Legionnaires blew up in the sixth inning here Wednesday night and Colborne Dodgers scored eight runs to win the first game of the semi-finals of the Lakeshore Baseball League 10-4. The teams were deadlocked 2-2 at that time. Fourteen batters went to the plate in the big rally.

Karl Higgenbotham, Colborne's US Negro import, playing his last game for the Dodgers, made a fitting farewell. He relieved Bill Ball in the first on the Colborne mound after two runs were in and held the Cobourg team to three hits and two runs the rest of the way.

Merchants Humble Port Hope 13-4

LINDSAY, Aug. 30 — Lindsay Merchants took the opening game of the Lakeshore intermediate "B" baseball semi-finals by blasting out a 13-4 win over Port Hope Onlarios here Wednesday night.

The locals raked three pitchers for 16 hits, scoring six runs in the second and four in the fifth. Doug Loucks hurled eight-hit ball for the winners, fanning 14, to run his strikeout total to 33 in 18 innings.

Lew McTaggart and Dean Tompkins led the hit parade, while Grant Mitchell cracked out his third home run of the year over the left field wall in the fourth. Johnny Keller led the losers with three hits, smashing out a two-run double in the third when the Ontarios scored all their runs.

Pacific Coast League Quits Organized Ball

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 30 — (AP)—Directors of the Pacific Coast League voted unanimously Wednesday to withdraw from organized baseball unless the major league is eliminated.

The drastic action followed a day-long emergency meeting in which the resignation of Paul I. Fagan, owner of the San Francisco Baseball Club, as a league director was officially accepted.

The directors sent the San Francisco club a letter warning it that unless assurances were received immediately that Coast League baseball would be played in this city in 1952, the franchise and players would be forfeited to the league.

Find Toohy's Injuries Not Very Severe

HAMILTON, Aug. 30—(CP)—Ralph Toohy, Montreal lineman injured Wednesday night in the initial Big Four football game of the season, was later discharged from hospital after an X-ray examination.

Doctors at first feared the outside wing had fractured a vertebrae in colliding with photography equipment on the sidelines. But no break was discovered. He'll have a sore neck for a while.

Montreal Alouettes lost the game 37-6 to Hamilton Tiger-Cats.

Mt. Pleasant Wins

Mount Pleasant blasted out a 20-4 fastball playoff victory over McGinness last night, with 19 hits to eight for the losers, each side booting three. The winners put together five runs each in the first, second and sixth innings, with two in the fifth and one each in the third, seventh and eighth. McGinness got two in the fifth and one apiece in the second and ninth. Teams:

McGinness: Metcalfe, Ferguson, Killingbeck, Cacavella, Leether, Corrigan, Garden, Sabourin, Page and Fowler.

Mount Pleasant: Dracup, Craig, K. Bryan, J. Bryan, Jamieson, Fair, Crawford, Mitchell, Parker.

Umpires: Robinson and White.

Costly Mining

SYDNEY, NS—(CP)—His own private production of "bootleg" coal proved costly for a Point Aconi resident. He was fined $50 on conviction of a charge brought by police by Old Sydney Collieries.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

Chips are down now for the local junior lacrossers (Filter Queen) as they open playoffs here tomorrow eve. It's an 8.45 joust with the Mimico scrappers first of a best-of-five OLA junior "A" series. Second one is Tuesday at Mimico. If it goes the full distance, the fifth fray will be on neutral grounds, according to word from the Ontario Lacrosse Association. We don't see why, as Lou Vitarelli's pack finished the schedule in first place. Anyway, the money sawoffs are on, and the winner of this set goes right into the Minto Cup (or Dominion) finals against the Western Canada winner. That cup series will be in the East this year. Come out and support the boys, eh?.

* * * * * *

President Bob Peirson of the senior OLA Petes — now waiting a Hamilton-Mimico winner for Eastern Canada finals — takes his lacrosse seriously. Recently he managed a business trip to Vancouver and, of course, scouted a few senior gutted-stick games there. Bob is quite positive his Timbermen will be making the trek West in September. And he thinks they can beat the best out there, probably New Westminster. That's the club Moon Wootton and his Owen Sound mates of last year took for the Mann Cup. Prexy Peirson was one of the men who backed bank notes to have the new bowl built here, and he usually drives a bunch of players on scheduled trips. Roots plenty for 'em all the way.

Brabin Belts a .420

Baseball hitting averages are in tonight for the senior Petes in their scheduled games. They show George Brabin leading the way with a terrific .420 mark. The husky young left-fielder, who came here last spring (with Bunny Maeson) from Oshawa because the USA brand of ballster gets the breaks there, is a consistently fine hitter. As well as a good outfielder. Bill Huntley also hit a swell .404—and anyone hitting over .400 is really outstanding. Nifty .300 or better batsmen were Dick Golden, Freddy Garvey, Bill Dadson and Andy Milne, while Joe Stewart barely missed the charmed circle. Mighty nice hitting by the Petes as a whole this long diamond semester.

* * * * * *

Oshawa Merchants and the Petes aren't sparing themselves any by deciding on a marathon best-of-nine serial to put a team into senior OBA playdowns by Sept. 8, 'gainst the Brantford-London winner. Third of the set goes tonight, weather permitting, at eight in Riverside and the fourth is here, too, tomorrow eve. Scene then shifts to Oshawa on Saturday and also there Monday (the holiday) for morning and evening games. If they're still at it after that the series winds up here on Sept. 5 and 6, next Wednesday and Thursday. What will they be using for pitchers by that time? Anyway, ball fans, come out and see these oldtime and classy opponents fight it out in the big serial.

* * * * * *

Just Didn't Have It

The Petes didn't have it last night in the Motor City and even Bill Dadson can't win with wobbly support. The locals now trail by two games and must pull up their sox and get in there on home terrain tonight and tomorrow and take a couple, or they've about had it in this series. But there's time yet, and they'll be fighting mad from here on in. Bunny Morganson wrote yesterday in the Tely: "Oshawa Merchants and Peterborough were informed today that they are still playing for first place in the Viaduct League and not for the OBA, or suspensions will follow." The OBA advised Petes and Oshawa to arrange a series to put a team in against the Brantford-London winner by Sept. 8, so how can the Viaduct Loop over-rule the Ontario body?

* * * * * *

In girls' softball last warmish evening, Marines captured the city intermediate title and the Knox Trophy over Ashby's. Took the deciding game 5-1 after Ashby's had forced the series the limit by winning 8-7 in the opener of last night's twin bill. Both were fine frays between two classy and well-matched teams. Woollens hold the junior crown and Quaker Cup, while Westclox won the senior city title and R. S. Cotton Trophy. The Clockers dropped a 3-0 verdict in Agincourt last p.m. to open their best-of-three PWSU intermediate series as M. Fox threw a six-hitter and fanned 17. At that, 'twas a tidy tilt and Westclox might well take the two games here Saturday to advance further along the playdown path.

Agincourt Wins First One From Westclox

Agincourt blanked Westclox 3-0 on the former's diamond last night to open their best-of-three PWSU second-round intermediate series. The second and third games will be staged in Peterborough on Saturday, probably afternoon and evening. Westclox had earlier eliminated Belleville in provincial playdowns.

M. Fox on the home mound served up six-hit ball and fanned 17 in a fine showing, but at that it was Westclox jitters that beat the Liftlock City belles. M. Hodgson gave up just eight hits, fanning four, and was steady with runners on bases. The Clockers had the only two errors of the swell struggle. M. Hawthorne got two of her side's hits and caught a good game. F. Allard led the winners at bat with two in three attempts. Teams:

Westclox: M. Batley, lf; B. Morrow, ss; J. McIntyre, 1b; M. Hawthorne, c; A. Anderson, cf; M. Owen, 3b; J. Snape, 2b; B. Rumble, rf; M. Hodgson, p.

BATTING CHAMP — Leftfielder George Brabin hit .420 to take the batting crown for the Petes during their Viaduct Major Baseball League schedule. He led hard-hitting Bill Huntley by 16 points as the club played 39 schedule games, another one being a forfeit.

George Brabin Hits .420 For The Petes

Chunky left-fielder George Brabin led the Petes of the Viaduct Baseball League in hitting this season with a grand average of .420 in 37 games played. The young ex-junior from Oshawa clouted consistently all season as well as fielding in practically flawless fashion. The club played 39 games, another one being forfeited to them in Toronto. Averages do not concern the playoffs.

Bill Huntley, husky right-fielder, and spare catcher, also came up with a brilliant batting mark, hitting .404 in 36 games. He led the squad in hitting at various times during the season. Dick Golden came through with .358, Freddy Garvey with .312, Lefty Bill Dadson with .308 and Andy Milne with a neat .307. Just out of the charmed circle of .300 hitters was Joe Stewart with a respectable .296. The list:

Marines Take Girls' Title Over Ashby's

Outboard Marines won the city girls' intermediate softball championship and the Knox Trophy at the Bowl last night by beating Ashby's 5-1 in the deciding game. Ashby's edged Marines 8-7 in the first half of the twin bill to sew up the series, but were held to six hits by E. Whittaker in the night cap. Marines meanwhile pounded out 13 safe blows and made them count in a neat showing. It was a snappy one-hour game of errorless ball. B. McMahon, V. Page, M. Boyce, and B. Callan all shining. E. Brown and E. Whittaker threw the doubleheader. R. Leal led the winners at bat with three in five, as homers were hit by M. Behan and M. Gillen. M. Boyce of Ashby's had three for five.

The first was a fine fray, too, apart from a couple of bad throws which made the difference. The hitting and fielding were quite even, E. Brown, J. Dunk, V. Page and E. Whittaker standing out afield. Ashby's won it in the ninth. J. Reynolds and J. Dunk led them at bat with three in four tries, E. Whittaker and V. Page of Marines each having three hits also. The game was run off in an hour and 10 minutes. Teams:

Ashby's: D. Thompson, cf; J. Reynolds, c; M. Freeman, 1b; M. Boyce, lf; E. Brown, p; R. Boyce, ss; J. Dunk, 3b; S. Wakeford, rf; B. Callan, 2b.

Yanks Wallop Browns 15-2 And Acquire Johnny Sain, Indians Bow To Philadelphia

By RALPH RODEN, Associated Press Sports Writer

New York Yankees won the 1949-50 pennants with late-season acquisitions from the National League and the Bombers today are banking on another Johnny-come-lately from the senior circuit to ensure success in their current drive for the American League championship. Johnny Sain, veteran right-hander, is the latest Yankee importation from the National League. The Yanks acquired him from Boston Braves Wednesday and celebrated the purchase by trouncing the Browns 15-2 in St. Louis to tie Cleveland for first place. The Indians dropped a 3-0 decision to Philadelphia.

Sain, picked up for $50,000 and minor-league pitcher Lew Burdette, will join the Yanks in Washington Saturday. The 32-year-old vet is tabbed for relief duty. He won only five and lost 13 for the Braves this season. Sain, a 20-game winner three times, was waived out of the National League.

The Yanks dipped into the National League in 1949 and bought Johnny Mize from New York Giants. Mize's big bat helped win the pennant and also the world series. Last year the Yanks got Johnny Hopp from Pittsburgh and his pinch-hitting and pinch-running figured prominently in the Yanks' successful defence of their laurels.

Allie Reynolds stopped the Browns on two hits while the Yanks clubbed Brownie ace Ned Garver and two relief pitchers for 17 hits. Ken Wood drove in both St. Louis' runs with a fourth inning homer.

Team Up For Win

Gus Zernial and Alex Kellner teamed up to beat the Indians. Zernial drove home two runs with his 29th homer and doubled and scored the third Philadelphia run. Kellner blanked the Indians on five safeties in out-pitching Mike Garcia.

In other American League games Boston Red Sox turned back Detroit Tigers 7-5 and Washington Senators nosed out Chicago White Sox 2-1 in 13 innings.

In the National League, the pace-setting Brooklyn Dodgers humbled Cincinnati Reds 13-1, the runner-up New York Giants downed Pittsburgh Pirates 3-1, and St. Louis Cardinals nipped Philadelphia Phils 3-2 and Boston Braves defeated Chicago Cubs 4-1.

In There Clicking

Gil Hodges drove home seven runs on a pair of homers and a double to lead the Dodgers. The homers boosted Hodges' output to 36, most ever hit by a Brooklyn player in one season. Babe Herman held the former high, 35. Don Newcombe breezed to his 17th victory.

Jim Hearn stopped the last-place Pirates on three hits in winning a duel from Murry Dickson who was seeking his 18th victory. Al Dark sealed the verdict with a homer in the eighth.

The Cards scored a run in the ninth without a hit to edge the Phils. Gerry Staley was the winner and Ken Heintzelman the loser.

Montreal Royals Bow To Orioles 5 to 4

By The Associated Press

Montreal Royals today were only five victories away from clinching their sixth International League pennant.

Manager Walter Alston's Royals led the runner-up Rochester Red Wings by 10½ games and have 12 games remaining to the Wings' 17.

The Royals, by winning five of the 12 games, would finish with a 96-58 mark. The Wings, even if they won all of their 17, would come in second with a 95-58 slate.

Montreal dropped a rain-shortened 5-4 decision to Baltimore Orioles Wednesday but advanced a step closer to the pennant as Rochester suffered an 18-8 beating at the hands of Toronto Maple Leafs.

Little Blix Donnelly limited the Royals to five hits in the game that was called because of rain after six innings. Anse Moore's fifth-inning homer decided the issue.

Pound Four Pitchers

The Leafs pounded four Rochester pitchers for 19 hits with Les Fleming and Frank Colman leading the way with four hits each. Fleming featured the bombardment, driving in seven runs on a pair of homers and a double. Irv Medlinger, touched for single runs in each of the first four innings, breezed to victory.

Syracuse's third-place Chiefs edged Buffalo Bisons 5-4, pulling the decision out with three runs in the ninth inning. Vic Power singled home the first run and Hank Workman followed with a game-winning run double. Ottawa and Springfield were idle.

ENGLISH CRICKET CLUB WINS

The touring Marylebone Cricket Club from England Wednesday defeated an Okanagan Valley XI by a score of 194 for seven wickets declared to 59 at Vernon, BC.

Flores KO'd, Fails To Regain Consciousness

NEW YORK, Aug. 30 (AP). — Welterweight boxer George Flores of Brooklyn, who was knocked out and failed to regain consciousness Wednesday night, was reported in critical condition today after a brain operation.

Dr. James Daniels, who participated in the operation, said the object was to remove pressure on a blood clot. Indications were that there would be no change in the 20-year-old Flores' condition for several hours.

He was taken to St. Clare's hospital after being knocked out by Roger Donoghue of Yonkers, NY, in the eighth and last round of the semi-final bout of the Kid Gavilan-Billy Graham welterweight championship card at Madison Square Garden.

At the hospital were Flores' wife, Elaine, and other relatives. Also on hand were Al Weill, matchmaker, and Harry Markson, managing director, of the International Boxing Club, as well as Barney Felix, who refereed the bout.

Nailed With Right

Felix counted Flores out after Donoghue had nailed him with a right, sending his mouthpiece spinning out of the ring, and followed with a sharp left hook. The time was 46 seconds.

It was the first appearance in Madison Square Garden for Flores who has been boxing professionally only since May, 1950.

He has come along fast, winning ten bouts and losing two last year. In 1950 he was knocked out by Chicago Vejar of Brooklyn. Two weeks ago Donoghue stopped him in the eighth round at White Plains. Before that Flores was knocked out by Johnny Cerky in the fourth round at Fort Hamilton.

Tiger-Cats Smash Alouettes 37-6

HAMILTON, Aug. 30 (CP). — Football fans stood back today to take a good, long look at Hamilton's surprising Tiger-Cats.

The power-packed Bengals gave notice Wednesday night they'd take some beating in the Big Four football this autumn by clawing the favored Montreal Alouettes 37-6 in the league's opening struggle.

Coming on the heels of a recent exhibition beating given Toronto Argonauts, Wednesday night's victory gave opposing mentors something to think about. Hamilton displayed a versatile attack and strong defensive ability in ripping through the Montreal line for six touchdowns, all of them converted.

Speedy Hal Waggoner sparked their offensive, scoring three touchdowns. Other majors were by Tip Logan, Ralph Bartolini and Bob McDonald. Montreal's lone major came in the first quarter when Joey Pal snagged a pass by George Ratterman.

A near-capacity crowd of 14,000 fans saw Hamilton score two touchdowns in the first four plays of the game. By the quarter the Tiger-Cats led 12-6, at the half 18-6 and by three-quarter time 30-6.

Waggoner, fleet-footed halfback from Tulane University, twice galloped more than 40 yards for majors, outdistancing the fastest Alouette with apparent ease. Logan, who came to Hamilton from Queen's University, collected 11 points in scoring his major and converting all Hamilton touchdowns.

The Cats' tank-like line crashed through the Montreal wall almost at will, forcing Ratterman to pass hurriedly. He managed to complete 19 of 44 attempts during the game. Four were intercepted. For Hamilton, Bernie Custis completed 10 of 22 heaves.

Ratterman, $20,000 passing expert from Buffalo Bills and New York Yankees, found his gains through the air offset largely by the mammoth Hamilton ground attack.

Here And There In Sports

By The Canadian Press

The old champion—Dr. Stanton—comes back to Thorncliffe raceway Friday to defend his Canadian pacing championship in the Dominion's richest harness race—the Canadian Cup.

The race will be run in two heats with the winner sharing the $25,000 prize.

Dr. Stanton will meet five red-hot rivals, including two American challengers — Hodgen and Royal Man.

Hodgen, from the stable of Mrs. Mildred Knisely, Toledo, Ohio, has paced the mile in 1.58 3/5 and has won more than $65,000 in purses. Royal Man has won $75,000.

But the $141,000 winnings of Dr. Stanton, owned by Lindy Fraser of Forest, Ont., constitute a world record for pacing geldings.

Malcolm Hanover, king of the pacers in Ontario this season, will get his first opportunity Friday to race against the top horses on the continent.

Art Foster of Winnipeg scored an upset Wednesday when he defeated former Davis Cupper, Bob Murphy, of Toronto, 7-5, 6-4, in the Ontario Senior and Toronto Cricket Club international invitation tennis tournament at Toronto.

At Listowel, Miss Corporal Grattan, owned by Omar Cunningham of Clandeboye, Wednesday ran the fastest mile of the Listowel Agricultural Society's harness race meet this season. She covered the distance in 2:13.

Brantford will meet Kitchener and Niagara Falls will play Hamilton Westinghouse in the semi-final round for the Herald Cup, the Hamilton and District Soccer Association announced Wednesday night. Games will be played Sept. 8 at Brantford and Niagara Falls.

Southern Ontario Soccer League standing to Aug. 25 placed Niagara Falls first with 23 points, Brantford second with 21 and Guelph third with 20.

The next world hockey championships will be held in 1953 at Zurich and Basel in Switzerland, the congress of the International Ice Hockey League has decided.

Belgrade radio reported the decision Wednesday following a meeting of the congress at the Yugoslav summer resort of Opatija.

Lethbridge Maple Leafs retained the world hockey title for Canada last winter at Paris, Edmonton Flyers won the crown the previous year.

A troops of 16 members of the Cairo, Egypt, mounted police will sail from their home city today for the United States and a trio of horse shows, it was announced Wednesday.

The riders will appear at the National Horse Show New York, the Pennsylvania National at Harrisburg and the Royal Winter Fair show at Toronto.

Whether Shawinigan Falls Cataracts operate in the Quebec Senior Hockey League this year may be determined in Quebec today.

A delegation from the municipal commission and a syndicate that jointly operate the arena here leaves for Quebec today to discuss with Quebec officials the question of raising $20,000-$22,000 to heat the arena.

Jerry Kerschner Wins CNE Swim In Close Finish With Bevan

TORONTO, Aug. 30—(CP)—A fighting finish that battled off the challenge of an untried 18-year-old from Winnipeg Wednesday night gave Jerry Kerschner, 29, of Toronto and Columbus, O., the world's professional swimming championship.

Stroking powerfully in an unprecedented finish to the 10-mile marathon along the Canadian National Exhibition's waterfront, Kerschner beat George Bevan, 18, to win $5,000 in the time of 4 hours, 26 minutes and 32 seconds.

For the last eight laps it appeared the race would go to the young Winnipegger, making his first professional appearance after winning the Canadian Amateur Two-Mile title at the CNE Monday.

His blistering pace (he finished less than five minutes behind Kerschner) gave him the edge over the rest of the pack, including defending champion Cliff Lumsden, of suburban New Toronto, who ended fourth.

Close Finish

So close was the finish that all six prize winners, for the first time in CNE history, came in within 12 minutes and 27 seconds.

The winners and what they won:

Kerschner, $5,000, plus $150 in lap prizes.

Bevan, $2,500 plus $400 in lap prizes, including $50 for the fastest mile, 23 minutes and 40 seconds.

Lumsden, $750; Steve Wozniak, Buffalo, New York, $500 for fourth place; Forbes H. Norris, Jr., Winchester, Mass., $300 for fifth, and Paul Maloney, another Buffalonian, $150 for sixth.

Some 27 swimmers of the 39 starters were in the water when the race ended but the field was called in when the six prize-winners finished. When Kerschner hit the finishing barge, one competitor was still four miles back.

Big Surprise

One af the race's biggest surprises was the withdrawal of Ben Gazel, 40, of Toronto, who won in 1947. He was suffering from laryngitis.

Bevan started very fast and finished the first five miles in record-breaking time of 2 hours, 5 minues and 4 seconds. The previous record was held by Frank Pritchard, of Buffalo, who finished six minutes, 55 seconds later in 1936.

In the seventh mile Kerschner began moving up. At the eighth lap young George led by only 50 yards. Half a mile or so later Kerschner sprinted to overtake the 18-year-old. At the finish he was almost a quarter-mile ahead.

OLA Midgets Ousted

Long Branch eliminated the local midget lacrossers 14-6 here last night in the return game of their OLA playdown series. They had won handily at home previously. Despite the count, Delahaye played a fine game in the nets and all the losers battled hard against a smooth-passing crew. Hunt scored two for the homesters as one each went to J. Hobart. Smythe, Chambers and Bloom. Ruse and Colman had four each for the winners, two apiece going to Granger and Laterno and one each to Neave and Rennie. Teams:

Long Branch: Cross, Barton, Wittington, Brown, Laterno, Howard, Granger, Cooper, Florian, Neave, Colman, Ruse.

Peterborough: Relahaye, Braniff, Roode, Hobart, J. Sutherland, Saunders, Smythe, Chambers, Bloom, Hunt, Orde, D. Sutherland.

Referees, T. Hewitt and B. Hill.

BC Golfers Big Threat For Championship

By ERWIN FRICKE

OTTAWA, Aug. 30—(CP)—Not since 1929 has one city produced both finalists in the Canadian Amateur Golf Championship. Vancouver stands a chance of pulling it off this year.

All four Vancouver golfers to start the week-long competition at the Royal Ottawa are still in there today at the start of the fifth round. They comprise half the field.

There is defending champion Bill Mawhinney, Laurie Roland, the new junior champion, Percy Clogg and Walter McElroy. All are extremely competent players.

Clogg, a one-time professional, advanced to the quarter-final round with sharp iron work that netted him a lopsided 7-and-6 victory over Pete Kelly, of Fredericton. Kelly was persistently driving into the woods.

Roland, an 18-year-old protege of Stan Leonard of professional golf fame, Wednesday took out Gerry Kesselring, of Kitchener, 2 and 1. Kesselring was a leading contender for the amateur title and had been shooting beautiful golf for easy victories until he hit Roland. The Vancouver junior got ahead early and had the tall Kitchener golfer pressing most of the route.

Farley, twice runner-up and a competitor in the Canadian amateur probably more often than anyone in the present competition, played steady golf to defeat young Ron Going, of Ottawa—a former Royal Ottawa caddie, 3 and 2.

Mayhinney's fourth-round victory was over powerful-hitting Glenn Gray, of Edmonton. The tall Vancouver star got away to a poor start but wound up with a hot 5-and-4 win.

Erratic Mare Wins Her Second Heat

TORONTO, Aug. 30 — (CP) — Celia's Counsel, the speedy but sometimes erratic mare owned by Hon. W. Earle Rowe, former federal cabinet minister, gave one of her typical performances Wednesday.

In the first heat of her race, she broke stride twice and finished far out of the money. In the second heat, she trotted like a horse of the highest calibre and won the one mile and one-sixteenth i nthe smart time of 2.15.

The Third of September Is a Day to Remember!

They'll Do It Every Time — By Jimmy Hatlo

SAFE AND SAUER—New York Giants' third baseman, Bobby Thomson, leaps to avoid sliding Hank Sauer of the Chicago Cubs. Sauer was safe as he advanced on an outfield fly in the second inning of the first game at New York. A moment later, he scored, but the Giants squeaked through to win, 5-4, in 12 innings, for their 15th straight victory. The umpire is Lee Ballanfant.

Gavilan Wins Hairline Decision Over Graham

By TED SMITS.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30 (AP). — Kid Gavilan won a hairline decision over Billy Graham, to keep the world welterweight championship, but the fight served only to start a furious argument.

It was their third meeting and the third split decision. Graham now has won once and the Cuban twice.

The 15-round fight Wednesday night in Madison Square Garden desolved itself into a matter of personal opinion. Gavilan was more generally the aggressor, started fast, and threw long, looping punches. Graham was the superb counter-puncher, started slowly, and closed with a mighty rush. Despite the numerous blows there were no knockdowns and no serious damage.

Judge Arthur Schwartz liked Gavilan clearly, nine rounds to six.

Judge Frank Forbes called it 7-7 with one even, and gave Graham the edge in points, 11-10. That cast his vote for Graham.

Referee Mark Conn also called it 7-7 with one even, but he gave Gavilan the edge in points 10-7, and that decided it.

Of 13 ringside newspapermen polled, 10 favored Graham and three Gavilan.

The Associated Press Card gave it to Graham 7-5, with three even.

Great Protest

The pro-Graham crowd roared a mighty protest, cheered the New Yorker to the echo, and Al Weill, International Boxing Club matchmaker, dashed into Graham's dressing room and told the disconsolate challenger, "Don't worry, don't worry, you'll get another chance."

"I know I'll get another shot, but I want the title now," said Graham softly.

Gavilan talked Spanish a mile a minute but allowed he thought he won it nine rounds to four with the rest even.

This was the Cuban's first defence of the championship he won May 18 of this year from Johnny Bratton and he went into the ring a 12-5 favorite. At 145¼ he had a one-quarter pound margin over Graham.

Beaches Operate As Farm Team For Canada's Big Four Champs

By DON PEACOCK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, Aug. 30 (CP) — Whether Toronto Balmy Beach retains the Ontario Rugby Football Union championship in 1951 may depend on a team in a different league: Toronto Argonauts.

Beaches could fatten perceptibly on scraps fro mthe Argo table.

Beaches are assured of much of their big brothers' residue by their working agreement as a farm team for the Canadian Big Four champions.

They won't mind the crumbs, especially if they include such stars as Jerry Tuttle, who coached and quarterbacked last year and Otem Fisher, outstanding as a tackle for the ORFU champs.

Former Argo Player

Even Beaches' new coach is a former Argonaut backfielder of some note, despite the fact he's a freshman to senior football coaching ranks.

Fresh from piloting Parkdale Lions to an intermediate title last year, Coach Art West is cautious about predicting the future of his charges but says he believes he has a stronger team than last year.

The team "will make trouble for them all"—Sarnia Imperials, Windsor Royals and McMaster University, Hamilton—but he still hopes for more help at end and quarterback positions.

West expects the trouble to start Saturday when Beaches open their season against Royals here. "But how we'll end up is what bothers me."

The "question of the hour," according to Beaches manager Paul McGerry, is what Argos will do with quarterback Knobby Wirkowski. If Beaches could count on Wirkowski, worries would be negligible.

As it is, two gridmen are battling for signal calling honors. They are Bobby Lee, Pittsburgh University quarterback and one of six American imports, and Don Hatt, who accompanied West from Parkdale Lions.

Former Lions

McGerry says this year's team is built on a foundation of former Lions. Among them are Red Alexander, a fullback, Andy Gilmour, who'll share end duties with Ed Fisher, last year a Varsity Blue, and Jim Scurr.

Steve Pryski, line coach with Parkdale last year, is competing with Scurr for offensive centre.

Down from Argos is Matty Ferrentino, former University of Buffalo guard. He's favored for defensive centre.

Two other Americans, Fritzie Price, running backfielder from the U. of B., and Jimmy Long, half-back from Erie, Pa., also are Argo discards. Long will share half-back responsibilities with Ralph Pulley, former Detroit Lion in the National Football League.

Jim (Shagg) Thomas, another Erie import, guards with Tony Horvath.

Only five holdovers from last year will wear blue and gold uniforms this weekend. One of them, Howie French, still is battling for the flying wing position. His opposition is a youthful newcomer from Toronto high school circles, Norm Gillen, impressive at practices.

Charlie Shallhorn, a guard, is back along with Boyd Hendry, an end, running backfielder Bill Haddeton and Ian Hamilton, who will fill his old slot as a tackle.

The tacit West says: "None of these positions is solid. They're still open."

Pinning Hopes On Dick Savitt

FOREST HILLS, NY, Aug. 30 (AP).—If he is able to rise from his bed or pain, Dick Savitt will have an opportunity to breathe some life into the national tennis championships today.

The Wimbledon and Australian champion from Orange, NJ, was scheduled to play Straight Clark of Pasadena, Calif., in the day's feature match in the West Side Stadium, but at last report he was stretched out with an infection in his left leg resulting from —of all things—an ingrowing hair.

The officials said that, if necessary, they would give Savitt until Friday to go through with the fourth round match against Clark who is a very good tennis player and not one likely to be beaten by an invalid.

After Wednesday's disappointing experience, when Billy Talbert pained a crowd of over 6,000 by failing to win a set from Frank Sedgman of Australia and Earl Cochell of Los Angeles became peeved at the fans and virtually threw his match with Gardnar Mulloy of Miami, it was earnestly hoped that Savitt might put the tournament back on its pins today.

Sedgman, Mulloy and Tony Trabert of Cincinnati entered the quarter-finals with Wednesday's victories. Trabert's match against Henri Rochon, Canadian veteran had been regarded as the least promising of the day's three fourth rounders, but it actually proved the best as the little southpaw carried Tony to four fairly exciting sets.

PAKISTAN FARMS

More than 45,000,000 acres of land is under cultivation in Pakistan, of which more than two-thirds is irrigated.

GIANT KILLER — Jonhston McCormick, of Toronto, had a day of glory when he eliminated favorite Nick Weslock, also of Toronto, in the first round of the Canadian Amateur Golf Championship at Ottawa. He defeated Weslock, one up, in his first try for the amateur crown. Then McCormick was eliminated in the next round by Andre Tessier, of Quebec, 4 and 3.

Agincourt Pair Winners Of Black Trophy

The Black Memorial Trophy was captured last evening at the local lawn bowling greens by Mrs. Haig and G. Hillson, Agincourt. Mrs. Reed and A. Black, Peterborough, were runners-up.

So evenly were the pairs matched that the local club split 50-50 with the visitors for three-game winners.

The fifth annual mixed doubles tournament was one of the most successful, as 200 bowlers competed from all parts of the province, and many entries were refused. The day was ideal. The Black Memorial Trophy was put up by members of the Black family in memory of their father, the late Peter Black.

In presenting prizes to the winners, Mr. A. Black, on behalf of his family, thanked everybody; he hoped all had a good day's bowling and would be back again next season. The tournament was over about 11 p.m.

Winners

First—Black Memorial Trophy and each an Elgin wrist watch—Agincourt Mrs. Haig and G. Hillson.

Second—Each a silver tea service—Peterborough, Mrs. Reed and A. Black.

Lakefield, Rich In History Would Warrant A Museum

LAKEFIELD, Aug. 30 (ENS)—"Lakefield is very rich in history. Rich enough to warrant a museum," said Michael McHugh, of Ottawa, principal of the 10-day social studies workshop being held at the Grove School by the Department of Education.

While delving into the history of the village, the class discovered that although Colonel Strickland arrived at his homestead in September of 1831, miners had been through the district as early as the year 1818.

Collect Records

Mr. McHugh and Mr. M. Boyd, assistant principal, expressed the opinion that some attempt should be made by the community to collect the old records, and cairns should be erected to clearly mark historical sites in the village. There is, in their opinion, no area that is richer in culture from a literary point of view, than this area.

During the past week the class divided into groups and a great deal of work has been accomplished.

One group had examined the Denne collections of old pictures in Peterborough, while others interviewed persons most likely to know historical facts about the field.

Visit Moody Well

The historical group on Friday afternoon visited the Moody well and the site of the Moody log cabin.

On Sunday afternoon the entire group went to Big Sister Island for a picnic. Some went aboard the Grove Whaler, while the remainder went by car to the landing and then by boat.

Mr. George Douglas, famed author and engineer, who lives near Lakefield, gave an exceptionally interesting address on the early history of the district.

Introduced by Mr. E. C. Guillet, historian, Mr. Douglas recalled the arrangement for bringing boys out from England in the nineteenth century, whereby the boys' parents paid a fee of £100 for three years. Since the fee was large those who came out were always from very good families. At first this was an admirable plan, but later developed into a money-making scheme when the boys were sent farther north to poor farming land.

First Newspaper ➔

In the year 1846, Colonel Robert Strickland and a 17-year-old boy by the name of Tom Allen printed a manuscript paper which was passed from house to house.

Mr. Douglas has a collection of these papers, which were put out until 1849. In collecting them, Mr. Douglas was unable to locate quite a number of copies. The reason these copies were missing was that apparently the editors were very outspoken in their personal comments and the paper was passed along until it reached the person referred to in some article, where it would be destroyed to insure no one else reading it.

Cement Works

Speaking of the Canada Cement works, once located in Lakefield, Mr. Douglas said the company was started here because they wanted cheap cement for the development of the Trent Valley water system, but eventually they found it too expensive and closed down.

The settlers, in choosing their farmlands, thought they were getting rich soil but the land was good only for a depth of two feet and when they lumbered it and the rains caused erosion of the earth, the rocks were exposed and the lands found to be poor for farming.

Many well-to-do families moved all their belongings into these areas especially around Apsley and Coe Hill, and one of the tragedies was to call at one of these homes and see beautiful rugs, furniture, pictures and spinets, and find the people practically starving with no food in the larder.

Touching on the immigration periods of 1825 and 1831, Mr. Douglas said Peter Robinson was responsible for bringing these people out.

Regatta At Juniper

Mr. Douglas, who came to Lakefield in 1886 at the age of eleven years, recalled the start of the tourist season in 1877 when the American Canoe Association held a regatta at Juniper Island. From then on local people, followed by others, began to build summer cottages.

Not only does Mr. Douglas know the history of the district, and the people, he also knows the family history of all the older families, and has a diary he has kept since he was a young boy.

Visitors of Sunday's expedition, which was in charge of Mr. G. Winder Smith, headmaster of the Grove, included Dr. Sowby, headmaster of Upper Canada College, and Mr. Hugh Ketchum, a Grove master.

Mr. Smith also took along a collection of Indian relics found in the district.

Copper Strike Tossed Back To Truman

By JOSEPH C. GOODWIN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30 —(AP)—The four-day copper strike in the United States was tossed back to President Truman today.

The Wage Stabilization Board stepped out of the controversy Wednesday night after the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers Union (Ind.) refused to call off the strike.

The Board apparently found litttle hope of breaking the deadlock which has halted most of the country's production of copper, a critically-short defence material.

A spokesman said the Board will report to Truman today on the negotiations he asked it to take over on Tuesday. It held a 90-minute hearing Wednesday, and discussed the case again Wednesday night.

A possible next step would be for the President to appoint a Board of Inquiry to report to him on the facts in the case. The strike would continue while the Board investigates.

Could Seize Mines

And Attorney-General McGrath would have to wait until the Board reported before he could seek a court injunction to end the walkout under the Taft-Hartley Labor Act.

However, if the President should feel there is little hope of settlement and the walkout is creating a national emergency, he could by-pass court action and order government seizure of the mines and smelters.

The strike has already cut off 95 per cent. of the country's copper production and dealt heavy blows to the output of sulphur acid—a key ingredient in the refining of aviation and high-test gasoline—and lead and zinc.

Three Alternatives

Union leaders told the Wage Board Wednesday the strike will continue unless (1) a negotiated contract settlement is reached, (2) the government seizes the strike-bound works, or (3) a court injunction is issued against the stoppage.

Government officials said it would take about 10 days to get a court injunction.

The strike has left about 100,000 workers idle and crippled operations of scores of copper producers including the "Big Four" — Kennecott, Anaconda, Phelps-Dodge, and the American Smelting and Refinery Company.

Orville Larson, vice-president of the striking union, told the wage board it would be possible to negotiate a contract on the basis of the 16-cent-an-hour wage "package" proposed Monday by Cyrus S. Ching, Federal conciliation chief, and turned down by Kennecott.

The Union was ousted from the CIO in 1950, along with 10 other unions, on charges that its leadership followed the Communist party line. The union claims its policy is set by its members.

Hastings Triumphs

HASTINGS, Aug. 30 (ENS)—Hastings Intermediates took their cue from their junior entry, defeating Marmora 16-5 in the deciding game of their best of three series in the OAAA intermediates playdowns. Both teams suffered from the jitters but Hastings settled away each time to cut off potential rallies.

Smoke on the mound for the locals gave up but nine hits, but his wildness kept him in constant hot water, while taking out 11 on strikes. McInroy started for Marmora but gave way to Trumble in the eighth after giving up 12 hits for 13 runs, one of the hits a long homer by Smoke.

In the sixth, Stewart was tossed out of the game for heaving the ball in the general direction of base umpire Batley. Hastings now meets Pickering there Friday night, the return game at home Monday or Tuesday.

Hastings: Phillips, lf; Craine, rf; Scriver, 2b; Sullivan, 1b; Scott, c; Jones, cf; Holmes, ss; Smoke, p; Crowley, 3b.

Marmora: Trumble, cf, p; Stewart, 2b; Maynes, 3b; McInroy, p, cf; Doyle, lf; Darrah rf; Drummond, ss; Wilson 1b; Moss, c; Tomlison, c; Herman, 2b.

Miss America Of 1952 Likely To Be Tall Brunette

ATLANTIC CITY, NJ, Aug. 30 (AP).—Miss America of 1952 has a better-than-even chance of being a tall brunette.

That is, if five feet six inches is your idea of a tall girl. Thirty of the 51 contestants entered in this year's Miss America pageant measure that height or more.

The four-day Miss America show starts Tuesday with an elaborate boardwalk parade and continues Wednesday through Saturday evenings with talent and beauty competitions.

Seeking the Miss America crown will be 51 girls from 44 States, Puerto Rico, Hawaii and Canada. Marjorie Alma Kelly, 23-year-old beauty from Courtland, Ont., will represent Canada.

Of this year's crop, 42 are classified as brunettes, with hair shades ranging from light brown to black. Seven girls are blondes and two—Marjorie Alma is one of them—have put themselves in the red-head column by describing their hair as auburn.

Average Measurements

Past title holders have averaged five feet, 6½ inches in height, 124½ pounds, 34½-inch bust, 35-inch hips, a 24½-inch waist and 18½ years in age.

Marjorie Alma—chosen Miss Canada of 1951 at Burlington, Ont., Aug. 14—is five feet, 2½ inches tall, weighs 115 pounds. Her measurements are: 32 inch bust, 25-inch waist and 35-inch hips.

Born in Tillsonburg, she is a graduate of Alma College and the University of Western Ontario.

The blue-eyed Canadian is the daughter of a tobacco farmer. She won a $1,000 scholarship in the Miss Canada competition and she plans to use it to study voice and dramatics in the United States. She is a lyric soprano.

In addition to talent competitions, which count for one-quarter of the contest points, the girls will be judged on how they look in a bathing suit and in an evening gown. The other fourth of their points is scored on personality as determined at breakfasts they will have with the judges.

Born in Toronto, Mrs. Evans was one of the founders of the Women's Canadian Club and was active in the Canadian National Institute for the Blind.

Hold Inquest

WINDSOR, Aug. 30 (CP).—An inquest into the death of Malcolm Mochoruk, felled by police bullets during a chase Sunday, will be held today. Coroner Dr. J. P. Parent will preside at the inquest called to inquire into the death of the 21-year-old Mochoruk, who died less than an hour after being wounded by a police bullet.

Austrian Detective Jailed 25 Years

VIENNA, Austria, Aug. 30. — (Reuters) — Anton Marek, 63, chief detective inspector of the Ministry for Home Security arrested behind the Iron Curtain by the Russians, June 17, 1948, has been sentenced to 25 years loss of freedom, it was reported here Wednesday night.

Austrian Foreign Office officials said a Soviet note handed the Austrian minister in Moscow said Marek was accused of abusing his position to spy against Russia.

(Loss of freedom may imply a jail or labor camp sentence, or direction to do certain work at a low wage in a place usually far removed from the offender's normal place of residence.)

At the time of his arrest Marek was investigating the fate of numerous kidnapped officials of the Austrian government.

AND SHE SAID—

"Tell me, dear, where did you get this delicious tea?"

"Well, one day George stopped in at his sister's — had a cup of tea there—turned up his nose at ours—till I had to phone Ethel for the name. Result — Mother Parker's from now on."

"Yes—and I know another person right now who will be serving Mother Parker's from now on."

"Good!—and you just try their Tea Bags. They're so convenient—and Orange Pekoe quality, too."

Japan Makes Amazing Strides Toward Stabilization In Six Years

By RUSSELL BRINES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30 (AP) —Six years ago Japan was a devastated, floundering country, badly beaten in war. Its people were numbed by fear of starvation, its government and industry paralyzed by uncertainty.

Today, Japan is reaching for independence again as a confident, stabilized country.

In August, 1945, hundreds of occupation officials poured into the battered country with only one mission: to destroy Japan's militarism and tear down the social, political and economic structure which nurtured it.

Began Enthusiastically

They began enthusiastically. A home defence force of more than 4,000,000 men was demobilized, war equipment was destroyed—guns, half-wrecked ships, mounds of ammunition and even a cyclotron for atomic experiments.

About 250,000 career military officers and civilian leaders during wartime were removed from positions of influence. Dozens of war criminals were prosecuted.

A flood of directives from Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters demanded basic alterations in virtually every field of national life.

The Emperor was transformed from a demi-god to a taxpaying civilian. A new constitution blueprinted popular rule. The centralized Tokyo government was weakened and 44 subversive prefectures became little states.

Proclaimed Equal

Women were proclaimed equal to men and given the vote. Labor unions were given their first official encouragement.

The theory was that Japan's millions had waged imperialistic war in blind obedience to the autocrats who ruled them through the powerful symbol of the Emperor. The planned remedy was to infuse the people with democracy as a check against a duplication of this pattern.

But the Japanese are a long way from being democratic.

The reform program was pursued intently for only the first two years and eventually became a secondary phase.

Post-war circumstances gave a higher priority to the programs:

1. To put Japan back on her feet economically.

2. To thwart Communist designs on the Archipelago and to keep Japan in the Western bloc.

Needed Help

In the beginning, official American occupation policy was to make the Japanese solely responsible for economic rehabilitation. But it soon became apparent they would not, or could not, get the sinking country afloat unaided.

The American government poured more than $1,000,000,000 into relief funds for food, vital raw materials and some rehabilitation projects.

This help and Japanese energy started the country's economic blood circulating. Industrial production is 140 per cent of the 1930-34 level. The currency is sound.

Now Japan is ready to conclude a mutual aid agreement with the United States. It will give Japan the protection she needs in tumultuous Asia and will permit the US to maintain a beachhead in the Orient.

NEW COMMAND — A wartime pilot who rose from the ranks, Group Capt. Robert S. Turnbull, 33, of Winnipeg, has been named director of personnel administration in the RCAF. With a heavy bomber squadron in the Second World War, he rose from sergeant to wing commander in 11 months.

File Schedule Of Higher Rates

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30. (AP) —Western Union Telegraph Company Wednesday filed with the federal communications commission a schedule of new and higher charges designed to produce 8.4 per cent more revenue, or about $9,500,000 annually.

Company officials said they hoped to put the increases into effect Sept. 1 if the schedule is approved.

The tariffs filed on Wednesday proposed advances of nine to 50 per cent in the basic full-rate telegram charge, with the shortest distances taking the largest increases, and with the traditional 10-word message expanded to a minimum of 15 words.

At Ottawa this week Canada's two telegraph companies, the Canadian National and the Canadian Pacific Telegraphs, filed a rate-increase application before the board of transport commissioners. The Canadian companies are seeking an increase of 10 cents on the basic fullrate telegram of 10 words, with varying increases for other types of service.

The proposed Canadian increases would not affect press rates.

Bad Bargain

TILLSONBURG (CP) — The thief who took two suit cases full of new shoes from a salesman's car here abandoned them intact a short distance away. Every shoe in both bags was for the left foot.

More Suspensions In Race Inquiry

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Aug. 30 (CP)—A hint of more suspensions in Ontario's race track scandal was given Wednesday by E. Tupper Bigelow, chairman of the Ontario Racing Commission.

Usually tight-lipped, Mr. Bigelow told a reporter after a meeting of the commission here that there was every possibility of further suspensions.

The hint came at the end of a two-day investigation by the commission into charges of fixed races on Ontario tracks which benefitted gambling syndicates. Six jockeys and one owner already have been suspended for life from Ontario tracks and two other jockeys are under indefinite suspension.

Others have been fined for failing to report bribe offers promptly.

Halt Yawl Search

HALIFAX, Aug. 30. (CP) — Search for the 20-foot British yawl Nova Espero was halted on Wednesday night when it was confirmed that the craft put in at a small Nova Scotia port last Saturday for supplies. The vessel, sailed by Stanley Smith and Charles Violet sailed from England to Nova Scotia in 86 days, left Shelburne for New York on Aug. 10 and it was feared their tiny craft had come to grief.

Experiments Show Crop Damage

SASKATOON (CP)—Research workers with the field husbandry department of the University of Saskatchewan have been throwing ice on grain and whipping wheat with sticks, to imitate hail damage to crops.

The experiments are being made to help hail-insurance companies assess crop damage more accurately.

Prof. L. H. Shebeski is in charge of the experiments. He has also thinned out crops to see if that has any effect on development of damaged plants.

He expresses the belief that in dry years, plants remaining after a hail storm may get more moisture and do better than they would have without the storm.

One test plot of wheat was beaten down and left under a two-inch covering of crushed ice early in june, when it was in the three-leaf stage.

By mid-August this grain had recovered and looked no different than normal undamaged wheat.

Six Tons Of Butter Sold At Exhibition

TORONTO, Aug. 30 (CP)—Six tons of butter and cheese and some 32,000 eggs were auctioned for good prices at the Canadian National Exhibition Wednesday. Four dairy produce firms paid $5,400 for the lot.

Canadian Stilton cheese sold for a record $1.05 per pound. The rest was bought for prices ranging from 39¾ to 70 cents a pound.

The 2,030 pounds of prize butter was sold for 65½ cents a pound, while a Toronto produce company bought all the eggs, paying from 58 to 76 cents per dozen.

Train Strikes Car Farmer Killed

DUNDALE, Aug. 30 — (CP) — Arthur Quinn, 72-year-old Proton township farmer, was killed and his companion on a Bethel district farm, James Brown, 65, severely injured when a passenger train struck their automobile at a level crossing two miles north of here Wednesday.

Quinn was dead by the time train crewmen ran back to where the car landed after being knocked 30 feet by the locomotive. Brown suffered severe head and internal injuries and a fractured leg.

Set September 4 For Board Hearing

MONTREAL, Aug. 30 (CP).—Cyprien Miron, chief of the Quebec Labor Department's Conciliation and Arbitration Service, said late Wednesday he had notified the Dominion Textile Co. Ltd., and the United Textile Workers of America (AFL) that September 4 has been set for a Conciliation Board hearing into their labor dispute. The 6,000 employees of the company are asking, among other things, for a general wage increase of 25 cents an hour.

Car-Truck Collision Takes One Life

WELLAND, Aug. 30— (CP).—One man was killed and another critically injured on Wednesday night in a car-truck collision two miles north of here. Driver of the car, Frank Carroci, 31-year-old Welland barber, died in hospital. His passenger, Francesco Tropepi, 49, suffered fractures to both hips, both knees, a wrist and an arm.

Police said the truck was driven by Nick Switalski, 29, of Hamilton, who was injured.

Steel Shortage In Canada Over In 1953 Howe Says

By HAROLD MORRISON

OTTAWA, Aug. 30—(CP)—The steel shortage in Canada will be over in 1953.

That's the word from a rearmament czar, dogged by a critical steel shortage ever since he re-oiled Canada's industrial machine last spring to prepare it for a three-year $5,000,000,000 rearmament job.

Production Minister Howe estimated in an interview that though the steel shortage is still tough, the situation is changing every day. Canada is able, with current restrictions, to squeeze through and still get all her essential production completed.

"And by 1953," he predicted, "our steel requirements and our supplies will be in balance."

But while Mr. Howe was able to predict with some degree of certainty what the future will be for steel, he still would make no guesses on hortages of other metals, such as copper, lead, nickel and zinc.

All these enter into the world's defence programs and all of them enter, too, into production of civilian goods, kitchenware, home construction, radios, chrome finish and the like.

Until now, no drastic reductions in the use of these metals have been required, though many firms still are not getting all they can use.

On top of that Canada is constantly besieged by appeals from other countries to boost allocations. The current copper strike in the United States, if protracted, will likely see the United States appeal to Canada for more copper —and every pound of copper that Canada produces now is under contract.

Ask More Metals

Britain for months has appealed to Canada for more metals. So have other Commonwealth countries. Now Mr. Howe is faced with the embarassing task of trying to arrive at a fair distribution of available supplies without hurting anyone's feelings and without causing any international tiffs.

For example, next month, on Sept. 24, he will be in London, accompanied by his materials adviser, T. N. Beaupre, 34, of Montreal, to promise Commonwealth countries that Canada will do everything possible to co-operate in getting more scarce metals to Britain and the other member nations.

But he'll still have to keep one eye cocked on US demands. For the US has been purchasing metals from Canada in increasing amounts over the years. It will be difficult for Canada to ship more metals to Britain without considering the needs of the US too.

May Meet Demands

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30. (AP) — The government Wednesday notified the United States tire and rubber companies their demands for rubber may be met in full starting Jan. 1. The national production authority said stepped up production in the government's synthetic plants should permit rubber allocation "on the basis of need" in the first quarter of 1952. Until then, rubber allotments for passenger car tires and most other civilian products will be based as now on 90 per cent of usage before the outbreak of the Korean war.

HomeOwners Pay Third New Hospital

Debentures Issued Total $2,100,000 Of $3,630,000 Cost

Peterborough's $3,600,000 civic hospital is costing the ordinary taxpayers of the city $1,050,000 or less than one third of the price, a recent breakdown of the money used to build the hospial reveals.

The average city taxpayer will be paying in the next 20 years that the debenture bonds are running about half of the bond issue of $2,100,000, and about half of short term loan the city made for $140,000.

The ordinary taxpayer pays only half because industrial and business assessments make up about 50 per cent of the total assessment of the city. Industry and business therefore pay about half of the taxes.

Less Than Two-Thirds Cost

This payment by the city then amounted to $2,240,000, or a little less than two-thirds of the cost.

The rest of the money came from the Nicholls Hospital trust fund, the utilities commission, the county, the city trust, the province and the dominion governments, cash donations, interest on debentures, work done by the city on the grounds, interest on savings account, interest on bonds and the sale of equipment.

In a statement the board said:

"The board would like to present some facts concerning the construction of the hospital, the nurses' residence, the power house and the laundry, the land and the landscaping. The total cost of all these was $3,630,000. If we deduct the cost of the land and the work done on the grounds by the city council, the buildings, complete and ready for occupancy, would represent an investment on the part of the city of approximately $3,563,000.

"It is interesting to notice that before the second vote was taken at the municipal elections in December, 1948, when the ratepayers of Peterborough were told that $1,500,000 would be required to complete the hospital as originally planned (that is, the East Wing and the Nurses' Residence), the board of governors, when asked for an estimate of the cost of the completed hospital, presented a detailed estimate of $3,564,985.

". . . The bonds issude by the city of Peterborough to pay the balance amounted to only $2,100,000. This $2,100,000 was borrowed on the authority of the property owners of the city. The city council issued the bonds of the city of Peterborough in this amount covering a period of 20 years at about 3 per cent interest. At the end of 20 years the city will own, free of all financial encumbrance, a modern hospital of some 280 beds, with good equipment that should provide service for many generations to follow.

No Connection

"We would like our ratepayers, and citizens generally, to understand that there is no more connection between the payment of this indebtedness and the current costs of operating the hospital than there is between the building of our schools and the salaries we pay our teachers. The capital cost of our hospital, as we have already stated, is a fixed amount and will be completely paid in a a few years. The maintenance to the patients, or the taxpayers in general, will vary from year to year in relation to the pattern of costs for hospital care which, in turn, is dependent upon general economic conditions in the country."

"In closing, may we remind the people of a statement that was made by those in charge of each of the hospital campaigns, one in December, 1945, and the other in December, 1948, a statement that was true at that time and is true today: that the industrial, financial and business concerns in Peterborough would pay one-half of the $2,100,000 of bond issue made by the ctiy. This would leave $1,050,000 to be paid by the home owners of Peterborough over a 20 year period. At the end of that time, may we repeat, the city would own the hospital, the more than 40 acres of ground and the equipment free of all obligations."

Sources of money to build the hospital were:

City of Peterborough (Civic Hospital Trust)	$ 278,978.53
City of Peterborough (by way of debentures)	2,100,000.00
City of Peterborough (from short term financing)	140,000.00

FarmAnimals Better Fed Than Humans

Wives Undernourished Smell Food, Don't Eat—Wharry

Livestock and poultry in Canada usually get more scientifically correct diets than their owners said James Wharry of Peterborough, vice-president of Quaker Oats Company of Canada, as guest speaker at the Wednesday luncheon of the directors of the Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto

Mr. Wharry estimated that four out of five Canadian housewives were undernourished "because they are nibblers—they say they have to cook the food and smell it and consequently can't eat—something should be done for them."

Health Rules

His four-point program for the promotion of health was, briefly proper diet, learning how to relax, more fresh air and exercise.

Mr. Wharry traced the advance of scientific methods in agriculture which had resulted in improved yields of milk, better poultry and other food products. Then he turned to the human population and remarked that a mere 40 per cent of Canadians were properly fed. Another 40 per cent were borderline cases, while about 20 per cent suffered from nutritional deficiency.

A great opportunity was waiting for food merchants to aim their advertising and their products at the housewife. This could result in a 20 per cent increase in sales of foodstuffs.

Business Men

The farmer, he felt, was often a better business man than many of the merchants. He told directors and their guests that milk, regardless of the breed of the cow from which it comes or the quantity always has the same specific gravity and that the cow which is not fed all the ingredients required for milk simply does not produce as much milk. The farmer has learned this and is switching to scientific feeding.

There were, however, still some farmers who did not realize this fact. Others were careless in the matter of water for cows, he said not knowing that a cow could handle as much as 30 gallons of water per day.

"And the farmer who goes out chops a hole through the ice in the creek in the winter, then lets his cows have three sips before he shoos her back into the barn wonders why he doesn't get milk."

Awaiting Bylaw To Set Up Fire Fund Trust

Mayor Swanston is expecting that the agenda for the first council meeting in September will include a bylaw giving authority to setting up the trust to administer the funds for the benefit of the dependents of four fire fighters who died in the Zacks building fire last May.

Council asked City Solicitor W. F. Huycke, KC, some weeks ago to prepare this bylaw which gives community and legal sanction to establishing the board of trustees of which Judge Sheldon L. Smoke has been requested to act as chairman. There have been several informal meetings of the nominated members of the trust since May.

5 Deer, 2 Fawns Cross Highway

A small herd of deer crossing the vision of Gordon Moncrief, 641 Charlotte St., south of Bewdley Wednesday morning was an exceedingly interesting surprise.

The five deer and two fawns were in a field close to the main highway between Rice Lake and Port Hope.

It was an astonishing experience, Mr. Moncrief said. At Algonquin Park this year he had seen only one deer, and yet down in one of the oldest settled sections of Ontario this family of wild life appeared to be roaming through fields without alarm. Mr. Moncrief said it was one of the most surprising experiences of his motoring trips on the familiar route to Toronto.

Highway Victim Mental Patient

Authorities of the Ontario mental hospital at Whitby today identified the man who was killed about 10.30 p.m. Tuesday by a transport truck as he wandered on Highway 2 about a mile east of Newcastle.

He was Ernest John William Green, 56, of Kitchener.

Witnesses reported that the victim was wandering about the highway a short time before the accident. No blame was attached to Clyde Roberts, Oshawa, driver of the transport.

Dr. D. R. Fletcher, hospital superintendent, said Green had been a patient for several years. His condition was such that he was allowed some liberty about the grounds. He wandered away from the hospital Sunday.

Charlie Abbott Enters Boat In CNE Inboard Motor Race

By JIM ENGLISH

Next Monday afternoon, Charlie Abbott will race his 200-horsepower Meteor against some of the fastest boats on the continent. Charlie is a Peterborough man, and as far as most of the city is concerned, has been hiding his talent under a bushel of modesty. But when he goes to the Canadian National Exhibition next Monday, he'll have the experience of seven years of inboard racing behind him.

Charlie believes his 16-foot Meteor is the fastest in its class—the racing runabout class—in Canada. With its present motor, a $1,200, custom-built job, it can do more than 60 miles an hour.

Three years ago, with its first motor, the Meteor hit 70 mph on a test run.

Racing This Summer

Throughout the summer, Mr. Abbott has been racing his boat in meets from Valleyfield, Que., to Buffalo, New York. And he has been placing second and third regularly against some of the toughest competition on the continent.

Here in Peterborough, he is head of the service department at one of the city's largest garages. In his spare time, his knowledge of mechanics helps him in his tinkering with the motor, trying to push extra miles per hour out of it.

The engine is a V-8 with twin carburetors, develops 200 horsepower, and weighs about 600 pounds. "She'll rev up to 6,300 rpm," said Charlie, " and then she really begins to whine."

Hull of the boat is of quarter-inch marine plywood, with battens and chines of white oak, stringers of BC fir, and bulkheads of Sitka spruce. Weight without the engine is 450 pounds.

The cockpit of the boat is a tiny thing, with just enough room for Charlie to curl his legs up and have what looks like a minimum of comfort.

He pointed to his exhaust stacks three of which jut above the deck on either side of the engine. "Look at those, two of the darned things broke right off down at North Tonawanda, and I raced the last heat without them. Just about set me on fire." He indicated a black, smudged spot in the cockpit.

Charlie isn't cocky over his chances at the CNE races. He thinks he'll do all right, but there are going to be a lot of fast boats there.

Expensive Hobby

And he mentions that power-boat racing is an expensive hobby. He estimated that the Meteor alone has cost him about $6,000. Three motors have been used in it, and the third—the one he has now—is just on its last legs.

"About five races wear out a motor," he said. "No motor can take running at full throttle for long periods."

So Charlie is going to sell the Meteor. But he won't be without a boat.

"I'll either build another one (he built the Meteor), or buy one I've got my eyes on in Florida. But I'd rather build one. You know, you get a lot of satisfaction when you get out there pounding along, and you know that you made that boat."

Charlie's fans and friends here and in Buffalo, where he is a member of the Buffalo Launch Club, are wishing him luck at the CNE.

On Sunday sometime, Charlie will make a test run of his boat from his cottage north of the Chemong causeway. Just to be sure, you know.

HYBRID BERRY

The loganberry, a cross between the raspberry and the blackberry, was named after its first cultivator, a Judge Logan, of California.

Car Overturned On Intersection

A man and his wife were shaken up and slightly injured when their car was in collision with another auto Wednesday afternoon at George and McDonnel Sts. Impact of the collision threw their car on its side.

Hurt were Henry Thompson, 10 Gibson Ave., Toronto, and his wife. He suffered a scraped arm and his wife a cut forehead.

Thompson told police he was driving west on McDonnel St., stopped at George, saw all was clear and started across. Ronald Logan, 165 Edinburgh St., was driving south on George and hit the right rear of the Thompson car.

The crash threw the Thompson car against an auto owned by Clayton Eason, RR 4, Peterborough, and the Thompson car came to rest on its side.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson were taken to hospital by ambulance. They were treated and then released.

Logan told police he had no chance to stop as the Thompson car shot across the intersection. Thompson claimed he accelerated to avoid the accident.

Constables Ed. Niziol and Ralph Beardsmore investigated.

Man And Wife Polio Victims

A Peterborough photographer and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Rob Roy, are in Civic hospital with poliomeylitis.

Both have been confirmed cases for a little more than a week. It is understood that neither case is serious, although Mrs. Roy, the former Catherine Hall, is slightly paralyzed in the left arm.

They are two of 32 in the list of city and district polio cases. Most recent case is a 12-months-old boy, reported this morning as a confirmed case.

On Wednesday, a 40-year-old man was reported as a confirmed case. In addition, there are three suspects under observation at Civic hospital.

Mr. Roy is the son of the late Fred Roy, well-known photographer in the city.

Rubber Cheques Total $73.83

Two charges of false pretences were read today in police court to Phillip Corrin, 23, no fixed address. He pleaded guilty to both.

He was charged with obtaining a total of $73.83 with cheques that were signed Ross Greenly. Both cheques were passed at service stations, one in Ashburnham and one on Park Hill Rd.

Magistrate W. R. Philp remanded Corrin a week at the request of V. J. McElderry, KC, acting for the crown. Mr. McElderry said he wanted to find out whether the accused had a record.

The cheque passed at the Ashburnham garage was for $46.18 and the one at the Park Hill Rd. service station was for $27.65.

$335,000 INCINERATOR

Kitchener expects to open its $335,000 incinerator in January. It includes shower baths and lunch room for workmen, and will be the third largest of its type in Canada. Calgary and Toronto are considering incinerators of the same type.

Provincials Win Top Honors Police Field Day

Police officers of the Kawartha district including the Peterborough city police force, men of District 8 of the Provincial Police and village police officers, held their annual field day and picnic Wednesday afternoon in Nichols Oval.

The field day is the scene for friendly rivalry each year between the city police force and the provincial police who come from Belleville, Brighton, Campbellford, Fenelon Falls Bowmanville, and district headquarters here. In track and field events, the provincial police had the edge and walloped the city police force 16-6 in a softball game to win the Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Northey trophy.

But in the tug-of-war the city police force won in two straight pulls and captured the Schneider and Ostrander trophy.

It looked at first as if not many would turn out for the field in spite of the ideal sunny day, but as the afternoon progressed the crowd swelled. In charge of the picnic were Douglas Farthing, Garnet Samis, William A. Scott, Ray Pope and Ron Mackay.

OPP Inspector Price Morris, former district sergeant here, attended the event with his wife and son.

Resluts of the competitions were 100 yard dash, Warne trophy—C. A. Naismith, OPP, C. E. Meadows, OPP, Archie Eady, OPP.

Tobacco Supply Cut One-Third

Cigarette and pipe smokers are beginning to feel the pinch. Tobacco wholesalers in the city report that stocks of cigarettes, pipe and chewing tobaccos have dwindled to practically bare shelves this week.

All the trouble is caused by striking employees of the two major cigarette, cigar and tobacco companies in Canada.

One Peterborough wholesaler said practically all his stock of the strike brands, which include about six of the most popular cigarettes is gone; the shelves bare since Tuesday.

Changing Brands

Brands of the non-striking companies are now carrying the load as cigarette smokers change brands for the duration of the strike.

Another wholesaler reported his stocks low in the strike brands but the supply in the other varieties good.

The same wholesaler reported the situation much the same in the tobacco as in the cigarettes, the stock gradually disappearing.

"One third of the desired items are now out of stock," he said.

A wholesaler explained that fortunately there is not too great a demand in the summer for fine cut tobacco and the stock now is good. He explained that for some reason, people, usually in the rural sections, smoke "ready-mades" during the summer months but begin to "roll their own" early in October.

Men who like to chew rather than smoke will not feel the pinch for a while yet. Since the prices changed, said one wholesaler, the sales have not been as good, "which helps a little now."

Youth Turned In False Alarm, Caught

A city youth who turned in a false alarm Wednesday night was given a severe talking to by Fire Chief George Smith and Deputy Police Chief John Naples today, and was released without charges being laid.

The youth and a friend, both employees of a north end firm, are said to have tried to get into the plant Wednesday night. They were refused entry and, in a fit of pique, phoned in a fire alarm, saying the plant was on fire.

The youth who did the telephoning was arrested near the scene and given a warning this morning. If convicted, he could have been sentenced to from three to six months for a first offence.

Fall Fairs Open With Lakefield

For the formality of opening its fair Saturday afternoon, Lakefield invited one of its own sons, R. H. (Dick) Graham, of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, one of the most widely known livestock men in the country.

Peterborough's neighbors have raised their sights in their program for this season's show, and they are hoping to see a lot of friends from down this way Saturday.

The Central Ontario district is right into the fall fair schedule of fall fairs. On either side of Peterborough are Marmora and Port Perry, whose dates are Sept. 1 and 3, bidding for Labor Day attendance.

Kinmount dates are the same as Lakefield, Aug. 31 and Sept. 1. Apsley fair is today. Others are: Wooler, Sept. 4 and 5; Orono, Sept. 7 and 8.

London, Sept. 10 to 15; Minden, Sept. 15; Napanee, Sept. 10-12; Picton, Sept. 13-15; Tweed, Sept. 11 and 12; Lindsay, Sept. 18-22.

Last on the district list is Roseneath, Oct. 11 and 12, when the leaves of the summer are red and autumn is far advanced through its season of chromatic change and dissolution until the leaves are gone from the trees.

Fire Destroys Grafton Home

GRAFTON, Aug. 30—(ENS)—Fire originating in the kitchen destroyed the home of Mrs. John Johnstone, 70-year-old Grafton widow, this morning.

Damage is estimated at $10,000 Handicapped by the fact that the fire worked its way between the insulation and the roof, Colborne and Grafton fire departments were unable to extinguish the flames until the dwelling was completely gutted.

Mrs. Johnstone was on the phone when she noticed smoke coming from the kitchen. When she went to investigate her hair was singed by a blast of heat and fire.

She was taken to a neighbour's and given a sedative by a doctor.

First Canadian Troops Relieved In Korea

SOMEWHERE IN KOREA, Aug. 30—(Reuters)—The first group of Canadian troops in Korea to be relieved left a Korean airfield today for Canada by way of Japan.

The group, which consists of five officers and 45 other ranks, are all members of the second battalion, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry. They have been in Korea since last December.

The contingent will have 30 days leave in Canada and then will undergo a parachute test at Rivers, Man.

Among the group is Capt. Wally Mills, of Winnipeg, who won the Military Cross at Kapyong April 24—the day on which the battalion received a citation.

Two Cars Damaged

Two cars were slightly damaged Wednesday afternoon on George St., when they collided to the north of the CPR station.

Drivers were Arthur M. Helson, 480 Sherbrooke St., and Frank Hancock, 296 Wolfe St.

Helsen was driving east across the CPR lot, and said his view was obscured by a truck parked to the north. He had no clear view of southbound traffic, he said. Hancock was driving south.

The front of Helsen's car hit the right rear of Hancock's. Constables Sherman Keliele and Harold Andrew investigated.

Curtis Believes He'll Make Marriage Stick

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 30 (AP)—Tony Curtis, who looks like a younger Victor Mature and is just as shy, was expounding on how he plans to make his marriage to Janet Leigh stick.

Like Mature, this Curtis is a talkative fellow and willing to expound on nearly every topic with the exception of early Egyptian urns and Hopi basket weaving.

The lad is not quite as immodest as you would first believe. He likes to emphasize that he is still Bernie Schwartz from New York, despite the fame that has come his way as Tony Curtis. And that, he reasons, is why his union with Miss Leigh will beat the odds against film marriages.

"I look at it this way—fame and money are strictly relative," he argued. "Is there any difference between having $2,000 or $2,000,000?"

I thought maybe there was, but he would not hear of it. "Of course there isn't any difference," he continued. "That's why, no matter what happens to me, I'll remain the same. I'll still keep my two feet on the ground.

Remains Herself

"Janet is the same way. She has been in the movies longer than I have and has a much bigger name. But she has remained herself."

One stumbling block he says is, the long absences caused by the husband or wife being on location or appearance tours.

"That's bad," Curtis declared. "Absence is the worst thing for a marriage, particularly in the first year. Yet if the pair really work at it, they can arrange to be together most of the time. Those stars who are separated from their mates for long periods of time generally do so because that's the way they want it."

The Curtises have been wed not yet three months and already the gossips speculate how long it will last.

"I've heard that talk," he said, "but I'm going to fool them."

Capsule Review

"When Worlds Collide" continues the current rage for science fiction movies and it is one of the better ones. It concerns the destruction of the earth by an intruding planet and the rocket flight of a select few to find a new world. These fantastic goings-on are performed by a serious group of actors, who are hampered only by one of those little love plots which seem standard for these films. Aside from that drawback, the film generates some fair excitement. The trick stuff is well done.

PRINCESS ANNE has her nose wiped by her mother, Princess Elizabeth, before being introduced to Lt. Col. Farmer and Lt. Col. Neilson, commanders of the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders of Canada, at Birkhall on Deeside, Scotland. The introduction took place at a review of the pipe bands by the young princess.

Limit On Butter

LONDON, Aug. 30. (Reuters)—Housewives will be limited to three ounces of butter a person a week after Sept. 9, government food rationing authorities announced Wednesday night. They now get four ounces. The ministy statement blamed a seasonal production drop for the cut. Other foods still rationed are meat, bacon, eggs, shortening, tea, and sugar.

Lose Deferments

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30. (AP)—More than 300,000 men will lost their deferments when new draft regulations, now awaiting President Truman's signature, are put into effect. Selective service said between 150,000 and 200,000 childless married men will lose their deferments under the new rules. An estimated 150,000 4-F's are expected to be drafted when the United States armed forces mental standards are lowered.

Want Single Agency

UNITED NATIONS, NY, Aug 30. (AP)—A special United Nations committee recommended on Wednesday that the UN combine its atomic control and arms reductions discussions under a single agency. The vote in the 12-member committee was 11 to 1, with Russia casting the negative vote. Canada is a member. The recommendation will come before the assembly's fall session opening in Paris Nov. 6.

Hitch-Hiker Injured On Queen E. Highway

HAMILTON, Aug. 30 (CP)—Earl Swanton, 43, of Woodstock, is in fair condition in hospital here following an acident at the Burlington Cloverleaf of the Queen Elizabeth way. He was believed to have been trying to hitch-hike to Toronto.

Truck driver Harry Kazimer, 25, of Freeman, said an automobile stopped to pick up the hitch-hiker. Kazimer struck Swanton a glancing blow, missed both cars and ploughed with his truckload of concrete blocks into a tree, he said.

May Come To Canada

OTTAWA, Aug. 30 (CP).—An immigration department official said Wednesday consideration is being given to applications from 12 Polish sailors for admission to Canada. "But no decision has been reached," he said. He was commenting on a dispatch from Stockholm, Sweden, which said 12 Polish sailors, eight of them mutineers, will leave shortly for Canada where they have been given asylum as political fugitives.

TORONTO, Aug. 30 (CP).—Canadian stock and produce markets will close after trading Friday for the long Labor-day weekend. The Toronto and Montreal stock exchanges, livestock, poultry and produce markets will reopen Tuesday morning after the holiday. The Winnipeg grain exchange and livestock market will also suspend trading for the period.

Young Addition

Woman 86 Sees Her Son After 40 Years

EDMONTON, Aug. 30 (CP)—An 86-year-old mother travelled 120 miles over country roads in a farm truck for a reunion with a son she had not seen in 40 years.

The son is Dr. A. P. Thomson, dean of the medical faculty of Birmingham University.

The dean last saw his mother and two brothers when they left England for Canada 40 years ago.

Mrs. Thomson lives with one son — David — at Heinsburg, Alta. Another son, Douglas, is an accountant in Edmonton. The three brothers were born in British Guiana. The family later moved to England.

Dr. Thomson is visiting North American universities en route to an international medical congress in St. Louis.

He said he is observing the possibility of developing an interchange system for medical men between British and Canadian institutions.

As an example of the idea, he cited a $1,500 fellowship which Birmingham University makes available to one McGill University student each year.

The fellowship was established in appreciation of housing facilities provided by McGill for families of Birmingham staff members during the Second World War.

SILVER SET FOR SWIMMER — Winnie Roach Leuszler receives a silver tea set from Toronto's Mayor Hiram McCallum in recognition of her feat of becoming the first Canadian to swim the English Channel. The city, bolstered by residents of suburban North York, where Winnie lives with her family, gave her a colorful reception. Called upon to make a speech at City Hall, she said she would rather swim the Channel again.

Building Up Record

PORT COLBORNE, Ont., Aug. 30 (CP) — Shipping tonnage through the Welland Ship Canal this year is building up to a record, canal authorities say. At Aug. 18, 8,865,109 tons of shipping had passed through the canal. This exceeds the record set for that date last season by 1,219,847 tons.

MANNING DIRECTOR—New director of Reserve Manning for the RCAF is Group Capt. F. A. Gilchrist, 41, of Weyburn, Sask. Group Capt. Gilchrist was shot down over Europe in the Second World War, but escaped and returned to flying duty.

Refuse To Pay Milk Increase

TORONTO, Aug. 30 — (CP) — Member dairies of the Toronto Milk Distributors' Association Wednesday notified their producers that they will not pay them the 35-cents-a-hundredweight ordered, effective Sept. 1, by the Ontario Milk Control Board.

They said milk shipments would be accepted only on the understanding that payments will be made at present prices.

Milk distributors in the city can't pay the increase, Joseph Sedgewick, counsel for the Toronto Milk Distributors' Association, said today.

He said the distributors will ask for a court order setting aside the board's decision to grant the farmers $4.55 a hundredweight.

Tuesday the board refused to postpone the increase to producers.

Defence Deputy Appointed To Act On NATO

OTTAWA, Aug. 30. (CP) — Alexander Ross, CMG, Scottish-born associate deputy minister of national defense, has been appointed to represent Canada on the budget committee of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, it was announced Wednesday.

The 62-year-old veteran of the First World War will sail from Montreal shortly to take up his new, full-time post. He will make his headquarters in London. His successor in the Defence Department here has not been named.

Mr. Ross was appointed associate deputy minister in 1947 after the defence forces were brought under a unified administration. Prior to that he was deputy minister of national defence for the army.

The new appointment marks the fourth time that Mr. Ross, chief accountant for the Canadian Farm Loan Board prior to the Second World War, has been chosen to represent Canada on important financial assignments in Europe.

During the Second World War, he served as financial superintendent at Canadian Military Headquarters in London, supervising Canadian Army expenditure and negotiating financial arrangements with United Kingdom Government departments. Following the war, he was assigned to duty in the United Kingdom and the Netherlands to arrange financial settlements with the Netherlands Government in areas where Canadian armed forces had served.

Following the First World War, he was appointed to negotiate some financial settlements with the British government.

Mr. Ross came to Canada from Scotland in 1913 and settled in Winnipeg. At the outbreak of the war he enlisted in the famous 8th Canadian Infantry Battalion. He was severely wounded in France in 1915.

Evacuated to Britain, he was transferred to the Canadian Army Pay Corps with headquarters in London.

Hope For Session In Quebec Strike

QUEBEC, Aug. 30 — (CP). — Labor Minister Barrette said on Wednesday night he hopes a meeting with company and union officials concerned in the strike at Shawinigan Falls, Que., plants of the Aluminum Company of Canada will result from a conference with labor leaders earlier in the day.

Mr. Barrette conferred with Jean Marchand, secretary of the Canadian Catholic Confederation of Labor, and A. Montreuil, president of the National Syndicate of Shawinigan Aluminum Workers.

At the labor leaders' request for government intervention, Mr. Barrette discussed points at issue in the dispute involving 900 workers. These include grievance procedure and arbitration machinery. The strike started last Friday.

Britain Issues Booklet To Increase Productivity

By ALAN HARVEY.

LONDON, Aug. 30 (CP).—In the name of sweet productivity, the government has just issued a booklet containing, among other things, some fatherly advice on how not to drive nails.

Says the booklet:

"The hard way to knock in a nail is to hold it between your teeth and hit yourself on the back of the head with a hammer. But, of course, you don't have to do that."

This light-hearted counsel is contained in "Help Yourself," a breezy, illustrated publication issued by His Majesty's Treasury, information division. The idea is simply to suggest ways of increasing industrial efficiency by making jobs "quicker, simpler, easier." Already, more than 56,000 copies have been ordered by firms, trade unions and other industrial organizations.

How should you drive a nail? "Help Yourself" doesn't say, merely using the example of the hard way as a peg on which to hang these suggestions:

Study your job carefully (any job: not just driving nails), strive for rhythm and smoothness of movement, have everything in the easiest place and use both hands at the same time.

A diagram shows how a housewife in a hurry can save one-third of her steps every time she prepares a meal. Another illustrates how a man assembling nuts and bolts can do it in 12 moves instead of 16.

"Help Yourself" reflects Britain's continuing concern with producivity, that catchword of post-war economists. Without increased productivity, so the experts say, any increases in Britain's standard of living will merely lead to inflation and higher prices.

Britain's productivity has increased notably in the last few years, but some good judges consider a lot of progress can still be made. In a recent article in the Liberal News Chronicle, economist Graham Hutton argued that goods could be produced much more cheaply if workers in many industries would abandon restrictive practices and stop clinging to outworn union rules.

Corn-Meal Mush Food Used For Extra Big Goldfish

MARTINSVILLE, Ind. (AP). — That far-away look in the eyes of your pet goldfish may be a yearning for corn-meal mush from Indiana.

The Grassyfork Fisheries here claims to be the goldfish capital of the world, and some 400,000,000 flashy fish have slithered out into the world from the 675 ponds on the firm's seven farms.

Long ago the firm found that prize specimens, the big ones used for breeding, thrived on mush. It has a vat large enough to heat up 7,000 pounds at a time.

Grassyfork's development is something like a soap opera. Eugene Shireman's marshy farm hadn't seemed good for much of anything except mosquitoes, until in 1899 an enterprising soap salesman from Indianapolis decided a bowl of goldfish might be an enticing premium to boost his sales.

Approved Idea

The soap company was out of business by the time Grassyfork got into production, but other soap companies fell in with the goldfish premium idea. The fish caught the eye of Americans. They showed up in dime stores and pet shops. College boys swallowed them. Fishermen tried them as bait — and still use them.

Shireman was delighted to find the iron and lime in southern Indinana water heightened the red coloring in the fish.

That vivid color is the keynote of the whole Grassyfork operation. Harry Wood, biologist at Grassyfork for 27 years, looks for that brilliance (and well-formed bodies) in his continual search for new breeding stock. When he spots a pond of choice fish, it's drained, and the best of the lot stay on at Grassyfork to spawn fish for marketing.

Big and Husky

The assortment of males and femalse isn't left to chance. After years of handling fish, Wood can usually differentiate at a glance. If theres any doubt, the test is as simple as the whiskers on a man's face. The gill plate of the male goldfish feels rough and whiskery to the touch; the remale's is smooth.

The breeders average about three years old, but Wood remembers some that have lived to the ripe old age of 16 years. Most of them don't live past five years. They're usually 14 to 22 inches long.

That's far too large for the usual household goldfish, but don't worry about your pet bursting his bowl.

"They stay small when they're kept in confined places," Wood said. "We keep the market fish crowded in ponds to keep them small. They can grow as long as eight inches in one season in an uncrowded pond."

Mush helps the breeders grow big and husky — the "small fry"

British Meteor Jet Shot Down In Korea

TOKYO, Aug. 30 — (Reuters). —A British Meteor jet was shot down in a battle with MIG-15s north-east of Sinuiju Wednesday. It was the first lost since the Meteor jets started operating in Korea more than a month ago, Far East Air Headquarters said today. Eight Meteors of the Royal Australian Air Force's 77 Squadron and 28 Sabre jets clashed briefly with an estimated 40 MIG's.

Inflation Issue Gravest Problem Confronting Australian Government

By LOUIS L. LECK

SYDNEY, Australia (CP)—Inflation is the most serious of the problems confronting the Australian Commonwealth, placing at least some members of every political party on the horns of a dilemma.

Inflation swept every other topic off the front pages here with the announcement that the basic wage in August would rise by 13 shillings a week to a new high of £9-13s. (The Australian pound currently is around $2.37 Canadian.)

The increase was automatic, reflecting the rise in the official cost-of-living index. Everyone has known for months that living costs were rising. In the second quarter this year the rise was seven per cent. Since 1939, the Australian index has more than doubled. On the official basis of 100 for the period 1923-1927, the index now has reached 187, compared with 93 in June, 1939.

The official view of the government parties is that inflation springs from under-production, which in turn stems from a Communist grip on key unions whose members produce such basic goods as coal and steel, and who load and man ships.

Anti-Red Measures

In efforts to elminiate Communists from top posits in principal labor unions the government majority in both houses carried two measures in the first sitting of the new parliament recently.

The first was an act proposing a constitutional amendment, subject to a referendum to be held Setp. 22, to give the Commonwealth power to control Communists and to ratify the earlier "Communist dissolution act" which had been ruled unconstitutional by the high court.

The second measure provided for compulsory secret ballots of all union members for election of officers and on strike issues.

Labor opposed both acts on the direction of its policy-making body, the Australian Labor party's central executive. But some labor members agree strong measures are needed to control Communism, and three Labor members abstained from voting on the Communist referendum bill.

Try Other Means

While officially the government pins its faith on smashing Communism as a cure for inflation, it is taking more direct action. Prime Minister Robert Menzies put through a "defence preparations act" with wide powers to make regulations for defence preparations.

The Commonwealth has powers to legislate on all matters relating to defence, and by linking its restrictions with defence preparations the government aimed to get around the tendency of the high court to interpret the government's power in a more restricted fashion.

Mr. Menzies said the regulations would be aimed at controlling the flow of labor and materials into non-essential channels. The newspapers attacked the act as a return to the controlled economy which was a large factor in defeat of the last Labor Government.

It was attacked by Labor in parliament on two grounds; that it meant development was to be dropped in favor or re-armament, and that it was merely a subterfuge to enable the government to impose anti-inflationary regulations.

Even among the Coalition Government members the act caused misgivings and it was criticized in the government caucus room as disguised Socialism. Some members felt, along with Labor, that controls ordered under the act would in fact be intended as anti-inflationary. But in the vote only one government member abstained.

Immigration Factor

Tied in with the whole problem is the immigration question. Some members feel that an estimated influx of 200,000 immigrants a year is placing too great a strain on the country's economy. But their dilemma is that both government and Labor parties are committed to a full immigration policy.

There is little prospect of the Labor party agreeing to rigid wage-pegging in return for price-fixing and other controls. The federal president of the Labor party, John A. Ferguson, speaking as a union official said recently: "Mr. Menzies was elected to govern. If he can't govern he should get out."

Fewer Apples

VICTORIA, BC—(CP)—British Columbia's apple crop this year is estimated at 6,705,930 boxes, a drop of 23 per cent from last year's harvest. Adverse weather conditions were chiefly responsible for the decline.

Shipping Shortage

WINNIPEG (CP)—Shortage of shipping space is delaying departure of many immigrants from Britain to Canada, according to M. Bowley, superintendent of British emigration for the Canadian National Railways. He said here that some who applied last May will not be able to leave until late in the year.

New Kind of Comic Strip To Begin In The Examiner

For many years now, people have been clamoring for a new kind of comic strip, one that would be different and unique in its originality. After many years of hopeful anticipation, a comic strip so revolutionary in its humor, art, and satire has been created that an entirely new fashion in the comics world has been set.

The editors of the Examiner who, like their readers, have been anxiously awaiting the arrival of a unique strip, now proudly announce that one of the most refreshing adventure fantasies ever created will begin soon.

Flook is the hero of this new strip, an animal-like creature who can talk, think, and act for himself. Not content with ordinary human behavior, Flook has the amazing ability of turning himself into different objects. At one moment, therefore, he is just Flook. Within a split second; he has become some unusual object. These changes leave Flook with never a dull moment.

A new form of art is combined with singularly fanciful humor and delightful satire to make "The Adventures of Flook" truly a superb piece of entertainment. The light fantastic does cartwheels and the imagination runs wild in the whimsical tales that are unfolded.

Adults will cherish and children will adore the lovable Flook who constantly finds himself in trouble. They will live his exciting adventures with treacherous pirates, howl with glee when Flook is turned into a chair and sold to a rich old codger, and bite their nails in suspense when our hero visits the long forbidden secret room. These are just a few of the many charming adventures in store for readers when "The Adventures of Flook" makes its bow in the Examiner on Sept. 10.

You won't want to miss a single episode of this completely different type of comic strip. Watch for Flook. He's coming.

Red Lands Seek Markets In West For Grain

GENEVA, Aug. 30 (AP). — The UN Economic Commission for Europe said Wednesday Russia and its Communist satellites have been holding secret talks with representatives concerning large-scale shipments westward of grain and timber.

The ECE said the talks arose out of a meeting of trade experts from East and West Europe, called by the commission's executive secretary, Gunnar Myrdal of Sweden. Delegates of 16 European countries officially studied the question of whether full-scale East-West trade conference under ECE auspices had any chance of success.

The trade conference coincided with a Soviet propaganda campaign aimed at increasing East-West trade and easing trade restrictions imposed in the cold war.

Fail To Agree

Myrdal announced at the end of the nine-day meeting Wednesday that the experts had failed to agree on holding an immediate full conference.

He added, however, that the meeting had led to some modest but concrete results, including the start of bilateral trade talks between Communist countries and the major trading countries of Western Europe.

The bilateral talks are to continue in the various capitals, Myrdal said, adding he will call a full conference as soon as prospects appeared favorable.

The countries taking part in the talks were Austria, Belgium, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, France, Greece, Hungary, Italy, the Netherlands, Norway, Poland, Bulgaria, Romania, Sweden, the Soviet Union and Britain. The United States, Yugoslavia and Turkey were represented by observers.

Urge Pay Ceilings

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30. (AP) —The government set up a three-man committee Wednesday to recommend pay ceilings for such entertainment figures as Hopalong Cassidy, Clark Gable and Dagmar, television's statuesque blonde. Up to now the salary stabilization board has generally permitted show business to stick to normal pay practices, but board approval is required for unusually high salary increases.

Dismiss Appeal

SINGAPORE, Aug. 30. (Reuters)—The chief justice of Malaya today dismissed the appeal of Mansoor Adabi, 23-year-old Malay schoolteacher, against the high court's annulment of his Moslem marriage to 13-year-old "jungle girl" Bertha Hertogh. The high court's annulment decision was announced last December when 17 persons were killed and 200 injured in riots.

It's here! Procter & Gamble's latest, great discovery!

NEW! PATENTED!

cheer

No matter what soap you're now using, cheer guarantees you a cleaner, whiter wash!

You're probably using a perfectly good soap now.

But because new. CHEER is, beyond question, an important improvement in washing products, you owe it to yourself to try new CHEER —at least once.

And the very first time you do use it, you'll see, at every washing step, how new Cheer works to give you a cleaner, whiter wash than any soap you ever knew . . . even in the hardest water!

Also available in the giant economy size.

Next washday, you be the judge!

1. Prove Cheer's Guarantee— IN YOUR WASHING MACHINE!

You'll find new CHEER isn't just another washing product, but the grandest help a woman ever had to do her wash. You'll watch thick, long-lasting suds spring up in a flash . . . see them work to remove, not only toughest, greasiest dirt, but also the dulling film left on clothes by soap-washings! And without bleaches, bluing or water softeners.

2. Prove Cheer's Guarantee— ON YOUR WASHLINE!

When you rinse and wring out, you'll hang up a wash so clean and white it fairly shimmers on the line. You'll see your clothes dry so soft and fluffy, so fresh and sweet-smelling, you'll want to hug them! And you'll discover new CHEER is safe for colored washables, kind to hands.

3. Prove Cheer's Guarantee— ON YOUR IRONING BOARD!

You'll find your clothes iron beautifully—gleam white and bright as the iron sails over them. CHEER leaves no soap film to yellow under the iron's heat! They're cleaner, whiter than any soap will get them! If you don't agree, just mail the CHEER box top to Procter & Gamble and get your money back.

P.S. Wonderful for NO-RINSE WASHING too!

If you wash without rinsing, no washing product on earth can give you a cleaner wash than CHEER. CHEER will give you the cleanest no-rinse wash that it's possible to get.

Try cheer once... and you'll cheer forever!

TO ACQUIRE A ROUNDED BUST, wasp waist and smoothly curved hipline, this young woman devotes herself to helpful exercises. To minimize her midriff, she chooses a side-swinging routine (left) in which correct body position plays an important part. With the help of phonograph records (left inset), she finds she is better able to maintain the rhythmic movements which give best results in exercises to strengthen the bustline (right inset) and to erase lumps and bulges from her hips and thighs (lower right).

Exercise Can Mold Curves When Emphasis On Figure

Not since the early part of the century has there been so much emphasis upon the womanly figure—in the old-fashioned sense of the term—as there is currently.

Pacing changing clothes trends, the ideal feminine form has run the gamut during the past half-century from curves to boyish flatness to a combination-figure featuring constraint here and exaggeration there. Now there's a return to rounded naturalness in hips and bust, with a tiny waist pointing up the importance of both.

An aid to women who wish to revamp their figures to fit the current ideal is a series of exercises worked out by Manya Kahn, body-molding expert, who recently published a home course entitled "Lovely to Look At."

The first of her suggested "body rhythms" which were designed to correct posture and to develop grace as well as to beautify the figure, is an exercise for the bust-line. This may be done either seated cross-legged on the floor, of else standing tall in a free area.

Begin by straightening yourself into an erect, vibrant posture — head up, chest lifted, abdomen in. Place your fingertips upon your shoulders, your elbows pointing straight forward. Drop your head limply forward, then inhaling deeply, raise your head slowly up and back.

Keeping your fingers on your shoulders, bring your elbows forward and then up and back, following the lead of your head. When your arms have made a full circle, exhale, lower your elbows and begin the movement again from the starting position. Five times around should be enough to give you, after each exercise session, a sense of tautened pectorals and loosened shoulders.

It's important, Miss Kahn explains, to keep your body in balance and to bend with your muscles in the way that they naturally go. A waist exercise is much more than just simply flopping your torso from side to side. She suggests this one, cautioning you to keep your body in line, avoiding swaying awkwardly to the front or to the rear.

Stand with your feet spread apart, and your hands clasped high above your head. Next, bend sideways, three times to the right, then three times to the left.

As you swing, unclasp your hands and hold them in a palms-outward position. As you move to the right, swing your right arm downward; as you move to the left, your left arm follows suit while your right arm is again elevated above your head.

It is then time to flow into the final position of this exercise. Swing back to your original stance and then shift your right foot away from your left as far as you can reach. Bend your right knee and raise your left hand. Stretch and swing your body three times to the right and then to the left. Reverse the foot positions, then, and swing for another three times.

To coax your thighs and hips into feminine curves, try a floor exercise which combines the benefits of rolling with stretching. Sit upon the floor, legs outstretched straight before you. Roll your torso to the left, bringing your arms around to the left to support your weight. Place your palms flat upon the floor.

Raise your right leg, then bending your knee and pointing your toes. Lightly touch your left knee and then swing your right leg into the air as high as you can manage, remembering to keep your knee perfectly straight. Eventually you should be able to kick sufficiently high to grasp your right heel with your right hand. This will require torso elasticity as well as limberness of leg.

Art School In Rockies Popular Venture

BANFF, Alta (CP)—It's a revelation to talk of art with Donald Cameron director of the Banff School of Fine Arts. He connects art with the popular needs of the people, not with "long-hair" theories.

Mr. Cameron sees the hunger of the people for knowledge as the reason for the remarkable growth of the school, which some supporters believe may eventually become a Canadian counterpart of the historic Salzbery centre in Austria.

They figure such an eminence may take five to 15 years to achieve, but they're working on it and in the meantime they would appreciate if the long-hair types set up shop somewhere else.

Simple People

In other words, people attending the 19th summer session of the Banff School of Fine Arts are the same types that may sit around your room of an evening and discuss things simply because they enjoy food for thought and good fellowship.

And Mr. Cameron, who directs the extension department of the University of Alberta, apart from the Banff school, is a son of the farm, in the days when the farm home parlor was a community gathering place.

Today he engages the continent's leaders in various fields for the summer school staff, but his own education stems from a one-room country school at Innisfail, Alta.

Experienced Teacher

While studying for his master's degree in agricultural economics at the University of Alberta he saw possibilities of adult education.

So in 1930 he entered the education field with appointment to the university's extension service. In 1933 he studied adult education in Europe on a Carnegie scholarship. In 1936 he was named director of the extension service and also of the Banff school, with which he has been associated in an administrative capacity for 18 years.

When the Banff school was started in 1933 on a Carnegie grant to the University of Alberta to encourage fine arts, they figured 40 would show up. But the attendance was 130 to study the elements of stage production and acting.

Lacking dining room and dormitory facilities, the school farmed out the students all over town. The classes were held in the old Dr. Brett theatre, where a little shoring of the beams was necessary on more than one ocassion.

From that poor-cousin beginning, the school has grown to an average session enrolment of 600. It draws students from most of Canada, the United States, and even Norway, Hawaii, Mexico and Alaska.

Well-Equipped

At one time it had 82 different buildings under summer contract in the town of banff. Today, having developed into a major continuation centre of the university, it owns three beautiful chalets, has 10 cabins and another building on long-term leases.

By these it accommodates 300 for sleeping. For classes, it has a co-operative arrangement for use of town schools and receives co-operation of the Federal Parks Department.

With its short courses and meetings—there were 28 of them this year—the school actually operates nine months of the year, drawing 3,000 persons to Banff. The school eventually will operate all year round.

The school is financed by private funds, and a $2,500 grant from the extension department. Its ledger is a museum piece among fine art schools. The Banff school last year cost $100,000 and its revenues totalled $97,500.

Although the school has grown from drama to the other arts, the policy still is the same. Mr. Cameron says it is to invite as guest instructors leading artists of the world to develop a richer Canadian culture in the friendly atmosphere of the Canadian West.

Rona Anderson Realizes Cherished Dream

LONDON, Aug. 30 —(CP)— A cherished dream born in an Ottawa schoolroom a few years ago, has been realized by Rona Anderson, 25-year-old British film and television star.

Rona — named after a tiny island on the west coast of Scotland near Skye — went to Canada as a Scottish evacuee and from her first part in a school play determined to become an actress.

When she finished school, Rona's first and only Canadian job — while waiting a ship home —was counting dirty dollar bills scheduled for scrapping.

"I did try for a job as a waitress, but I was unlucky," she said.

After an uneventful start in repertory, the five-foot-five honey-blonde was tested by Sir Alexander Korda for the part of Flora MacDonald in the technicolor film "Bonnie Prince Charlie." Rona lost the part but the test brought her a contract with a British film studio.

Leading Roles

Since then she has been given leading and supporting roles in at least nine films including "Sleeping Car to Trieste," with Jean Kent, "Whispering Smith," with Richard Carlson and "Flood Tide," a flim on Scotland's shipbuilding.

"I'm always the good girl — which gets a bit dull," said Rona. "I've been called Mary and Joan three times. In three successive films I've been nearly strangled, nearly hanged and nearly garrotted. But I love it."

Rona prefers films to the stage —and well she might. In "Flood Tide" she starred with Gordon Jackson, a Scot from Glasgow. Early this year they were married.

At present, Gordon is playing in "Seagulls oved Sorrento," a London hit starring Ronald Shiner that has already run for more than a year.

First Lawyer Nun Alumnae Speaker

TORONTO, Aug. 30 (CP). — Sister Ann Joachim, member of the Sisters of St. Dominic, outstanding educationist, writer and first religious to be admitted to practice before the supreme court of the United States, was the chief speaker yesterday at the opening sessions of the seventh biennial convention of the Confederation of Convent Alumnae.

Members of 26 teaching orders and alumnae members from across Canada are attending the convention at St. Michael's College here.

Women today are faced with grave responsibilities in a changing world with different attitudes toward women, Sister Joachim who is chairman of social sciences, Siena Heights College, Adrian, Mich., said.

MR. AND MRS. AUBREY HOCKADAY, of Lakefield, the latter formerly Betty Montgomery.—(Duke Studio Photo)

Betty Montgomery Marries Aubrey Hockaday

LAKEFIELD, Aug. 30 (ENS)—The marriage took place Saturday in the Lakefield United church parsonage of Amy Elizabeth (Betty), daughter of Mrs. May Montgomery, Peterborough, and the late Harold Montgomery, to Aubrey Harry Hockaday, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hockaday, Lakefield. The Rev. Walter Tonge officiated.

Dressed in pale blue nylon and net the bride wore a matching picture hat and carried a bouquet of red roses.

Miss Alice Foster attended in a pink nylon dress, pink picture hat and carried pink roses.

Groomsman was Royden Hockaday, brother of the groom.

A reception was held at the Empress Hotel, Peterborough. The bride's mother received in a grey crepe dress with pale mauve accessories and wore a corsage of mauve sweet peas. The groom's mother also received in a navy crepe dress, with navy accessories and corsage of red roses.

For travelling the bride chose a blue and gold check suit, gold hat and brown accessories.

Following a trip through eastern Ontario the couple will live on Prospect Street.

Woman 84 Enjoys First City Visit

HALIFAX—(CP)—Mrs. Minnie Durling, 84-year-old native of Cambridge Station in Kings County, has just made her first trip to Halifax and she said "I liked it fine."

The silver-haired woman who visited a cousin here said she could have visited Halifax many times in the past " but somehow I just never got around to doing it."

Mrs. Durling lived at Cambridge, Mass., for a number of years but returned to the Nova Scotia Cambridge Station when her husband died some years ago.

She was impressed by the shopping districts and the Halifax public gardens.

"You know," she said, "I would live here except for one thing. If you ask me, this would be a good place to steer clear of during a war."

The little old lady set a busy pace during her visit. "Some nights I haven't been to bed before 2 or 3 am," she said. "Back home I always turn in about 10 o'clock. I'm having a great time."

Mrs. Durling has two sons and two daughters, all living in Nova Scotia except a son, Layton, in Toronto.

19 Probationers Register At St. Joseph's

A probationary class of 19 registered Wednesday at St. Joseph's Hospital School of Nursing. The girls and their relatives were received by the Sisters in charge and afternoon tea was served in the residence.

Two Ring Wedding Beverley Davis And Gordon Long

A double ring wedding ceremony in Trinity United Church Saturday afternoon, performed by the Rev. Henry Cotton, united Beverley Anne Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Davis of Lakefield, and Mr. Gordon Edward Long, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Long of Barrie.

The chancel was decorated with varied colors of gladioli, banked with ferns. Organist Mr. Donald Kennedy played the wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore white satin with a net yoke edged with braided satin which was styled with tight fitting bodice with small peplum, long pointed sleeves, and full skirt extending in a long train. Her circular veil of embroidered net was caught with orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of scarlet gladioli and stephanotis.

Miss Betty Milburn as maid of honor was frocked in blue nylon net, and wore a matching shoulder cape. Miss Marilyn Davis was her sister's bridesmaid wearing a gown of pink taffeta with lace bodice. They had halos of pink and blue trimmed with seed pearls and carried baskets of multi-colored gladioli and mixed flowers trimmed with large bows to match their dresses.

Mr. Albert Vass attended the groom and Ernest Gregson and Ralph Davis were ushers.

The reception was in the Empress Hotel Kawartha Room, the bride's mother receiving in a gown of wine taffeta with a white hat and corsage of white carnations. Assisting was the groom's mother who wore navy moire with a pink hat and corsage of pink carnations.

The bride and groom left later by motor for a honeymoon in Muskoka. Travelling the bride wore a navy faille dress trimmed with white polka dot collar and cuffs, a red hat and shoes and navy handbag. Her corsage was of red roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Long will live at 633 Charlotte St. W.

MR. CLARKE FERREN AND HIS BRIDE, formerly Paulette Dagenais.—(Smith Photo, Campbellford)

Ferren-Dagenais

The wedding took place Monday in St. Mary's Church, Campbellford, of Paulette Marie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Narcise Dagenais and Clarke Francis Ferren, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Ferren, Peterborough. The Rev. J. Maloney of Campbellford officiated.

Given in marriage by her father the bride was gowned in white lace over taffeta, and wore a shoulder veil caught to a Juliet cap trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of Lestra Hibbard roses.

Attendants, Miss Anne Ferren, sister of the groom, and Miss Claudette Allen, niece of the bride were frocked in blue net over taffeta and yellow taffeta, and carried bouquets of pink and mauve gladioli and yellow sweetheart roses.

Groomsman was Mr. Robert Dagenais, brother of the bride, and ushers were Paul Jones and Adelard Dagenais.

The reception was held in Kay's dining room, the bride's mother receiving in a mauve silk dress with black accessories and wearing a corsage of white roses. She was assisted by the groom's mother who wore a royal blue crepe with grey accessories and pink rose corsage.

For travelling the bride was attired in a mauve figured dress with grey coat and she wore black and mauve accessories and corsage of roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferren will live on Water St., Peterborough.

Barbara Brent's BUYS AND WHYS

A WEEKLY INFORMATION SERVICE

MONTREAL, Aug. 30th — Isn't DENTOCILLIN what you've been waiting for — to help save your children's teeth (and yours)? It's the new tooth powder that puts the power of penicillin to work . . . to reduce tooth decay more than has ever been possible before. In a 2-year test among hundreds of school children, Dentocillin reduced decay 55% — 5 times that reported for ammoniated dentifrices using the basic formula of a famous university and publicized in Reader's Digest. And its effectiveness in no way depended on a change in toothbrushing habits. Don't wait another day to start your family using Dentocillin. You'll like its delightful taste . . . the way it cleans teeth shining bright. 75c for 3 months' supply.

"Curiouser And Curiouser" is the way Alice described her adventures in Wonderland.* And I say "curiouser and curiouser" if you haven't yet discovered the wonderful time saver you have in JELL-O JELLY POWDERS. Nothing could be easier to prepare than a Jell-O dessert and nothing could bring more variety to your family table. Those seven exciting "locked-in" flavors give tangy, fruit fresh deliciousness to desserts and salads for any day of the week. Serve Jell-O often to your family and to your friends. Jell-O costs only about 2c a serving.

First Taste of these delightful, lemon puff biscuits and folks always say "M-mmm! Where did you find them? Where can we get them?". Yes, first taste and you'll want to rush right out and buy a package of JACOB'S LEMON PUFF BISCUITS, too! You'll find them at leading grocery and chain stores at popular prices . . . oven-fresh in air-tight cartons from England. It's that soft, English wheat flour . . . and the century of experience behind their baking that make Jacob's Lemon Puffs the favorite of hostesses and their guests the world over! Jacob's Lemon Puff Biscuits are more like Danish pastry than anything else I can think of . . . flaky-crisp and feather-light as a dream . . . filled with a lemon-'n'-butter filling that fairly melts in your mouth!

It's True! . . . a plate of delicious Aunt Jemima Pancakes, plus all the trimmings, costs only 5c! No, it's not done with mirrors . . . but like this —

3 Aunt Jemima Pancakes — 3c
Corn Syrup — 1c
Butter or Margarine — 1c
ALL FOR 5c!

And Aunt Jemimas taste so good at breakfast, lunch or supper. That's why I consider AUNT JEMIMA PANCAKE FLOUR the "money-savingest" item in my pantry! What's more, Aunt Jemima "Secret Recipe" Pancakes are easy as 1-2-3 to fix. Just add water or milk, stir and pop 'em on the griddle! M-mm-mm . . . off they come in a jiffy — golden-brown and dee-licious!

No Wonder Mary is proud of her young son! He's the healthiest baby — and the happiest one — that I've ever seen. She gives a lot of the credit to that good 5 Minute "CREAM OF WHEAT" — a very important part of his diet! For 5 Minute "Cream of Wheat" provides Iron for good red blood, and Calcium and Phosphorus for diets deficient in these elements. And, mother! — just five minutes of boiling and 5 Minute "Cream of Wheat" is cooked to baby-ready digestibility — tempting and flavourful and brimful of good things babies need to be strong 'n' sturdy. Your whole family will enjoy "Cream of Wheat" . . . so why not order some today? — for baby — and for a regular, family breakfast treat!

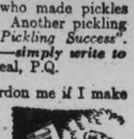
Want To Keep Cool? Then take my tip and make an intimate friend of your shower! Nothing like it on a sticky, hot morning or after the day's work. And I mean every day . . . for if you are a true modern, you've learned the secret of TAMPAX sanitary protection that's worn internally . . . and a shower, a sunbath or a beach party make no difference, even on your "calendar" days! Designed by a doctor for women's monthly use, Tampax relieves you from pin, belt or bulge worries when you wear skimpy play-togs. With Tampax, you avoid all risk of odour or chafing. It comes in 3 absorbencies, Regular, Super, Junior. Ask for Tampax at your favourite drug or notion counter,

I Feel Like Saying "Thanks A Million" to the Blue-Jay folks for giving us wonderful Phenylium. It's the greatest scientific discovery in years for people who suffer from corns and calluses . . . and Blue-Jay have put it in their new BLUE-JAY Corn and Callus Plasters to give us all "happy" feet. It took 10 years of scientific research for Blue-Jay to develop this wonder-working medication. Now actual scientific tests prove that it ends 95% of all corns and calluses in record time . . . quicker than any other treatment! Ask your druggist today for Blue-Jay Corn Plasters with Phenylium!

Do You Long For A Picture Window in your room-with-a-view . . . but — you wonder if it will create a cleaning problem? Well, go right ahead with your picture window plans! There's the most marvelous product called WINDEX to help you clean your windows in a jiffy! Yes, I mean it! Just spray it on and wipe it off, and how your windows sparkle! No smears, streaks or oily film — not with Windex's clear, active solution. Windex-cleaned windows are so dust-'n'-smudge-free, it's almost like living outdoors! And when you clean with Windex, there's no fuss with rubbing, scrubbing or pails of dirty water. Economical, too! I always choose the 20-ounce refill bottle and use it sparingly for best results.

Time Now To Think About Pickling all those luscious summer fruits and vegetables. But before you begin, I'd like to tell you how to be truly thrifty when you're buying your pickling vinegar. Buy HEINZ WHITE VINEGAR in the big gallon jug instead of in smaller containers and save 2½c on every cupful of pickling vinegar! Heinz Vinegar is the very best buy for full-bodied flavour and uniform strength, too. And no wonder—for Heinz White Vinegar is packed by the firm who made pickles famous . . . you know it's good because it's Heinz! Another pickling help is that grand FREE RECIPE BOOKLET—"Pickling Success". If the gallon jug you buy doesn't have it attached—simply write to me for it—Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q.

"Summertime . . . And The Living Isn't Easy." Pardon me if I make free with the Gershwin song, but with prices getting so high and mighty, things just aren't easy any more — even in summertime. Right about now is when I really appreciate the advantages of Personal Planning—the BANK OF MONTREAL way of making today's dollar go almost as far as the old-fashioned kind. 'Way back in January when my budget was showing signs of going into a tail-spin, I began Personal Planning. Now I'm better off financially than I've been for years — even if my income didn't shoot up with the cost-of-living index. There's money in my bank account . . . and I'm adding to it regularly. Why not try Personal Planning yourself? You'll be delighted with the results once you get down to it. Just ask for your free copy of the booklet "PERSONAL PLANNING" at your neighborhood B of M branch.



Of Interest to Women

DOROTHY DIX

Never Permit Bashful Beau Think You're Overanxious

DEAR MISS DIX: How can two bashful people finally get together? I am shy to the nth degree and have found my ideal man in the place I work. He is quiet, industrious, tall, and while not too handsome, suits me completely. But—he is shy as I am! I am sure, from the way he watches me, that he likes me, and while I give him what I hope is an encouraging smile now and then, I'm getting nowhere fast. What must I do to get a date with him? Please, don't suggest that I invite him to my home — I haven't got the nerve. I can't get a gang together, either, as I don't know many people.
FRUSTRATED.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Patience is the keyword for you, my frustrated friend. You've only known this boy a month, which isn't much time for even a non-bashful swain to get around to dating. Even if you had nerve enough to suggest an evening's outing with him, on such short acquaintance he'd probably think you were a little overanxious.

Let Him Make Overtures

Continue to smile your prettiest, be as friendly as possible, but don't rush the poor boy. Let him get the idea that any overtures of friendship are his own. If he likes you as much as you indicate, not many more weeks will elapse before affection will win over shyness and you'll get your date.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Two years ago I became engaged. My fiance went on a trip, and when he returned announced he had met another girl and fallen in love with her. He asked to be released from our engagement. How can I renew his interest? I love him very much and am sure he still loves me.
ANITA.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: If your fiance wishes a release from his engagement, there is nothing you can do but accede to his wishes. Nothing can be gained by holding a man against his will. It sounds very possible that his sudden change of heart may be infatuation, but you cannot decide that for him.

A sweetheart of vacillating affections is no great asset anyway, so don't be too regretful over losing this one. Above all, don't sit around and mope over your broken romance. There are plenty of other nice boys. Get out and meet them!

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 13 and going into the eighth grade. I have my choice of two schools to attend next year. One is nearer to me than the other. One teaches dressmaking and the other commercial courses. Which should I select?
F.M.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Since your difficulty seems to be with the courses offered, why not consult with the principal of each school? There are advantages to both dressmaking and business courses, and expert advice will help you decide which is better in your case.

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Skim Milk Powder Recipes Permit Cutting Corners

Quote from letter from Mrs. F. H. T.: "Yes—please do let's have more skim milk powder recipes. My hubby is out of work at present, and I want to cut corners as much as possible."

✧ ✧ ✧

To many of our readers who are old hands at using milk powder some of the things I am about to say are "...elementary—elementary, my dear Watson"—but those same milk-powder-users comprise only a small minority of Canadian cooks.

The research work that is being done and which has been done on powdered milk is yielding almost 100 per cent results in retaining the true milk flavor and eliminating foreign flavors. As an instance of this I would like to tell you what happened one Sunday morning when we were visiting for the weekend.

Our hostess wanted to serve dry cereal with sliced peaches for a combined fruit and cereal course.

She had plenty of thick cream but it was too thick. It required milk to thin it, and she had none. Because I had been in too much of a hurry to take it out of the car before we left, a can of powdered skim milk was rolling around on the back shelf of the car. It had been given to me by the manufacturer. I whipped out to the car and got it, read the directions, whipped up some milk, and added it in 50-50 ratio to the cream. Result: Not one of those Sunday morning breakfasters thought of the mixture as being anything but table cream.

I think this: Milk powder should be on every kitchen shelf because it is (1) economical, (2) a supplement for a dwindling fresh milk supply and (3) added protein for a low-protein meal. It has many other features in its favor.

Milk powder is especially adaptable to recipes calling for milk. I can think of none, nor have I discovered any, in which it cannot be used to replace liquid milk—even in custards.

✧ ✧ ✧

Emem's Macaroni and Cheese Dish
(To serve 6 or 8)

Eight ounces macaroni or spaghetti, 2 1-inch green mild onions, 4 inner stalks celery and green tops, ¾ to 1 lb. processed cheese, ¾ cup skim milk powder, 3 cups water, 3 medium-large tomatoes sliced, salt. Boil together in plenty of salted water the macaroni and finely sliced onions and tops and celery and tops for 15 minutes. Drain. Pour half of them into buttered casserole. Add half of the cheese which has been cut into cubes or sliced. Add remaining half of macaroni mixture. Mix the milk powder into the water by putting water in bowl, sprinkling milk powder over, and beating with rotary beater until all powder disappears. Pour reliquified milk over macaroni. Sprinkle generously with salt, then top with remaining cheese. Bake at 400 for about 20 minutes. Now cover with peeled and sliced tomatoes, put on cover and bake until macaroni has soaked up all of the milk and the dish is bubbling. We served this with a large interesting green salad. My young people said "We have the best meals in the world Mum." I'm a push-over for this guff, but I'm glad they are so satisfied.

Lemon Sponge Layer Pudding

One-quarter cup sifted flour, ¼ cup skim milk powder, ¼ teaspoon salt, 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1 cup sugar, 2 egg yolks, 1 tablespoon grated lemon rind, ¼ cup lemon juice, 1 cup water, 2 egg whites stiffly beaten. Mix and sift flour, milk powder, salt. Cream butter, add ½ cup sugar and beaten yolks, and mix. Add lemon rind and juice to water, then add them alternately with the flour mixture to the creamed mixture. Beat whites until stiff and then beat in the ½ cup sugar remaining. Fold into mixture. Turn into buttered custard cups, stand in pan containing hot water, bake at 350 deg. Fahr. for 30 to 40 minutes. Chill before serving. This is a delicious light dessert after a too-hearty meal, and may be made 8 or 10 hours ahead of dinner-time.

Royal Family Loan Porcelain For Special Show

LONDON (CP)—Specimens of historic Chelsea china were loaned by Royalty for the exhibition of famous porcelain held this month at the Royal Hospital, Chelsea, home since the 17th century of military pensioners.

The exhibition was arranged by the Chelsea Society in co-operation with the British Arts Council as part of the celebrations of the Festival of Britain, and exhibits were sent by King George, Queen Elizabeth and Queen Mary.

The famous Chelsea china factory which produced many of the exhibits was founded in 1745. Nicholas Sprimont, silversmith from Liege, Belgium, took charge of the factory two years later.

From the royal collection came a pair of silver-gilt crawfish salts designed by Sprimont.

Queen Elizabeth's exhibits reflected the influence of the Chelsea garden of which the famous physician Sir Hans Sloane was the patron. He inspired the "Hans Sloane Flowers" that were reproduced on many pieces of china. Some of these were loaned by Queen Elizabeth, who also contributed some charming small tureens in the shape of a cauliflower, asparagus and melons.

Queen Mary sent a collection of 53 porcelain seals originally designed by the Chelsea factory. Each seal is surmounted by a small china figure, a cat, a swan, a bust of Shakespeare and the like.

Another of Queen Mary's exhibits is a magnificent bowl with a claret ground, on which is painted a landscape of the London district of Chiswick.

6—In Memoriam

McMANNUS—In loving memory of Mrs. Ernest McMannus, who passed away August 30th, 1950.
Take here in Thine arms, dear Lord,
And ever let her be
A messenger of love
Between our hearts and Thee.
—Lovingly remembered by sister Blanche and brother-in-law Hugh Newnham.

RENDELL—In loving memory of our dear grandfather, Sidney Rendell, who passed away Aug. 30, 1950.
God knew that he was suffering,
The hills were hard to climb.
So he closed his weary eyelids,
And whispered "Peace be thine."
Away in the beautiful hills of God,
By the valley of rest so fair,
Some time, some day, we know not when,
We will meet our grandfather there.
—Always remembered by granddaughter, Norma, husband Ernie and great-grandson Johnnie.

RENDELL—In loving memory of a dear husband, Sidney Rendell, who passed away Aug. 30, 1950.
Nothing can ever take away
The love a heart holds dear,
Fond memories linger every day
Remembrance keeps him near.
—Lovingly remembered by wife Florence.

RENDELL—In loving memory of Sidney Rendell, who passed away Aug. 30, 1950.
One year has passed, dear father,
Since you were called away;
How well do I remember
That sad and weary day.
You suffered much, your murmured not,
We watched you day by day;
We cried and prayed that your dear life,
Would not be taken away.
—Ever remembered by son, daughter-in-law, two grandsons.

RENDELL—In loving memory of our dear father and grandfather Sidney Rendell, who passed away Aug. 30, 1950.
We often sit and think of you when we are alone,
For memory is the only friend that grief can call its own.
Like ivy on the withered oak, when all other things decay,
Our love for you will still keep green, and never fade away.
—Ever lovingly remembered and sadly missed by daughter Marjorie, Lewis and grandchildren Barbara and Faye.

Police Close Books In Death Of Chef

MORRISBURG, Ont., Aug. 30 (CP)—New York State and Ontario Provincial Police closed the books today on the case of Peter Vasilous, 68-year-old Morrisburg chef who died following an emergency brain operation in nearby Massena, N.Y., Monday.

Vasilous left here Sunday on a visit to Massena, about 10 miles east across the St. Lawrence river. That night he was found unconscious, was taken to the customs station, where he spent the night, and was found unconscious again on a road Monday morning.

He was taken to Massena hospital for an emergency operation, suffering a skull fracture and concussion.

Police said today that he apparently had a bad fall and that any possibility of foul play had been eliminated.

2,000,000 Boxes

He also attended the scout jamboree there in addition to visiting scout officials in Switzerland, France and England.

Annual Flower Show Held By Omemee Horticulturists

OMEMEE, Aug. 30—(ENS)—Under the management of director Mrs. H. Hill the annual flower show of the Omemee and District Horticultural Society was held in Coronation Hall on Tuesday. It was pronounced a good show by District No. 4 Representative, R. G. Heard, who judged the exhibits and addressed the assembly in the evening.

President J. A. Bent thanked the committee, the doners of prizes, the exhibitors and those who lent support to the society by attending. Mrs. Hill made special mention of her helpers, Mrs. M. Finney, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. V. Lang, Mrs. C. Atwell and Mrs. W. Weir. Mrs. Lang read the list of winners in the Sr. department while Mrs. Hill presented the awards. The door prize numbers were drawn by Terry Ruttle. The Eaton trophy was awarded to Mrs. C. Best who, in the flower section gained the greatest number of points taken by any exhibitor not having previously won the trophy. Mrs. V. Raffin was second. The prize for the most points won by one exhibiting for the first time went to Mrs. J. Swinson, and winners of door prizes were Mr. Jack Morrison, Mrs. R. Bradley, Mrs. H. Mortson, Mrs. C. Atwell and Mr. E. Corneil.

Prize winners in order of merit in the senior department were:

Give War Planes To Italy's Knights Of Malta

By JAMES M. LONG

ROME, Aug. 30 — (AP) — A spokesman for the Defence Ministry said today "some scores" of old Italian war planes have been transferred to the Knights of Malta for air ambulance use as one way of keeping within peace treaty restrictions on her air force.

Gen. Fiore Vernazza, the ministry spokesman, said "it is no secret" that some of Italy's Second World War three-engined bombers have been turned over to the order, which is recognized here and in a half dozen other countries as a "sovereignty."

Qualified American sources said the transfer — which cuts Italy's inventory of old planes so modern air power can be brought in under the treaty restrictions—is being done with the knowledge of the US government and of Gen. Dwight Eisenhower's Atlantic Pact Command.

Italian army and Knights of Malta sources both confirmed that Italian air force crews are assigned to fly the planes for the order, and the fliers are being paid by the Italian air force.

Previously Silent

Italy, with a wary eye toward the Iron Curtain, where Russia is a signatory power to the Italian Peace Treaty, previously has kept silent about the transfers.

Under the terms of the peace treaty of 1947, Italy is restricted to only 350 planes—200 fighters and reconnaissance planes and 150 transports. But its 1949 listing showed it had a total of 419 planes and since then new British and American fighters have been sent in to bolster Italy's defences. More, including American jets, are on the way.

An official spokesman for the Italian branch of the Knights of Malta said at least 81 planes had been received from Italy. Some of the planes already have been fitted with stretcher carriers, and the first four of these flew to Dublin this week on their first aerial mission. They carried crippled and ailing Irish Catholic pilgrims to the French Miracle Shrine at Lourdes Wednesday.

Kept At Air Bases

The planes are kept at Italian military air bases—at Guidonia near Rome and at other air force fields near Venice, La Spezia, Naples and Taranto.

The planes have been handed over as outright gifts to the Sovereign and Military Order of Malta. The eight-centuries-old order has neither territory nor population, but it has diplomatic representatives at the Vatican and in Spain, Portugal and Argentina.

One of the order's principal activities is to maintain hospitals and first aid services to war injured. It was given its sovereign status for its part in the crusades and in the post-crusade defence of Rhodes and Malta.

Four Killed In Fire After Birthday Party

NEW YORK, Aug. 30—(AP)—Four persons, including two children, died early today in a fire that broke out in an apartment after a birthday party.

The dead: Raymond Hurley, 47-year-old occupant of the fifth-floor apartment where the fire occurred; his nine-year-old son, Vincent; Mrs. Dolores Carmody, 20, and her five-year-old daughter, Geraldine.

Hurley's seven-year-old daughter, Rayna Hurley, and his 11-year-old son, Raymond Hurley, were taken to hospital with burns.

The fire of undetermined origin, started shortly after midnight following a party to celebrate the birthday of Hurley's stepdaughters.

Trucker Fined $50 Had Been Drinking

Wesley Johnston, of RR 4, Lakefield, was today fined $50 and $2.50 costs when he pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while his ability was impaired by alcohol.

Johnston offered no evidence on his own behalf. Previously, he had pleaded not guilty to the charge.

Constable Robert Menzies testified that on Aug. 21, he found a car and a truck slightly east of Park St. on Lansdowne St. Driver of the car, Jack Dolan, told the officer he had been driving west on Lansdowne and was two-thirds across Park St. when the truck driven by Johnston hit him.

The officer said he found Johnston in the cab of the truck, intoxicated. "I had to force him from the truck to bring him to the station. There was an empty wine bottle in the truck.

16 Enter Navy As Midshipmen

OTTAWA, Aug. 30 — (CP) — Sixteen students from the Canadian Services College at Royal Roads, near Victoria, are going into Canada's navy as midshipmen after two years of training.

The navy said today they were from a total of 24 naval cadets who graduated this month. The 16 enter the fleet now but the others will continue studies at Royal Military College, Kingston, for an additional two years.

It is the last time Royal Roads cadets will graduate as midshipmen. In future, all but some engineering cadets will spend four years in Canadian services colleges and on graduation will join the fleet as acting sub-lieutenants, a step higher on the navy's ladder of promotion.

The winner of the King's Canadian dirk as the best all-around cadet completing final professional training was Midshipman Richard Hitesman of Winnipeg.

Archie, Comic Character, Joins Weekend Examiner

By RICHARD O'HAGAN

MEREDITH, NH., Aug. 30—Bob Montana has packed a pile of living in his 31 years. He clog-danced in vaudeville at five, clowned on stage with Olsen and Johnson while still a youngster and was "discovered" by a millionaire before emerging from his teens.

He climaxed a variegated adolescence by creating and drawing "Archie," far and away North America's favorite teen-age comic strip character.

"It was a barrel of fun right from the beginning," smiles the slim, personable artist. "I wouldn't have missed any part of it for the world."

Although born into a family chin-deep in the traditions of show business (his father was The Great Montana who barnstormed the country 30 years with a banjo-playing act, while his mother was Bobbie Gerald, a Ziegfeld Follies star, 1915), Robert Montana had definite ideas of his own and took to intelligent scrawling at an early age.

It was while banging about the vaudeville circuits that Bob began to sketch. His dad willingly encouraged the flair in hope that his offspring would stay amused on long train trips between theatres.

Bright Prophecy

Once while filling an engagement at the Palace in New York, The Great Montana was interviewed by cartoonist Fay King, who viewed the lesser Montana's sketches and was impressed. "He'll be a great artist some day," she told the fledging doodler's parents. "Just keep him surrounded with paper and pencil."

The Montanas believed Miss King and thereafter their talented issue was constantly supplied with the necessary tools. "I sketched and I sketched," he recalled, "come to think of it, I didn't do much of anything else. hanging around backstage I used to do caricatures of actors. Most of them seemed amused."

The countless readers, looking forward to the giant new Weekend Examiner, will be treated even more liberally to the escapades of Archie and Co., because, in this pleasure-packed addition Archie will be one of the many features in full page color.

Archie Self-Portrait

Originally drawing on his own high school experiences, Bob Montana—pink-cheeked and rabbit-toothed—was his own model for Archie.

"Everything that happens to Archie happened to me at Haverhill (Mass.) High," explains Bob. "Only thing is Archie always gets out of his jams."

Born in Stockton, Calif., Montana's life was a succession of backstages all over the United States, long hours spent on trains and—no kidding—bureau-drawer beds.

By the time he was five, his father had taught him a few clog steps, and he and his sister Ruth, eight, came on with a brief routine during The Great Montana's finale.

Vaudeville houses dotted the land and scarcely a city in the United States was deprived of the privilege of seeing Bob hoof during those years. He even went with his father on a tour of England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales in the late 20's.

Young Montana was frequently loaned to other performers on the same bill when they wanted a wide-eyed, fresh-faced youngsters to walk on during their act.

Olsen, Johnson Episode

"My dad once loaned me to Olsen and Johnson for a New Year's eve show in Chicago," he remembered. "I pulled a little red wagon full of empty beer bottles across the stage while the entire cast followed moaning a funeral dirge."

After the death of vaudeville (for which the young Montana takes no responsibility), The Great Montana opened a restaurant in Boston's theatrical district. Bob, then 10, did the murals for the wall, and, from 1930 to 1933, sketched celebrities at tables. One of those was H. O. Whitney of the gilded Whitney clan. "Guess he was pretty taken with my work," said Bob, "because he financed my education at two Boston art schools."

When The Great Montana died, the restaurant was closed and the family moved to Haverhill where he entered high school, but just before graduation they trekked on to Manchester, NH.

After getting his diploma there Montana sold hot dogs in an amusement park to raise money for more education in art. "I suppose I could have appealed to Mr. Whitney for funds," he says, "but I wanted to show him I could make my own way."

With $200 in his kit he struck for New York and plunked down the cash on another course. To live, he sold papers at Coney Island and worked as a hotel bus boy.

Had To Be Funny

Seeking a job, he caught on with firm of comic book publishers and developed their idea for a character who would be youthful, true-to-life and—above all—funny. Thus Archie.

At first a secondary feature in comic books, Archie became instantly popular and after Montana's return from army service a daily strip was started. "I may not be the great artist Miss King told my folks I'd be," he says, "but, gosh, I like this Archie business and know, I think it's keeping me young."

PERRA, the famous German shepherd dog who conducted the Shillih family across the Yugoslavia-Austrian border last year and then broke away from her guards at Montreal Airport several weeks ago, has been reunited with her owners at Maple, 15 miles north of Toronto. Perra was finally recaptured some miles from Montreal after being missing eight days, and taken to the Maple Kennels. Although the dog is healthy and strong again, she must remain in the kennels another six months as protection against rabies. Perra is shown here with, left to right: Mrs. Josef Shillih, daughter Jane, 27, Mr. Shillih and son George, 25. Perra preceded the family, arriving here months ago. Mr. Shillih has a job with a Toronto customs brokerage firm; Jane will go into domestic service while George will work in the bush for a year.

Carpenter Likes Wood Carving

WINNIPEG (CP). — Knut Holmgren, for many years a seaman in the Swedish Merchant Navy, has been a carpenter since coming to Canada three months ago, but he would like to devote all his time to wood carving.

His latest project, which he will do in spare time, is a five-foot model in Canadian wood of a 19th-Century sailing ship used for carrying wheat from Australia and now a training ship for Sweden's navy.

Asked why he left the sea, Holmgren said:

"I have had enough travelling. Canada's climate is similar to that of Sweden. And then there's Mrs. Holmgren's decision: "I don't want a man who is always at sea.' We've spent only 13 of 20 years of married life together."

Map-Workers Kept Busy Trying To Make Changes

By MERRILL SWEDLUND

INDIANAPOLIS (AP). — This hectic world has been changing so fast that map-makers are busier than they have been for many years.

One of leading map publishers in the United States, the George F. Cram Company, has made at least 28 major changes in its world maps since the Second World War stopped and the major peace treaties are still up in the air.

But Cram's map men don't sit around waiting for diplomats to draw new international boundaries in permanent, legal lines.

"When it becomes evident an occupation is going to stick, we go ahead with our changes," said E. A. Peterson, a map salesman who became president of the 84-year-old firm.

For instance, when Japan seized Manchuria in 1932, Cram's changed their maps to show it as Manchukuo, a Japanese satellite, without waiting for international confirmation.

The same maps long ago restored the name to Manchuria, showing it once more part of China. The map men simply checked the terms of the Japanese surrender in 1945 so their maps would be up-to-date during the years of stalemate on a formal peace treaty.

Europe Is "Headache"

Poland came out of the Second World War as "an awful headache" for the men who draw maps. They had to check the Potsdam Agreement, a Russian-Polish treaty and official maps because most of its boundaries were revised.

International boundaries had been comparatively constant when the Second World War started. But as the conflict began to promise new boundary changes the map makers were dismayed by a slump in business.

To stimulate sales, Cram's sold globes with coupons, promising to send out patches for 10 cents to bring globes up to date after peace treaties set new boundaries.

Since the war, Craw's has received 50,000 coupons, but the diplomatic stalemates have turned their offer into a long-term agreement. As they promised, they'll wait for treaty-established boundary changes, so far as the globes are concerned.

UK Landlords Requesting Permission Boost Rents

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

LONDON (Reuters). — British landlords and Conservative members of Parliament are campaigning for increased rents from tenants of privately-owned houses.

They are bringing pressure on the government to amend the Rent Restrictions Acts, by which rentals on unfurnished houses and apartments are kept down to 1939 levels.

Landlords want the acts changed to allow them to increase rents by a minimum of six shillings and eightpence in the pound. They want these increases to be exclusive of taxes, which are also soaring.

Permission to increase rents was sought recently in a resolution passed by the National Federation of Property Owners.

It was suggested that working-class houses now rented at 13 shillings eightpence per week, exclusive of taxes, should have their rents raised by at least four shillings eightpence a week.

The property owners said they needed the extra rent to enable them to maintain tenanted houses in a proper state of repair, and to prevent existing houses from becoming uninhabitable.

They urged that the present rent restrictions acts should be replaced by one comprehensive act fixing rents at a figure allowing them both maintenance costs and a "reasonable return on investment."

Backed By The Times

Ernest Marples, Conservative MP for Wallasey, supported the landlords' campaign in a letter to The Times, quickly followed by letters from other Conservatives and members of the Property Owners' Federation.

The Times gave the landlords its blessing in a lead editorial.

"It is clearly anomalous — to use no stronger word — that the rents of most private dwellings should remain fixed at what they were in 1939," The Times said.

Just A Myth

The Daily Mail in an editorial said the "grasping landlord" was a stock figure that lingered on "in the mythology of Socialism."

"That is partly why rents of privately owned houses are still fixed at 1939 levels, and in half the cases are even related to 1914 standards," The Mail said.

"The costs of renewals and decorations has not been frozen. It has at least doubled since 1939, so that most landlords cannot afford to keep their property in a good state of repair. Slums are created as fast as new houses are erected."

The Mail added, however, that any large or uncontrolled rise in rents "woud knock the country's economy into a cocked hat."

Jet Breaks Atlantic Hop Record

Ireland-To-Gander Jaunt Completed In 4 Hrs., 19 Minutes

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, Aug. 31. (AP)—The Air Ministry said a British twin-jet bomber completed a trans-Atlantic hop from Ireland to Newfoundland today in a record-smashing four hours and 19 minutes.

The flight beat the previous time of 4 hours 37 minutes. But it lost the race westward with the sun, which makes the swing in 3½ hours at a rate of 60 miles an hour.

The jet bomber's non-stop flight of 2,072.79 miles ended at Gander, Nfld., at 1245 pm EDT.

The sleek Canberra jet with its crew of three had taken off at 12:23 pm Greenwich time (8:23 am EDT).

The Canberra's average speed was 480.2 miles an hour. The Air Ministry said all times were subject to check and confirmation.

Had Bad Winds

A sister plane streaked the same course February 21 against terrific headwinds in 4 hours 37 minutes for an average speed of around 445 miles an hour.

No claim for an official record was made at that time, since the Federation Aeronautique Internationale — governing body for air speed records—did not take part in the arrangements.

This time members of the Royal Aero Club were present on the federation's behalf to make official timings.

The official takeoff time was given as 12:22:59 4-5 pm Greenwich Mean Time (8:22:59 am EDT).

Pilot for today's attempt was R. P. Beaumont, 31, an RAF ace of the Second World War.

Tough Problem

BRANTFORD, Aug. 31. — (CP)—Traffic Officer Ernie Walsh had a tough time finding out what happened Thursday in a collision between a bicycle and an automobile. Reason: driver of the car was deaf and dumb; the cyclist couldn't speak English. Walsh hopes to get the details today from Carmen Luciani, whose bicycle was damaged, and William Greenwood, 34, driver of the car. Neither was hurt. He has asked them to come to his office — with interpret-

Violating Geneva Pact Canada Tells Washington Government

Say Recent Restrictions Causing Damage To Canadian Trade, Charge Action Contrary To Trade Agreement

OTTAWA, Aug. 31. (CP)—Canada has protested to the United States against its new restrictions on imports of dairy products, charging that it violates the Geneva Trade Agreement and threatenes "immediate damage" to Canadian trade with the US. This was disclosed today by the External Affairs Department as it made public the text of a 300-word diplomatic note handed to the State Department by the Canadian Embassy in Washington earlier this week.

The note said a recent announcement of the US Department of Agriculture regarding the control of imports of fats, oils and other dairy products "has created a situation which is of urgent concern to the Canadian Government."

"The restriction of the imports of dried milk products, and cheese in particular, will cause immediate damage to Canadian trade with the United States."

Ignore Obligations

Calling attention to "the more far-reaching implications" of the American action, the note said the restrictions "are contrary to the obligations which the two governments have assumed toward one another in the general agreement on tariffs and trade."

It was understood here that the US agriculture department, in imposing its controls, acted on a rider attached to a price control bill which went through Congress more than a week ago.

The rider called for import control during the period while the US government was controlling prices. The period is for one year.

Break Agreement

The Canadian note recalled that the Geneva agreement "provides clearly that quantitative import restrictions of this kind shall not be imposed except in certain stated circumstances which cannot be held to exist at present in respect of these commodities."

"These new import controls, furthermore, will nullify the value of certain of the tariff concessions which were negotiated at Geneva in 1947 and at Torquay, these concessions have been bound by the United States until Jan. 1, 1954."

The government of Canada, it said, has sought at all times to observe the terms of the agreement.

The Canadian government "earnestly hopes" that the US government will review the action in the light of provisions of the trade agreement "in order that the mutually advantageous trade which is of such great importance to the general wellbeing of both our countries may not be impaired."

Ottawa Private Gets 2 Years In Korean Case

SEOUL, Korea, Aug. 31 (Reuters)—A Canadian court martial today sentenced Pte. Donald Michael Gibson, 22, of Ottawa, to two years' imprisonment on a charge of attempted rape.

Gibson and two other privates of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry Regiment are being tried separately on charges arising from the killing of a South Korean army officer and two civilians last March 17.

Pte. Glen Roland Blank was sentenced to life imprisonment for manslaughter Wednesday when he was found guilty of throwing a hand grenade into a farm house where seven members of the Korean army were billeted.

The trial of Alan Roy Montgomery Davis, of Vancouver, also charged with attempted rape, will begin either Saturday or early next week, it was reported.

Came To Farmhouse

The prosecution charged that the three Canadians came to the farmhouse and attempted to assault the sister-in-law and friend of the Korean officer, Lieut. EE Chong sung, who were staying there. The two women screamed for help, it was said.

Gibson was found guilty of attempting to rape the two women and also of "being in an affray." Charges against him of common assault of the civilians were dismissed.

The prosecutor, Capt. L. M. Handay, of Amherst, NS, contended Gibson must have been one of the two Canadians in the girls' room, trying to strip their clothing off.

The young soldier sat in his chair by the counsel table, looking worried and anxious most of the time.

The court reached its decision in less than 30 minutes and decided the sentence in 15 minutes.

Get Agreement To End Gold Strike

TIMMINS, Aug. 31 (CP)—Some 1,600 employees of Hollinger Consolidated Gold Mines, Ltd., will vote tonight to accept or reject terms of settlement tentatively agreed on in Toronto Thursday at a meeting aimed at ending a strike that started July 9.

The strike was called by Local 4305 of the United Steelworkers of America (CIO) to enforce demands for a wage increase of 13 cents an hour and for a check-off of union dues. Hollinger, one of the several big gold-mining companies in this Northern Ontario district, offered the equivalent of an eight-cent increase but refused to deduct the dues from the workers' pay cheques.

Louis Fine, Ontario's chief conciliation officer, announced late Thursday that a basis of settlement had been reached by union and company representatives on all points at issue. He said details of the settlement would be kept secret until it was put to the union vote.

His statement read:

"After a four-day session, a memorandum of agreement has been arrived at for the settlement of all matters at issue between the parties, subject to ratification at Timmins Friday night. I want to thank both parties for the co-operation they have given in this matter."

Timmins Jubilant

In Timmins, the news brought jubilation after anxious weeks for the miners and their families and for business men. Happy citizens streamed into the streets,

Allies Believe Truce Talks Will Continue

TOKYO, Aug. 31—(AP)—An Allied spokesman said today "there is no indication that there will be a permanent breakdown" in truce talks to end the Korea war.

The spokesman made the statement amid a welter of new Communist charges that United Nations forces violated the Kaesong neutral zone in Korea.

The UN Command began an immediate investigation of the new complaints. There were three of them. All previous charges have been denied.

At Munsan, advance headquarters in Korea of UN truce negotiators, Maj. James MacMaster told correspondents there was no sign of a final breakdown in the talks.

The Allied spokesman amplified his statement only by referring to the announced UN willingness to resume talks whenever the Reds are ready. Communists broke them off eight days ago.

Maintain Contact

While the Reds have not answered Gen. Ridgway's offer to resume negotiations, they maintained official contact between truce delegations by the mere act of filing new protests.

North Korean Gen. Nam Il, chief Communist negotiator, protested to Vice-Admiral C. Turner Joy, head of the UN delegation, that an Allied plane dropped a flare over Kaesong Wednesday morning.

A Red liaison officer who delivered the note to an Allied liaison officer lodged verbal protests that UN infantrymen twice violated the neutral zone.

McMaster said the US Fifth Air Foce and Eighth Army promptly began investigating the charges.

Barilko's Mother In Search

TIMMINS, Aug. 31. (CP)—Mrs. Fay Barilko, widowed mother of missing defenceman Bill Barilko of Toronto Maple Leafs, took to the air today to help in the search for her son and his dentist companion. The flight was the first for the 52-year-old woman, who has been in a state of near-hysteria since her son and Dr. Henry Hudson of Timmins disappeared Sunday in Dr. Hudson's light plane. It was also the first time in five years that Mrs. Barilko forsook her Timmins home on a Friday. Her husband died on a Friday and since his death, she has refused to leave the house on that day.

"It's bad luck, that's all," she says.

Today, however, she rose early to make the six-mile drive to South Porcupine, east of here, and took off to fly the 80 miles to Kapuskasing, centre of searching activities, to be as "close to Bill as possible."

She said that with the first sure sign of sighting her lost son, she will "hit the bush" to help find him.

Search Slowed

Overcast skies and strong winds, meanwhile, slowed search operations today. Heavy rains lashed the James Bay area throughout the night and restricted visibility this morning to around the 500-foot level.

That was the level at which at least a dozen RCAF planes flew over the treetops and muskeg in their first sweeps from here to Rupert House, 236 miles north, where the pair were last seen.

Three aircraft flew over the Clute township region near Cochrane to check on a report of a mysterious flash there Sunday night.

Mrs. W. E. Osmar of Clute said she heard what she thought was an automobile operating without a muffler. Then came the flash, she said.

Seven air crews Thursday swept 27,000 miles of practically uninhabited wilderness between this Northern Ontario mining town and James Bay without finding a trace of the two men who disappeared in a little yellow airplane Sunday while on the way home from a fishing trip to the eastern side of James Bay.

"Mr. Fix-It" Surrenders Arrested On Two Charges

TORONTO, Aug. 31. (CP)—Harry (Swabby) Swartz of Toronto, arrested late Thursday on two charges of conspiracy and accused of being the "Mr. Fix-It" behind race fixing and jockey-bribing at Fort Erie, is scheduled to appear in court today at Welland. He was held in jail here overnight. His lawyer, Charles Dubin, said he expects Swartz will be remanded and he will apply for his release on bail.

Swartz surrendered to police after consultation with his lawyer. A warrant for his arrest was sworn out when witnesses at the continuing Ontario Racing Commission investigation named him as the master-mind of the turf swindle.

His wife, Ann, known as "The Lady in Black" who wagered $1,500 in United States funds on the winning North Drive in a Fort Erie race that is under investigation, may appear before the commission next week.

One charge accuses Swartz of conspiring with ex-jockey John Perron and jockeys Bob Wankmueller and George Thompson in the fixing of races and bribing of riders to pull their mounts. The other charge is one of conspiring to defraud the public.

Perron, named as an associate of "Mr. Fix-it" and contact man with the jockeys, fled to the United States and is sought on a warrant charging conspiracy.

Partial Eclipse Due Saturday

NEW YORK, Aug. 31 (AP)—Early risers Saturday will see a partial eclipse of the sun.

The phenomena will be visible on all of the eastern seaboard.

The sun will rise here partly eclipsed at 6:21 a.m. EDT. The shadow will deepen until 7:01 a.m. EDT, when about 87 per cent of the sun's surface will be blotted out. The shadow then will start to fade, disappearing at 8:10 a.m. EDT.

The stellar physics division of the agriculture department at Ottawa said residents from the Atlantic seaboard to about as far west as Toronto will be able to see the eclipse.

The best view of the spectacle will be in the Montreal area, where the moon will be seen moving in on about three-quarters of the sun's surface. The eclipse will be under way before sunrise in that district and will reach its greatest phase at 7:04 a.m. EDT. It will end at 8:11 a.m.

Ask Cities Stage War On Crime

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31 (AP)—The Senate Crime Investigating Committee called on cities across the United States today to band together in a war on organized crime and grafting public officials.

In a final report to the Senate on its 15-month inquiry, the committee told of "captive communities" held in bondage by the twin evils.

The committee goes out of existence at midnight tonight. But it strongly urged that Congress carry on the crusade and that with federal help only at the start, a privately-financed national crime co-ordinating council be created to keep "the searchlight of public vigilance turned upon crime and corruption."

The committee aimed stinging thrusts at Florida's Governor Fuller Warren and, by indirection, at William O'Dwyer, Ambassador to Mexico and former mayor of New York.

The report also pictured Washington, the United States capital, as a possible "pivotal point for gambling operation of considerable size." There is evidence, too, the committee said, "of widespread traffic in narcotic drugs" in the District of Columbia.

Hold Mill Owner In Poison Cases

POITIERS, France, Aug. 31 — Police said today they have arrested Maurice Maillet, 40, a flour mill owner, in connection with the recent wave of deaths and sickness from poisoned bread in Pont Saint Esprit.

Police said Maillet admitted mixing the flour used in the bread. Scientists attributed four deaths and many cases of mental disturbances in Pont Saint Esprit to ergot, a poisonous fungus found on rye.

Charges against Maillet, father of three children, were not disclosed. The French news agency said he will probably be charged with homicide through carelessness. Conviction would make him subject to a prison term from three months to three years, and fines of 60,000 to 1,200,000 francs ($170 to $3,400.)

Russian Delegation Rents Huge Estate

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 31 — (AP).—The Russian delegation will live a millionaire's life in a palatial $1,600,000 suburban estate during the Japanese peace treaty conference here.

The Reds rented it Thursday—for as long as three weeks.

That lifted eyebrows. The conference opens Tuesday. The American plan is to end it Saturday. The Russians are reported bent on a protracted and controversial session.

India Planning Second Parley

NEW DELHI, India, Aug. 31 (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru told parliament today the Asian countries may hold a Japanese peace conference of their own after the American-sponsored conference in San Francisco ends.

Nehru said earlier this week that India, which is boycotting the San Francisco meeting, would sign a separate, individual pact with Japan.

He said today that India, Indonesia and Burma have considered calling a separate Asian parley, but decided to postpone discussion of the project until after the San Francisco conference ends.

Asked directly whether Communist China would be invited to a possible Asian conference, Nehru would say only that "Asia is a big continent, but only Burma, Indonesia and India have exchanged viewpoints."

Burma is also boycotting the San Francisco meeting, but Indonesia has accepted an invitation as have most other Asian states.

The US and Britain, sponsoring powers, did not ask either nationalist China or Communist China.

Dumb Blonde Chances Good Of Grabbing Husband Early

CHICAGO, Aug. 31—(AP)—The dumb blonde has just as good a chance of grabbing a husband early as smarter girls, a psychologist said today.

That goes for dumb brunettes and redheads, too, said Dr. George K. Bennett, president of the Psychological Corporation, New York.

He told the American Psychological Association, opening a six-day convention, that aptitude tests given to high school seniors can do a good job of predicting what kind of work the boys and girls are most likely to succeed in.

But the tests "just do not pick out the girl who is going to get married early. Test scores recorded by the girls who later got married show no pattern whatever. They vary widely, and average near the average for all the high school girls."

"We might draw the conclusion that the traditional 'dumb' blonde —and this applies to the brunette and redhead as well—has neither a better nor a poorer chance of finding a husband quickly than does her sister of greater skills and intellectual attainments."

Dr. Bennett, Dr. Harold Seashore and Dr. Alexander Wesman told of studies of 1,700 men and women who had taken aptitude tests four years ago to help them choose their best fields of work.

Some findings were:

Boys who later became medical students rated higher as a group on all of eight tests, especially in verbal reasoning, numerical ability, spelling and grammar. The other tests were abstract reasoning, space relations, mechanical reasoning, and clerical speed and accuracy.

Most of those students now seeking college degrees scored higher in knowledge of words and mechanics of English.

Students now in science courses and engineering schools were strong in spatial relations and mechanical reasoning.

Man Vanishes From Liner

SOUTHAMPTON, England, Aug. 31. (Reuters)—A Canadian ship engineer, Albert Tipton, of Oshawa, disappeared at sea while sailing here from Quebec on the liner Samaria, ship's officers reported on arrival Thursday night.

Tipton, a 31-year-old aircraft process worker, travelled tourist class. Officers said he had acted strangely after boarding the vessel and had ben examined by the ship's surgeon and placed in the isolation hospital.

Friday night, when the ship was two days out from Quebec, Tipton left the hospital and vanished. Capt. C. B. Osborne ordered a search but no trace of the patient was found.

A preliminary investigation will be opened today by transport ministry officials.

Newfoundland Makes Great Britain Offer

LIVERPOOL, England, Aug. 31 (Reuters) — Premier Joseph R. Smallwood, of Newfoundland, arrived here today with a $20,000,000 offer to British industries.

He plans to encourage British firms to take machinery and skilled labor to Newfoundland to help develop his sparsely-populated province.

"We will match the value of new plant with a 10-year dollar loan," Smallwood said.

Newfoundland is 99-per-cent British in racial origin, but has no new British industries, Smallwood said. The province offers ample industrial sites, all-year round shipping, low cost electric power, a Canadian market and a sympathetic government, he added.

Police Have Smashed Large US Dope Ring

NEW YORK, Aug. 31 (AP) — Police have smashed a $1,000,000-a-year wholesale dope ring supplying customers from coast to coast, they announced today.

In an 11-hour round-up Thursday, narcotics squad detectives arrested seven men who had been under surveillance for 10 weeks.

Narcotics dealers from Los Angeles, Chicago, Detroit and Boston flew here regularly to buy from the seven men, police said.

They identified the head of the alleged ring as John Rutigliano, alias Jake Rudley, 36.

Safety Appeal

TORONTO, Aug. 31 — (CP).—A safety appeal to Ontario motorists was issued today by Highways Minister Doucett on the eve of the Labor Day weekend, one of the worst periods of the year for accidents. Last year in the Friday-to-Monday period 23 persons were killed and hundreds injured in automobile accidents in Ontario.

Paper Tells Foreign Office Where 2 Diplomats Hiding

LONDON, Aug. 31 — (AP). — The Daily Herald said today it has told the British Foreign Office where missing diplomats Donald Maclean and Guy Burgess are hiding — and how they got there.

The Foreign Office replied that the same information has been in the hands of the British Secret Service for some time—and that its agents have been unable to confirm any part of it.

Maclean, 38, and Burgess, 40, vanished May 25 after landing at St. Malo, France, from an excursion steamer which they had boarded at Southampton.

The Daily Herald asserted on Thursday they had been tracked down by MI-5, the British Secret Service. It quoted unidentified MI-5 agents as its source.

This smoked out a formal denial from the Foreign Office. A spokesman said the missing men have not been found and that the sources quoted by the Herald "made no such statements as those attributed to them."

Returning to the attack today, the Daily Herald said in a front page story:

"In view of this statement, the Daily Herald has submitted its information to the Foreign Office.

"This information includes a detailed day-by-day itinerary of the journey the two men made by steamer, train and plane, and where they are now."

Back came a Foreign Office spokesman with another statement:

"The same information received from sources other than the newspaper has been in the hands of the authorities investigating the disappearance for some time. It has all been thoroughly examined but not one point in it has been corroborated or confirmed."

Bus Rams Into Truck 3 Passengers Killed

KENOSHA, Wis., Aug. 31 (AP)—A Greyhound bus rammed into the rear of a semi-trailer truck Thursday night on a highway near here, bringing death to three of its 37 passengers. Eight were injured.

Police said the truck driver told them the accident occurred as he pulled back onto the highway after parking on the shoulder of the road when he became drowsy. He said he did not see the approaching bus as he pulled out into the traffic lane. The truck driver, Carl H. Jackson, 47, was held by Kenosha authorities. He was slightly hurt.

Say North Koreans Pouring Into Front As Fighting Savage

US EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Aug. 31.—(AP)—Thousands of North Korean troops were reported today moving toward the front in hilly eastern Korea. Savage fighting has been in progress there more than two weeks. Thursday and Thursday night, Allied planes ripped into these reinforcements, into their highway supply convoys and the railroads feeding down to Communist front lines all across Korea. Allies supplied their own front line troops with the biggest air drop in two months. Thirty-six flying box cars parachuted 110 tons of ammunition, rations and medical supplies Thursday to troops battling high in the mountains of eastern Korea. Rain-swollen streams and muddy roads cut off truck routes.

A US Eighth Army staff officer today reported these new observations of Communist troops in Eastern Korea:

A fresh division, about 8,000 men, digging in west of the coastal city of Kansong, 25 miles north of parallel 38.

About 2,000 Reds moving south toward Yanggu, a city eight miles north of 38 and 35 miles inland from the east coast. Allied planes roared down and attacked this group.

Draw Allied Fire

Two other groups of 5,000 Reds each in camouflaged positions west of Kansong and north of Inje. Allied artillery fired on these concentrations Thursday.

The staff officer said all the new Reds presumably are North Koreans. In the past, large Communist drives had been spearheaded by Chinese Reds.

Allied troops repulsed four Communist probing attacks north of Yanggu.

US Navy Plane Breaks Record

EL SEGUNDO, Calif., Aug. 31 (AP)—A United States navy rocket-powered plane has shattered all altitude records, climbing to what aviation experts unofficially believe was 77,674 feet (more than 14½ miles). It levelled off at 1,300 miles an hour.

The supersonic flight in the needle-nose Douglas skyrocket ship was made Aug. 15 from Edwards air force base. The exact altitude reached by the Douglas test pilot, Bill Bridgeman, was not disclosed.

Marvin Miles, Los Angeles Times aviation editor, estimated the altitude at 77,674 feet. He said that at a "planned altitude, Bridgeman levelled the skyrocket off to obtain high-speed performance data that may have sent the research craft whipping through space at speeds faster than 1,300 MPH."

The officially-recognized world altitude record is 72,385 feet, set 1935 by two balloonists, US army Capts. Albert W. Stevens and Orville A. Anderson. The official speed record is 670.981 miles an hour, set in 1948 by a North American F-86. The accepted piloted aircraft altitude record is 59,445 feet, set March 23, 1948, by British test pilot John Cunninghame in a Vampire jet.

Industrials Continue Climb On Exchange

TORONTO, Aug. 31 — (CP) — Industrials continued to climb slowly today in early afternoon trading.

The Exhange's index of 20 selected issues again reached a record high. Although the index, a barometer of leading stocks, advanced slowly, the rise spread to other issues and gave the market a firm tone not readily observable in index fluctuations.

Steels continued strong while refining oils, a recent leader, weakened. Utilities, agricultures and retail stores also climbed. Constructions, textiles and manufacturing companies remained firm. Papers, banks and miscellaneous industrials turned mixed while foods weakened.

Western Oils were mixed.

Base Metals weakened. Consolidated Smelters slipped more than $2 while Falconbridge and United Keno Hill nipped fractions. East Sullivan, Mackeno, Fenimore Iron, Silver Standard and Quebec Copper lost pennies. Coast Copper, Minda-Scotia and United Asbestos went against the trend for small gains.

Senior Golds held firm. Junior issues showed little trend while prospects and holding companies weakened.

4 Indian Engineers Study Alberta Projects

OTTAWA, Aug. 31 — (CP) — Four engineers from India are studying highway, bridge and other construction projects in Alberta and British Columbia, the Trade Department said today.

They are members of a highways and bridge-erection mission under the technical co-operation of the Colombo plan for economic development of southeast Asia.

The Indian engineers join three from Pakistan who came to Canada in July on a similar mission. They will be in the west about a month.

Freed Of Blame In 3 Deaths

PICKERING, Aug. 31. (CP) — Sidney Parsons, 44, of Toronto on Thursday night was freed of blame in the death of three persons struck and killed by his automobile the night of Aug. 19 as they tried to cross a highway near this community about 15 east of Toronto.

An inquest jury deliberated only 15 minutes after Coroner F. A. Cuddy of Whitby said he felt alcohol had played a significant part in the accident. He said he had detected an odor of alcohol on the bodies of all those killed.

The victims were Norman Cossar, 55, of Dunbarton, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Simcoe of Toronto.

Say Net Closing On Big Bosses

TORONTO, Aug. 31. (CP)—A Toronto paper says today in a newspage story that the police and Ontario Racing Commission net is "drawing closer around one, possibly two, mysteriously 'big money' men who are believed to be the guiding influences behind the province's greatest horse racing scandal."

The story adds:

"With the arrest Thursday of Harry (Swabby) Swartz on charges of conspiracy, it is reported the Racing Commission is confident that at least one man, said to be a well-known promoter on Bay Street, will be deeply involved.

"Commission Chairman S. Tupper Bigelow intimated Thursday that such is the situation when he said investigations are proceeding out of which it was hoped that 'a higher-up, or an associate of Swartz' would be chased to earth."

Swartz was "said to have been the pay-off man and the intermediary between jockeys and 'Mr. Big Money'."

Man In Lethbridge Loses His Memory

LETHBRIDGE, Aug. 31 (CP). —Police today were attempting to identify a man in hospital here suffering from lass of memory. He was taken to hospital Wednesday after collapsing on a city street.

The man, about 30, recovered consciousness shortly after being admitted, but he could not remember his name or past.

A check revealed he did not answer the description of Kenneth Johnston, London, Ont., theatre manager missing since last week.

Johnston was believed headed for Vancouver.

The commission today will reopen the case of jockey Gordon Cox, previously ruled off Ontario tracks for life for offering a bribe to fellow-jockey Robert Marchant. A lawyer representing Cox asked for the hearing to enable another witness for Cox to be called.

To date in the investigation, six riders have been ruled off for life and three, Wankmueller, Thompson and Phil Marchese, also face criminal charges. Marchant, Cox and Bobby Keane are the three under life suspension. Jockey Charlie Bright and apprentice rider John Bromby are under indefinite suspension with their cases still to be completed.

The commission announced that jockey Willie Zakoor of Detroit, a leading rider on the Ontario circuit, had been fined $100 for not reporting the offer of a bribe.

Record Exports

BIRMINGHAM, England (CP) British bicycle and motorbicycle industries established a record for exports in the first six months of 1951. The total export was $59,000,000 compared with $46,000,000 in the same period last year.

CASE OF THE SOCIETY JEWEL THIEF—Mrs. Ethel Taylor, 25, of New Hyde Park, N.Y., sits outside the Mineola, N.Y., Court House with Detective David Matz. She was arrested on a charge of stealing $10,000 worth of jewelry from a friend. A society figure, she could not explain why she took the gems, and police said it was a "senseless theft."

Hefty Little Sunbear Takes Manhattan Stroll While N. Yorkers Head For Higher Ground

NEW YORK, Aug. 31 (AP)—A nonchalant but hefty little sunbear took a stroll in lower Manhattan Thursday. New Yorkers thereabouts took to higher ground.

The sunbear is a small southern Asiatic species reported to be one of the world's most easily-tamed animals, but the citizens didn't try to find out.

The sunbear, weighing 100 pounds, was in a cage being unloaded with other animals at a bird and animal company.

On his way from the firm's animal farm in Accomoac, Vt., he had apparently nibbled at the wooden floor of his cage.

As workmen lifted it from the truck, out dropped Mr. Sunbear.

Citizens in the area scattered.

The sunbear wandered into an adjacent florist shop.

A clerk disappeared up a flight of stairs.

The sunbear nosed around a bit, damaging about $50 worth of shrubs, and wandered into a rear yard.

Then employees of the pet company showed up, roped him and took him to the pet shop.

Should Keep News Columns Free Of Opinion, Farquharson Says

TORONTO, Aug. 31 — (CP).—A veteran newspaperman today urged Canadian newspapers to fulfill their public responsibility by assuring that editorial opinion is divorced from the news columns.

The importance of confining editorial comment to the editorial pages was emphasized by R. A. Farquharson, editor of Saturday Night, in an address prepared for delivery at a press day directors' luncheon at the Canadian National Exhibition.

"The editorial page is the place for opinion," he said. "It belongs to the paper and in its columns no one denies a newspaper the right to express any opinion it desires or take any stand it sees fit.

"The news pages are an entirely different matter. They are public property whether we admit it or not, and use of news columns for distortion of fact, for twisting the truth to serve our causes, is a betrayal of the public trust which newspapers and newspapermen hold in a very definite way...."

Mr. Farquharson, former managing editor of the Toronto Globe and Mail, said that paper was a pioneer in divorcing the news columns from editorial page control. He added that its publisher George McCullagh, deserved thanks for this action.

Does Good Job

Mr. Farquharson paid tribute to Bill Boss, Canadian Press war correspondent who returned on Wednesday after nine months covering Canadian troops in Korea.

He termed Boss "a reporter who has upheld the high traditions of the craft" and who had done an authoritative, responsible job under difficulties. He added:

"I know a good deal about the inside story of early days of the Canadians in Korea when Boss was scooped by rivals on interesting stories which did not prove true and which he, too, could have written, had he not insisted on checking.

"We have had a spot of censorship trouble in Korea which I hope will not occur again. It is not nice to know that for months the facts of the sorry incidents of last March were held up by censors and are only now coming out as Canadians are placed on trial.

(Mr. Farquharson was referring to the trials of three Canadian soldeirs charged with attempting to rape Korean women and accused of throwing a hand grenade into their home, killing three Korean men.)

"I am certain that when all the facts are revealed it will be shown that Boss did his best to carry out the duties of a correspondent and keep the Canadian public informed."

Jailed On Charge Of Drunk Driving

Patrick O'Hara, 197 Hunter St., was today sentenced to seven days in jail when Magistrate R. B. Baxter convicted him on a charge of drunken driving. O'Hara had pleaded not guilty.

Edward Barber of Lakefield testified that on July 15 he had seen a car driving in an erratic manner, and he had notified the provincial police, giving them the license number.

OPP Constable Jack McKendry told court that he and OPP Constable Thomas Armitage were in a patrol car when they first saw O'Hara's car driving south on Queen St. in Lakefield. It was weaving from side to side, the officer said.

"The car was going very slowly, about 20 miles an hour," Constable McKendry testified. "We pulled up beside it and the driver, O'Hara, pulled over and stopped near the post office.

Needed Help

"He was very drunk, and had to be asisted to the cruiser by Garnet Samis, the Lakefield chief of police. Once in the cruiser, he tried to get out." Constable Armitage corroborated the first officer's evidence.

Constable McKendry said that in OPP headquarters in Peterborough, O'Hara was still having difficulty walking.

O'Hara told court he had been up to a lumber camp near Apsley, had had some beer to drink on Saturday night (July 14) but had nothing to drink Sunday. He drove all the way from Apsley to Burleigh Falls, over to Buckhorn, and then back to Lakefield.

He said the steering on his car "wasn't perfect," but that he wasn't drunk.

O'Hara was also charged with permitting drunkenness in his premises, but the charge was dismissed when the crown offered no evidence to prove that the premises in question (197 Hunter St.) were O'Hara's.

Barilko's Mother

Flt. Lt. G. J. (Rusty) Ruston of Hamilton, searchmaster, said high air force officials have ordered the intensive search today.

"We'll fly at 500 feet and allow for only a mile visibility," he said. "With as much territory as we have to cover, that amounts to looking under every twig."

Thorough Investigation

Smoke plumes and every other rumor and clue had been investigated thoroughly without result along the route the missing fishermen planned to take.

"Although we've covered the whole territory, we are still quite optimistic. Our survival experts have told us that if Barilko and Dr. Hudson are down without being too badly injured, they should be able to survive indefinitely in the bush in this weather."

The men were last reported when they refuelled Sunday afternoon at Rupert House, some 240 miles northeast of here.

SUGGEST SETBACK

When new sidewalks are being laid around the city hall block, the west side of Water St. may be set back, acording to a suggestion at a recent committee meeting. It also contemplated a corresponding set-back on the west side of the block from Murray St. south to Brock St. as a provision for any future building that may take place there.

Continue Effort To Settle Copper Strike

By HAROLD W. WARD

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31 (AP) —Efforts to settle a wage dispute which has shut down most of the United States copper industry continued today despite an initial step by President Truman to obtain a back-to-work order from the courts.

The President issued an executive order Thursday night to put the emergency machinery of the Taft-Hartley Labor Act in motion.

The strike, which Truman earlier termed a serious threat to the UN defence program because copper is a scarce and critical metal, started Monday.

The President named a three-man board of inquiry which went to work at once in an effort to report back on the facts by next Tuesday, as requested by Truman. The board is not authorized to recommend a settlement.

A court injunction, to force an end of the strike, may not be obtained before the board reports, under terms of the Taft-Hartley law. Once obtained, it runs for 80 days.

Despite Truman's action, interest was focussed on the negotiations between the Kennecott Copper Company and the AFL and independent unions involved in two major Salt Lake City plants.

It was freely predicted that any settlement was likely to be around 16-cents-an-hour as a package of wage benefits, including an across-the-board boost of about eight cents. The Kennecott workers now average $1.54 an hour. They got a 10-cent increase last year.

A Kennecott settlement likely would be followed rapidly by a break-up of the entire strike and settlements in the other major copper operations.

A STUBBORN FIRE which retained a foothold between the roof and insulation material, successfully resisted the combined efforts of Colborne and Grafton fire departments at Grafton yesterday. The dwelling of Mrs. John Johnston, valued at $10,000, had recently been renovated and was practically a total loss. Firemen kept the flames from reaching a 200 gallon tank of oil in the basement and also kept the flames from a nearby church and dwellings. It was several hours before the fire was finally extinguished and during that time a well and a cistern were pumped dry and then a long line of hose was run to a creek where ample water was available. Firemen are seen here fighting the blaze.

Radar Screen Plan For Europe

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31 (AP). —The United States Air Force is planning a "radar screen" for its bases in Britain, Western Europe and the Mediterranean area.

An Air Force spokesman confirmed today that "a sizable part" of the $1,071,000,000 requested of Congress for "classified" Air Force construction overseas will go into such an air raid warning and patrol system.

Authorization for the spending is part of $5,768,000,000 military construction bill approved by the House of Representatives and now pending in the Senate.

Work has been speeded up on the $161,000,000 defence warning system around the US and Alaska. This radar screen is being constructed to give advance warning against possible surprise attacks from the air.

The exact number of warning stations and their locations are secret. Those in the US and Alaska work with similar installations in Canada under the mutual Canadian-US defence plan.

Girl Has Polio Total Now 33

A 16-year-old girl, one of the Civic Hospital patients suspected of having polio, was today placed on the confirmed list.

This raises to 33 the total of Peterborough and district victims of polio. Two suspects are still under observation at Civic Hospital. No new suspects have been reported.

The Ontario health department said Thursday 156 cases of poliomyelitis were reported for the week ending Aug 25.

Last week 152 cases were reported. Twenty-four persons have died from polio so far this year, two of them Peterborough residents. In 1950 there were only two polio deaths in the whole province and 50 in 1949.

Mice Nearly Kicked Out N.S. Citizens In 1877

The year the mice nearly took over Pictou county was a bad year for Nova Scotia.

The story, in detail, is told in "A History of Pictou County" written in 1877 by the Rev. George Patterson DD. The book was brought to The Examiner by a reader.

"This was a most destructive visitation from which this portion of the country suffered from these seemingly insignificant animals," wrote the minister.

"They were so numerous as to trouble sugar makers (in the spring) by fouling their troughs for gathering sap, and before planting was over, the woods and fields alike swarmed with them They were of the large species of field mouse, still sometimes seen in the country."

Stand at Bay

"If pursued," he wrote, "they would stand at bay, rising upon their hind legs, setting their teeth and squealing fiercely.

"A farmer on whom I could rely told me, that having, after planting, spread out some barley to dry in the sun before the door, in a little while saw it covered with them. He let the cat out among them, but they actually turned upon her and fought her.

When harvest time started, the mice grew bolder and more destructive.

"A man in Merigomish had made a clearing out at Piedmont in the woods. He carried out four bushels of oats to sow. On commencing, they came in swarms, eating the grain as he sowed it. After continuing a while, he threw the whole to them in disgust, and returned home."

Ravaged Acres

"Over acres on acres, they left not a stalk standing, nor a grain of wheat, to reward the labours of the farmer. They burrowed in the ground and consumed potatoes. Cats, dogs and martens gorged themselves to repletion on them, but with little seeming diminution of their numbers."

However, the scourge didn't last forever.

"They passed away as rapidly as they came. In the autumn, as the weather became colder, they became languid, scarcely able to crawl. One could trample them under his feet and finally they died in hundreds, so that they could be gathered in heaps, and their putrefying carcasses might be found in some places in such numbers as to taint the air."

This, remember, was written by a minister.

Requests Jury Trial Of Acheson Charges

NEW YORK, Aug. 31—(AP)— Senator Joseph McCarthy (Rep. Wis.) suggested Thursday a jury trial of his charges against state secretary Dean Acheson and Philp K. Jessup, US ambassador at large. McCarthy said he would resign from the senate if the jury ruled against him.

He has accused Acheson of harboring Communists in the state department and has questioned Jessup's loyalty on numerous occasions.

McCarthy flung his challenge of trial by jury at the 52nd national convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

End State of War

BUENOS AIRES, Argentine, Aug. 31 (Reuters) — The Argentine senate Thursday night unanimously passed a law formally ending the state of war with Germany.

Scarce Herbal Root Found Near Marmora

MARMORA, Aug. 31 (ENS)— Sanford Lawrence, well-known Marmora trapper, hunter and woodsman, came across an amount of ginseng root recently.

According to this veteran, time was when the root was fairly plentiful in Hastings County forests and residents received as high as $20 a pound for it from Chinese. It seems to have rather died out in recent years and prices have dropped to $6 or $7 a pound. Lawrence found his ginseng near his cabin home about nine miles northwest of Marmora.

Honesty Rewarded

SHEFFIELD, England—(Cp)— Terry Bates, 11, was walking the two miles to his home one night without bus fare in his pocket. He found £100 lying on the pavement, handed it to a transport employee and continued his walk. Now Terry is £5 richer, for his honesty.

MARIANO OSPINA PEREZ, former president of Colombia, South America, chats with his son, Fernando, following his arrival in Montreal. Mr. Perez, third member of his family to head their country's government, is in Canada "on a pleasure trip." He is accompanied by his wife, two sons and a daughter.

Say Halifax Best Prepared In Civil Defence Work

By KINGSLEY BROWN

HALIFAX, Aug. 31—(CP)—If a shooting war starts tomorrow, this old fortress city will be Canada's best-prepared target area.

The reason is obvious enough, says Rear Admiral Frank Houghton, Halifax's civil defence co-ordinator.

"After the chaotic 1917 and 1945 explosions, and the possibility of more with ammunition ships moving in and out daily, Haligonians realize the value of civil defence."

And Admiral Houghton has facts to back up his statement.

Halifax has the largest civil defence school of its kind in the country. Some 340 citizens are taking courses in the civilian's role in atomic, chemical and biological warfare.

City officials are completing a survey of major buildings with the view of determining if basements are suitable for shelters. As a result, a building control director has been appointed in nearly every large building.

(Halifax has been named one of the seven Canadian centres which an enemy would consider strategic enough to drop an atom bomb on. Civil defence officials believe 30,000 casualties would be inflicted in the event of such an attack, of which 15,000 would die.)

The city's 40-odd large manufacturing plants have also been surveyed and each has appointed a CD plant co-ordinator.

Halifax already has buildings clearly marked with "shelter" signs. Tin hats, anti-gas suits, stretchers and stirrup pumps are available in "fairly large" quantities. Geiger counters will arrive shortly for training purposes.

The newly-formed welfare organization has 1,100 volunteer members alone. The organization embraces information, mass feeding, emergency clothing and emergency shelter services.

Responsibility of warning citizens of an attack falls on the RCAF. Admiral Houghton has 16 sirens, like those used during England's blitz days, on order for the Halifax - Dartmouth target area.

Auxiliary police and fire-fighting forces are rapidly reaching top strength.

Japanese Peace Treaty: Take It Or Leave It

On September 4th, next Tuesday, representatives of Canada and many other nations will meet at San Francisco to conclude a peace treaty with Japan. One unexpected representative will be Gromyko of Russia; an expected representation which will not appear is the Indian. These two—the unexpected delegation and the expected one which will be missing—indicate that the treaty has its faults of omission and commission, as most treaties do have.

* * *

The Japanese Treaty—the document is ready for signing—is the strangest major peace treaty of this century. First, it is the most generous ever given a defeated enemy. Second, it is not a treaty arrived at by formal conference. One Power, the United States, has drawn it up, sent its chief architect John Dulles around to some of the principal capitals to get their opinions, agreements and disagreements (which resulted in amendments to the original drafts), and then called a conference to sign it. Washington has ignored China completely (although China bore the burden of Japanese aggression longest), brushed off the Soviet Union (although the Soviet Union was one of the three principal powers to declare war on Japan), and left many other nations dissatisfied—India, for instance. San Francisco was intended to be a short harmonious gathering at which representatives of all the signing countries would make nice little speeches and sign on the dotted line. But now India will not sign, and Russia—who will undoubtedly not sign—will be present to throw the quiet Conference into a hubbub.

* * *

What is wrong with the Treaty terms? It is pretty nakedly part of the American defence framework and, in the larger sphere, a Western security pact. The terms (economic, financial and reparational) are very generous; they forgive much and permit, even encourage, the re-establishment of heavy Japanese industry and the re-armament of Japan. The United States wants a strong, capitalistic friendly Japan as an outpost against Communism. For the last four years it has worked to achieve this, during the Occupation.

* * *

The Treaty is not so much a peace treaty as a purely Western defensive security arrangement. Under it the free Japanese Government will invite American troops to remain, and allow American bases to be maintained. It is not a stable treaty, a general settlement for the good of all nations which were party to the Japanese war. It certainly does not centre on a policy of Asia for the Asians, which is what India wants. Nor will it make Asian nationalists happy: Russia and China will have in it an implement for stirring up anti-American, anti-Western sentiment throughout the entire continent. But, on the whole, Britain and the Commonwealth countries most nearly concerned—Australia, New Zealand and Canada—are satisfied to have such a treaty. They believe it to be the best possible one at this time. Nobody could devise a treaty acceptable both to the East and the West. If one half of the world is to be supported by it, then let it be the Anglo-American half.

* * *

There is much to criticize about the method of getting the Treaty into shape. The "take it or leave it" attitude at San Francisco frustrates criticism in all countries and has put Britain and India in a predicament. China has not been consulted, nor will she be a signer; yet Britain recognizes the Mao regime. India has refused to attend and to sign because she believes that Japanese wishes have not been fully consulted. (For instance, the American-occupied islands of Bonin and Ryukyu will not be given to Japan, despite an openly-expressed Japanese desire to have them—they are historically Japanese.) Actually, Russia's decision to attend has made India's refusal almost inevitable. India is strongly anti-Communist. But Russia will go to San Francisco and thump more loudly for the Asia-for-the-Asians policy, for the return of the Japanese islands already referred to, and for handing Formosa to China; these are all Indian points, and would, at San Francisco, put India on the side of Communist Russia. If India modified her demands, had she attended, Russia would say that India was welshing on Asia, and thus make capital against India.

Why has Russia made a volte-face and decided to go to San Francisco? We have indicated some of the reasons. Others are obvious. Russia will always take an opportunity to talk in the West against the West. It is one of their propaganda methods. Russia will undoubtedly propose at San Francisco an alternative treaty wholly unacceptable to the West, but which might sound better to the Japanese. Russia may thus try to win some Japanese support, and at the same time turn Japan against the U.S.A. She might even hope to persuade Japan not to sign. It will all be good propaganda-reading in Asian newspapers and sound badly against the West over Asian radio stations.

* * *

Russia may have these chief purposes at San Francisco: to delay a treaty with Japan, as she has delayed for four years. (There could have been a treaty in 1947 had Russia wanted one. In July 1947 the U.S.A. sent notes to the other ten powers represented on the Far East Commission, proposing a conference. All agreed, except Russia. Russia made impossible counter-proposals. At that time, be it remembered, Russia still recognized the Chiang Kai-shek government and there was no war in Korea.) A second Russian major purpose at San Francisco may be to make a deal about Korea. Mr. Gromyko may come armed with authority to call-off the Korean war and reduce the dangerous pressures over China, in exchange for a Japanese Peace treaty on Russian terms. This is the game that Russia may want to play. It is not one which should appeal to Canada or any other signatory country familiar with the wiles of the U.S.S.R.

Deer Crossing

Here and there along our highways north of Peterborough are government highway signs: "Deer Crossing". We are coming reluctantly to the conclusion that these signs are mere tourist lures: tickling the fancy of travellers by suggesting that here, at this sign, real, live wild deer bound across the highway on regular daily jaunts. We have never seen a deer at these so-called crossings. Sometimes we have waited for as long as five minutes, armed with a camera, to take a picture of some—even one—of the crossing deer. Nary a deer has loped into sight. But we always get a bit of a thrill from the signs, just imagining that before we came or after we left a deer might have passed by; it's subtle tourist advertising.

Once in a while we have to revise our opinion that no deer are in the highway area. Reports reach us that carcasses have been seen on the road or that a herd of deer has camped by a Deer Crossing sign. Last Wednesday, for instance, a Peterborough driver saw a herd—five adults and two fawns—in a field close to the main highway between the city and Rice Lake, half-way to Port Hope. The herd was south of the city, by Highway 28, not north on Highway 28 where all the signs are. We presume that the deer were remaining in the field until the Port Hope division of the Department of Highways sent a man rushing up to erect a sign there: "Deer Crossing". Then the nice animals could of course cross in safety.

Royal Train To Slow Down

The Mayor of Cobourg, who has been keenly interested in seeing that Cobourg and the Royal pair see something of each other, has been advised that the Royal Train will slow up as it passes through Cobourg. Considering the town's name (though in it an 'o' has unaccountably slipped into the family name of Princess Elizabeth's great-great grandfather and her great-great-great- aunt) it is a nod which Cobourg deserves—a passing bow while Cobourg curtsies. We think Cobourg ought to be pleased that it is to be not merely one of those innumerable 'whistle-stops'. Incidentally, almost all the through trains slow down on reaching Cobourg. They have to; if they don't they are rampaging through Port Hope and across Port Hope's bridges before they know it. That would never do. We are glad to know that the Royal tour officials have enough sense to make a virtue out of a necessity.

A Fleep

The Americans are a wonderfully ingenious people. They produced the Jeep, the contraption on wheels which, like Uriah Heep, became ubiquitous and memorable. It was the be-all, carry-all and over-all of the last war. Now American Army experimenters are producing a kind of flying jeep which will fly like an aeroplane in the air but fold its wings on the ground and run like a truck. "Aeromobile" and "autoplane" have been suggested as suitable names for it. But it is already being generally referred to as the "fleep." Wonderful neighbours are these of ours to produce a flea with a pee.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Says the St. Catharines Standard: "The business must be catching. Muscle expert Macfadden parachuted into the Hudson River, and the Mayor of Magog, Quebec, did the same thing before the gaze of hundreds of his constituents in the nearby lake. If anyone ever tells our own esteemed Mayor, 'Dick' Robertson, to go and take a jump in the lake, it is hoped for the civic interest alone he will turn a deaf ear to the demand." Ah! But St. Catharines has to be careful about a jumping Mayor; it's lake is so deep and big. Peterborough's marine centre is Little Lake.

Notes And Queries

By ALPHA

Questions are solicited for this column particularly those relating to local lore and tradition.

DEAR ALPHA: My son has found what he thinks is gold, although his brother says it's only "fool's gold." However, he has asked me to have it analysed for him, and refuses to remove two sacks of it from his dresser drawer until he finds out for sure that it isn't real gold. Where would I send it to have it analysed? (2) There is a Hooper's Confectionery on George Street a few doors up from Charlotte. Could you please tell me how long Hoopers have been doing business at that location?

ANSWER: (1) The chances of its being gold are very small. I suggest that you first of all ask a Collegiate science teacher for his opinion. You might, if you then think it worthwhile, send the sample and particulars of where it was found, to the Provincial Assayer, Department of Mines, Parliament Buildings, Toronto.

(2) Hoopers have occupied that store since October 1888—nearly 63 years.

EIGHT TONS FOR THE ARCHIVES: Last Friday I mentioned the prospective gift to Bobcaygeon of the old Boyd Lumber Company office building and said that 2½ tons of papers and documents had gone to Ottawa for the Dominion Archives. Mr. Howard Pammett has kindly written me further information and corrected some of the details.

A year ago he learned that the Boyds of Bobcaygeon were planning to give the building to Bobcaygeon as a village hall and library. Knowing that the place was stuffed with valuable historical records, he spent ten days going over them: "I was able to scan only the fringe, as most of the materials were packed away in large wooden boxes, in vaults and attics and on high shelves, all liberally covered with an inch of dust which had accumulated since the offices were closed in 1914." When Mr. Pammett returned to Ottawa, he described to senior Archives officials the contents of the offices, and wrote Miss Boyd suggesting that they be put at the disposal of the Dominion Archives. Miss Boyd agreed, and the head of the manuscript division, Miss Storey, had two trips to Bobcaygeon (last autumn and this Easter) to make a selection. Mr. Pammett says that eight tons (not 2½ as I had been told) of the records were sent to Ottawa, including 700 maps and numerous pictures. Many of the maps had never before been seen by the Archives map authorities.

These records have been described by Archives officials as "most unique and valuable," for they give a complete and vivid picture of the various ramifications of a pioneer industrial enterprise in lumbering, gristmilling, lime production, stockbreeding and steamboating, extending through the era 1840 to 1914, and geographically from Quebec to British Columbia. The Cowichan Lumber Company in B.C. is the surviving industrial enterprise of this Boyd "Empire," just as Miss Boyd of Bobcaygeon and her brother in B.C. are the only surviving members of the direct descent (Boyd). The materials include, for example, hundreds of small pocket diaries kept year by year, not only by the Boyds, but by their timber cruisers, shanty foremen, and steamboat captain. There are letter-books, cash books, ledgers, licenses, receipt books, bankbooks, and other books innumerable, covering all branches of the business.

Mr. Pammett again spent a week this summer going over remaining materials—which are as much again as those that have been sent to Ottawa.

DEAR ALPHA: In your Friday column, you make the claim that "people who have to memorize a lot acquire a special facility in memorization." It would seem that the old faculty theory of education was dying a slow and painful death. Hundreds of investigators have proven that there is no such faculty as memory, and that training is one specific field was confined to that field. One study by W. G. Sleight ("Memory and Formal Training") illustrates this:

A group of women students were divided into four sub-groups. Group 1, a control group, received no special training; Group 2 learned poetry thirty minutes a day for twelve days; Group 3 memorized tables, such as population data, export and import tables, and foreign coinage systems, thirty minutes a day for twelve days; Group 4 spent thirty minutes a day for twelve days attempting to learn the substance of scientific, historical or narrative prose selections read to them. Just before and just after the practice series, the abilities of all four groups were measured in the following kinds of learning:

1. Learning series of names and dates given orally.
2. Learning series of nonsense syllables given orally.
3. Memorizing pieces of poetry, read by the experimenter and repeated by the subjects.
4. Memorizing prose, as in (3), verbatim.
5. Getting the substance of a prose selection presented orally.
6. Memorizing a series of nine letters read but once.

By comparing the improvement of each of the three practice groups in each function with that of the control group, the tranfer of training was measured. The results, briefly, were as follows: Each group gained rapidly in the kind of learning specifically practised. The influence of training in one type of learning on other types was sometimes favourable, sometimes unfavourable. Practice in memorizing poetry produced some improvement in learning tables, nonsense, and prose literally, but a loss in ability to learn prose substance or recall letters. Those who practised learning tables were more able to learn tables, prose substance and nonsense, but less able to learn poetry, prose verbatim, and to recall letters. Practice in getting the substance of prose had a bad effect upon all other forms of memorizing save the "immediate" memory for series of nine letters.

RESPONSE: I see that I should have expanded my statement to "people who have to memorize a lot acquire a special facility in memorizing the kind of thing they have been memorizing." Thank you for your detailed information.

SIR: Did you ever hear of black squirrels eating beets? I hear some of the people in a near village have been losing beets out of their garden, a whole row in one night, not even a leaf left. For myself, I am inclined to think these squirrels have two legs not four. What do you think? Second question—Will you please tell me the name of the river that flows through Marmora?

ANSWER: Squirrels are unfairly blamed for many crimes of which they are only innocent bystanding chatterers. I know that they eat birds' eggs, chew the sweet young buds of trees in spring, strip bark off branches to get at sap, and even tear the covering on hydro wires in attics. Their diet consists largely of fruits and vegetables, varied with mice, small birds and eggs—and nuts. But I have never heard that they forage in garbage pails or like beets. Opinions pro and con from other readers will be welcomed.

Your second question: The river flowing through Marmora is the Crow—spelt without an 'e' on county maps.

✧ ✧ ✧

FOR THE RECORD: One village in Canada has a peculiar distinction: Seven foreign countries own slices of it. The village is Rockliffe, a suburb of Ottawa and now really as much a part of the capital city as Forest Hill village is of Toronto. It is considered the choicest residential section of Ottawa and many embassies and legations have located in it. Two distinctive residences not in this exclusive area are the Russian Embassy and Rideau Hall (the Governor-General's residence). The latter is generally believed to be in Rockliffe but is actually on its edge. Viscount Alexander, speaking at the village's anniversary festivities this year, told his Rockliffe audience that he had only just discovered that he lived "on the wrong side of the tracks."

NEVER MORE SO THAN TODAY

A Big Dam For Saskatchewan, Maybe

(OTTAWA CITIZEN)

SINCE Canadian taxpayers will have to foot the bill, the federal government is acting prudently in seeking an opinion from independent experts as to whether it should go ahead with the proposed South Saskatchewan River development in central Saskatchewan. The estimated cost to the Dominion would be some $68 million. This would provide a huge earth-fill dam and a reservoir 125 miles in length—a man-made lake—the starting points for a combined irrigation and power scheme. Water supply, flood control and recreational facilities are supplementary advantages claimed for this ambitious project.

The Prime Minister has announced that a three-man commission will enquire into the South Saskatchewan scheme and express an opinion "as to whether the economic and social returns to the Canadian people on the investment . . . would be commensurate with the cost thereof"; and as to whether this plan represents "the most profitable and desirable use which could be made of the physical resources involved."

Some three months have passed since the government made known that it wanted to take one more look at the South Saskatchewan project before committing itself. Presumably difficulties in lining up the appropriate personnel were responsible for the delay. The trio of experts now selected should be competent enough. The commission is headed by Dr. T. H. Hogg, former chairman of Ontario Hydro; F. A. Gaherty, president of Calgary Power Limited; and Dr. John A. Widtsoe of Salt Lake City, a veteran authority on irrigation whose name is favorably known to Albertans.

In Saskatchewan believers in this multi-million dollar scheme have been exasperated by the launching of one more enquiry into the feasibility of a scheme which they thought had been proved already. So it has, up to a point. On the engineering side, there seem to be few if any remaining doubts. A report tabled in Parliament last fall was fairly definite as to how the physical problems were to be met, but it was much less satisfactory in assessing economic advantages to be expected. It is likely because of the economists' understandable lack of certainty (a caution carried to perhaps excessive lengths) that the government balked at reaching a decision earlier this year.

As matters stand, unless the newly appointed commission is able to digest quickly the mass of data already available to it, and fill in whatever gaps may exist, yet another year will be lost in beginning actual construction in the event of a favorable report. The government's delaying tactics may be applauded in some parts of Canada. They will not be popular, however, in a province which believes that the South Saskatchewan development is the best way to help diversify and strengthen its economy. And in Saskatchewan a provincial election is not far off.

Beet Tops For Fodder

(Windsor Star)

With the United Kingdom having to import a large amount of animal feedstuffs, every thought is being given to maximum utilization of what are available. There is a current argument as to how much feed for animals can be provided from the tops of sugar beets. Though Britain necessarily imports much sugar, she also has a sizeable sugar beet acreage. One authority estimates, on the basis of last year's crop, about 4,000,000 tons of feedstuff could be obtained if all the beet tops were saved and used for ensilage.

A new sugar beet crop will be harvested in Southwestern Ontario this autumn. Where the growers have cattle, an economic disposal of the tops is ready at hand, as the cattle can eat them. Unlike turnip tops, beet tops do not leave an unpleasant flavor in the milk. And beet tops are nutritious feed, being somewhat similar in quality to rape which many farmers grow as autumn feed for beef or dairy cattle.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And he came out, and went, as he was wont, to the mount of Olives; and his disciples also followed him . . . And he was withdrawn from them about a stone's cast, and kneeled down, and prayed, saying, Father, if thou be willing, remove this cup from me: nevertheless not my will, but thine, be done. And there appeared an angel unto him from heaven, strengthening him . . .

And while he yet spake, behold a multitude, and he that was called Judas, one of the twelve, went before them, and drew near unto Jesus to kiss him. But Jesus said unto him, Judas, betrayest thou the Son of man with a kiss? (Luke 22: 39, 41-43, 47, 48.)

✧ ✧ ✧

When the morning was come, all the chief priests and elders of the people took counsel against Jesus to put him to death.

Then Judas, which had betrayed him, when he saw that he was condemned, repented himself, and brought again the thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and elders, saying, I have sinned in that I have betrayed the innocent blood. And they said, What is that to us? see thou to that. And he cast down the pieces of silver in the temple, and departed, and went and hanged himself. (Matt. 27:1, 3-5.)

✧ ✧ ✧

And when they were come to the place, which is called Calvary, there they crucified him, and the malefactors, one on the right hand, and the other on the left.

Then said Jesus, Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do. (Luke 23: 33, 34.)

Scottish Recruits

(Windsor Star)

Seriously short of labour, Australia has had an energetic campaign to obtain immigrants. It is not stopping with those it requires for civilian purposes.

We note in The Glasgow Record a news item telling of Australia recruiting Scots for service in the Australian Army. Australian agents interview the men at the Maryhill Barracks, and in one spurt of recruiting enlisted 240 Scots, 125 of them from Glasgow. All are ex-servicemen, not over 35 years of age, thus possessed of military training.

Australia offers an enticement. She agrees to transport the men and their families free of charge to that country. The men sign up for six years, after which they may settle in Australia or return home. The desire and expectation is, of course, they should remain "down under."

Canadians were somewhat surprised to learn Canada is enlisting medical doctors from the United Kingdom and Eire in the Canadian forces, due to the shortage of such recruits in Canada. Australia is going much beyond that in getting men for her forces.

High Railroad Costs

(Brandon Sun)

Earnings of the principal Canadian railways in May eastablished a new record for the month at $92,432,000, an increase of 15 per cent over last year's May total of $80,362,000. This was the second highest monthly total in railway history, being exceeded only by the October, 1950, figure of $92,517,000 when the harvest movement was under way. Due to higher wage rates and cost of materials and supplies, operating expenses rose more sharply than earnings over the previous May, totalling $83,543,000 as against $70,730,000 or by 18 per cent. As a result operating income for the month was pared to $5,063,000 from $7,124,000 the year before.

UNEXPECTED MESSENGER OF PEACE

Large Uranium Producer In Two Years

-REGINA, Aug. 31 (CP)—Provincial government officials are confident that Saskatchewan will become a large-scale uranium producer within the next two years.

With much of the 1951 exploratory program now complete, there is speculation on how large the Saskatchewan development will be.

Dr. H. F. Morrow, chief geologist of the province resources department, say there seems little doubt that Saskatchewan will become the greatest uranium-producing area in the world.

Near Goldfields, 640 air miles northwest of Prince Albert, the federally-owned Eldorado Mining and Refining Company has just started its main production shaft. This is to go to an initial depth of 1,150 feet.

Eldorado also is constructing a 500-ton-a-day mill and may increase its capacity to 2,000 tons.

It will likely be late 1952 or early 1953 before the company produces its first commercial uranium from the mine.

Privately-owned companies also are working to establish urnanium mines in the Eldorado region. But these are not likely to come into production until after the federal development.

Supplementary Work

Besides the development work at the actual mine sites, this summer has seen the construction of supplementary facilities essential to any mining community.

Eight miles of a 14-mile road from the north shore of Lake Athabasca near Goldfields to the Beaver Lodge Lake area soon will be completed. This will enable equipment to be taken into the region more readily.

An air strip—4,500 feet long and 500 feet wide—also has been built.

A whole new town—Uranium City—is planned. Main construction work will start next year.

One of the needs of the Lake Athabasca area will be hydro power for the new town and the mines. The possibilities of developing power on the Fond Du Lac river, which empties into the eastern end of the lake, are being explored.

So far Eldorado has spent $4,000,000 on development. It is estimated a further $3,000,000 will be spent before production starts.

The mill to be built by the federal company will concentrate pitchblende ore from any private mines brought into production. That will encourage smaller operators to carry out development work, since it will relieve them of the necessity of building their own mills at the outset.

Present Resolution

WINDSOR, Aug. 31 (CP).—The Windsor Chamber of Commerce is again presenting a resolution to the Canadian Chamber of Commerce urging the federal government to take the lead in establishing a system of permanent control over Canadian stock broker sales promotion methods. A similar resolution was submitted to the national body at its annual meeting last September in Banff. It was not adopted because assurance was expressed that the situation would improve under guidance of the Broker-Dealers Association of Ontario.

Gets High Price

EDMONTON, Aug. 31 (CP). — A record price for "wildcat" acreage today highlighted a sale of Crown petroleum and natural gas leases and reservations which netted the Alberta government $2,397,149.51. Texaco Exploration Company paid $353,125 for a half-section, or 320 acres, of unproven oil land about 12 miles southwest of the Leduc oil field. Previous high price for "wildcat" acreage was about $100,000 for a quarter-section.

Hanover Band Wins

TORONTO, Aug. 31 — (CP) — The Hanover Musical Society Band, under Harry C. Mann, won first prize of $250 in competition for bands of 28 members at the Canadian National Exhibition Thursday. The London, Ont., Technical School Concert Band won the brass band class award.

Earnings Down

MONTREAL, Aug. 31 (CP)—Net earning of $1,144,802 for July were reported Thursday by the Canadian Pacific Railway, compared with $3,842,107 for the same month a year ago. July gross earnings were $35,794,952, against working expenses of $34,650,150, compared with $33,176,525 and $29,334,418 in 1950.

Maori Race Now Making Comeback In New Zealand

By J. C. GRAHAM

AUCKLAND, NZ. — (CP) — The amazing resurgence of the Maori race in New Zealand is causing the authorities to revise earlier estimates of the future composition of the Dominions' population. At the beginning of the century it was widely held that the Maoris were a "dying race," due for extinction in the not far distant future. But the Maori population has tripled in the half century and seems likely to increase at an even greater rate in the next 50 years.

This year's census showed the number of Maoris, persons with 50 per cent or more Maori blood, totalled 113,000 among a dominion population of more than 1,900,000. Half a century ago there were only 39,854 Maoris. Statisticians esitmate the Maori total may reach 700,000 by the end of this century.

The phenomenal growth of the race has been due partly to revival of confidence in the future among the natives. At the end of the Maori wars of the last century they were dispirited, living in miserable conditions.

Improved social conditions, introduction of the white man's medicine and hygiene to combat disease, and better housing helped to check the death rate. But the greatest stimulus in re-birth of the race was the rise of native leaders of modern outlook.

Higher Birth Rate

When it became obvious that the Maoris were not dying out it was assumed by some authorities they would gradually merge with the Europeans but this theory has lost ground. The Maori birth rate is almost twice that of the white population, and more than half the natives are under 20 years of age at the present time.

It is agreed however that there will be an increasing Maori element living side-by-side with the white population. Maoris live on terms of equality with the Europeans, and inter-marriage is common, but the native race's vitality is such as to make any merger of colors doubtful.

Social workers now stress the need for young Maoris to adapt themselves fully to the European environment as a matter of urgency. They emphasize the importance of Maoris and Europeans co-operating ever more closely by mutual sympathy and tolerance in laying the foundations of a state in which the Maori will play an increasingly important part.

Intelligent Race

A proud race, natives resembling the Maoris were here when New Zealand was discovered by Captain Cook in 1770. But the present race is mainly descended from the great canoe migration to New Zealand about 1350, from homeland far to the north across the Pacific which is believed to have been the Society Islands.

This epic voyage made over a century before Columbus discovered America was the cause of great anniversary celebrations at Whakatane earlier this year. The first natives journeyed thousands of miles across the Pacific without navigation aids of any kind.

Until the arrival of the Europeans little over a century ago, the Maoris had no written language, but their traditions have been handed down with amazing accuracy ever since that voyage.

The Maoris are a well-developed, muscular race with varying shades of color, some being very light. They have well-shaped intellectual heads and few have beards or whiskers. They have long been converted to christianity and the last recorded case of cannibalism was in 1943.

Says Valentino Didn't Go Chasing Women

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 31 (AP)—What was Rudolph Valentino really like?

The screen's greatest lover has been dead 25 years this month, and legend has already clouded his real nature. There are still many people in hollywood who knew Valentino in his prime and I sought out their impressions of the famous man.

"He was a pretty good fellow about publicity," remarked veteran publicity agent Frank Pope. "He would co-operate on just about anything you might suggest, although he was one star who really didn't need to be publicized. The women did the publicity job for him . . ."

"He was nice enough to the people he knew and liked, but when he didn't like someone—watch out."

One of those he didn't like was Harry Reichenback, a dynamic man who was doing some special publicity work on Valentino. Once when the actor was making up for a scene Reichenback bustled up, placed his hand on Valentino's shoulder and started talking.

"Screen me in," Valentino ordered his valet Chris. Reichenback watched open-mouthed as the valet placed a screen around the disdainful Valentino.

No "Woman-Chaser"

"He wasn't a woman-chaser," said Dev Jennings, who photographed Valentino in "The Cobra" and is still a camerman at Paramount. "When I knew him, he was very much in love with his wife, Natacha Rambova, and was very jealous of her.

"Rudy lived very quietly. He preferred a few friends at his home, rather than big parties . . .

"Rudy's hobbies were riding, fencing and boxing. Here's one thing most people don't know—his left ear was cauliflowered . . ."

Concerning Valentino's famed romantic abilities, Holmes commented, "I never saw him break his neck over any woman."

Alarming Inroads Of Erosion On Lakes

TORONTO, Aug. 31—(CP)—A. H. Richardson, Ontario's Chief Conservation Engineer, Thursday urged community effort to halt the "alarming inroads of erosion along the Great Lakes."

He told members of the American Shore and Beach Preservation Association that persons concerned should organize conservation authorities or "the job would never be tackled as it should be." These associations would give them legal standing to plan the work and to ask for financial assistance.

More than 600 miles of shoreline along Lake Ontario, Lake Erie and Lake Huron are being eroded. Half of this mileage is in the serious classification, he said.

Van Doos Dig Up Food To Help Korean Hospital

By BILL BOSS
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

Tears came to the eyes of Dr. Pak Syung-won as the Canadian truck drove up to his hospital in Korea.

The humanitarian Van Doos were at it again.

CSM Maurice Juteau of Montreal, from the sniper platoon of the 2nd Battalion Royal 22nd Regiment, already had visited the hospital once.

It was the Civilian Relief Hospital at Uijongbu, 17 miles north of Seoul. Its 10,000 patients a month were refugees, evacuees, and distressed Koreans who one way or another had managed to remain in the area.

And while they needed treatment and medicines and dressings Juteau had seen at a glance that their greatest need was food.

Three Korean doctors, three medical students, six nurses and 40 orderlies with inadequate supplies and food trying to do a job for 10,000 of their ravaged fellow-countrymen.

Would they accept any food the sergeant-major's regiment could spare?

Get Truckload

They would indeed, with thanks. But they were unprepared for the truckload Juteau turned up with a few days later.

The whole platoon got interested. Another truckload. Then still another.

Three loads—enough for 5,000 meals—had been delivered when Juteau had an inspiration. Why not organize a movement properly, on a battalion basis, and get every platoon to channel its surpluses to the hospital.

And so was formed "Les Charites Kaki" (kakhi charities).

Juteau produced a manifesto defining the projected organization, its aims, principles, methods, even outlining obstacles it would have to overcome, and concluded with its motto: "An Hour a Day for the Poor Koreans."

"Reawaken in the men the virtue of charity," he says, "and brutalities toward civilians will cease."

Gives Lectures

Troops were asked to turn over everything no longer necessary to them—such as clothing and unwanted individual rations— any local surpluses civilians could use—and in addition to make personal sacrifices from their parcels.

Then the sergeant-major, who did similar work with the Van Doos for the civilians of Ortona, Italy, during the winter of 1944-1945, thought other units in the 25th Canadian Infantry Brigade group could do the same.

He got permisison to lecture cadets attending the brigade non-commissioned officers' school being run by Major Don Duncan of Hamilton, so that when the cadets returned to their units they would be evangelists of the cause.

Canada Considers Building Seaway

OTTAWA, Aug. 31—(CP)—Canada has taken the first, tentative steps towards getting the United States' okay on this country going ahead alone with the $800,000,000 St. Lawrence Seaway project.

With prospects for joint Canada-U.S. action killed for at least another year in Congress, the Canadian government has sent out feelers on Washington's attitude towards all-Canadian construction of the big navigation-power project.

External Affairs Minister Pearson, disclosing this move at a press conference Thursday, did not indicate what attitude the US is taking. He emphasized that the talks are in a very early stage and that Canada herself has not yet decided on building the seaway without US participation.

Either way, the US will have to at least give consent before the project can go ahead.

Reds May Face Their Pet Tactics

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31 (AP)—Communist leaders in Europe and Asia soon may face some of their own pet tactics of infiltration and underground activities, informed senators said today.

Tucked away in general terms in the multi-billion dollar Foreign Aid bill is authority for spending at least $150,000,000 on such activities, termed "hush-hush" matters.

But the public report of the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committees notes that of the more than $5,000,000,000 for military aid in Europe, up to $100,000,000 may be used "to form selected escapees from Iron Curtain ountries into elements of military forces supporting the North Atlantic Treaty organizations."

In "the general area of China", the Senate bill would authorize spending $535,250,000.

There have been numerous demands in Congress for open arming of anti-Communist forces on the mainland of China. Some lawmakers contend there are up to 2,000,000 guerillas in China, anxious to fight the Red forces if they could get arms and supplies.

August — the month of picnics! Each weekend we try to have something special planned for the whole family — an overnight, if we are at the cottage and weather will permit, or a trip to some picnic area if we are home. Such excursions should be enjoyed by all young Canadians with such excellent beauty spots so close at hand.

It becomes the duty of every adult to learn and to teach safety measures with camp fires if this heritage is to be protected. Each year careless people cause serious losses through forest fires. At this time of year, when our forests are often tinder dry, cooking fires or camp fires should be built on solid rock or right out in the open on packed earth. Embers have been known to smoulder for days and travel many feet underground before they break to the surface if the earth is laden with decaying roots and bits of wood. If a large flat rock is not handy, the Gards use rolls of sod to form the sides of the fireplace and carry the weight of the cooking utensils.

Silhouettes

My teen-aged daughter is painting interesting silhouettes on glass and framing them with cardboard and black binding tape. She does a good job of it, too.

Son Jimmy, not to be outdone by his sister, brought home a set of "tin-can" jardinieres he had made during the craft period at his boys' camp. They were painted and ready for immediate use in his mother's "window" garden.

Foot Rest

When I sit down to relax and put my feet up this winter, it will be with the aid of a new hassock made from a butter box. Just the finishing touches remain. The top has been carefully padded and covered with bright durable plastic. (All that remains to be done is complete the pattern being made with decorative tacks.)

Merchants Make It Three With 7-1 Win Over Petes

Beating the Petes 7-1 here last night, the Oshawa Merchants took a 3-0 lead in their best-of-nine series to put a team into OBA senior playdowns. A fair sized crowd viewed the tilt, which grew one-sided the last half. Fourth fray is here tonight, with the next three games slated for Oshawa on Saturday and Monday.

The Merchants got two runs in the first and the Petes got one back in the fifth, but Oshawa added two more next heat and never looked back. Tony Delaurentis kept 10 hits pretty well scattered and he had fine support afield. Bunny Maeson pitched neat ball, too, till he weakened in the ninth, four hits making for two more runs. His support was wobbly, despite a double play. Oshawa reeled off two twin killings.

Sherry Rowland led the winners at bat with two for three, while Charlie Welsh drove in four runs with two hits in four times. Two for five each went to Dick Berning and Jim Rogers. For the Petes, George Brabin—club batting champion—was tops with a triple and two singles in four. Joe Lowrey getting two in four trips. Andy Milne had a double and single. Bill Dadson came through with another pinch single. The best bit of defensive play was a long and accurate peg to third from deep centre by Joe Lowrey in the seventh to nip a runner.

Started Early

Napolitano led off with a walk, Kitchen sacrificing him and he scored on a hit by Rogers. The latter moved up on an out, took third on an infield hit by Rowland and scored on Walsh's infield hit, but Berning—who had got on through an error, was nicked on the same play after Rogers crossed the plate. Two more counted for them in the sixth on a hit by Berning, Rowland being hit by pitcher, Barnes' sacrifice and a single by Walsh. Berning hit in the eighth, moved up on an error, took third on Barnes' sacrifice and home on Walsh's fly. Their last two in the ninth came on hits by Kitchen, Rogers, Rowland and Delaurentis, with a wild pitch and an out figuring in on the deal.

The Petes' lone tally was counted in the fifth when Menzies singled, going all the way to third on a bad throw-in from left, and scoring on a blow by Lowrey. Several other times they had runners on second and third but were feeble in thec lutches, as Delaurentis bore down and his teammates backed up smartly. Morales had one unassisted double-play and figured in another. Box score:

Series Ordered By OBA Petes Point Out

Neither the Petes nor Oshawa Merchants are unduly perturbed today at word that these clubs have been suspended from the Viaduct Baseball League allegedly for disobeying orders in regard to league playoffs.

"We are simply following an order from the OBA secretary in going ahead with this present series," secretary Len Symonds of the Petes said this morning. "If the Viaduct League suspension holds, we are quite satisfied, and if they do not want us in next year both Oshawa and Peterborough are prepared to seek a revival of the good Central Ontario League of some years ago—one including Kingston, Belleville and Napanee, as well as the Merchants and Petes."

An OBA Order

Mr. Symonds repeated the statement made earlier that the OBA secretary advised Oshawa and Peterborough to arrange a series to put a team into OBA senior playdowns against the Intercounty League winner by Sept. 8. The Viaduct League was notified to this effect. Then, when the Petes and Oshawa finished their league schedule in a tie, loop officials ordered them to play a best-of-three series to settle top spot, giving the league 10 per cent of each gate. The clubs have to give the OBA 15 per cent of each gate in this present series. And the OBA has refused to permit the first two games of this series to count as Viaduct League playoffs.

Bunny Morganson, Toronto baseball official, phoned The Examiner today, explaining the TABA and Viaduct League side of it. He said the TABA gave Oshawa and Peterborough permission to play a series to put a team in OBA playdowns, but he insisted that the first duty of these clubs was to obey league orders. Furthermore, he felt there was some conflict within the OBA itself on ordering Merchants and Petes into a series at this time.

Meantime, the Merchants and Petes resume their OBA series here tonight.

Flores Holds Own Doctors Report

NEW YORK, Aug. 31 —(AP)— George Flores, critically injured in a knockout at Madison Square Garden Wednesday night, held his own today while doctors debated whether a second brain operation is necessary.

The 20-year-old Brooklyn welterweight failed to regain complete consciousness after he was floored by Roger Donoghue of Yonkers, NY, in the eighth round of their bout, preceding the title fight between welterweight champion Kid Gavilan and Billy Graham.

Two spinal taps were taken Thursday to determine whether there was any pressure on the young boxer's brain.

Flores' condition remained "very critical."

Tennis Playoffs

Ladies' singles in the city tennis championships are in the finals with M. Charlton to play R. Fletcher, having won from I. Whitehouse. In ladies' doubles I. Whitehouse and M. Charlton won over J. Elmsley and V. Rose, to play R. Fletcher and H. Stewart in finals.

Five matches were played in men's singles, with R. Lye winning from A. Longhorne and losing to J. Faguy, D. McPherson winning from B. Kingdon, W. Elmsley winning over D. Lamont and R. Charlton defeating B. Swartz. In men's doubles, Johnston and Kingdon beat Lamont and Lye, as McPherson and Charlton won from Langhorne and Scott. No matches have been played in mixed doubles.

Wire Squad Victors

NORWOOD, Aug. 31 (ENS)—A group of boys from the Wire Department of the CGE visited Norwood Wednesday for a game of softball and went home victorious by a count of 8-5. A word of advice to our junior OLA-ers: Don't get butterflies under your belts, boys, tonight when you tangle with Mimico here. Sure, it's the first of your best-of-five junior "A" playoffs, and we realize that the series winner goes into Canadian finals for the Minto Cup. But you've had a little edge on these same Mimico huskies during the schedule, and you should take 'em in this series. Be sure, though, and grab the home victories, as they're important ones when you have the first game here. Second joust is Tuesday at Mimico. The tilt tonight goes at 8.45 and Lou Vitarelli's squad is set to shoot the works. It should be worth viewing.

Like the puck Eagles, the hockey-playing senior "B" Petes have elected a strong executive for the coming campaign. They go in for larger executives than the Eagles. Reg Perks should make a hustling president, aided ably by vice-prexy Curly Alberico, secretary Baz Phelan, and treasurer Fred Scates. Committee members include: Jim Ellis (who coached Eagles two seasons ago but was previously with the Petes), Johnny Russelle (whose wife roots for Eagles), Dave Wilson, Jim Guiry, Ed Foley, George Bennett, Spiros Zakos, Bob Gamble, Irv Cipin, Sam Micelli, Ben Swartz, Ray Harding, Drs. Orfuns Open Season

Football comes to town once more on Monday, the holiday, with a 2.30 afternoon exhibition in Morrow Park. The 1951 grid Orfuns, under Leo Deadey, tackle Weston intermediate "A" club, the senior "B" Malton team of last year. It is coached by big Bill Irwin, who was playing coach for our senior Orfuns back in 1938. Remember him at quarter? The Orfuns have been drilling hard for several weeks, adding hefty players, weeding out others, and they hope to start their season with a bangup win before a big holiday crowd. Their schedule runs through September, October and into November. Some action soon, too, by the PCI-ers and SPS of the gridiron game.

The gloom was heavy at Riverside last gloaming as the Petes suffered the slimmer side of a 7-1 count at the hands of those pesky Oshawa Merchants. Their chances of making OBA playdowns are dwindling rapidly, despite the long series arranged. Two more losses and they've had it, as last night saw them lose their third in a row. Couldn't hit for sour apples with ducks on the pond, only George Brabin, Andy Milne and Joe Lowrey carrying their weight. And Bill Dadson as a pinch-hitter again. Bunny Maeson pitched good enough till the late innings, but didn't get too much support. Oshawa ably backed up steady (though not brilliant) flinging by Tony Delaurentis. Rowland, Walsh, Berning and Rogers hit best for them. A fairish crowd.

Serving Two Masters

Series resumes here at eight tonight, then shifting Saturday and Monday to Oshawa. Word came through this a.m. that the Viaduct League had suspended Oshawa and the Petes, saying they disobeyed loop orders in not playing a series to settle top spot. However, the Merchants and Petes aren't worrying—claiming they were ordered by the OBA secretary (by telegram) to arrange this present series to put a team in OBA playdowns against the Intercounty League winners by Sept. 8. So, it appears to be a battle between the OBA and the TABA (boss of the Viaduct League), with the odds on the provincial body. A more detailed explanation of the dispute is in elsewhere.

Concerning some of our softball squads. Men's city finals are on tonight at the Bowl, opening at seven. A win for Orphans would give 'em the title. If UEW wins, they clash in a nightcap to settle the championship. Next week will see OASA senior "B" playdowns start between the local representatives and Oshawa. It'll be Agincourt girls and the Westclox at 3.30 tomorrow aft in the Bowl, second of their best-of-three PWSU intermediate playdowns Third tilt, if necessary, is at the Bowl at eight p.m. Saturday. While Agincourt won the opener 3-0, the classy clockers think they can sweep the series here, but it might be a close fit. Woollens are off to Kingston tomorrow in a PWSU junior series.

July Home Run Lands Law Suit In Court

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 31 (CP).—A home run hit last July 1 at Nicollet Park landed in District Court here Thursday in the form of a $17,500 law suit.

Robert Lindberg, 50, Minneapolis, claims he was damaged to that extent when the homer cleared the fence of the American Association ball park and struck him in the head as he walked along abutting Nicollet Avenue.

The homer was hit during a Sunday double-header Minneapolis was playing with the Columbus Redbirds. The suit was filed against the Minneapolis Baseball and Athletic Association.

7 Winners Set Lifetime Marks

TORONTO, Aug. 31 (CP). — A track record and possibly a Canadian record looms as a possibility for today's Canadian Cup pace after horsemen analyzed results of Thursday's events at Thorncliffe raceway.

In the first seven races on Thursday's program, the winners established lifetime speed marks for themselves at one mile. Such a performance by seven different horses was said to be unequalled in the history of the Canadian harness racing sport.

Most spectacular performance of the afternoon was provided by Sandy Grattan S., which never before had paced in better than 2.13 4-5. He won the sixth race in a sizzling finish and three official watches caught him in 2.07 4-5.

Other horses to shatter their marks during the afternoon were: Texas Lee, Peter Van H., Gibbs Direct, Hazel Grattan, Buddy Harvester and Ruby Rex, which won the first, second, third, fourth, fifth and seventh races respectively.

Announce Make-up Of Golfing Team

ROYAL OTTAWA GOLF CLUB, Aug. 31 (CP)—The make-up of Canada's eight-man amateur golfing team to meet the United States' best in a special match was announced Thursday night by Charles S. Watson, of Toronto, selections committee chairman of the Royal Canadian Golf Association.

The team will meet at Saugon Valley Club, Bethlehem, Pa., Sept. 7.

Canada's team:

Bill Mawhinney, Walter McElroy, Laurie Roland, all of Vancouver; Allan Boes, Winnipeg; Nick Weslock, Windsor; Gerry Kesselring of Kitchener; Phil Farley, Toronto; Donald Doe, Granby, Que.

The Canadian team will be captained by C. Ross (Sandy) Somerville, of London, Ont., winner of the United States amateur golf championship in 1932 and only Canadian ever to take that honor.

Millars Put Juniors Out Of Playoffs

COBOURG, Aug. 31 — Baltimore Millars put Legion Juniors out of the softball playoffs in the Cobourg and District League here Wednesday night, whipping the kid team 6-4 in a bitterly fought fixture.

Donny Ball started for the winners, but was forced to call on brother Lyle in the seventh when the Legion team scored three times on three walks and Chub McIvor's third hit of the game, a single down the first baseline. Lyle took over and, after McIvor scored the fourth run on an outfield fly, halted the Juniors.

Saskatchewan Clip Bombers In 33-1 Pasting

WINNIPEG, Aug. 31 (CP). — Now is the time for all faithful followers of Winnipeg, Calgary, and Edmonton football teams to holler "Stop those Roughriders."

But it will take more than hollering, as Saskatchewan Roughriders demonstrated here Thursday night when they pasted the defending champion Winnipeg Blue Bombers 33-1.

The "dark horse" of the Western Football Union race at the outset, with quarterback import Glenn Dobbs an unknown quantity in his gridiron comeback after a two-year absence, Roughriders no longer appear a question mark. They have this imposing record:

1—They lead the league with three convincing victories in their first games against each of the opposing clubs;

2—In beating Winnipeg — and Edmonton 23-0 and the Calgary Stampeders 8-1 — they did not not allow an opposing player to cross their goalline.

3—With Dobbs displaying the same passing, kicking and running that made him one of football's best with Los Angeles Dons, Roughriders have scored 64 points in three games and have had only two points scored against them.

About 10,000 stunned fans on Thursday night saw the machine-like Dobbs score two touchdowns on quarterback sneaks and pass for the other three touchdowns—two to import end Jack Nix and one to Del Wardien. Another import, Don (Red) Ettinger converted all five majors.

Riders gained a single point when George Macphail was rouged on a Dobbs kick and another two points when substitute quarterback Pete Petrow was smeared for a safety touch.

Quarterback Indian Jack Jacobs got Bombers' only point on a kick to the deadline in the last three minutes.

A fast-charging line kept the Bombers off balance, forcing Jacobs to rush his passes.

ANCIENT GAME

Earliest mention of football in England was contained in a "History of London" written in 1175.

Two Veterans In Golf Take On Juniors

By ERWIN FRICKE

OTTAWA, Aug. 31 (CP)—Two veterans take on two comparative youngsters today in the semi-finals of the Canadian amateur golf championship.

Phil Farley of Toronto meets a Vancouver smoothie who wasn't born when Farley knocked off the first of the six Ontario amateur golf titles he has won. Farley, 39, is drawn against 18-year-old Laurie Roland, who last week won the Canadian junior championship.

In the other bracket another 39-year-old, Fred Kammer, Jr., of Detroit takes on Walter McElroy, 24, of Vancouver.

Kammer, a tall, blond business executive who claims to be a once-a-week golfer, was a US amateur semi-finalist in 1946 and a member of the 1947 Walker Cup team.

Played Best Golf

Farley Thursday played the best golf of the four semi-finalists; he had to defeat Bill Mawhinney of Vancouver, defending champion, 2 and 1.

Their game was a fight all the way. A one-hole lead was the widest margin until the 17th when Farley played the most beautiful iron of the day—an 85-yarder which stopped a foot from the pin. Mawhinney missed the 18-foot putt he needed for a half and conceded the hole and match to the popular, curly-haired Torontonian.

Farley, runner-up in the amateur in 1937 and 1949, had an approximate medal score of two under par.

Roland played par golf to win 4 and 2 over fellow-townsman Percy Clogg. Clogg, a one-time professional, made his weakest showing. His tee shots kept him in trouble.

Kammer didn't end his match with Roy Keprin of Winnipeg, playing in his first amateur, until the last hole when Keprin missed a 12-footer which would have forced the match into extra holes.

1953 Golf Tourney

OTTAWA, Aug. 31 (CP) — J. Gordon Bowers, president of the Royal Canadian Golf Association, announced today that 1953 Canadian amateur golf championship will be held in Montreal at a course to be selected later. The 1953 Canadian open will be held at Toronto Scarboro which last held it in 1947 when Bobby Locke of South Africa won the title.

Athletics Knock Indians Out Of Tie With Yanks, Down Tribe In 6-2 Beating

By RALPH RODEN, Associated Press Sports Writer

This is the time of year that second-division clubs have fun knocking off the contenders. The lesser lights, relaxed and with nothing at stake, exact a degree of vengeance in beating the tense teams involved in the flag chases. Philadelphia Athletics, who will have to pay their way into the World Series, have been making merry of late with the top four teams in the American League. The A's a sad seventh knocked Cleveland Indians out of a first-place tie with New York Yankees Thursday, beating the Tribe 6-2. The idle Yanks moved a half game in front.

During the last few weeks the A's have split eight games with the Yanks, divided six with the third-place Boston Red Sox and took three out of four from Chicago's fourth-place White Sox.

Rookie lefthander Morrie Martin, with help in the eighth from Carl Scheib, posted his tenth victory against four setbacks in downing the Indians.

Bob Feller, gunning for his 21st victory, was tagged for his seventh defeat. The A's clipped Feller for a pair of runs in the second and added four more in the third. An error by outfielder Bob Kennedy with the bases loaded and two out permitted three of the four third inning runs to score.

Martin Lifted

Martin was lifted in the eighth after he forced a run home by walking Luke Easter with the bases loaded. Scheib came on and got Al Rosen to bang into a double play to end the rally.

The third-place Red Sox downed the Detroit Tigers 10-4, to move to within 4½ games of the Yanks. The Red Sox iced the game with four runs in the ninth. Chuck Stobbs started and gained credit for his ninth victory but Ellis Kinder saved the game by stopping the Tigers on one hit over the final 3 2-3 innings.

In the National League, Brooklyn Dodgers defeated Cincinnati 3-1, Pittsburgh Pirates clipped New York Giants 10-9, St. Louis Cardinals defeated Philadelphia 6-3 and Boston Braves swamped Chicago Cubs 16-2.

Stop Reds

Preacher Roe and Clyde King stopped the Reds on seven hits at Brooklyn. Roe left in the seventh when his pitching arm tightened but gained his 18th victory against two losses. Connie Ryan homered for the lone Red run in the first inning. The Dodgers tied the score against Ewell Blackwell in the fifth and won out in the sixth when Gil Hodges singled home Duke Snider from third.

Home runs featured the Giant-Pirate game. Ralph Kiner won the game for the Bucs by belting his 37th homer in the ninth inning. Rookie Frank Thomas, Gus Bell and Pete Castiglione also homered for the Pirates while Willie Mays banged two and pinch-hitter Bill Rigney one for the Giants. Murry Dickson, working in relief, picked up his 18th victory for the tail-enders. The loss dropped the Giants seven games back of Brooklyn.

Pound Chicago

The Braves pounded a trio of Chicago pitchers for 15 hits to allow Jim Wilson to coast to his sixth victory. Wilson and Sam Jethroe led the assault with three hits each. Earl Torgeson chipped in with a three-run homer. Roy Smalley accounted for both of Chicago's runs with a homer in the seventh.

Veteran lefthanders Al Brazle and Harry Brecheen collaborated in pitching the Cards to victory at Philadelphia. Brazle worked the first six innings and received credit for his fourth victory. The Cards jumped on rookie Niles Jordan for four runs in the fourth inning to win the game.

Royals Bow To Leafs 6-3

By The Associated Press

Dan Bankhead, 30-year-old righthander with Montreal Royals, is finding the road back to the Major League extremely rough.

Bankhead, who advanced to Brooklyn after a great International League season in 1949, returned to Montreal late this year after a poor showing with Brooklyn.

The lanky Negro has failed to display the form that made him a 20-game winner in 1949. Bankhead was charged with his sixth loss in seven decisions Thursday night as the Royals bowed 6-3 to Toronto Maple Leafs.

Toronto pounded Bankhead for eight hits and five runs in less than six innings. Lew Morton belted his 21st homer for Tortonto's final run in the eighth. Johnny Hetki posted his 16th victory for the Leafs, limiting the Royals to seven hits including a home run by George Shuba.

Take Twin Bill

The tail-end Springfield Cubs captured a doubleheader from Baltimore Orioles, 2-1 and 3-1, behind Frank Lamanna and Vern Fear. The Cubs pulled the opener out with two runs in the seventh and final inning. Emil Verban's Texas-league single decided the issue. The Cubs pulled the nightcap out with two runs in the sixth.

Bob Keegan pitched Syracuse Chiefs to a 2-1 triumph over Buffalo Bisons. Keegan fanned nine and walked only one. Wally Post homered with two out in the ninth for Buffalo's lone run.

Rochester Red Wings and Ottawa Giants divided a twinbill, the Wings winning the opener 4-2 behind Bob Habenicht, and the Giants the nightcap 4-3 in 12 innings. Outfielder Jay Van Noy's error with two out permitted the Giants to score two runs in the 12th and win the game. George Bamberger went the distance for Ottawa.

Hope US Waive Interest On British Loan

LONDON, Aug. 31 — (AP). — Britain is considering asking the United States to wirte off the $87,000,000 interest on its American loan this year, but hopes Washington will suggest it first, informed sources said Thursday. Hugh Gaitskell, Chancellor of the Exchequer, will go to Washington next week.

There were sure signs Britain wants to exercise its right under the 1946 agreement to waive the interest which falls due December 31 if it can be done without damaging Anglo-American political relations.

The question whether to waive or not to waive will face the Cabinet after Gaitskell talks on the British economy with US Treasury Secretary John W. Snyder.

Like US to Act

Among qualified sources there is the hope—not officially stated—taht the US voluntarily might take the initiative on the issue.

The argument: The waiver clause was an acknowledgment by the US that the whole conception of the loan was to extend some of the wartime arrangements for mutual aid between members of the grand alliance.

Britain owes the US $4,350,000,000, made up of $3,750,000,000 under the loan pact of September, 1946, and $600,000,000 in lend-lease aid.

Terms include a waiver clause and stipulate that the sums should be repaid in 50 annual instalments, starting this year. The rate of interest was to be 2 per cent.

Thus when the first British payment falls due, $87,000,000 will represent interest and $51,500,000 will represent capital. Officials said Britain intends to make the capital payment.

Cattle Prices Hold Steady On Better Grades

TORONTO, Aug. 31 — (CP).— Cattle prices held steady on better steers and heifers this week on the Ontario Livestock Market and dropped 50 cents to $1 on other classes of slaughter cattle. Calves gained $1 and hogs gained 50 cents. Lambs were from $1-$2 lower.

Included in this week's 7,600 head of cattle were 2,200 westerns, chiefly stockers. Carried from last week were 250 cattle, but a heavier holdover was expected this weekend.

Medium to good weight steers sold at $33-$34.25, with a few choice up to $35. Common to medium light steers and heifers were plentiful at $26-$32. Good heifers opened at $32.50-$33.50, with a few above $32.50 on Wednesday. Good sows sold up to $28, but tapered down to $26. Most butcher cows sold from $23-$26, with canners as low as $17. Good bulls opened at $28.50-$29 and closed with a few above $28. Common light bulls sold downward to $24. Good to choice fed yearlings were firm at $35-$36.50 and mediums $31-$34.

Stock calves were in demand at $34-$36.50, withone load at $37.50. Ordinary common to medium stockers sold from $28-$33.

Calves totalled 1,900 head. Prices were up $1 at $36-$37 for choice vealers. Common to mediums sold at $28-$34. Grassers were $20-$23. Light Durahm calvess old as stockers at $30-$38.

Hog receipts totalled 1,900 head. Prices were 50 cents higher at $36.25 for A-grade, with sows at $26 dressed.

Sheep and lambs totalled 1,700 head, including two cars of westerns. Local lambs sold at $33 for good ewes and wethers delivered by rail and at $32-$32.50 by truck, with bucks at the usual $1 discount. Western lambs of medium quality sold at $32 for ewes and wethers and at $31 for bucks.

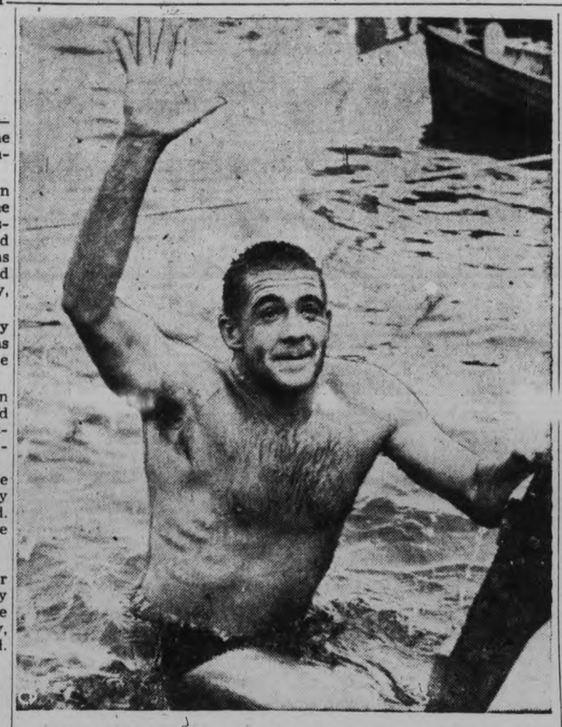
HISTORIC PURSUIT

The custom of autograph-hunting is claimed to have its origin as early as the 14th century.



VICTORY SMILE—Jerry Kerschner 29, of Columbus, O., won the world's professional swiming championship in the 10-mile race at the Canadian National Exhibition. He collected $5,000 first-place money, plus $150 in lap prizes. Kerschner trailed 18-year-old George Bevan of Winnipeg, winner of the two-mile amateur race two days before, until the ninth lap. Bevan collected $2,250, plus $400 in lap prizes; third was Cliff Lumsden of Toronto, winner in 1949 and 1950.

Little Britain Man Wins Award For Horse

TORONTO, Aug. 31 — (CP) — Winner of the silver medal for best agriculturists' general purpose mare of any age Thursday at the Canadian National Exhibition was Alden Craven, of Ailsa Craig, Ont.

R. S. Taylor, of Little Britain, won the best reserve champion award.

Agriculturists' general purpose —Canadian bred only:

Filly or gelding, 3 years old: 1, R. S. Taylor, Little Britain.

Filly or gelding, 2 years old: 1, Alex Dolson and Son, Norval, Ont.; 2, Alden Craven, Ailsa Craig.

Filly or gelding, 1 year old: 1, Alden Craven; 2, Raymond Hill, Strathroy.

Bevan Attack May Force British Election

LONDON, Aug. 31 (Reuters)—A leftwing onslaught in Prime Minister Attlee's rearmament program and foreign policy that may weaken his position within the Labor party and force him to call a general election took shape here Thursday.

It will be launched at the Labor Party's annual conference at Scarborough in October.

The annual report and agenda of the conference, issued Thursday, showed that leftwing Socialists, headed by former Labor Minister Aneurin Bevan, will challenge Attlee and his colleagues sharply.

First battle will come over elections to the 27-member party executive. These open the conference and may decide the way later skirmishes will go. Bevan's followers are concentrating their strength on the seven members elected by constituency parties, as distinct from the trade unions.

Hold Four

They already hold four of these including Bevan's seat, and a gain of even a single seat would mean the unseating of one of the several government ministers running for re-election. These include Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison, Defence Minister Emmanuel Shinwell, Colonial Secretary James Griffiths, and Hugh Dalton, minister of local government and planning.

The second battle will come on policy. Nearly 30 resolutions have been put forward demanding a reduction in the three-year $13,240,000,000 arms program. Bevan resigned from the government last April because he considered the program too large.

Other resolutions criticize the government for following American foreign policy too closely — as Bevan does—and 140 are on the books calling for a reduction in the cost of living. Bevan and his followers argue that rising prices are caused by the excessive scale of the arms program.

Commuters To Ride In Pneumatic Tubes

NEW YORK, Aug. 31 —(AP)— The commuter of the future may step into a projectile-like vehicle in his basement and zip to work in a pneumatic tube by push-button control, a transportation expert predicted Thursday.

Col. Sidney H. Bingham, chairman of the New York City Board of Transportation, said the vehicles might be privately owned and travel in master arterial tubes with connections to each house.

Speaking at a transit day progress luncheon sponsored by the American Transit Association, Bingham said:

"Passengers would lie flat in the vehicle just as do some of our pilots in the new jet planes. Motive power would be compressed air of great efficiency or other jet arrangement without objectionable or poisonous product.

"The capacity of the main tubes would be very great by means of electronic separation of the vehicles. We now control streams of minute particles by the means of negative charges so none collide. These vehicles may similarly be controlled at high speed with complete safety. Vehicles would be electronically diverted."

While calling this a flight into fancy, Bingham said that "in order to change greatly our present modes of urban transit, we must be ready and willing to break decidedly with the past."

A skilful boomerang thrower can make the weapon travel more than 200 yards.

YOU CAN TELL BY THE SMELL

New Surf gets clothes so clean you can smell the difference! It takes out hidden dirt, grease and germs that other suds leave. Surf-clean clothes smell fresh-air-sweet—even if dried indoors!

NOW... A NEW SURF... GETS WASHES TWICE-AS-SWEET AS ANY OTHER LEADING WASHDAY SUDS!

SCIENTIFIC TESTS PROVE IT!

SURF is twice as effective in removing odour—takes out every trace.

SURF gets out more dirt, including greasy, "invisible" dirt that other suds leave.

SURF is 7 times as effective against germs.

New Surf gets clothes sunshiny-white, rainbow-bright—cleaner than ever. That's why they're sweeter than ever! Twice as sweet by scientific test.

Here's why:

Surf contains a wonderful detergent that gets out more of the deep-down dirt, grease and germs. Does twice as good a job as other suds in removing "dirty clothes" odour—takes out every trace! Gets clothes so clean you don't even need to rinse. (If you prefer to rinse, try the work-saving tip at right.)

Yet Surf is so gentle—easy on even your finest, sheerest washables. And so kind to your hands!

Best of all, you'll know your Surf-clean wash is the very cleanest ever. Deep-down, sweet-smelling clean. If it's Surf-clean, it's really clean!

TRY THIS LATEST WASHDAY TRICK— IT'S SO EASY, IT'S SO QUICK!

ADD SURF to the rinse water—and rinse just once. Although Surf-clean clothes even without rinsing are the cleanest ever, this helps keep them sweeter longer.

IT'S MORE EFFECTIVE than several clear-water rinses. Leaves clothes soft, easy to iron. They're sunshiny-white, bright and SWEET!

A LEVER PRODUCT

NO OTHER SUDS GETS CLOTHES WHITER, BRIGHTER OR AS FRESH-AIR-SWEET!

VOL. CIII. No. 51 — FRIDAY, AUGUST 31, 1951 — PRICE FIVE CENTS

Murder Case Remanded One Week

Hope To Set Date For Preliminary At Next Session

Mrs. Lillian Thompson, 35, of 597 Howden Ave., made her second appearance in court today on a charge of murdering her husband, 37-year-old Roy Thompson.

She was further remanded to Sept. 7 in custody.

T. J. Carley, KC, who is representing Mrs. Thompson, suggested the further remand and said that on September 7 a definite date for the preliminary hearing could be set.

Expecting Baby

Mrs. Thompson, mother of four children and expecting a fifth within a month, was red-eyed and appeared bewildered when she appeared before Magistrate R. B. Baxter of Port Hope. She was dressed in a white-polka-dotted brown dress and a hip-length coat. She wore no make-up.

Roy Thompson, her husband, was shot in the heart last Saturday night after he and his wife had allegedly quarrelled over whether he would take the family car to go to a party. Neighbors said Thompson had been drinking earlier in the evening. The shooting took place about 9:30 p.m.

A neighbor, Mrs. William Jamieson, 584 Howden Ave., said at the time that Mrs. Thompson came to their door and said "I've shot him." Mr. Jamieson went to the Thompson home with Mrs. Thompson, said he felt Thompson's pulse and detected no heart beat.

None of the neighbors heard the shot, and one of the Thompson children, 12-year-old Betty, said she heard a bang like a picture falling. She had been in bed upstairs at the time.

Thompson, a successful scrap metal dealer and former head of the city's sanitation department, was buried Monday. There were 20 cars in the funeral cortege.

TRAPPED IN THE CAB — 25-year-old Francis E. Hewton, Trenton, being helped from his wrecked truck after it flipped upside down. Hewton was uninjured, except for a few scratches and bruises.—(Wm. W. Reid Photo)

Bicyclist Hits Car Slightly Injured

Bruises on her right arm and knee were suffered by Ann Howell, 555 Water St., Thursday afternoon when her bicycle hit a car on Park St. at Lake St.

Raymond Nolan, 510 Water St., told police he had been driving south on Park St. and was about to turn left into Lake St. He was watching a north-bound car and didn't see the girl.

When he did see her, he applied his brakes, but the bicycle hit the right front of the car and the girl was thrown from her bicycle.

Choked Owner Montreal Man Fined $15, Costs

Charged with assaulting Charles Wu, manager of a Charlotte St. restaurant, George Whitehead of Montreal was today fined $15 and costs. On a charge of causing a disturbance, he was convicted and fined a further $10 and costs.

Whitehead was charged after an altercation in the restaurant. He had gone in to buy vinegar for some potato chips.

Wu sold him some and Whitehead went out of the restaurant. He returned, asking for more, and, he said, willing to pay for it.

"You mean you went in there just to get some vinegar?" asked Magistrate R. B. Baxter.—"Yes."

"Can you buy vinegar in a restaurant? Have you ever bought a bottle of vinegar in a restaurant?"—"Yes."

"Well, well," commented the magistrate. "I never heard of such a thing."

Threw Ashes

Wu testified that Whitehead had gone in and out of the restaurant about four times. The last time, he said, the accused "pull me onto floor and start to choke me." Then, said Wu, Whitehead threw a paper bag full of ashes into the restaurant.

Whitehead said he had had a few drinks that night. When he went back for more vinegar, the proprietor "just walked away. I followed him into the kitchen."

Wu threw two pans full of water on him, pulled him onto the floor and tried to choke him with his neck tie, Whitehead claimed.

Driver Escapes As Truck Hits Rock, Lands On Top

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 31. (ENS)—Twenty-five-year-old Francis E. Hewton of 148 Dundas Street East, Trenton, escaped uninjured on Thursday when his truck, loaded with four yards of gravel overturned on the Old Hastings Road, about six miles northwest of Campbellford.

Hewton is employed by the McFarland Construction Company, hauling gravel for the new section of highway at present under construction between Campbellford and Havelock.

Hewton said he was picking up speed to pass a car on the roadway, and had pulled out to go around the slower moving vehicle. The left wheels struck a large rock on the shoulder of the roadway, hurling the truck into the air and flipping it upside down.

George Peake of Campbellford, driver of the car, saw the truck just as it bounced into the air. He pulled off to one side of the roadway, and by this time the truck was on its top, the cab partly crushed and the driver trapped inside.

Pulled Out

With the aid of another truck driver, Mr. Peake pulled the dazed man from the cab of the truck, fearing it might take fire at any moment. Hewton was not injured, however, and was soon standing on the roadway, directing traffic around his wrecked truck, which was partly blocking the busy roadway.

The road on which the accident took place is used by a large number of trucks working on the construction job, as it leads to the gravel pit.

Provincial Constable Donald W. Erskine of Campbellford investigated.

Youth Sentenced To Seven Days

Seven days in jail was the penalty given 21-year-old Gordon R. Lock, 344 McGill St., when he pleaded guilty today in court to a charge of drunken driving.

The charge arose out of an accident the afternoon of August 18 when Lock, driving south on Monaghan Rd., attempted to turn west onto Frank St. and swung too wide. His car jumped the road and hit the side of a lunch counter.

OPP Constable Jack McKendry, who was the first policeman on the scene, said Lock was drunk. A charge of illegal possession of liquor against Lock was dismissed when the crown offered no evidence.

Knocked From Bike Boy Receives Cuts

A six-year-old boy was knocked off his bicycle and slightly hurt when hit by a car driven by Alf Pink, 124 Dublin Street, on a side road about 200 yards south of Highway 7, at Downer's Corners.

The youngster, Jimmie Nash, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Nash, RR 6, Peterborough, was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital. He was released after his bruises and cuts were treated.

Police said the youngster, riding on a friend's bicycle, apparently lost his balance as the car came along. The front bumper of the Pink car hit the rear wheel of the bicycle and knocked the boy off. The rear wheel of the bicycle was smashed.

Provincial Constable James Healey investigated.

Driver Straddles Pipe Along Torn-up Road

A straight line is the shortest distance between two points. One motorist followed this axiom just after midnight this morning by driving over the stretch of Townsend St. between Rubidge and Stewart Sts.

In normal times, this wouldn't be a difficult job. But that particular stretch of road is under construction, and is about three feet below road level.

A Townsend St. man said he saw the whole thing. The motorist drove up to the barricade, removed it, and drove through. Constable W. A. Scott investigated and found fresh tire marks on either side of an exposed water main.

The witness gave the license number of the car to police. The car is registered in the name of an Omemee man, Clifford Booth.

Heavy Thunderstorm Floods Sault Streets

SAULT STE. MARIE, Aug. 31 —(CP). — A thunderstorm accompanied by near-gale winds struck the Sault Thursday night and early today.

Many of the city's main intersections were flooded by the heavy downpour and one bus was forced to drive up on the sidewalk to pick up its passengers.

The high winds continued today and threatened to disrupt the big schedule of Labor Day weekend sports, including an intercity invitation golf tournament against a group from Sudbury.

Terrified By Plane Filly Skewered On Pole

FORT ERIE, Aug. 31 (CP).—Race track attendants shot a two-year-old filly today after she had skewered herself on a gate pole.

Apparently terrified by a passing plane, Joyance, owned by Joe Monahan of Montreal, bolted as she was being led on to the track for a workout.

She collided with the swing-bar of the barn gate, tearing a big hole in her side.

Joyance, regarded as a promising horse, was to have raced at Niagara Falls Saturday.

Labor Urges Action On Controls

Labor Leaders Unite In Demanding Immediate Action

OTTAWA, Aug. 31 (CP). — Heads of Canada's two biggest labor congresses renewed union demands for anti-inflation price controls in Labor Day messages today.

The annual messages were issued to Canadian labor by presidents Percy Bengough of the 500,000-member Trades and Labor Congress of Canada and A. R. Mosher of the Canadian Congress of Labor, which has 350,000 members. They speak for about four-fifths of Canada's organized labor.

Because of "high and uncontrolled" prices Mr. Bengough said, the dollar now is worth only 54 cents. He pledged the Congress to work for price controls and reduced living costs in the next year.

Mr. Mosher said probably no one condition could provide a more fertile soil for the growth of Communism than "the unprecedented rise in the cost of living in Canada since the war, and the hardships imposed upon such a large number of its common people."

Serious Error

The government had made a "very serious error" in not re-imposing price control.

"Surely," Mr. Mosher said in his statement, "it is not beyond the wisdom of the Canadian people to find a true balance between the cost of production and distribution and the price we pay, and to put into effect whatever regulation may be necessary to ensure that labor and capital, producers and consumers, receive an equitable share. . ."

Mr. Bengough and Mr. Mosher lashed out at Communism.

While the frontiers of fear and want were being pushed back, Mr. Bengough said, free people must not be lulled into false security.

"The imperialist aims of Communist dictatorship are a definite threat to all people who value freedom," he said.

Mr. Mosher said adequate provisions must be made for defence against Communist aggression. Communists in Canada were as much a menace to security as those in Russia.

He urged that labor be given a greater say in the government's defence preparations.

Rain Should Cool Sweltering City

Summer temperature in the 80 brackets during the last week to ten days should be reduced by the rain that began at noon today. Cooling the air will be a relief to people of the Peterborough district.

Pasturage will be revived, and the moisture should have some helpful effect on the seasonal chore of plowing.

Register of pumpage mounted yesterday at the waterworks, but not beyond seasonal levels of gallonage. Rainfall has been satisfactory in the district this summer, especially after the spring soaking and the adequate rains of June. From then on it was a ripening period.

Rain Record

The record kept by James Harrison, "weather man" at the waterworks, shows light falls on July 4 and 5; some rain on July 25. One-quarter of an inch was the total for the 7th and 8th of August, combined; followed by .61 of an inch plus .03 in two showers on Aug. 14 and .25 of an inch on Aug. 16; .02 on the 18th and .16 on the 19th.

Today's rain is timely, and will be generally helpful if it continues for some hours.

REMOVING TREES

The old trees of the vanished homes of the new city hall block are being cut down by the parks department according to plan approved by the city council. Replacement with selected younger trees will be deferred to their dormancy during the winter, Armar Butcher, superintendent of parks, said today.

DR. GORDON LANGLEY

Dr. G. R. Langley Retiring As CGE Engineer

For Dr. Gordon R. Langley this is his last day with Canadian General Electric Company. After 44 years' service, latterly as works engineer, he is now going on retirement. His active association with the company begins to recede after the Labor Day holiday.

Dr. Langley will be the guest of a large company of CGE personnel this evening at Kawartha Club. The president of the company, Mr. H. M. Turner, is coming to Peterborough for this occasion, and there will be many other staff men here from out of town. It is expected that there will be around 170 at the dinner.

Former Chief to be Present

Among those present will be Mr. L. D. W. Magee, former works engineer, whom Dr. Langley succeeded. Chairman of the dinner will be J. E. Girven, assistant works manager.

Engineering department of the Peterborough works of CGE is one of the most important branches of that profession in this country, just as the company's extensive plant is one of the big manufacturing establishments in the great industry of producing machines that generate and control electricity. Dr. Langley has been recognized by the company he has served for many years, and is also highly regarded in the Electrical Institute of Canada.

He is a public-minded citizen of Peterborough, residing in the Engleburn section of Ashburnham.

Dr. Langley was born in Toronto and is a graduate of Union College, Schenectady, NY, from which he received the honorary degree of doctor of science in June, 1947.

Following graduation in 1907, he worked in Brackenridge and Schenectady until 1911 when he joined the switchgear department of the Canadian General Electric Co. From 1913 to 1938 he was in charge of the switchgear engineering department of the Peterborough plant. In 1938 he was named chief engineer.

Boy's Leg Injured In Farm Accident

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 31 — (ENS)—Howard McCann, 12, son of Mr and Mrs. Reginald McCann of Percy township, suffered injury to his right leg while helping his father operate a grain combine this morning. The McCann farm is in the Warkworth district.

Details of the accident were lacking here when the boy was brought to Campbellford hospital. He was attended by Dr. W. W. Baker.

TREES REMOVED

Workmen have already removed the trees along Water St. on the site of the new city hall and are engaged in preparing for the landscaping.

Enlarging Filtration Plant Cost Placed At $300,000 Commission Approves Plan

Debenture On Original Plant Paid Off, Addition of Three Filters Permit Supply of 9 Million Gallons a Day

First enlargement of the filtration plant of the waterworks in thirty years is a Utilities Commission construction project for 1952. Estimated cost is $300,000, as reported to the Commission Thursday afternoon by Ross L. Dobbin, manager. Annual debenture charges would amount to $21,000 as compared with the $27,267 on the debentures for the original work which were retired as paid in full this year. The Commission approved the plans Thursday and sent them on to the Ontario Department of Health for their assent.

Rated filtration capacity will be increased from present 6,000,000 gallons a day to 9,000,000 gallons which could be boosted to thirteen million gallons a day in emergencies, Mr. Dobbin reported.

Review of filtration requirements, pumpage and costs was submitted by Mr. Dobbin as follows:

"The growth in population of the city, from 22,000 in 1920 to 37,000 in 1951, has resulted in an increase in the amount of water used in the city.

"The present filtration plant was constructed in 1921, and had a rated capacity of six million gallons per day. It was designed on the then accepted basis of 2 U.S. gallons per square foot per minute.

"However, since then we have had to increase the rate of filtration by 50%, and we were able to deliver a satisfactory water.

"The average day's pumpage in 1920 was 3,320,000 gallons, and in 1950, 4,600,000 gallons, an increase of 45%.

"The maximum rate of pumpage in 1920 was 4,173,000 gallons, and 7,700,000 gallons in 1950, an increase of 80%.

"The maximum rate of pumpage in 1920 was 5,000 gallons per minute, and in 1950 was 8,500 gallons, an increase of 70%.

"From the above figures it is evident that an increase in filtering capacity is needed, and that the increase should be such as to provide for the maximum day's pumpage for at least 10 years, or an increase in population of 10,000.

"We estimate that if three more filters were added to the present six, we would be able to supply at the ordinary rate of filtration, nine million gallons per day. In emergencies we could supply up to 13 million gallons per day for short periods.

"The original plant, built in 1921, cost as follows:

General contract	$200,000
Low lift pumps	9,500
Water mains and sewers	31,500
Lands	8,500
Reservoir	66,000
Additional filter bed	15,000
	$330,500

Debentures Refunded

"Debenutres were issued to the extent of $347,000 for 10 years at 6½% ,with no sinking fund, and were refunded in 1931 by issuing 20 year debentures at 4% interest, with sinking fund. These latter debentures were finally paid off on June 30th of this year.

"The annual cost for interest and sinking fund for the latter debentures was $27,267.87.

"Based on the present cost of labor and materials, we estimate the cost of constructing three additional filter beds, additional low lift pumps and the necessary buildings and piping, at $300,000

"If 20 year serial debentures are issued at 4% ,the annual cost would be $21,000, so that there will be no extra yearly cost in this respect.

"We recommend that application be made to the Ontario Department of Health for approval of these plans, and if the department is favorable, the City Council be asked to approach the Ontario Municipal Board for permission to issue debentures to pay for the work.

"We should be able to call for tenders early in next year, and have the additional filters in operation before the end of the year."

Polio Won't Halt Opening Of City Schools

Polio will not postpone the opening of schools in Peterborough set for next Tuesday as far as the city's medical officer of health, Dr. R. A. Kelly, is concerned.

In a letter to K. S. Wightman superintendent of Public schools Dr. Kelly said, "I do not believe that it will be necessary to delay the opening of schools."

One of the major reasons for this decision is that, according to Dr. Kelly, "there is evidence that within the last week the instance has decreased."

20 Per Cent. School Age

The medical officer also pointed out that "only 20 per cent. of those so far infected are among the school age group." His third point is that "it is not known how this infection is transmitted."

The total number of polio cases reported in Peterborough and district up to today is 33 and two suspected cases. Many of the victims have been in the early 20's age group.

Dr. Kelly, however, sounded a warning to teachers and members of the school medical staffs to be on the lookout for any signs of polio striking.

"I would suggest," he said, "that all employees in contact with the children, such as members of the medical staff and teachers, be particularly observant so that any pupil who appears ill may be at once excluded from school."

Mr. Wightman said he believed the children would be just as safe in school as they would anywhere.

Earlier Dr. Kelly said Peterborough was not undergoing an epidemic even though there were many more cases of polio than there were last year when only one was reported.

Father of Scarlet O'Neil Successful Young Artist

One touch of genius—and an arduous apprenticeship under famous comic strip artists—brought Scarlet O'Neil and the inventive imagination of Russell Stamm together. The year, 1940 . . . .

That beautiful girl with a sense of humor you will see every Saturday starting Sept. 8 in the weekend Examiner's colored comsection, sets an exciting, adventurous pace for Russell Stamm as well as his readers. But he still finds time for his favorite "hobbies"—a happy family life with his wife and their two boys And from movies, hotography, mystery stories, and people of all types come the ideas, characters, and plots you enjoy in Scarlet O'Neil.

You might like to know how a famous comic strip artist "happens" . . . and this is the way Russel Stamm tells it:

"Back in 1913, in a small cottage on Fillmore street in Chicago, the eighth child of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Stamm was born . . . a boy. Grandfather (an inventor) pronounced him the best looking of the lot, later commented grimly, "looks aren't everything". Little Rus drew such realistic pictures of his teachers, he got through grammar school in seven and a half years . . . then, on to Crane Technical high school, where he scribbled weekly cartoons for the Crane Chronicle and received the paper free for four years.

College Closed

"With a parting tear and a diploma, he went on to Crane College. The depression closed the college doors. The youngest boy went to work at an asbestos and cement factory. Days off, he shadowed several big-name newspaper cartoonists, and, after a few too many of such "days off," his boss decided to let him have every day off . . . whereupon a leading cartoonist gave him a drawing board and put him to work. This lasted six years. Meantime, Russ studied at the Academy of Fine Arts, took a home course in cartooning from the Landon School.

"In 1940 Russ heard that the Chicago Times Syndicate was looking for a new comic page—one that would be entirely different from anything then appearing in the newspapers. After a few weeks of brain-busting, Scarlet O'Neil merged, was immediately accepted by the syndicate, and soon began appearing in newspapers coast to coast. Now Scarlet is one of the family in over 100 daily and Sunday comic sections.

"During the War, Russ spent two years in the US Army Air Corps as an artist for the Training Aids Division. With the help of two apprentices, he wrote and drew Scarlet in off-duty hours. But now he is happy to be able to devote full time to his best girls—Marge (his wife) and her prototype, Scarlet O'Neil.

Keep Full Production Despite Algoma Strike

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., Aug. 31 —(CP)— Full production is being maintained at the Algoma Steel Corporation plant despite a strike of 1,325 maintenance workers now going into its fifth day, company officials said Thursday night. No other workers have been forced to lay off yet.

The strike was branded illegal by both company and Local 2251, United Steelworkers of America (CIO). It started over disagreement about a job-evaluation plan.

Accept Settlement

ST. JOHN'S, Que., Aug. 31—(CP)—Some 2,300 employees of the Singer Manufacturing, Ltd., plant Thursday night voted to accept a settlement proposal submitted to the company and union by Quebec Labor Minister Barrette and accepted by both parites. Members of the United Steelworkers of America (CIO-CCL) the employees struck June 6 to enforce wage and seniority demands.

W. H. DeBlois Dies

KINGSTON, Aug. 31—(CP)—W. Howard DeBlois, 75, a pioneer in Canada's chemical industry, died Wednesday. Mr. DeBlois constructed the first plant in the world to make sulphuric acid from smelter fumes. After working in the United States he became manager of the Nichols Chemical Company's plant at Sulphide, 25 miles northeast of Belleville. Later, at Coniston, he built his own acid plant.

Registration Starts

TORONTO, Aug. 31 — (CP) — Registration of the estimated 40,000 persons between 65 and 70 years of age who will receive old age pensions—after a means test—in Ontario next year starts next week. Application forms will be available from municipal clerks and the first cheques will go out in January.

CAMPING SEASON CLOSES at the Y's Men's Camp on Clear Lake this week with a 10-day CGIT camp. This year the cabins and grounds have been used for three camps: the YMCA boys, the YWCA girls, and the CGIT girls. Slippers and other household garments are made in the felt-craft class (TOP), part of the class includes Ruth Fraser, Lakefield; Edith Whetung, Lakefield; Orlene Shunk, project director, and Janice Berry, 417 Sheridan St., Peterborough, work with the felt. CGIT Take Over Boys' Camp For 10 Days on Clear Lake

The Y's Men's camp on Clear Lake goes through three changes of occupancy every summer. At first, for two months, the boys take over, and then, for two weeks, the YW camp is held. Ten days of CGIT camp end there this Saturday, marking the end of the third change. Then, 58 girls and their 11 leaders will break camp and start their adjustment to home life. The girls are mostly from Peterborough county, with a few coming from Victoria and Durham counties. One of the leaders, Kyoko Kawashima, is from Japan. The others are from this district, many of them schoolteachers.

Director of the camp is blonde Marian Sibbald, a Toronto schoolteacher who has been director of CGIT camps in Brantford, Sudbury, Toronto and Paris. This year is her first summer at the Clear Lake camp.

Girls attending the camp are from 12 to 14, and, says Miss Sibbald, are kept busy for their 10 days of camp. Worship and Bible study in the morning give way to swimming, canoeing and interest groups in the afternoons. Campfire sessions, with skits, are held every night.

The girls' day starts at 7 a.m. and "quiet" is at 10 p.m. Miss Sibbald says their craftwork and studies keep them busy enough in between.

Kyoko Kawashima, whose home is in Tokyo, is studying at McMaster University in Hamilton on a two-year scholarship from her alma mater, the Tokyo Women's Christian College. At McMaster, she is taking a general arts course.

At the camp, Miss Kawashima is in charge of the study group on world friendship. Her Japanese dolls, chopsticks, delicate porcelain cups and graceful fans, have charmed and fascinated the girls at the camp.

Of the girls, she says she appreciates their frankness and simplicity. "I think they enjoy themselves fully; they seem happy from the bottom of their hearts. And the friendliness between leaders and girls is good."

"This country is very like my own. I feel at home here," she said.

Premier Of New Zealand Greeted By Nazi Salutes

WELLINGTON, NZ, Aug. 31—(Reuters).—New Zealand's general election campaign entered the stretch drive Thursday with both sides promising the voters a lower cost of living and almost ignoring the issue on which Saturday's poll originally was called.

Nationalist Prime Minister Sidney Holland and Labor Party leader Walter Nash wound up strenuous speaking tours Thursday night with their last public meetings—Holland in Wellington and Nash in Auckland. Tonight each makes a 30-minute address. Both have promised lower prices, beginning next Monday.

After Holland's speech Thursday night, a booing, Nazi-saluting crowd surged against a police barrier in an unsuccessful attempt to overturn his car as he left the theatre where the meeting had been held.

Holland called the election to test public support of his government's policy in ending the waterfront strike that tied up shipping in New Zealand harbors from February to June. His party has accused Labor of appeasing and surrendering to "industrial gangsters," and described the strike as a "Communist-led threat to Democracy."

Choose Own Leaders

Nash replied that the government failed to end the strike early and that all unions have the right to choose their own leaders.

The strike issue has caused rowdy meetings on the waterfront with both Holland and Nash widely booed, but most voters show more interest in prices. Holland's government, which ended Labor's 14-year reign only 20 months ago, this week ordered price reductions for bread, flour, butter, tea, and gasoline to take effect next Monday.

Labor's platform promises the same action, and adds milk and woollen goods to the list. It claims that the rise in wages has not kept pace with the rise in prices.

Committee Adjourns

TORONTO, Aug. 31 (CP)—The Ontario Legislature's Crime Committee adjourned Thursday until Oct. 1. Attorney-General Porter, chairman, said that when hearings resume on that date, after the Legislature's special old age pensions session is over, the committee will continue with its inquiry into shady methods of stock promotion.

ON WAY UP—Group Capt. G. Stephenson, 37, of Windsor, Ont., will attend the next course at the Imperial Defence College in Britain for training for staff duties. At present head of the RCAF's postings and careers directorate, he was shot down in Europe during the Second World War.

To Stand Trial

PORT ARTHUR, Aug. 31 (CP) — Iver Karvonen, 68-year-old truck driver, Thursday was committed for trial on a charge of murder after a hearing into the death of John Pursiainen, 31, described by relatives as Karvonen's best friend. Pursiainen was shot in an alleged argument over money Aug. 16 at Karvonen's two-room shack 12 miles north of here.

Trace 2 Women

WINNIPEG, Aug. 31 (CP). — An American woman and her so-called nurse-secretary, who allegedly fleeced Winnipeg hotels and stores of $450, have been arrested in Vancouver, inspector of detectives David Nicholson of Winnipeg said Thursday. It also is reported the two women, who identified themselves as Dr. Mary Hatcher and her secretary Evelyn Mayer, both of Galesboro, Ill., are reported wanted in Toronto for similar offences.

Copper Shortage Brings Layoff

OSHAWA, Aug. 31 —(CP)— Some 8,000 workers at the General Motors plant will be idle today as a result of a shortage of copper parts, William Wecker, president of General Motors, said Thursday.

The shortage is mainly due to delays in hydro conversion from 25- to 60-cycle power, he said.

Normal shifts will be resumed Tuesday. Saturday is a normal off day and Monday, Labor Day, is a paid holiday.

Need 12 Million

OTTAWA, Aug. 31 (CP)—Canada's 54 community chests will require $12,750,000 during 1952, it was estimated Thursday by Carl Reinke, chairman of the Canadian Welfare Council's community chests division. Last year they raised more than $10,600,000 97½ per cent of their objective.

Declares Radio Part Of Press

BANFF, Alta., Aug. 31 (CP)—Radio is part of the press and it is the main purpose of broadcasters to establish that fact, T. J. Allard, of Ottawa, general manager of the Canadian Association of Broadcasters, said here Thursday.

Mr. Allard, addressing the 15th annual convention of the Western Association of Broadcasters, said:

"Freedom of the press or freedom of expression are the same thing. Radio is a 20th-century extension of the press. The broadcaster is a publisher. The mechanical means by which communication is acheived are entirely unimportant."

Average Net Loss $365 For 24 Herds of Local Dairy Association

Average loss of 34 cents per 100 lbs. of milk is shown in the records of the first year of the Peterborough Dairy Herd Improvement Association. That is the average for the 24 herd owners registered as members between Dec. 1, 1949, and Nov. 30, 1950.

Analysis of the herds has been issued to members by Dr. H. L. Patterson, director of the farm economics branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

The official digest of the monthly tests show that the average price received for 100 lbs. of milk, for the 24 herds, was $3.50 as compared with the cost of $3.84.

The statement is set out in three columns, one the average for the 24 herds; another is the average of two farms or herds with the high net returns; and the third is the average of two farms with the low net returns.

Net result per 100 lbs. of milk is a loss of 34c in the average for 24 herds; as against a profit of 91c per 100 lbs. in the average for the two herds showing highest returns; and also compared with a loss of $1.38 per cwt. in the average of two herds showing the lowest net returns.

The two herds on the profit side received $4.04 per cwt. of milk as against the cost of $3.13.

And the two herds with lowest net returns took in $3.88 per 100 lbs. of milk at a cost of $5.26.

Dr. Patterson's report invites the study of dairy farmers, especially those who are doing business without the benefit of ROP or the Herd Improvement Association.

Pertinent information in Dr. Patterson's letter follows: "Comparison is given between your own farm, the average of the group, two members with the highest net earnings, and the two with the lowest net earnings.

Since it is impossible to separate the feed and labor for young stock from that going to the milking herd, the dairy herd is treated as a unit. The young cattle usually make up about 40 per cent to 45 per cent of the total cow equivalents (based on approximate feed requirements) and contribute about 21 per cent to 27 per cent of the total receipts from dairy. Since most operators deal with their herd as a unit, there is good reason for handling it this way in the accounts.

There were wide difference in results obtained. Most of this difference results from the variation in production methods between farms.

Quality of pasture and dry roughage is of great importance in securing a low cost. Grain is more expensive feed.

For fluid producers, grain should not be fed at a higher rate than one pound for every 4.5 lbs of milk produced; and on processing markets not more than one pound for every six pounds of milk produced at present price."

Most of the facts in the analytical review that has been sent to the 24 farmers of the association are quoted as follows:

	Average of 24 Herds	Ave. of 2 Farms With HIGH Net Returns.	Ave. of 2 Farms With LOW Net Returns.

LOUADA PRINCESS ROYAL of the Cadesky Shorthorn herd was junior and grand champion of her breed at Peterborough Exhibition. She was also junior and reserve grand champion at the regional Shorthorn show at Oshawa Fair.

Princess Royal and five other Shorthorns from Louada Manor Farm are going on to the C.N.E. for the judging on Monday, Ken Hunt, manager of the Cadesky herd, reports 176 entries at Toronto in the Shorthorn section. The local grand champion female was bred at Louada Manor.

Her dam is the imported Kildun cow bred by McKenzie of Scotland, and her sire is Cruggleton Afflick, imported by Mr. L. Cadesky. She was born May 14, 1950, and was shown here in the summer yearling class.

County Farm Notes

Lively Demand For Fall Wheat Seed . . . Jerseys at Ottawa Exceeded All other Cattle . . . Holstein Cows Average $511 at Glanworth Sale . . . McDonald Farm Guernseys in Ontario.

Demand for winter wheat seed has been active in the district in the last two weeks. Ernie McWilliam of Dewart Milling Co. advises "continue treating for smut. Some farmers persuaded themselves that they never had it, and therefore never would, but they got fooled this year. Panogen is our recommendation".

Stewart Bowman of the federal Department of Agriculture relayed some comments among district farmers that in their experience this season they were inclined to reserve opinion about the comparative value of Dawson's Golden Chaff. They thought it appeared to be stronger in the stem and stood up better than Cornell.

This is just one summer's observation, and only in scattered spots, and even the layman's rating, apart from the expert, will not be set by one season's indication.

Mr. Bowman said Mel McComb of Port Hope, prominent grain grower of the district, also mentioned it. W. W. Dawson told the Examiner that several Otonabee farmers also concluded that they had found some comparative stem weakness in Cornell, and there was some feeling the Golden Chaff straw was stronger.

However, those are comments heard only by the way in the wake of the harvest.

R. E. Bell, assistant agricultural representative, is appealing to farmers to make early decision to join the 50-Bushels of Wheat Culb, although the time limit is not until the end of September.

QUOTED FROM QUIZ

These are some of the 25 questions, with answers, in the agricultural quiz which was submitted to Junior Farmers in their examinations last Thursday at the Exhibition:

Which of these grasses can be expected to grow well on low, wet land? Brome? Reed Canary? Kentucky Blue? Correct: Reed Canary.

Which of the following legumes and grasses should be chosen for high, well drained land for hay and pasture: alfalfa, brome, reed canary grass, alsike? Correct: Brome and alfalfa.

Percentage of total cash farm income derived from dairy products in Ontario in 1949 was: 50 per cent; 19 per cent or 4 per cent. Correct: 19 per cent.

Grass cut for silage should be put in the silo with moisture content of (1) 5 to 10 per cent; (2) 30 to 35 per cent; (3) 70 per cent? Correct: (3) 70 per cent.

A flock of 200 Barred Rock laying hens, laying 75 per cent, will eat daily: total feed: 50 lbs.; 70; 90? Correct: 70 lbs.

Under the Dominion Seeds Act weeds are classified as follows: (1) prohibited noxious; (2) primary noxious; (3) secondary noxious; (4) other weeds. Dodder and field bindwood come under which of the above classifications? Correct: (1) prohibited noxious.

Is the length of a hog carcass important in determining grade? Yes or no. Correct: Yes.

Is binder twine satisfactory when tying a fleece of wool? Correct: No.

Check the following feeds which contain over 30 per cent total protein: bran; linseed oil meal; shorts; cottonseed meal? Correct: linseed oil meal and cottonseed meal.

Tightness of sheaf is regulated by adjusting twine tension on binder. True or false? Correct: false.

A SUMMARY OF OTTAWA

The Ottawa Journal confirms the report brought back to Peterborough last week by John Telfer who judged Guernsey cattle at both fairs. There were more Jerseys at Ottawa than all the other breeds combined, including beef.

"Against this was the small show of Ayrshires and Guernseys, where a lack of sufficient entries definitely prevented serious competition, and left a lot of prize money unclaimed. Holsteins had good quality with classes fairly well filled, while in beef the competion was limited to few herds," says the Ottawa Journal.

Fifteen sheep breeders turned in 384 entries, the biggest show in the history of Ottawa "Ex." Lloyd Ayre of Bowmanville made a clean sweep of Southdowns; and Boyd Ayre of Hampton carried off nearly all the tops in Cheviots.

Prominent in the finners were Henry Mark of Little Britain, Foster Snowden, Harold Skinner of Tyrone, R. B. Glaspell of Hampton, of Central Ontario district.

✦ ✦ ✦

BRITISH IMPRESSIONS

England could use more weiner roasts, road-side eating tables and drive-in theatres, say six young British farmers on an exchange visit to Ontario.

Representatives of the British National Federation of Young Farmer's Clubs, they have been guests in Ontario farm homes the last three weeks. They visited the Canadian National Exhibition Thursday and next week they leave for Washington, DC.

Highlights of their visit? "The Ontario Agriculture College at Guelph, Ont., the CNE and Niagara Falls, definitely."

Their only complaint about Canada—"far too much to eat, we're all putting on weight."

✦ ✦ ✦

FERTILIZERS FOR FALL SOWING

Benefits of commercial fertilizers for the fall-sown wheat, barley and rye are listed by the Advisory Fertilizer Board for Ontario as follows:

More vigorous growth in the autumn, making better ground cover and protection against loss of topsoil by erosion;

More resistance to winter injury;

More vigorous start of growth in spring, better stooling, and earlier ripening at harvest time;

More bushels per acre—hence lowered cost of production;

A better catch and stand of grasses and clovers where seeded with the grain crops.

What Fertilizer To Use?

If the soil has been tested, the results of the tests will provide a helpful guide to choosing the fertilizer treatment best suited to the soil requirements.

If soil tests have not been made, and there is not time to get samples taken and tested before seeding, a choice may be made from the several general recommendations taken from the Ontario Department of Agriculture bulletin 463, "Soil Management and Fertilizer Use," and which are as follows:

Use 2-12-10 or 2-16-6 at 300 pounds per acre;

Or 3-15-6 at 250 pounds per acre;

Or 3-18-9 at 200 pounds per acre;

Or 4-24-12 at 150 pounds per acre.

If the previous crops have shown a tendency to lodge, it is an indication of an unbalanced food supply, and 0-16-8 or 0-12-12 at 300 pounds per acre is recommended. Where an adequate amount of farm manure is used in the crop rotation an application of 20 per cent superphosphate at 200 pounds per acre may be sufficient.

If it is the intention to seed down the fall-sown crop with a grass mixture the fertilizer should be applied at 300 to 400 pounds per acre at the time of seeding the fall grain.

Fertilizers for cereal crops should be applied in the drill row with a combination fertilizer drill, or with a fertilizer attachment on the drill, rather than by broadcast application."

GUERNSEY IMPORTS

Bruce Hodgins, Guelph, field secretary of the Guernsey Cattle Breeders Association of Ontario, recently issued the following bulletin which acquires fresh interest from the recent exhibit of the "golden cattle" here last week:

McDonald Farms, Cortland, NY, the top ranking Guernsey cattle breeding establishment in the United States, has just completed the sale of McDonald Farms Le Heir, a junior bull calf, to Alvin Stevenson, Ruthven, R.R. 2, and Arthur Allen, Kingsville, Ont.

This young herd sire prospect carries a combination of the best breeding in America. He is sired by McDonald Farms S Leader, who is by McDonald Farms Steadfast, and out of McDonald Farms Della, 15,700 lbs. milk, and 681 lbs. fat, one of the four "excellent" daughters of Douglaston Lady Augusta also "excellent."

The da mof "Heir" is McDonald Farms Heiress, "very good" who has 11,540 lbs. milk and 627 lbs. fat as a junior three year old, and 15,415 lbs. milk and 802 lbs fat as a seven year old. She is sired by McDonald Farms Prediction, the foremost Prediction son out of Valleywood Harriet, "excellent," 14,233 lbs. milk and 781 lbs. fat, who sired McDonald Farms Imperator ($6,000) owned by Crossland Farms, Newmarket, and also sire of a junior herd sire, recently purchased by Fraserdale Farms, Concord. Her dam is McDonald Farms Flame, 11,702 lbs. milk, and 605 lbs. fat, as a 3 year old. She is a Myhaven King daughter.

This young bull will not be delivered until September, at which time he will join such other McDonald Farms bulls as Fore Nimble owned jointly by Fraserdale Farms, Concord; Kingfield Farms, King, and Cairnpat Farms, Richmond Hill; King Haven Farms, Ki gn,and Cairnpat Farms, Whitby. McDonald Farms Le Phelan a paternal brother is owned by Norman McConkey, Peterborough, and McDonald Farms Jolly Neptune, is owned by Dr. R. S. Robertson, Rennwood Farms, Cobourg.

Imperator was junior champion Guernsey at the Peterborough show, and Lifloc "Le Phelan" was reserve champion.

If the fish won't bite

Here's an idea for those days when you feel like going down to deal with the fish personally.

Intrepid souls who, with spear in hand and web on foot, chase fish in southern waters, can now increase their range with aluminum harpoon-guns.

Aluminum is used because it is light and does not rust. These are the main reasons why this metal is so popular, and why Alcan is busy with projects which are planned to increase Canada's production to 500,000 tons a year. Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. (Alcan).

Big Reforms Proposed In US Sports

CHICAGO, Aug. 31 — (AP) — Sweeping reforms in football and basketball have been proposed by the National Collegiate Athletic Association for its 300 member schools in a smashing blow against over-emphasis of these major sports.

The 17-man NCAA Council, governing body of the organization, has mapped an extensive 12-point program.

The proposals emerged as college football practice was scheduled to begin on a broad, national scale Saturday with the sport in perhaps the unsteadiest state in its history.

The spring and summer basketball scandals and the exam-cribbing inquiry at West Point, that wrecked the country's second-ranked team, have brought demands for a return to strict amateurism in college athletics.

Morals Slack

The NCAA program strikes at the growing importance attached to spring football training, plus financial help to prospective stars by Alumni, shading of scholastic entrance requirements for student athletes, unreasonably long schedules and the expansion of football's two-platoon system.

The council, made up mostly of faculty representatives, branded the recent scandals as being related to the slackening of the moral tone of the nation as a whole.

Hugh Willett, of California, NCAA president, said the 12 proposals being sent to each member school will be the means to determine if sentiment nationally is in line with what they set forth.

"This will give us a clue, we hope, on specific measures to be taken next January in our convention at Cincinnati," Willett said. "We want to find out how the schools and the conferences are thinking."

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Dick Irvin, coach of the National League Canadiens, Thursday called Toronto Leafs the "team to beat" this season.

Irvin said he felt that Detroit Red Wings had traded themselves out of first place in a recent six players-for-cash deal with the Chicago Black Hawks.

"The Wings didn't sell off too much in the way of stars, but they'll miss the services of George Gee and Jimmy Peters, more than they can afford to," the silver-haired pigeon fancier said.

The Habitants' mentor promised a strengthened Canadien squad will be "up near the top of the heap." Much of Irvin's off-season work has been on the problems of the Canuck defence.

The Eastern Amateur Hockey League will be made up of eight teams this winter, it was announced Thursday night.

Newcomers are Washington, Springfield, Mass., Philadelphia and New Haven, Conn. They will join the New York Rovers, Johnstown Jets, Atlantic City Seagulls and Boston Olympics.

The National Horse Show announced Thursday the Cairo city police have been forced to cancel their trip to the United States to participate in the show at Madison Square Garden Oct. 30-Nov. 6. Illness of the Egyptians' horses was given as the reason.

The Cairo police also were scheduled to participate in the horse shows at Harrisburg, Pa., and Toronto.

Montreal's junior Royals, first Memorial Cup winners for the province of Quebec in 1949, have shifted their headquarters from Montreal to Granby, Que., it was announced Thursday.

The Royals, one of the oldest clubs in the Quebec Junior Amateur Hockey Association, will retain their name and operate as Granby Royals under Jacques Belanger who piloted the club the last two seasons.

At Bristol, RI, William R. Chase, 84, who played in the first known basketball game in 1892, died Thursday.

Peach baskets served for goals and nine men were on the team—in long trousers and long-sleeved shirts—when Chase took part in that first contest at Springfield (Mass.) College, where the game was invented by Dr. James A. Naismith.

At Moose Jaw, Sask., a benefit fund for a baseball player who lost an eye in an accident on the diamond July 3 has achieved its $2,500 objective, officials announced Thursday.

The fund was organized by chairman Fred McNaughton for Vern Trail, a power lineman who played for a city league baseball team.

A $35,000 playoff pool for the first six teams in the Pacific Coast Hockey League was voted Thursday by the league's directors.

The action was taken at the league's fall meeting which also approved a 70-game playing schedule with the first game to start Oct. 5.

The club finishing in first place during the regular schedule will be declared league champion, but the first six clubs will participate in the playoffs and the $35,000 pool will be divided among the competing clubs and distributed among their players.

Marauders Out To Show They're Good

By TOM MOORE

HAMILTON, Aug. 31. (CP)—McMaster University Marauders, new entry in the Ontario Rugby Football Union this year, have a chip on their shoulders.

They're out to prove to the officials of the Senior Intercollegiate Rugby Football Union that they are capable of holding their own in senior ranks.

Last winter, Ivor Wynne, athletic director at the university, applied for berths in senior intercollegiate sports. The Marauders were accepted in the basketball loop but were turned down by the football moguls, who argued that a five-team schedule would not work.

Wynne then got permission from McMaster's athletic board to enter the ORFU which badly needed a fourth club to round out the league.

The Marauders will start late. Students don't come back to school until early September and the first game isn't scheduled until Oct. 6.

Good Material

But Coach Al Smith, a former Toronto Argonaut player and new to the university, will have good material with which to overcome the early start of Toronto Balmy Beach, Windsor Royals and Sarnia Imperials Marauders will play only half a schedule, each game counting four points in the standings.

All but three or four members of the intermediate intercollegiate group that went undefeated last season will be back and eight or 10 outstanding high school footballers from London, Toronto, St. Catharines and Hamilton are expected to enroll this fall.

Heading the list of backfielders is Captain Don Carnie, a Hamilton boy who saw action with Hamilton Wildcats in the ORFU a few years ago. Lorne Wrigglesworth, a graduate of the Toronto high school league and a skilful passer and ball carrier, likely will start as quarterback.

Most of the names of the expected newcomers are on the censored list until their applications are definite. One, however, is Max Woolley, brilliant all-round athlete from St. Catharines, who stood out for that city's Athletics in his first season of senior lacrosse.

One thing is certain about Marauders, says Wynne: They will field a team made up strictly of enrolled students who conform with college eligibility rules.

Both Wynn and Smith are determined to prove that McMaster belong in big-time sports.

May Prove Tennis Upset

By GAYLE TALBOT

FOREST HILLS, NY, Aug. 31 (AP)—There is just a chance that, with all the experting which has gone on during the week, the deep thinkers have overlooked the player who will be handed the cup when the National Tennis Championships end Monday.

He may be Budge Patty, originally out of Los Angeles, who Thursday put the boots to young Mergyn Rose, of Australia, in the fourth round of play. Rose, seeded third among the foreigners, has been considered very hot stuff lately.

Patty beat him, 1-6, 6-3, 6-2, 7-5, with the score of the two middle sets accurately reflecting the American's superiority. The brand of tennis Patty played could win the title, particularly if Dick Savitt fails to recover completely from the leg infection which prevented his playing Thursday.

Some might have forgotten that Patty won the Wimbledon crown a year ago. Any player who wins Wimbledon, any year, is good. Right after Wimbledon Patty twisted his right ankle, and was out for the remainder of the season.

Looks Ready

This summer he has started his comeback. Now he looks ready. He has all the strokes, including maybe the best volleying game of any amateur. His telling test will come in the next month, no doubt against Savitt if the big man from Orange, NJ, is able to play his delayed match against Straight Clark, of Los Angeles, today.

Should Patty reach the semi-finals he would find himself facing either Vic Seixas, of Philadelphia, or Herbie Flam, of Beverly Hills.

Many who watched Seixas celebrate his 28th birthday Thursday by upsetting Ken McGregor, of Australia, in a homeric four-setter were ready to bet that he not only gets past the fourth-seeded Flam, but that he plays singles for the US in the Davis Cup matches in Australia next December. He looked that good.

With both McGregor and Rose dumped in a short space of hours, Frank Sedgman, of Australia, was the only foreigner left to dispute the Americans' domination of their own championship. Sedgman was to face young Tony Trabert, of Cincinnati, in one of today's quarter finals, and it promised quite a tennis match.

Golf President

TORONTO, Aug. 31 (CP). — Dr John R. Parry of Hamilton was elected president of the Canadian Seniors' Golf Association at the annual meeting Thursday. He succeeds George L. Robinson of Lambton, who became honorary president. Other governors re-elected included: E. C. Gould, Brantford; Duncan C. Grant, Brockville; W. Hotchkin, Kirkland Lake; R. S. McLaughlin, Oshawa; Relph H. Reville, Brantford; W. H. Somerville, Kitchener Westmount.

Says Connally Stumbling Block

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31 (AP) —Senator George Aiken (Rep., Vt.) told the Senate Thursday that Senator Tom Connally (Dem., Tex.) had been able "to bottle up" all bills authorizing the proposed St. Lawrence Seaway and power project in the Foreign Relations Committee.

That is why, Aiken told the Senate, he and Senator Blair Moody (Dem., Mich.) have proposed a rider to the $7,535,750,000 Foreign Aid bill that would authorize the big project.

Aiken said that for 20 years Connally had been unalterably opposed to the project and that as chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee in recent years he had been able to prevent Senate action on an authorization by keeping the bills in committee.

Aiken asked Senator H. Alexander Smith (R., N.J.), a member of the Foreign Relations Committee, if Smith favored such tactics.

Smith told Aiken he would favor a study and complete investigation of the proposed project to bring ocean shipping down the St. Lawrence River and into the Great Lakes, and develop power as a result.

Smith said he opposed "tacking that onto the Foreign Aid bill."

Aiken said this appeared to be the only way to get a Senate vote on the matter.

Montreal Girl Stars In Tennis

OTTAWA, Aug. 31 (CP). — A husky, 15-year-old Montreal girl, Mariette Laframboise, has emerged as the blonde bombshell of the 1951 Canadian junior tennis championships.

Armed with a hard backhand and a baffling forehand gained in just a few years of tournament play, Mariette ruled to the girl's single championship with a comparatively easy 6-4, 6-4 victory Thursday over top-seeded American Carol Wolf of Buffalo, NY.

When paired with Penny Lowe of Ottawa she went on to share the girls' doubles title and in the junior women's doubles she was the other half of the championship combination beside Toronto's Josie Smith.

Today the tall daughter of a Montreal policeman is in a fair way to take the junior women's singles after a 6-2, 6-3 win over Carol Turcotte of Ottawa in the semi-final. She goes against Diana Lowe of Ottawa who won her semi-final match against Gloria Stanford, Toronto, 5-7, 7-5, 6-4.

Stroud Winner In Five-Game Series

STROUD, Aug. 31. — Stroud Redmen Thursday night captured the North Division championship of the South Simcoe Baseball League. They downed Everett Athletics, 8-1, in the fifth and deciding game of the final series. The Redmen now meet Alliston Legionnaires for the South Simcoe championship in a best-of-seven set. Alliston won the South Division.

Leading by one run throughout the early innings, the Redmen exploded for six runs in the seventh. Successive doubles by Rod Black and John Bowman were the telling blows. The game was called because of darkness at the end of the eighth.

Township Dries Win In Landslide

BOBCAYGEON, Aug. 31—Verulam township dries Wednesday drowned out the wet voters by capturing 80 per cent. of the ballots on the question of whether beer and liquor would be sold in the township.

Reeve Bradt said that 650 ballots were cast representing a vote by 80 per cent. of the voters.

The sale of liquor and beer in Verulam township has been a lively topic for years. It reached a climax with a hot campaign in Bobcaygeon earlier in the summer when both sides fought vigorously.

The wets' victory in Bobcaygeon apparently influenced the township vote. The campaigning was not nearly so heated.

Wednesday's results in the township were the most decisive win for the temperance faction in recent years in either Verulam or Bobcaygeon.

First Polio Victim Found In Victoria

LINDSAY, Aug. 31.—The first polio victim of the year in Victoria county was discovered this week.

Lorne Thurston, 21, of Dunsford, was taken to Riverdale Isolation hospital in Toronto. His mother, Mrs. Wallace Thurston, said her son's case was not regarded as serious although there is some paralysis in his left arm and shoulder.

The youth was first taken ill while helping his father with the harvest. He has not been off the home farm all summer except to go to Sunday school in Dunsford.

Coldsprings WI Holds Flower Show

COLDSPRINGS, Aug. 31 — (ENS)—Miss Jean Noble, home economist of Northumberland, Durham and Peterborough counties, was the guest speaker at the Coldsprings Women's Institute meeting held in the township hall Wednesday afternoon. There were 105 present.

The "Garden Gleeners" girls' club was also there and presented a short skit. Mrs. Milton Lacey, garden club leader, introduced the cast which consisted of Eula Cole, Dorothea Bowman, Norma Lang, Lois Snelgrove, and Sheila Cole.

Miss Noble praised the girls on their gardens and the good work they are doing. She said the girls' gardens should be a family proposition, with all taking an interest in them. She also said the girls should stand behind their leader, as she was the backbone of the club, who had to have patience and perseverance, to carry on.

The motto, "a Garden is a lonesome thing," was read by Mary Jibb. Mrs. Clifford Minifie favored with a solo "A Basket of Old-fashioned Roses."

Mrs. Leslie McIntosh gave two readings, "My Neighbor's Roses" and "Flower Language."

Mrs. Clifford Baptist was convener for the program. Mrs. Keith Harper, president, presided, with Mrs. L. McIntosh as acting secretary.

A flower show was also held in connection with the meeting. There were about 100 entries. Miss Jean Noble was the judge.

The prize winners were as follows:

Bouquet 12 gladioli—Mrs. K. Harper, Mrs. C. Baptist.
Best 3 spikes—Mrs. R. Mullen, Mrs. K. Harper.

Edmonton Youngster Climbs 11,000 Feet

EDMONTON (CP)—Fourteen-year-old Paul Cross is the pride of Edmonton section of the Alpine Club of Canada. He qualified for active membership by climbing 11,000-foot Mt. Huber in the Rocky Mountains.

Paul has been interested in climbing since he was seven or eight years.

He "warmed up" for his hike up Mt. Huber by climbing 8,900-foot Mt. Wiwaxy and going part-way up two other mountains just a week before.

"The club is quite proud of Paul," said Gladys Hartley, chairman of the Edmonton section.

"He is believed to be the youngest members ever to make the climb."

Bombing Threat

TOKYO, Aug. 31—(AP) — A broadcast from Saigon monitored here today said Russia and Red China had signed a secret agreement calling for the bombing of Japan if United States' planes attack military bases in Communist China. The broadcast from Indo-China quoted only "a source." It said the reprisal attacks would be carried out by Chinese Communist planes, 2,000 of which were reported concentrated along the frontier with Korea.

Get No Complaints

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31 (AP) —The State Department said Thursday it has received no complaints from the Vatican about the American-British sponsored Japanese peace treaty. The department made this statement in commenting on a dispatch (New York Times) from Rome which said the Vatican had misgivings over several clauses in the treaty.

CCCL To Open New Building, Recall Expansion

By BERNARD DUFRESNE.

QUEBEC, Aug. 31 — (CP). — The difference between a tiny office and a modern five-storey building illustrates today the 30-year growth of the Canadian Catholic Confederation of Labor.

And, at Sunday's inauguration of an $800,000 edifice on downtown Charest Boulevard, they'll speak of the ups and downs of the labor organization established in 1921 at a convention of Roman Catholic workers' syndicates in Hull, Quebec.

Since then, the body has expanded from a membership of little more than 10,000 to a 90,000-member force.

Inauguration of the building will be followed by 39th annual convention on September 15-20, when the labor body will present a formal statement of its prinsiples for approval of delegates from its 450 affiliated syndicates.

Social Doctrine

The CCCL, basing its policies on the social doctrine of the Roman Catholic Church, will describe in this code of principles its "particular conception of the worker"—that he is destined for other things than earning a living.

"That is why we drive at promotion of his professional, economic, social and moral interests," said one CCCL official.

The 16-point statement is still secret, but the CCCL feels its principles will appeal "to the Anglo-Saxon labor circles," as well as to its membership, now almost 100 per cent French-speaking.

The CCCL claims it represents all asbestos and glove workers in Quebec, almost all aluminum workers, 90 per cent of the shoe workers, about 70 per cent of the textile workers, and two-thirds of the pulp and paper mill employees.

For all its concern for the worker's life outside his hours at the plant, factory, and mine, the CCCL remains a fighting labor force in collective agreement negotiations.

Escalator Clauses

The 4½-month strike of asbestos workers in Quebec's eastern townships in 1949, resulted in general acceptance of escalator cost-of-living clauses in Quebec collective agreements. These usually provide for a 40-cent weekly bonus for each rise of one point in the national cost-of-living index.

The building, housing the CCCL's general secretariat and offices for research and organization directors, is owned by Quebec district syndicates. It was paid for mostly by contributions from syndicates throughout the province.

It boasts eight bowling alleys, a workers' caisse populaire (credit union), and a $17,000 front door made of stainless steel.

Half the building has been leased to the Federal Government for its District Unemployment Insurance Commission offices.

Shut Theatres, Churches

HALIFAX, Aug. 31 (CP)—City council Thursday closed schools, churches, theatres or any enclosed public buildings to children under 16 due to the sharp increase in the number of polio cases in the city. Health Commissioner Dr. Allan R. Morton said there were five deaths so far and the number of cases to date equals the "peak" year of 1942.

PROSPECTOR JOHNNY GOSSETT, of Grants, New Mexico, claims he owns the country's first atomic hound. With a piece of dentists' X-ray film taped to his nose, Butch prowls the northwest New Mexico countryside. If the film is fogged when the dog returns, he has sniffed some uranium ore. Gosset then studies his dog's path and finds the plan works well in the uranium-rich country he's working.

Western Allies Gambling Japan To Remain Friend

By RUSSELL BRINES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31 (AP) —The United States and its allies are gambling that Japan will remain a steadfast friend.

The "soft" peace treaty to be signed next week in San Francisco is in part a calculated risk.

Instead of being kept in weakness or bondage, the island country will be helped and encouraged to become a first-class power again.

There are reasons: The United Nations need strong friends in Asia; and a repressive peace probably would stir the proud Japanese to vengeance.

The danger is that Japan might use this strength, sometime in the future, to renew its dreams of ruling Asia or might be compelled by circumstances to deliver it to the Communist bloc.

At present, the risk is slight. Japanese leaders and most of their people are strongly anti-Communist. The country is economically and politically stable.

Under Pressure

But for years Japan will be under constant pressure from the Communist mainland. And the dense population it cannot now feed is growing alarmingly.

Japan will not become officially free until the peace treaty is formally ratified. This is expected to take between six and nine months after the San Francisco conference.

It will be much longer before the Japanese can stand on their own feet.

American forces will protect them for an indefinite period, under a mutual aid agreement to be signed in San Francisco. This will mean US air and naval bases and ground force installations.

In time, the Japanese will be expected to provide their own defensive ground troops.

The Japanese will not be obliged by peace treaty terms to retain any of the extensive reforms introduced by the occupation. American officials expect some "blacksliding" when the Japanese regain authority.

Eventually, the Japanese will evolve their own kind of state.

For the present, Japan can be expected to stand with the western bloc for the most compelling reason in international politics—mutual benefit.

Delay Sentence

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 31—(AP)—Movie badman Lawrence Tierny drew 90 days in jail on a battery conviction Thursday, but he demanded and received a stay of execution pending an appeal. A jury convicted the actor of beating up John Naylor, 28, June 21. Tierney insisted that Naylor pulled a knfe on him.

An automatic toaster was the gift from her associates of the Quaker Oats Company.

Choice Of Fabric Important In Home Styling

A knowledge of how to choose the right fabric is essential for the success of the home sewer. In buying fabrics for her home dressmaking she must find out if the material she selects will wear well. . . if the fabric is suitable for the design of the garment and also if it is becoming to her.

Experienced dress designers consider all these fabric factors in their styling of ready-to-wear. That is why the woman who sews must learn how to make the happiest fabric choice for herself.

Here are some suggestions.

For pleats — Choose a fabric that has "body" and is fairly crisp. Soft, loosely woven gabrics will not retain pleats.

For draped effects — Look for a soft and pliable material that will drape easily. You can best test the draping qualities of a fabric by holding up one corner so that it will fall into soft folds. If the fabric is too wiry or lightweight it will not drape gracefully.

For soft details—Patterns that call for fine details such as shirring, pin tucks or smocking require fabrics that are soft and sheer. In this group are rayon crepes, rayon sheers, spun rayon lawn and even very sheer spun-rayon and wool blends.

For tailored details — A firm fabric is best for styles that call for tailored collars, fly front closings, flap pockets, or other tailored touches. This does not necessarily mean the use of a sports fabric because even dressy materials such as rayon taffeta, faille and heavy rayon sheers may have the crispness and firmness desirable for tailored details.

Choir and Wardens Honor Bride-Elect

MARMORA, Aug. 31 (ENS).—The home of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Lavender was the scene Wednesday evening of a gathering of members of St. Paul's choir, the church wardens and parish treasurer, with husbands and wives, to honor Miss Jennie Gray on her forthcoming marriage to Provincial Constable Hector Gould with a cup and saucer shower. Mrs. L. R Rundle organist of the church and aunt of the bride-elect was mistress of ceremonies for the occasion. Following community singing a flower contest was put on with honors going to Mrs. Frank Leale and James Rice. Those present then tried their skill at dropping clothes pegs into a milk bottle at which Mrs. G. Kerr was most proficient. Two duets were next rendered by Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Rundle, "Love's Old Sweet Song" and "Me and My Gal." Mrs. J. Rice won a candle lighting contest and in an apple contest, Mrs. J. W. Hickey was winner. The final contest featuring "Marriage" was won by Mrs. F. Leal. Mrs. C. Nichol, senior member of the choir, read an address of good wishes after which the honored guest opened her gifts.

Refreshments were served and the party concluded with Auld Lang Syne.

Goode-Tink

Of interest here is the wedding last Saturday in Hampton United Church of Margaret Evelyn Tink, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Tink, Hampton, to Donald Harold Goode, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Goode, Orono. The Rev. George D. Empey officiated in the double ring ceremony and Miss Mary McBride of Peterborough, cousin of the bride, played the wedding music. Mr. Kenneth Hockin, Bowmanville, sang.

The bride was gowned in white French chantilly lace over bridal satin. The dress, designed and made by her sister Miss Marion Tink, had a fan-shaped train and the bodice was fashioned with a calla lily collar. Her fingertip veil was caught to a Juliet cap of lace over satin and she carried a white orchid and stephanotis on a white Bible.

Miss Kathleen Tink was her sister's maid of honor and Miss Marion Tink and Miss Edna Goode, sister of the groom, were bridesmaids. They were frocked alike in pink taffeta strapless dresses with full skirts extending in a slight train and wore elbow-length capes of pink chantilly lace and Juliet caps of the lace over taffeta. Each carried a nosegay backed with pink lace to match her gown.

Mr. Robert Goode was his brother's groomsman and Walter Tink and Dean West were ushers.

The bride's mother wore a dress of lady blue chantilly lace and crepe with navy accessories and corsage of gladioli florets. The groom's mother chose taupe crepe with beaded embroidery yoke and black accessories. Her corsage was of crinkelette gladioli florets.

After the reception the couple left for a trip in eastern United States, the bride wearing a suit of silver blue charmaine with navy accessories and white orchid corsage. They will make their home in Orono.

CAPTAIN ELISE ALICE PARMENTER, first woman doctor in Canadian army, arrived aboard Empress of Canada at Montreal today. Captain Parmenter, who hails from Scotland, signed on at London, Eng., and prior to this was engaged in private practice for the past two years in her native Scotland, England and India. Her husband, who plans to join her soon in Canada, is a Canadian serving with the Royal Engineers as a major. She was accompanied by her two daughters, and says she expects to engage in medical work among soldiers' families. Why did she come to Canada? "Because I believe it's a land of opportunity," she said.

From Cotton to Silk, Wool Calls For A Fall Perfume

Glitter. Simplicity. Full Skirts. Variety is the keynote of the fall fashion picture. Every woman can find the styles which she prefers this Autumn of 1951. Hats are large. Hats are small. Coats are fitted or wrap-around. And running through all the new clothes is a sense of elegance—in tweeds, in brocades, in metallic threads woven in taffeta and in gossamer silks. Accessories, too, have an elegant air about them . . . and not the least of accessories is the fragrance with which you surround yourself. Why? Because perfume is that so very personal accessory which gives an important sense of security in your own charming femininity.

Just as you change from casual cottons of summer to the more formal wools and silks of fall, so, too, will you change from the light fragrances of warm weather to the crisp, elegant perfumes of autumn. Which fragrance is the one for you is your own choice. Let your nose be your guide, your own taste dictate the kind of scent to be worn with your new fall suit, coat or dress. With the luscious wools—poodle cloth or smooth tweed—you may prefer a spicy, outdoorsy scent which accents the tailored look of your whole costume. On the other hand the pixie in you may delight in being provocative in your accent, and your choice may run to a clinging feminine floral bouquet which is almost heavy in its very sweetness.

Accent For Black

Black, so highly in favor this fall of 1951, fairly cries out for sharp accent in its utter chic and woman-of-the-worldliness. What could be more suitable than a clear, sophisticated scent, which is neither light nor heavy, but impressive in its subtlety . . . what the perfumers call an "aldehyde" type. With your formal, sophisticated fashions, you'll probably enjoy a sultry, oriental-type perfume.

Whatever your choice of scent, do use enough so that you yourself enjoy it as much as those do whom you meet in your daily life . . . always using good taste, of course, just as you do with the costume jewelry you wear. Many women wonder how much perfume should be used. Again, let your own nose be your guide just as your eyes are your guide for the amount of jewelry you wear. And one of the best rules to follow is "suit the occasion," as to type and amount. A few drops on the pulse spots—inside wrists, along the throat, at the temples and a touch at the hairline—will surround you in an aura, giving you a feeling that your costume and your grooming are complete. Do remember, too, that few perfumes last more than four hours so carry a purse container with you for the convenience of renewing your fragrance as often as you powder your nose.

Freshness For Fall

Let go of the lethargy of summer days. Fall is a time of activity and crisp freshness. Present the picture of charming freshness to your everyday world by surrounding yourself in a fragrance which says to that world "there is a charming and lovely woman."

Budget-Minded Cook Book At Grocers Soon

A new cook book will be out in a few days. It is called Econo-Meals, and full details on how to get it can be obtained from your grocers.

Just as its title says it is a collection of 30 budget menus for thrifty, nutritious and delicious meals designed to stretch your food dollars.

All of the recipes in the book were tested and chosen for popularity, nutrition, and ease of preparation. They include many suggestions for using fruits and vegetables in season as well as for combining left-overs into attractive main dishes. Here is a sample menu taken from the pages of the booklet:

Diamond Meat Pie (4 servings)

¼ cup thinly sliced onion
¾ tablespoons shortening
1½-2 cups diced cooked meat (beef, veal or pork)
1 cup cooked, cubed potatoes
¾ cups cooked, cubed carrots
2 cups thin white sauce or gravy.

Brown onion. Combine ingredients and season with salt and pepper. Pour into baking dish (7" x 11") or casserole.

Prepare biscuit dough. Cut into diamond shapes and arrange on top of meat mixture. Bake in hot oven (400 deg. F.) 20 to 30 minutes or until biscuits are brown.

If you are a budget minded housewife, and most are these days, watch your grocer's counter for the booklet.

Etcetera New Fashion Term Describes Extra Tripperies

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—"Etcetera," that cherished English word which the king in The King and I applies to everything, has become a pet phrase among fashion designers this year to describe extra fripperies that are so important in the lavish autumn style picture. Accessories have never been so important to blend in the whole look of luxury.

Noteworthy etceteras: La Tausca's trapped jewels, gold wire holding together fabulous chunks of semi-precious stones in mixed colors and sizes for pins, clips, earrings, pendants, necklaces and bracelets.

Brooke Cadwallader's bow-tie for the girls, Elongated versions of a man's bow tie in handsome geometric printed silk, meant to tie in a wide, natty bow or loop loosely through your pearls.

Bead-jeweled stockings—a new trend of decoration in tiny luminous bead designs on the sheerest of evening stockings by Gotham. Bluebirds, stars, roses that glitter and gleam, but cannot catch or tear and are washable.

Esther Dorothy's perfume pocket. A miniature pocket in the lining of a fur coat, holding a perfumed pad to scent your coat without allowing the perfume to touch and injure the fur.

Hattie Carnegie's chignon cover of jeweled net or feather fronds, a delicious evening headdress.

Delman's pearlized kid shoes—iridescent pastel kid sandals that turn the feet into twinkling twin gems.

John Norman's tribute silk petticoat — a full, flaring thing of beauty in rich Chinese brocade to go under sober wool suit skirts.

Emily Wilkens' can-can petticoats—froth of colored ruffles at the hem of a wide blush net skirt.

PIGGISH NAME

The Aardvark, a South African ant-eater, gets its name from the Dutch word for earth-pig because of its grubbing habits.

TOUGH PLANT

The central stem of the cabbage plant is so woody that it may be used for making walking sticks.

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Jellied Chicken, Veal Salad Offered To Serve 75 People

QUESTION: I enjoy your cooking page very much. Would you please give me a recipe for jellied chicken and veal salad for 75 people—generous helpings. Have you a cake recipe for which the base is vanilla wafers; the second layer is Eagle Brand milk and chocolate; there might be marshmallows in this part; then icing sugar on top in icing. I think it is an American recipe—the refrigerator type of cake. Any other specials in the cake line would you send them to me? — Margaret P.

ANSWER:

Jellied Chicken and Veal Salad

(For 75 People).

(These quantities allow six-ounce moulds to be filled to within ¼-inch of top.)

Eleven cups of chopped cooked chicken (about 3 5-lb. fowl boiled until tender will yield this amount of chicken meat), 7 cups strained chicken broth, 12 cups boiled and cut up veal, 7 cups strained veal stock, 1¼ cups best quality gelatine, 4 cups finely chopped inner celery stalks, 3 cups finely chopped green pepper, 2-3 cup chopped canned pimiento, 3 tablespoons salt, 2 teaspoons pepper, 3½ cups cold water. Soak the gelatine in the cold water for 10 minutes. Then stir it into the hot chicken and veal stock until thoroughly dissolved. Let cool and chill until it just begins to congeal. Add all remaining ingredients. Pour into 75 individual moulds which should be rinsed out with cold water first, and drained. Or pour into oblong moulds to chill and cut into 5½-oz. portions in squares or diamonds. Sieved hard-cooked egg yolk makes an appropriate garnish..

The recipe I am going to give you for the refrigerator type cake does not meet your requirements exactly. However, it is fairly close. I am hoping readers will send in exactly what you are seeking.

Chocolate Refrigeration Cake

Melt 2 squares unsweetened chocolate in top of double boiler. Add 1½ cups sweetened condensed milk (1 can) and stir over boiling water for 5 minutes, or until mixture thickens. Add ½ cup water and remove from heat. Line an oblong loaf pan with heavy wax paper. Spread this with a ¼-inch layer of the chocolate mixture. Now add a double row of vanilla wafers, and proceed with these layers until you have used all of the chocolate mixture and have about 5 layers of cookies, finishing with a layer of cookies. Chill overnight or 24 hours. To serve, carefully turn out on platter and peel off wax paper. Cut in thin slices. This is very sweet—so if you serve whipped cream on it do not sweeten the cream.

I will print cake recipes frequently, so keep your eye on the column.

QUESTION: Would you please give me your recipe for India Pickle through your column. This pickle, I understand, is made by putting the raw vegetables from the garden in a crock in some kind of dressing of mustard, spices, etc.—M.M.G.

ANSWER: The relish recipe that I have that suits your description is called

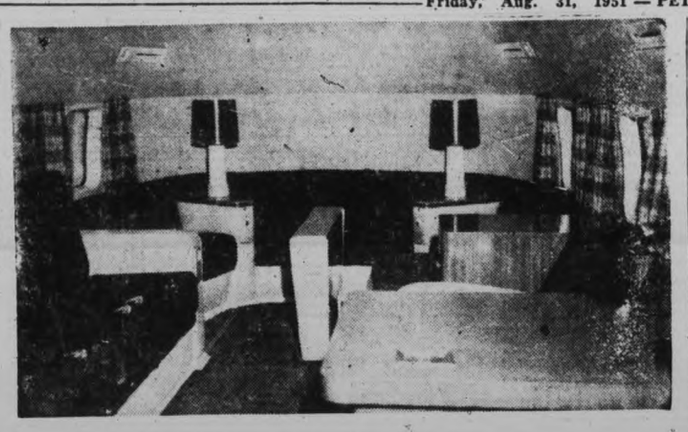
Health Relish

Grind 6 lbs. cabbage and add 1 cup salt and let stand 3 hours. Drain very well. Add 6 each green and red peppers ground, 6 medium-sized carrots, 6 medium-sized onions, both ground and mix with the cabbage and peppers. Add 2 lbs. sugar, 3 pints vinegar, and 1 tablespoon each celery and mustard seeds. Store in large clean crock in very cool place. This stays crisp and keeps indefinitely if cold enough.

SMELLY FLOWER

Skunk cabbage, the first of the Canadian spring flowers, is so named because of its rank odor when mature.

ROYAL TOUR PLANE—Undergoing overhaul at the Canadair plant in Montreal in preparation for the visit of Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip is the Canadian government's most luxurious plane, the C-5. Only one of its kind in the world the big four-engined airliner is shown, left, with service crews at work on the engine and fusilage. At right, is an interior view of the lounge room which will be the private quarters of the Royal couple.



DOROTHY DIX

Girl Objects To Parents Attending School Dances

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a junior in High School, and we recently held our prom, which was our first formal and something we looked forward to all through school. We went to lots of trouble to decorate our gym, which did look beautiful. Then when we entered the room on the night of the dance, dressed in our best, we were greeted by many mothers and fathers who occupied chairs and tables around the gym for the rest of the evening. We're very glad to have them come to see the decorations, but can't understand why they have to stay all evening. We have chaperones, and some of the faculty attend the dance. We will be having other dances in the fall, and would like to know how to handle this "parent" situation.

KATHY.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: You must try to understand, Kathy, exactly why so many parents attended your prom. Their purpose was not to act as chaperones, and certainly they did not want to be in the way. Their sole motivation was pride in their little darlings — male and female — dressed to the hilt and being really "grown up" for the first time.

You Are Right

I agree with you that they should have been satisfied to inspect the decorations, stay for a short while to watch the dancing, then go home and leave the youngsters on their own. This probably will be the procedure on future dances; the "first" formal is the one that brings out the parental pride. Remember, too, that many parents never had the privilege of such dances in their own youth and take double pleasure in the vicarious thrills they get from their children's affairs.

From your letter I can see that you conducted this affair admirably, and you, too, should feel pride in having your parents see how well you assume responsibility.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 23 years old and was going steady with a boy 27 for two years. During that time I was true to him, but six months ago I decded to have one last fling before settling down. That fling cost me more than I ever thought it would. I lost the boy I loved. I've confessed to him and have tried to explain my actions, but he won't listen to me and won't forgive me. If he would give me one more chance I'm sure I could show him how sincere I am.

G. M.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: One of the greatest tragedies in life is the "last fling," or the "one chance" that costs the faith of one we love. Faith is at once the strongest and most tenuous of human bonds. It can move mountains, so we are told, and it can, in turn, be turned to dust by the faintest breath of suspicion. To be worthy of another's faith is an honor to be worn with pride, and to hold at any cost. To throw such a guerdon away for one last fling is to cheapen one's self immeasureably.

You realize now how great is the loss of your sweetheart's trust and love. True love cannot exist without perfect trust, and it is unlikely that you will regain either. Your only hope of convincing him that you are sincerely contrite is to stop pleading, and show by actions that you can be true. Perhaps in time he will get over his hurt pride and give you another chance.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: Some time ago I became interested in a man and we went together quite steadily. Then I discovered he is engaged to another girl. He insists there is nothing wrong in our seeing each other since he is only engaged and not married. I have fallen in love with him. My problem is, shall I try to forget him or fight to get him?

P. L.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: If you want to do his fiancee a favor, fight to get him! She won't be losing much and if you're so desperate for a man that you'll take him under such circumstances, you deserve what you'll get.

Canada Big Field For Television Puppet Show

REGINA—(CP)—Shirley Fraser is an attractive young Regina girl who thinks puppets will be a big thing in Canada some day.

Dolls on strings may sound like child's play to some people, but they are big business in the United States and may be in Canada if television becomes established here.

Miss Fraser made her first puppet when she was in public school. Two years ago she joined a marionette group in Regina to take up puppetry in earnest.

Since then she has learned that puppets can be important medically as well as provide entertainment.

At workshop meetings in Regina she learned how to put puppets together, from moulding the head to the final stringing process.

When she created hr first doll —"Gamin the jester"—she found it so fasinating that she kept on making puppets and now has 13 doll personalities.

Writes Play

Besides making dolls, Miss Fraser wrote a play for them which she hopes to produce this fall, designed costumes for them, and with her father's help built a complete miniature stage.

"So you see," she says, "you can experiment with all phases of theatre, including scenery and lighting as well as acting, in a capsule form."

Popular In US

Miss Fraser and her sister recently took a short course in puppetry at the University of Minnesota.

"It was a wonderful experience," she says. "Puppetry is more exploited in the US than it is here, especially in television."

A new innovation in puppetry is the "night club puppet," much larger than usual size with the operator as part of the act. One act had a puppet jive star coupled with the operator to form a dance team.

Miss Fraser said puppets are widely used in elementary schools and with the mentally ill.

"Sometimes a mentally ill person will expose the core of his trouble by unconsciously acting with the puppet," she said.

"In all cases it seems to relieve the unnatural tension."

Although Canadians aren't as marionette-conscious as Americans, Miss Fraser said she believes interest is spreading rapidly.

Miss Fraser said she feels that once television in Canada is established, the field for puppetry will be unlimited.

THE EXPERTS SAY:

Variety Of Fillings Dress-Up RecipesForStuffedTomatoes

By KAY REX
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

Salad Week — among other things — resulted in several new fruit and vegetable concoctions being placed before the public eye.

The Quebec Fisheries Department seized on the "Week" to distribute a recipe highlighting its favorite product; a canned food plant in Hamilton was moved to offer recipes for some of its own output.

Finally, the Dominion Department of Agriculture's Consumer Section looked over a few angles on salad-making and came up with some timely tips.

Stuffed Tomatoes head the Agriculture Department's recommendations.

Such a variety of fillings may be used "that it would be easy to serve a different stuffed tomato salad for each day of the week," say the home economists.

Many Choices

For example: A filling of diced celery, diced cucumber, sliced radishes and chopped green onions, combined with a little whipped cream, vinegar and seasoning (to aste) — for Monday.

A cottage cheese filling mixed with diced celery, chopped parsley and salad dressing—for Tuesday.

Diced chicken, diced hard-cooked eggs and celery and chopped pickle moistened with salad dressing — for Wednesday.

Cooked left-over macaroni, spaghetti mixed with dived celery and well-seasoned tomato pulp — for Thursday.

Cole slaw — for Friday.

Devilled eggs, on a bed of salad dressing spread on tomato petals —for Saturday.

Fish Salads Healthy

The Fisheries Department of Quebec suggests the following salad as "a health-builder for the children" and "a treat for the grown-ups."

Ingredients: Two cups flaked cooked fish (cod, halibut and so on); two cups diced potatoes; one cup celery, chopped; one carrot, grated; one onion, minced; two pickles (chopped).

Rub a salad bowl with a clove of garlic. Mix one teaspoon salt, one-quarter teaspoon pepper, two tablespoons vinegar, until salt is dissolved. Add six tablespoons of oil.

Salad will be well seasoned if turned carefully with a spoon and a fork.

Dress salad on crispy lettuce; sprinkle with grated carrot and chopped parsley. This salad can also be decorated with quarters of hard-boiled eggs and tomatoes.

Salads With Canned Foods

Here's what you can do in the salad way with a 20-ounce can of sliced beets and some seasoning:

Ingredients; one 20-ounce can sliced beets; one tablespoon sugar; one tablespoon minced onion; one teaspoon salt; dash of pepper; two tablespoons salad oil; one-quarter cup vinegar; six lettuce cups; one-half cup cottage cheese.

Drain beets; reserve one-half cup liquor. Combine with sugar, onion, salt, pepper, oil, vinegar and beet liquor. Cover Marinate over night in refrigerator. Arrange in lettuce cups. Top each serving with a mound of cottage cheese. Serve with French dressing. Six servings.

Asks Anglers To Keep Only Fish They Need

BELLEVILLE, Aug. 31.—"If there is an apparent scarcity of fish in Baptiste Lake, the chances are that cropping exceeds what natural production and artificial stocking can produce," R. G. Sheppard, Fish and Wildlife Inspector, Department of Lands and Forests, Tweed, told the Baptiste Fish and Game Protective Association.

Speaking at the association's summer meeting, Mr. Sheppard urged anglers to forget limits of catch and retain only what fish they want for immediate needs. Returning others to the water he added, is one way of practicing conservation and it has definitely paid returns in other large lakes where anglers enjoy good fishing every summer.

He told the association that unfavorable weather conditions frequently interfered with natural spawning and winter losses might be heavy.

Britain-Japan Sign New Sterling Pact

TOKYO, Aug. 31— (AP) —Britain and Japan today signed a new and less restrictive agreement on payments in sterling for trade purposes.

The agreement, reached after several months of negotiations, includes Hong Kong for the first time.

An occupation official said the over-all effect of the agreement was to afford a larger trading area, to the benefit of both Japan and the sterling countries.

Formerly it was possible for Japan to convert into dollars the pounds sterling held in excess of a certain sum. This first was £10,000,000 and later was changed to £17,000,000. The dollar areas are not concerned in the new agreement.

Japan's arrangements with the dollar countries hereafter will be separate from her agreements with the sterling countries.

Has No Comment About Butter Price

AUCKLAND, NZ, Aug. 31 (CP) —W. Marshall, chairman of the New Zealand Dairy Products Marketing Commission, today declined comment on reports from Ottawa that Canada has decided New Zealand butter prices are too high and that the proposed purchase of 10,000,000 pounds has been cut sharply.

However, Marshall said negotiations with Canada are continuing. He added he will visit Canada soon in connection with the negotiations.

Hold Cattle Sale

THESSALON, Aug. 31—(CP)— Some 1,400 head of cattle will be offered here Sept. 26 in the second annual Algoma district feeder cattle sale. Last year, when 1,000 head were offered, the auction was sold out. Thessalon is 50 miles southeast of Sault Ste. Marie.

Paper Changes Hands

THREE RIVERS, Que., Aug. 31 (CP)—Senator Jacob Nicol, publisher of Le Nouvelliste, French-language daily newspaper, today announced that Honore Dansereau has taken over control of the paper. In a front-page statement, Senator Nicol said the new board of directors will include himself as president, Mr. Dansereau as vice-president, and Emile Jean as managing director. Other directors will include Marcel, Pierre, Maurice and Gerard Dansereau.

Bring Own Referees Soccer Teams Told

ADELAIDE, Australia, Aug. 31 (Reuters)—Cables went out today to 60 soccer teams due to meet in 30 matches tomorrow, warning the captains: "Bring your own referee—the regulars are on strike."

Adelaide referees had refused to appear at tomorrow's matches —"because we are incensed at the abuse we get from the fans." They demanded an assurance from the Soccer Association that the clubs would provide "adequate protection" in future.

A spokesman of the Referees' Appointments Board said today two referees had been assaulted during recent matches in Adelaide.

He added that six referees retired at the end of last season because of abuse, and during this season 13 others had resigned their posts.

Recognize Red China US Judge Advocates

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 31 — (AP) — Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas today advocated United States recognition of Communist China as a means of smashing China's political ties with Soviet Russia.

Douglas, just back from an expedition along the southern frontiers of both Russia and China, said US recognition of the Peiping regime would give the free world "a real political victory."

Recognition, he told an interviewer, would capitalize on the struggle between Chinese Nationalism and Russia's drive for Far Eastern solidarity — "the greatest source of friction between any two nations in the world today."

On Hunger Strike

CAIRO, Egypt, Aug. 31 (AP) — Seven Egyptians, on a hunger strike the last five days in protest against the 1936 Anglo-Egyptian treaty, called on their countrymen Thursday night to stage a 24-hour fast next Tuesday. The strikers, who vow they will not eat until Egypt "denounces" the treaty, were said to be extremely weak. All are under medical supervision.

European Communists Will Be Marked Men If Sent To Korean Front Lines—UN Warning

SEOUL, Korea, Aug. 31 — (AP)— If European Communists show up on the Red battle line in an international brigade, an Allied combat officer said today, "they'll be marked men." men."

There have been persistent but unconfirmed reports that the Reds have recruited several thousand Europeans for such a brigade.

These troops are reported to have moved into North Korea recently. The latest rumors say they are somewhere between the western battle line and Pyongyang, the Red capital.

If there is such a force, and they are combat troops an Allied front-line officer said, "I feel kind of sorry for them.

"The Chinese and North Koreans are tough fighters. But a lot of our boys figure they're just stooges for the Russians.

"But these other guys are coming out here with their eyes open. They'll be marked men, believe it.

"If we see any European Commies out where the shooting is going on, you can bet your bottom dollar our boys will make an extra effort."

Some UN officers say the Communists would like to have an International Brigade in the front line for propaganda value. Reports of the recruiting campaign emanated largely from the Chinese Nationalist capital at Taipeh.

London Comedy Gets Premiere At Collegiate

"Castle in the Air," Alan Melville's hit comedy of the 1950 London season, will have its North American premiere on the Peterborough Summer Theatre stage next Tuesday.

The Summer Theatre management obtained the rights to the play direct from England at the conclusion of the London run this spring. Since then New York producers have been active, and the play is now scheduled for Broadway production this fall. When a play is purchased for Broadway invariably all other rights are withdrawn, but in this instance the Peterborough audience will have the unusual opportunity of viewing "Castle in the Air" before its New York presentation.

Much interest in the play is already aroused, and "Variety," the American Theatre newspaper, will be on hand to cover the opening. "Castle in the Air" will be the eleventh and final production of the current Summer Theatre season.

Set in Aberdeenshire

The locale of "Castle in the Air" is Aberdeenshire, in dilapidated Locharne Castle. The Earl of Locharne, who since the war has been surviving mainly on credit, has through necessity turned the castle into a boarding house; the play opens with the Earl busily cleaning the silverware. We soon realize that his main endeavor in life is to unload Locharne Castle by hook or by crook on to some unsuspecting buyer. First he tries his hand at selling it to a representative of the Labor Government as a miners' hostel, next he turns his attention to an American lady from Denver and endeavors to convince her that Locharne Castle is the seat of her ancestors. The hilarious situations that develop from selling the castle result in what London critics have hailed as one of the best comedies written since the war.

Although this is only Alan Melville's second play, he will long be remembered by servicemen in wartime London as the author of the Hermione Gingold revues, "Sweet and Low," "Sweeter and Lower," and "Sweetest and Lowest."

Derek Ralston in Lead

Derek Ralston, who was leading actor at the Canadian Repertory Theatre for two years and an expert in comedy playing, comes to Peterborough to play the happy-go-lucky Earl of Locharne. Kate Reid appears as his efficient secretary "Boss" Trent, and Betty Leighton plays the wealthy lady from Denver. As the representative of the Labor Government Peter Mews contributes another of his delightful comic performances.

Monday being Labor Day, "Castle in the Air" will not open until Tuesday evening, and the final week of the Summer Theatre will be in the Collegiate Auditorium, curtain eight-twenty.

UK Herring Salesmen Didn't Do So Well

LONDON, Aug. 31 —(CP)— Britain's top herring salesmen admitted today that their drive to peddle kippers in North America didn't do so well last year. But they promised to keep on trying.

The annual report of the herring industry board says £43,000 was advanced to British kipper interests as part of a drive to make kipper breakfast as popular in Canada and the United States as they are here. Of more than 1,000,000 pairs sent to North America, an undisclosed number remained unsold.

"It would be inadvisable commercially to say what stocks are unsold," and official said. "Efforts to develop the market will continue."

For the Englishman, the ironic thing seems to be that he can't get a really succulent kipper because the best ones are sent abroad, while those who do get the best don't seem to appreciate them.

Queen's Principal Has Retired

KINGSTON, Aug. 31 (CP). — Dr. Robert Charles Wallace, 70, retired today as principal of Queen's University.

Dr. Wallace, former head of the University of Alberta, was succeeded by Dr. W. A. Mackintosh, vice-principal.

Born in the Orkney Islands, Dr. Wallace and his wife came to Canada in 1910.

His first university post was as head of the geology department of the University of Manitoba. He took leave of absence from 1918 to 1921 and served as commissioner of northern Manitoba.

He returned to the U. of M. until 1928 when he left for the principalship of the University of Alberta. In 1936 he took over Queen's.

He holds 21 honorary doctorates awarded by universities in England, Scotland, Ireland, the United States and Canada and is a Companion of St. Michael and St. George and a Fellow of the Geological and Royal Societies of Canada.

He and his wife will continue to live in Kingston.

SUEZ CANAL

The Suez Canal is 103 miles long, 34 feet deep, and has an average width of 197 feet.

THE CASE IS "CLOSED" — An interpreter (centre) stands by with a pained expression as Ambasador Vladimir Prochazka (right) makes fast replies to reporters' questions in Washington. Coming from a conference with Secretary of State Acheson, Prochazka said Czechoslovakia "will not yield to any propaganda or economic pressure" to free William Oatis from prison. Poison Gas, Water Trickles Into Mine

NEW WATERFORD, NS, Aug. 31 —(CP)— Poisonous gases and water trickled into Cape Breton's major mines Thursday night as officials held night sessions to end the walkout of some 10,000 miners.

Meanwhile, in Truro, NS, president Freeman Jenkins of District 26, United Mine Workers, told the district UMW convention he would issue a statement today on the uncalled strike which spread through Cape Breton's coal fields Thursday.

When workers came off the midnight shift Wednesday, the other shifts didn't report. The men gave no reason for their failure to report to work.

Police Not Trigger Happy Jury Rules In Windsor Shooting

WINDSOR, Aug. 31—(CP)—A five-man coroner's jury found Thursday police shot Malcolm Mocharuk last Sunday "in line of duty" and that the officers were not "trigger happy."

Eli Goldin, prominent Windsor businessman who was foreman of the jury, said the jury concluded Mocharuk died from "gunshot wounds fired by one or several of the police officers, acting in their line of duty, after having made several attempts to stop the said Mocharuk by shouting and giving due warning."

Mr. Goldin added, "Our conclusion also was that the officers were not trigger happy."

This verdict came almost in answer to the argumentative evidence of Joseph Mocharuk, brother of the dead man, who said, "I talked to the fellow who escaped and who was with my brother...

"I know him and he said my brother was shot while he had his hands up in the air. He said the officers kept on shooting after he put his arms up in the air."

Police evidence was that they were chasing two men in a residential area in the early morning hours of Aug. 26. One escaped and the other, who proved to be Malcolm Mocharuk, was shot down.

Were You There

Assistant Crown Attorney Eugene Duchesne suggested to Joseph Mocharuk that he was presenting a "second hand story," and asked, "Were you there?"

Mocharuk shouted back, "Were you there?" The Crown attorney shouted, "Don't argue with me." The Crown demanded that Mocharuk name the other man who was there.

Mocharuk replied, "That'll have to be taken up later. I will not give the name of the other person. I'm not talking."

The policemen involved in the shooting, Sergt. Dan Bordeau, and Constables Jack Shuttleworth, Jack Moxon and Lorne Gill, told of finding two men breaking into a tool shed on the west side early last Sunday morning.

As the police car approached, the pair fled into an open field by a railway. After shouting warnings, the policemen said they fired several shots from their revolvers. Later they found Mocharuk wounded in the tall grass. He died a few minutes after admission to hospital.

Medical authorities said severe internal bleeding and shock brought about by the bullet wound caused death.

Captain To Retire

MONTREAL, Aug 31—(CP)—Capt. B. B. Grant, of the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of France will retire when the ship returns to Liverpool after carrying Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh to Canada. The 60-year-old commander is a veteran of sea warfare in two world conflicts.

The Dreaded Part of Summer

Returning To Work After Your Holiday

The only thing wrong with a holiday is coming back from it.

Every Monday, hundreds of whoopie - happy ex - vacationers can be found at their desks, facing the 50 work-weeks ahead of them with the pleased expression of a man who has just uncovered a slug in his salad.

There are two ways to buck your bad luck.

The first—and most reliable—is not to come back at all.

The second — and most practical—is to try the psychological approach.

A six-point program for heaving the holiday hangover blues out of the office window has been worked out by a New York psychiatrist, Dr. Hugh McHugh.

1. Most important thing to remember is to leave yourself at least 24 hours to make the switch from holiday heaven to work-a-day world. No one can acclimatize from the rolling surf and rolling greens in less time than that, he says. "It must be done gradually, like a man going through a decompression chamber."

2. To make home-coming less humdrum, treat yourself to some pet extravagance the day before you go back to work. To do this, save a little spending money over from your holidays. (Dr. McHugh forgot to explain how this can be done.)

3. Get used to the idea of going back to work before 8.45 on Blue Monday. (8.45, she says, Hmmm.) Try to think of something good about your job.

4. Pick up a new hobby on vacation that will keep you busy after you get back. (Dr. McHugh did not specify whether getting married would count.)

5. Be broad - minded about people starting their holidays the same day you are coming back from yours. Remember, it's only 50 weeks before you, too, can go down to the sea.

6. Pack your holiday snapshots away with your pogo-stick and surf-board. Showing them around will only remind you of what you're missing—and prove what a poor photographer you really are.

Although these points are basically sound, Department of National Health and Welfare's Psychologist J. E. L. Black, of the Civil Service Health Division in Ottawa, thinks the precautions should be unnecessary.

"I think that people are quite glad to go back to work after two weeks on holidays," he said. "A vacation should rejuvenate you sufficiently both physically and mentally to leave you ready and anxious for the office by the end of it."

The footloose fortnight should be spent in new surroundings, to give you a fresh outlook on the 50-week sentence ahead.

If you still feel so bad about coming back that you have to follow the McHugh Formula, maybe you should get another job, he said.

Butter Negotiations Have Been Completed

OTTAWA, Aug. 31 — (CP) — Canada has completed negotiations to build up a stockpile of 14,500,000 pounds of imported butter, about enough to bring stocks to last year's level, the Agricultural Products Board announced Thursday.

Of the total imports, 10,000,000 was purchased by the board and 4,500,000 by private trade. Butter imports by private trade were banned by the government, starting Aug. 1, but it agreed to allow private-trade butter into the country if the transaction was carried out before that date.

The board gave no indication what prices it paid.

Pacific Defence Line Proposed By Dewey

NEW YORK, Aug. 31—(AP)—Governor Thomas E. Dewey Thursday called on the free world to draw a definite Pacific defence line with a promise of "the same kind of bloody nose you got in Korea" to any aggressor who stepped across.

The New York governor, just back from a Far East trip that took him to the Korean battlefield, suggested that the "stop Communism" line run from the Arctic to New Zealand.

Dewey told the Veterans of Foreign Wars in their encampment here that little New Zealand has 4,000 men in the Korean front lines and that Canada with a population less than New York State's "has 6,000 and every one is a volunteer."

Guests At Party

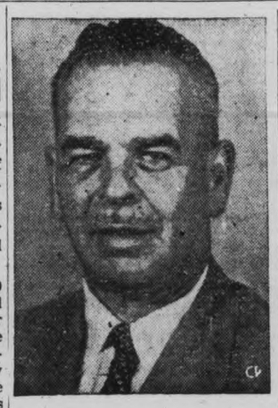
LONDON, Aug. 31 (Reuters)—Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh will be the guests of the Canadian High Commissioner, L. Dana Wilgress, at a private dinner party the night before they sail for their visit to North America. The dinner party, arranged for Sept. 24, will be at the High Commissioner's official London residence.

88 In Toronto

TORONTO, Aug. 31—(CP)—It was hot in Toronto Thursday. Weather observers said the temperature reached 88 degrees, two degrees lower than the high reached July 30, hottest day so far this summer. It fell short of the 92 degrees recorded in 1854 on the hottest Aug. 30 in Toronto records.

Charge Enemy Plane

HONG KONG, Aug. 31 (AP)—The Chinese Communists claim an "enemy plane" flew over Shanghai, Aug. 25 but was driven off by air defence units. The report in the Shanghai official Communist newspaper, Liberation did not name any type of plane or nationality. But it coincided with recent Peiping charges of United States "air violations" of China's territory.



TRANSPORT DEPUTY—W. Jackson Fisher, 59, of Calgary, has been appointed deputy transport controller. Together with Controller Roy W. Milner, he will be responsible for supplying transport for Canada's record 582,000,000-bushel wheat crop.

Former Neighbors Meet After 37 Years

BONARLAW, Aug. 31—(ENS)—Two former neighbours who haven't seen each other in 37 years had a happy meeting when Mrs. William Sammons of Rochester, N.Y., with her husband and Mr. and Mrs. Archie Sammons of Colbourne visited Mrs. Jennie Wellman Monday afternoon.

The Sammons' used to live on the 12th concession of Rawdon township and were neighbours of the Wellman's.

Remand 4 Airmen In Theft Of Car

GODERICH, Aug. 31—(CP)—Four airmen of the RCAF radar station were remanded Thursday for one week on charge of theft of an automobile.

They are Donald Long, Pat O'Driscoll, Frances McDonald and Fred Hargrave.

The car is alleged to have been taken from Clinton Aug. 26; later the car, owned by Howard Turner, Clinton, crashed into a hydro pole.

A fifth airman, Roger Chevrefils, Timmins, injured in the crash was taken to Westminster Veterans Hospital, London.

75 Welshmen Stand Up Against Army Brass

TRAWSFYNYDD, Wales, Aug. 31—(AP) — Seventy-five bare-handed Welshmen, including a clergyman and several professors, stood up against the Army Thursday.

The Welshmen didn't like the Army's taking over 5,000 acres of Welsh land for marching and shooting practice and they protested by standing in groups on roads leading to the Army camp and refusing to move.

The trucks withdrew.

Commanding Officer Lt.-Col. James Cudmore said he would notify superior authorities.
